Brevities From Caygeon Village

(Special to The Post.)

The bonspiel that began in the rink on Tuesday, the 13th inst., was closed amid jublations of the participants, at four a. m. on Thursday the 15th inst. There were fifteen rinks took part in the contests for the prizes offered, at which Peterboro, Lindsay, Claremont, Fenelon Falls, and Bobcaygeon were represented. The spiel was to have lasted three days, but by mutual consent of those taking part, they turned the day in to night, and for two long days and nights they spied and curled, and curled and spied, till they almost forgot to eat, or drink, much less to think, until four o'clock in the dark, gray morning of Thursday a mighty cheer went up that reverberated along streets, lanes and alleys of our slumbering burg, and told that the great "spiel" was over. Of course some of our quiet citizens that were thus rudely aroused from their peaceful slumbers, may have said some harsh things about curling and the curlers, as they rolled over to take an additional nap of two or three hours, but after breakfast these uncharitable thoughts of theirs passed into the great forgotten past, and now they are wishing the curlers could return next week. Neil's rink of Peterboro won first prize in the primary, and Bottom's rink of Bobcaygeon, won second in the same. Bessey of Claremont won first prize in the Consolation and Myles Hamilton's rink of Fenelon won the second in the same. Verulam Winter Seed Fair was held in the town hall, Bobcaygeon, on Wednesday the 14th inst. and was a decided success. The number and quality of the exhibits were good, and the attendance of farmers was good. Mr. J. B. Steekley, of Newmarket, did the judging very satisfactorily, and Mr. D. A. MacKenzie, B.S.A., of Lindsay, was present for the afternoon programme. Under the guidance of Messrs. Steekley and MacKenzie a large judging class was formed and conducted. White oats were taken, three samples being given to each person present, to examine and place in the way they would award prizes to different samples. This brought out a great deal of practical and valuable discussion on judging seed grain. After this judging, Mr. Steekley gave an interesting talk on corn growing. Among many other things that were brought out in the debate was that in the flint varieties of corn, Compton's Early, and Longfellow would be the best varieties to be sown in this district, and in the Dent varieties, White Cap, Yellow Dent, Bailey and Thomas' Improved Early White Cap, would be best. These Dent varieties all mature in from 85 to 90 days. The following are the names of the prize winners at the fair: Fall Wheat—John Rich, Dawson's Golden Chaff; 2nd H. R. Seymour, Sleep and I'll pay the rent; 3rd R. E. Thurston, Sleep and I'll pay the rent. Spring Wheat—1st Ross Kimble, California; 2nd, James Robertson, Colorado. Standard White Oats—1st Thomas Cash, Yellow Russian; 2nd, Chas. H. Thurston, Yellow Russian; 3rd, Ross Kimble, Irish White. HAD BAD SORE FOUR YEARS

ZAM-BUK HAS HEALED IT!

Mrs. Wilson, 110 Wickson Ave., Toronto, says: "About four years ago a sore spot appeared on the right side of my face. This spot increased in size until it became about half an inch in diameter and very painful. I went to a doctor, but the ointment he gave me did not have any good effect. The sore continued to discharge freely, and was most painful. I had it cauterized, tried poultices and all kinds of salves, but it was no good, and I continued to suffer from it for four years!"

"A sample of Zam-Buk was one day given to me, and I used it. Although the quantity was so small, it seemed to do me some good, so I purchased a further supply. "Each box did me more and more good, and, to my delight, before I had been using Zam-Buk three weeks, I saw that it was going to heal the sore. In less than a month it was healed!"

"I know a lady in the east of the city, whose husband suffered for years with an open sore on his leg. On my recommendation, Zam-Buk was tried in that case. The other day, when I saw her, she told me that it had healed the sore completely. "My daughter, who lives in Lethbridge, Alta., has also used Zam-Buk with the same satisfactory result. I think it is, beyond all doubt, the finest healing balm known."

Such is the opinion of all persons who have really tried Zam-Buk. It is a sure cure for eczema, piles, abscesses, ulcers, scalp sores, ring-worm, cuts, burns, scalds, bruises, and all skin injuries and diseases. 50c. box, all druggists and stores, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. In case of skin disease use also Zam-Buk Soap. 25c. tablet.

