

NEWSY NOTES FROM FENELON FALLS GLEANED BY OUR CORRESPONDENT

(Special to The Post.)

The entertainment given on Friday evening in Dickson's Hall by the Boy Scouts and Lady Minstrels, of Bobcaygeon, was a decided success. A full house greeted the performers, who carried out the programme with an abandon that charmed the audience, whose breathless attention and "rubbering" during the cake walk must have delighted the hearts of the Lady Minstrels. The local "hits" by the end ladies hit the mark every time, and were much enjoyed. The Boy Scouts' drill, under the command of Mr. Comber, was well done. Mr. Comber also rendered a couple of solos, during the evening, which were much enjoyed, particularly "Shopping." The entertainment closed with a screaming farce entitled, "A Poetic Proposal," by the Bobcaygeon Amateur Theatrical Co., in which the part were all well taken, particularly that of the impulsive suitor, Mr. Timothy Knight.

The performance closed with the singing of the National Anthem. Sunday next, February 20th, will be Field Day in St. Andrew's church, when the pastor, Rev. C. S. Lord will address the congregation for the last time on the basis of Church Union, after which ballots for voting will be distributed. It is expected the congregation will vote on March 1st.

The residence of Mrs. Bert Townley was the scene of a very pleasant Valentine Tea on Wednesday afternoon, 14th inst., from four to seven o'clock. A large number of ladies attended, and spent a very enjoyable afternoon. The decorations were exceedingly pretty, hearts, of course, being trump. Carnations and ferns also came into the scheme of decoration, and made an effective addition. The young ladies assisting were the Misses Phyllis Neilson, Edith and Doris Townley, who wore dainty white lingerie gowns with hearts for their adornment.

INSPECTED MEAT BADLY DISEASED

(Special to The Post.)

Guelph, Feb. 18.—The need for efficient municipal inspection of all meat destined for local consumption was vividly shown here on Friday. A butcher received a shipment of two carcasses of mutton from a Toronto abattoir. When it arrived he at once saw the meat was not fit for human food, and immediately sent for Inspector Merewether. The inspector condemned it in the strongest possible manner, but he could not seize it because it was inspected meat, and bore the stamp of the inspector on each quarter. The butcher wrote to the firm from whom the meat was purchased, and asked what to do in the case. He was told to do anything he liked with it, and he accordingly gave it to a farmer to feed to his chickens. Guelph took the lead in the move to permit municipal abattoirs.

Miss Edith Beall entertained a number of friends to enjoyable military euchre last evening.

ELECTION COMING IN TWO YEARS

House of Commons, Ottawa, February 20.—The chances are good for a general election within two years. There is a growing belief that the Borden ministry is going to follow redistribution with an appeal to the people.

Redistribution will take place next session, so that an election could be held in the spring of 1913. If there is a gerrymander, the Liberal majority in the Senate is likely to throw the bill out. However, that will not bother the government, as it will mean that they will escape the resentment of the West expressed by some twenty additional seats.

The determination of the government not to deal finally with any

PARENTS OF CITIZEN OF LINDSAY CELEBRATED THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING

Examiner: An interesting event in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Kennedy materialized Tuesday in the form of their golden wedding anniversary, which was celebrated in their home, 600 Water street. Surrounded by their sons and daughters and their families, who were all present with the exception of two sons, Mr. H. D. Kennedy, of Indiana, and Mr. S. Kennedy, of British Columbia, and one grandson, Mr. Clifton—idd of Regina, they received the congratulations of a wide circle of friends, and incidentally were the recipients of many beautiful presents, testifying to the golden opinions of which the worthy couple were the objects.

Mr. Kennedy and Miss Rebecca Sherin, daughter of the late Mr. Henry Sherin, of Emily, were united in marriage by the Rev. John Cameron on the 20th of February in 1862 in this city. After their marriage they made their home on Mr. Kennedy's farm in the township of Otonabee, where for forty-four years the latter pursued his vocation as an agriculturist. During that time he established for himself the well deserved reputation of being one of the most progressive and successful farmers in the community. Governed by a broad sense of responsibility, in his duty towards his neighbors and fellow citizens, Mr. Kennedy took an active and intelligent interest in all matters pertaining to the promotion and welfare of the community in which he moved, either in an official or social capacity.

He was ably assisted in this respect by the hearty co-operation of Mrs. Kennedy, who, in her domestic relations, discharged the duties of her social life faithfully. Her home life did not monopolize all her interest, however. Mrs. Kennedy was always prominently identified with the work of the church with which she was associated and her hearty and wholesome support was always forthcoming in matters concerning the welfare of the church and community.

A few years ago Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy disposed of the farm, and bought the comfortable home, where they now reside, on Water street, where, in the enjoyment of the fruits of their labors, their lives continue to scintillate as a beacon for those who would follow.

At two o'clock this afternoon about twenty-five relatives and immediate friends of the couple sat down to a sumptuous repast, which was presided over by Mr. H. P. Kennedy.

The daughters present were Mrs. R. J. Kidd, of this city, together with her husband, and four children; Mrs. R. A. Ward and husband and five children, all of Toronto. The sons present were Mr. H. P. Kennedy and wife and one child, of Toronto; Mr. F. W. Kennedy and wife and two children, of Lindsay. Twelve grandchildren were present.

VISITOR FROM THE NORTH LAND

A Post reporter to-day had the pleasure of meeting a pioneer settler of the Pearl Lake district, Northern Ontario, and a former resident of this section, in the person of Mr. A. E. Moore. Mr. Moore passed through the fire which swept Ontario's hinterland, and can tell many interesting stories of the development of the resources of that section of the Dominion.

He was born in Cavan, and in his early boyhood moved to Manvers. He was in British Columbia for twenty years, being interested in mining propositions during the earlier days of that country's development.

Mr. Moore has been in the Northland for two years, settling in Pearl Lake. He was the first to build a house in that region, and has been intimately connected with the development of the mines in the Pearl Lake and Porcupine districts, being financially interested in numerous propositions.

Pearl Lake is in the heart of the Porcupine district, being 36 miles from Arginc Junction, which is on the main line of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway, and is served by a branch line of this road.

The first fire occurred on May 19th, and swept the Hollinger and McIntyre mines, the Pearl Lake property being saved. The second fire, which occurred July 11th, was the most destructive, and swept everything in its path out of existence. The wind made by the fire could be likened to a sixty-mile-an-hour gale, and the heat was intense. No rain had fallen for two months previous to the fire and everything burned like matchwood. The hot sun shining on the rainless country for two months, followed by the fire, left the country desolate.

Mr. Moore saved his wife and family in two canoes, and spent 2 1/2 hours in the lake himself. Every time the flames would leap over the water he would have to submerge his head for half a minute at a time. He was exceedingly fortunate in having a food supply. Just a few hours previous to the fire he had cached $200 worth of provisions, which tided he and his family over the after effects of the fire.

Mr. Moore's many friends were pleased to meet him, and to know he fared so well in the great disaster which befell the northern section of the banner province of Britain's largest and richest overseas dominion.
