Examiner, Friday: The Omemee hockey team (trimmed the Gratters on the former's ice, making three Peterborough teams to come away from the northern village with the small end of the score. The locals went up on the 5.30 p.m. train, returning on the flyer. The ice was in poor condition, the rink an open-air one, and the afternoon sun had honeycombed it along the sides and at one end.

Running

A SPEEDY ORIENTAL Honolulu, March 4.—A 50-yard dash in 5 1-5 seconds is the remarkable and authentic record which En Sue, a Chinese athlete, has established for the sporting world to marvel at. The record was made at a Chinese athletic field day held in celebration of the Chinese New Year. En Sue was in competition with nearly 30 men, the race being run in heats. The record was established in the final heat, John Lo, another Chinese youth, running second. En Sue is an all-round athlete, and is considered the best third baseman and the best base runner in the Hawaiian islands. He was one of the St. Louis college baseball team that visited Japan last October.

STALE AND UNFAIR Toronto World: The rule adopted by the joint rules committee of crediting a batsman who scores a base runner with a caught fly with a sacrifice hit, is no novelty to the game. In 1889, a rule, scarcely as specific as the new one, appears for the first time. It runs as follows: "Sacrifice hits shall be credited to the batsman who, when but one man is out, advances a runner a base on a fly to the outfield or a ground hit which results in putting out the batsman, or would so result if made without error."
The injustice of such a rule is evident. For instance, what would now be termed fielders' choices, had to be scored as sacrifice hits. After a couple of years the rule was dropped. That year Mike Kelly, of Boston led the league with 52 sacrifice hits.

THONEY STILL BALKS

Cincinnati, O., March 4. — Jack Thoney, the former Toronto baseball player, was all ready to join the Boston American League club, when that team arrived here yesterday, on the way south, but the train pulled out without him. Thoney was at the depot to join the team, but after he had an interview with President I. Taylor, he refused to sign the contract and probably never will join the Boston aggregation. Although Thoney will not give the exact words he used to President Taylor, he said this morning that it was a pretty warm war of words for a few minutes, and that he told Taylor just what he thought of him. The contract, Taylor wanted Thoney to sign called for a much lower salary than that which had been agreed on beforehand, and Taylor positively refused to raise the figure a dollar. Besides that, Thoney is sore because he did not get a slice of the purchase money. Thoney has an offer to manage a team in an outlaw league, and will probably accept.

C. L. S. Again Win Forbert Cup Defeating Bankers in Hard Game

Final Games in Town League Series Were Intensely Exciting—Y.M.C.A. Won From Little Britain—C.L.S. Victory Scored in Extra Time.

Evening Post of March 5 Last night's Town League hockey turned out the best yet. Both games were extremely fast, and good hockey was played throughout. The teams were also well matched, and this added greatly to the excitement of the evening. There was a fair-sized and very enthusiastic crowd of supporters for each of the teams present, and when a particularly good play was made or a tight place reached, the rooting was very enthusiastic. The first game played was the Y.M.C.A. against Little Britain during which both teams showed up to good advantage. The outcome of the game would decide whether or not the Y.M.C.A. would get their promised oyster supper, and the team did their prettiest to get their teeth on the mussels. For the first ten minutes or so neither side were able to score, although some very hard playing took place. However, the association landed the first goal of the evening after a hard struggle and things began to look bright for the oysters. However, Little Britain retaliated shortly with a nicely landed one in the "Y" nets and the teams once more were even. The Y.M.C.A. got the next, their second, on a great shot from the kid, Yarnold, which won him a round of applause. This was the last goal scored in this half, but shortly before time the puck was seen reposing in the Little Britain goal, having been shot by a man in the corner. After a little heated discussion among the players and those who saw the shot, it was decided that the rubber had come from the side through a hole in the net. The first half score stood, Y.M.C.A. 2, Little Britain 1.

