Lindsay Wins a Big Victory

Defeats St. Catharines at Toronto in Past Game by a Score of 11 to 3

BIG CROWD filled Toronto's largest rink Monday night when the Lindsay Midgets defeated the St. Catharines hockey team, champions of the Niagara district, by the score of 11 to 3. The Midgets are now in the finals, and will play off with either Stratford or Ingersoll for the championship of Ontario in the intermediate series. The boys conducted themselves most creditably and completely outclassed their opponents. The losers took their defeat good naturedly and admitted that the best team had won.

THE CROWD As early as seven o'clock the crowd began to gather at the rink, and by eight o'clock very few seats were left in the spacious rink. Both teams had their admirers, a special train having been run from both towns.

A special train left Lindsay about five o'clock with nearly one hundred supporters of the blue and white, while the St. Kitts team brought up a similar number. Throughout the evening they made themselves heard and the team yells could be heard on both sides. A number of Lindsay old boys came to see their pets play and were not slow to back them up.

THE ICE. The city of Toronto is not noted for having good ice, but they went ahead of their average on this occasion, and when the teams came out on the rink they found a very good sheet ready for them. As the game progressed, however, the ice became sticky, and time and time again our fast forwards overskated the puck. It was hard to make it slide, but the boys did the best they could with it.

THE GAME Taking the game on the whole, it was a very good exhibition of Canada's winter sport. It was not of the hair-raising brand, however. True, there were some pretty plays run off, but at times the game was hopelessly slow. As mentioned before, Lindsay was billed for two more games this week, and after they had obtained an early lead, they rested on their laurels for a time and took things easy. Both teams, however, got in some nice work and the fans got many chances to let themselves out and cheer. The work of both teams was applauded by the spectators, and when a brilliant play took place, the crowd went wild. As they acknowledged after the game, St. Kitts were not in the same class with the Midgets, and as Lindsay piled up the goals they began to lag.

A GOOD KID Perhaps the player who was the most in the limelight during the evening, was the young boy goal tender for St. Catharines. Those who did not witness the game might imagine that the goal keeper on the losing side was a frost, to let in eleven goals, but such is not the case. Throughout the evening the kid in goal was kept busy guarding the nets, and he certainly succeeded in getting the most of them. Shot after shot rained in on him, only to be knocked out to the corner again. His work was nothing short of marvelous and brought forth loud applause from the spectators.

THE WINNERS

Every man on the Midgets played his best last night and although hampered somewhat by the sticky ice, succeeded in showing their Toronto friends that they knew the game from start to finish. Newton in goal was all to the good, and what he didn't get weren't worth getting. He was in the way all the time and succeeded in stopping some hot ones. Koyl, the big defence player, was at his best, and gave the Toronto people his famous imitation of a cyclone on ice. His rushes were always dangerous, and brought the large crowd to their feet time and time again. Then there was Sullivan, the husky cover point for the locals. He was there with the goods again, and the way he broke up those rushes was wonderful. He also assisted in scoring a number of the goals for the Midgets. Stoddard and Blomfield worked together considerably, and their playing is worthy of special mention. The big rink suited the fast forwards nicely, and they broke away time and time again for sure tallies. The two kids of the team, Randall and Cotey, also worked hard, and although they were up against the best of the opponents, they showed up brilliantly. The boys were not pushed to their limit, but they played a good, steady game all the way through.

THE LOSERS

The St. Kitts team certainly looked as if they could play hockey when they came on the ice before the game. All of their men are big husky fellows, and they use their weight to advantage. Their two wing men are the heaviest, and they use their weight to block their check against the boards. Time and time again Randall and Cotey were held against the boards until another man had received the puck.

The St. Kitts men are not fast skaters and were hardly ever given a chance to show their shooting abilities. They were checked close and hardly ever broke away. Their defence is very weak and the locals broke through often.