OLDEST SUGAR REFINERY LAUNCHES NEWEST IDEA

That the oldest firms are not always the least progressive is illustrated by the fact that the new plan of marketing granulated sugar in sealed cartons is being introduced by the Canada Sugar Refining Co., whose Redpath Sugar has been known in Canada for over half a century.

When in 1854 John Redpath & Son established in Montreal the first sugar refinery in British North America, confederation was still thirteen years distant, and the population of Montreal was less than one-tenth of what it is to-day.

With John Redpath were associated his son Peter, known as the founder of McGill's Redpath Museum and Library, and George Drummond, afterwards Sir George, who was manager. The second and third generations of Redpaths are now represented in the company by Messrs. Frank and William Redpath, while Sir George Drummond's son, Mr. Huntley Drummond, is now president.

Though one would never guess it from his vigor and activity, Mr. Jas. McMenamin, superintendent of the refinery was brought from Greenock, Scotland, in 1854 to take charge of the work, and he has held his position of superintendent for 44 years. Another member of the staff, Mr. Alex. Bower, has also been connected with the work from its establishment.

As first equipped, the Canada Sugar Refinery employed about 100 men and turned out 75 barrels of sugar a day. Now it employs fully seven times as large a working force, and can turn out over thirty times as much sugar. The plant occupies over 11 acres.

The sugars put out at first included "ye Olde Sugar Leaf," of 11 lbs. weight, Confectioners' A, Dry Crushed, and Yellows. Granulated sugar was unknown until about 1879.

Now this pioneer firm are leading the way with the very newest thing in sugar, the Redpath 5 pound package.

BORDEN'S NAVAL POLICY.

(A. F. ter Kipling.)

"What are the people waiting for?" said Files-on-Parade; "For Borden's naval policy," Henri Bourassa said. "What makes you look so bright, so bright?" said Files-on-Parade; "The joy at what I have to watch," Henri Bourassa said. "For Borden and his fellows in a recent bitter fray, Brought my help and got it, and now they have to pay, They have to dance unceasingly to every tune I play, Or I'd kick 'em out of office in the morning."

"What makes the Government look so scared?" said Files-on-Parade; "They do not know which way to turn," Henri Bourassa said. "I thought they loved the Empire true," said Files-on-Parade; "Just with their tongues, just with their tongues," Henri Bourassa said. "They prated of their loyalty while yet the fight was on, But forgot it, at my bidding, as soon as they had won, And now they aren't do a thing unless I wish it done, Or I'd kick 'em out of office in the morning."

"Why don't they build some ships of war?" said Files-on-Parade; "They are afraid of me, my boy," Henri Bourassa said. "Britain's burden's cruel, hard," said Files-on-Parade. "That's nought to them, that's nought to them," Henri Bourassa said. "They'll lend no willing hand to keep her Mistress of the Sea, For if they do full well they know, a reck'ning there will be, The man they'd have to settle with—he happens to be me— Would kick 'em out of office in the morning."

MINISTER OF MILITIA DONATES A CUP FOR ANNUAL HOCKEY TOURNAMENT

Mr. A. M. Paton, president of the Town Hockey League, has received a communication from Hon. Sam. Hughes, Minister of Militia, to the effect that he will donate a handsome silver cup to be competed for annually at a tournament in Lindsay by teams from the counties of Victoria and Haliburton. The Minister's kindness will be appreciated by the teams of the two counties, of which there are quite a number, and they all play good hockey just as soon as the Town League series is finished, and no doubt the different teams will compete for possession of the Cup.

TEMPERANCE MEN IN POLITICS

Speaking of the visit of the temperance deputation to the political leaders, President Joseph Gibson, of the Dominion Alliance, said at the convention in Toronto: "When I went into Sir James' room, and took hold of his hand, I did most of the shaking. He hardly deigned to look at me. He turned his back on us and sat down. During most of the time we were addressing him he was reading a newspaper. Whether he has so great an intellect that he can work two parts separately, and give one to me and the other to the newspaper, I don't know. At any rate, he heard enough of what we were saying to interrupt us occasionally. The discourtesy he showed us was not becoming a gentleman, let alone a Christian gentleman. Now, what interpretation can you put on that treatment accorded your representatives, representing not only you, but the people of the province? He gave no answer. I say he ought to have given an answer. And, God helping me, Tory though I am, I'll make him answer yet."