Spratt in 'Rusty' Burke's place at centre. Pete is certainly a corner, and did some good work last night, especially during the first half. He was also working against the disadvantage of being of less weight than any man on either of the teams. The double referee system worked well. The Bankers' hot goal number one, with good, hard, clean play, and followed, after another tussle, with goal number two. The C.L.S. were putting up a good fight, but were not able to land anything till well on toward the end of the half. From then on nothing was scored by either team, although both put up a good fight. The score stood, Bankers 2, C.L.S. 1 when the men left the ice. In the second half the play was of the same stellar variety as in the first. The Bankers scored their third after a hard fight. This finished their scoring, for the C. L. S. now pushed them pretty hard, and with many exciting rushes and counter-rushes, added two more to the single goal they got in the first half. When the bell rang for time, the score stood three all. The excitement was intense. The teams decided to play off five minutes each way and the roots held their breath while hockey, worthy of the Intermediates, was played up and down the rink. The C. L. S. had the Bankers on the defensive, but still were unable to score till well on into the second five minutes, when the game was decided in their favor by some pretty neat work. The score stood, C.L.S. 4, Bankers 3. This gives the C.L.S. the championship cup of the Town League for this season and closes the league games. Good hockey has been put by all the

NEW SWIMMING RECORD New York, March 6.—In the one hundred yard race, breast stroke, at the sportsman's show, in Madison Square Garden last night, Henry J. Handy, of the Illinois Athletic Club, Chicago, established a new world's swimming record at this distance and style, making the 100 yards in 1:17 3/5. The former record, also held by Handy, was 1:18 1/5. Charles M. Daniels, the champion, decisively defeated Handy in a special 100 yard race, leading from the crack of the pistol, and at the end being 20 yards in front. The time was 56 1/5 seconds, which equals Daniels' best American record for the distance.

A STAG'S LONG RUN During a recent run of the County Down stag-hounds, the stag, which was unhooked near Banbridge and headed southwest, led the hounds a distance of over forty miles, eventually taking to the sea at Newcastle. After swimming some distance seaward, it returned to the beach, and racing along the shore, again entered the water near the quay. The animal was eventually captured some distance out in the bay by fishermen, who rowed after it.

"Fourth Estaters" Play Fast Hockey

The Evening Post and Peterboro Examiner Teams Clashed on Tuesday. Evening Post of March 5 The great Examiner - Post game has at last come off, and certainly made an impression on the Peterboro public. Several entirely new brands of hockey were exemplified, and some of the greatest plays seen in Peterboro for years were put on by the men of both teams last night, when the Typos journeyed to Peterboro. The game was hot and fast from start to finish, but the only one who suffered was the referee, whose eyes got strained watching the lightning-like passes of the fourteen proficient players. The game started with a rush, and although at half-time the score looked otherwise, the Typos were able to hold their opponents pretty well in hand. When referee J. Lynch tinkled his bell for half-time the score stood 4-0 in favor of the Examiner. However, when the boys came on the ice again, the Typos were determined things would be the other way for a change, and were beginning to feel more at home on the large rink. The game was far faster than the first half, and some great rushes were made by Williams, at point for the Typos. Almost first thing, Hickenbotham, of Typos fame, landed a dandy in the Peterboro nets. This was followed by one from Nisly. After some sensational stick handling, the Typos then settled down to holding the Examiner people at bay and kept things so hot for them that only one goal was scored by their opponents during the whole of the second half. The official score was—Examiner 5, Typos 2. Quite a large crowd witnessed the game, although it did not commence till a quarter to ten owing to the train arriving late, and it continued till half past eleven. The Peterboro press men certainly know how to give their visitors a good time, and the Typos owe them a debt of gratitude for the trouble to which they went to entertain them, an appetizing banquet being served at Long's restaurant. The return game will be played here next Thursday evening, when the Typos expect to reverse the score on home ice. Skating will be allowed after the game.

Another tale is that bets were taken in the Burgess Golfing Society that no two members could be found capable of driving a ball over the spire of St. Giles' Cathedral, Edinburgh. But two golfers did perform the feat. They were allowed to use six balls each, and the balls passed considerably over the weathercock. The bet was decided early in the morning for fear of accident. The required elevation was obtained by a barrel stave suitably fixed, and the height of the steeple was 181 feet.

Just a Trifle. "Have you a single wish that remains ungratified?" asked the indulgent father. "Yes," answered the daughter, who was beginning to carry weight for age. "I am thirty years old to-day, and I wish you and mother had postponed your wedding at least ten years."