THE REFEREE The O. H. A. introduced to the spectators a gentleman known as Mr. Bert Brown, of Toronto, to see that nothing else but hockey was played. He was inclined to be rather too strict, and what he didn't see wasn't worth seeing. He was especially strict on off sides, and saw them all. He was fair and impartial, however, and the crowd went away satisfied.

HOW 'T WAS DONE Exactly at twenty-three minutes to nine, Referee Brown called the teams together and dropped the puck. St. Kitts rushed matters and for a few minutes tried hard to score. At last Koyl got the puck, but when near the opponents' goal he was tripped by McGlashan, who was given a rest on the boards. Koyl and Randall then got a nice, two man combination going, but they were unable to get one past the goal tender. At last, after ten minutes' play, Randall secured the puck, and after one of his famous rushes, scored the first goal of the evening. Hardly had they faced off again when Stoddard notched the second goal in half a minute. The Lindsay supporters were happy but darkness reigned in the camp of the enemy. For the next five minutes both teams got in some fine work, until at last Randall and Stoddard got the third goal of the evening. The large crowd hollered to make it four, but there was nothing doing just yet. Sullivan was chased to the box on the boards for applying the tamarac, while Overholt, of the St. Kitts was given a rest for tripping Randall. It was not until after fifteen minutes' hard play that Stoddard landed the fourth, making the score 4-0. The score remained like this until the bell rang for half time and the teams left the ice for a short rest.

SECOND HALF. What the Midgets started out to do after the interval put fear and trembling into the hearts of the St. Kitts boys. After one minute of play Reg. Blomfield managed to shove in the fifth goal; again in three minutes he came back with another, and by a nice lift made it 6-0. There was great

What La Grippe Did.

Mr. G. D. Colwell, of Walkerville, Ont., was stricken down with La Grippe in 1906 and it left him in very bad condition. He says: "I was all run down and bordering on Consumption. I could not sleep at nights, had awful sweats, and coughed nearly the whole time. This is how I was when I began to take PSYCHINE, in a low nervous state; but from the first bottle I began to improve. It did marvels for me and brought me back to health in no time, making a new man of me."

"It fortifies the body against the attacks of La Grippe and is a sure preventive. I always take PSYCHINE if I feel a cold coming on and it puts me right in no time."

excitement at this point and the Lindsay crowd hollered for more. Stoddard and Randall got in some fine work but the kid in goal was in the way all the time. At last after 2 minutes Koyl got the puck and there was something doing. Through the crowd he went and by a nice shot landed the seventh goal. The big defence player received an ovation as he skated back to his position at point. St. Kitt's now woke up and in quick succession scored 2 goals. The Lindsay boys did not like this, and after seven minutes play Stoddard shot to Randall, who scored, shooting the puck between his legs. It was the prettiest play of the night and Kenny was warmly applauded. Again in one minute Captain Stoddard scored another, making it eleven to two. Before the close St. Kitts got another, making it eleven to three, although the Midgets tried hard to get another it was not to be, and the game ended with Lindsay pressing hard.

On receipt of the score from Toronto last evening, Mayor Begg sent the following message to Toronto— Lindsay, March 1 Mr. A. G. Simpson, Manager Lindsay Midgets, Toronto. Congratulations on winning the game. We expect you to win the championship. JAS. B. BEGG, Mayor.

It looks like Lindsay and Stratford for the finals. The wise ones pick the Classic City septette to win from Ingersoll on neutral ice.

It is to be hoped that the freeze out the St. Kitt's team sustained in Toronto last night will not have an injurious effect on the peach crop in the Niagara peninsula.

Should Stratford bump up against the locals a battle royal will be witnessed. Both teams are pretty evenly matched, but Lindsay should pretty nearly be able to take the measure of the Classic City team.

Presentation to Mr. Taylor Parkin

Friends and Neighbors Assemble to Do Honor to a Highly Esteemed Gentleman

Last Monday the home of ex-Warden Taylor Parkin, of Fenelon, was visited by over one hundred friends and neighbors, who assembled to show their appreciation of his services to the community and county as a public-spirited citizen and a man who had taken his part in advancing the welfare and up-building the neighborhood with its churches and schools.