"We went into the other place. I gave Mr. Rowell my hand. It was as if I were giving my hand to my best girl. Mr. Rowell is a good Christian gentleman any party might be proud of. I say that though I am a Tory and he is a Grit." Mr. Gibson recalled Mr. Rowell's answer to the deputation to the effect that he would bring the matter up and give them a definite reply during the present sitting of the legislature. President Gibson expressed entire satisfaction with that answer.

CAREER OF FORMER LINDSAY BOY IS NOW MAYOR OF CORNWALL

The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal contains the following:—

"Another young Canadian, whose career reads like a romance, is Mr. John A. Chisholm, elected Mayor of Cornwall, Ont., the other day. While still a boy, he was obliged, owing to his father's sickness, to provide for himself for the time being, and to equip himself for the future. He was born in Lindsay, Ont., and there his fight with the world began. Years before most boys have begun to think of the future, he had mapped out his career, and he has stuck to the programme he then laid down for himself. He determined to be a lawyer. He had no money of his own, and no prospect of getting such when he chanced to acquire the desired nest egg by winning a scholarship of fifty dollars at the Lindsay Collegiate Institute. He realized that fifty dollars was not much to equip him for the legal profession and put him through college; but he determined to make his money in hand, earn more, and that was the inspiration of a bold commercial venture. He resolved with his limited capital and some assistance from friends, to set up a store of his own, and earn enough that way to take his college and law course. But being under age—more than five years under age—he could not get credit in his own name, so resorted to the idea of forming a company, "John Chisholm (his father) and Co." At this time his father was an invalid and the whole conduct of the business rested with John A., the son; but such was his modesty that he even screened his own name from all publicity. Friends who saw that the beardless youth was bound to succeed, increased his assets, and in a few weeks the new grocery and specialty store started in such a way was the talk of Lindsay. In two years young Chisholm glanced one day at his bank account, guessed that it would just about put him through his legal education, and promptly sold out the business. The old merchant wisecracks of Lindsay have often tried since then to figure out what the 16 year old merchant would have done had he decided to stay with the business. They say Canada lost a Wanamaker when the law captured him.

Emerging from Osgoode Hall, Toronto, a full-fledged lawyer, Mr. Chisholm, though but 22, had many tempting offers in the leading law firms of Toronto and elsewhere. But his choice of Cornwall as the town where he would practice, hinged on nobler motives than those of personal preference or greater remuneration. His mother, then widowed, longed to live again in Cornwall, where she had formerly lived and where many of her people were. That was reason enough to determine Mr. Chisholm's selection. When he arrived in Cornwall, one day in October 1889, he did not know a soul in the town. He got there in the morning, looked around for an office, found a little one to start with, and at one o'clock the same day, he began to practice law. Since then, Mr. Chisholm's legal career has been an open book, not alone to his fellow-citizens, but to Eastern Ontario. A few of the most sensational criminal trials in which Mr. Chisholm has won his reputation are his defence of Chas. Masson, of Ottawa, charged with the murder of McCourt in a hockey game,

ORILLIA'S LIGHT RATES RAISED

Packet: The town council spent Monday evening on the revision of the light rates. The members present were Mayor Frost, and Aldermen Tudhope, Long, Thompson and Hale. It was decided to continue the flat rate, but to raise it by two cents, making the gross rate for stores, offices and hotels 30 cents, and for residences 25 cents, and the net rate 24 and 20 cents respectively, instead of 18 and 22 cents as at present. Previous to January 1909, the rate was 35 cents for stores and 25 cents for residences. It was felt that the narrow margin of profit shown by the plant since this reduction was made did not justify its continuance, and that it was preferable to raise the flat rate to a profitable point, and allow those who prefer that system to continue it, rather than to force the use of meters upon the whole town. The continuance of the flat rate will, however, depend upon the extent to which it is abused by the use of irons, toasters, etc., without payment. While the advance of two cents will not mean much to individuals, it is estimated that it will increase the revenue by about $2,000 per annum.

CROWDED HOUSE AT THE ACADEMY

Last night at the Academy of Music the Ernie Marks Co. was greeted by a crowded house in the opening of a three night's engagement. The play presented was a four act comedy drama entitled "Reaping the Whirlwind." The play was very ably presented by a capable cast, who portrayed the roles assigned to them most satisfactorily. There was a vein of comedy running through the production. This evening the company will present "The Pride of the Army."
