Miss Wood, Miss Henley, Miss * Lewis, Miss May Pratt, Miss * Mann. Miss Bessie Pratt, Miss * Bryan, and Miss Thompson, · daughter of Dr. Thompson, of · Omemee.

Close to a thousand people attended the Graduation of Nurses mibht at the Academy of Music. In spite of a heary downpour of rain and several counter attractions, the people were there before eight clock, and shortly after the hour there was standing from only and many had to hear the proteedings from the wings on the stage.

Mr. J. D. Flavefle was chairman and seated beside him was Mr. J R. McNeillie. In the neighborhood of twenty young lady nurses were seated in two rows upon the platform. They looked very pretty dressed in white uniform of their profession, and created a great impression among the audience. The eight nurses who graduated last night were seated in the front row. Each bore huge bouquets of beautiful cut flow-

Mr. J. D. Flavelle was the first speaker and made many interesting observations.

Mr. Flavelle presented the diplomas to the young nurse graduates, making a few appropriate remarks each received the token of the succassful completion of her years probat on.

Mrs. J. G. Edwards pinned the nurses' badges on them.