Mr. Parkin was taken completely by surprise, but extended to his friends that hearty hospitality that made every one feel quite at home, and each sleigh load on its arrival, was met at the door by a hearty hand grasp and a word of welcome.

An impromptu programme was arranged. Mr. G. H. Wilson, of Lindsay, was requested to act as chairman, and the following programme was proceeded with. If one were to judge from the excellent quality of the programme, which was all home talent, there is plenty of ability in the neighborhood.

The following was the programme: Song—Miss Sarah Worsley. Chairman's address. Instrumental—Gallie Wilson. Recitation—Miss Hazel Everson. Duet—Mrs. Wm. Everson and Miss Marshall Moynes.

Song—Miss Ethel Pethick. Address—Mr. R. J. McLaughlin. Violin solo—Mrs. J. Mark. Reading—Mr. Wm. Parkin. Song—Mrs. J. Everson. Recitation—Miss Lily Tamin. Reading—J. Everson. Violin solo—Mr. D. Spence. Recitation—Mr. W. Parkin.

Mr. M. Moynes treats the crowd. In the course of the programme Mr. W. Parkin read the following address and presented to Mr. Parkin a very handsome writing desk and a fountain pen.

To Taylor Parkin, Esq., Fenelon: Dear sir and brother,—We are reminded as we gather in your home tonight of the great change that time is working in our midst.

The men and women who settled this neighborhood and laid the foundation of our present comfort and prosperity, have either removed from our midst or passed over the narrow stream that divides us from the unseen and eternal world. Only one or two of the old pioneers are left to remind us of the toll and struggles of the early days and to recount to us the incidents and hardships they endured and who went to make this community what it is today.

And now we understand that you also contemplate departing from among us, and though we hope your removal will not be permanent and that you may return to this vicinity we meet tonight to wish you God-speed on your journey and every joy and happiness in your future years.

We feel that these words of farewell would not be complete if they did not refer to the many and important services you have rendered to the community you are about to leave.

Your service to the municipality are their own monument, and need only a passing reference here, but the fact of your repeated reelection as Councillor and Reeve of this township as well as your voluntary retirement from your position of trust with credit and honor will always be a satisfaction to yourself and your many friends.

We acknowledge, too, the services you have rendered in the private business of many of our families and it is to your credit that so many could turn to you with confidence in their latter days and could trust their affairs in your hands. But it is chiefly in your work in the Church of God that we would acknowledge our appreciation this evening.

In the business of the church you have always shown an untiring devotion, and the neat and attractive House of God which adorns our neighborhood is not only a monument to the liberality of the people, but a result of your faithful oversight and persevering effort.

For many years you have served as a leader in our public worship, your exposition of divine truth will not soon be forgotten, while we trust your council in divine things shall, like the seed in good ground, yield an abundant harvest.

We ask you to accept this writing desk and pen as a token of our respect and a reminder of the confidence that as a community we have reposed in you.

Wherever you go our prayers will follow you, and whenever you return you will find a hearty welcome.

Signed on behalf of your many friends and neighbors, R. C. Webster, M. Moynes, D. R. Spence, J. F. Everson, Fenelon, March 1st, 1909.

Mr. Parkin, though completely taken by surprise, made a very suitable reply, and thanked his friends for their kindness. R. J. McLaughlin, K. C. O., of Lindsay, gave a short address in which he referred to the many good qualities of his friend, Mr. Parkin, and of his many good deeds done, as one of the home-builders of our grand country.

A most substantial and appetizing lunch was served during the evening, which all enjoyed. The following were among those present: R. J. McLaughlin, K. C. O., G. H. Wilson, publisher of The Post, Manly Maybee, Walter Hill, D. R. Spence, Elijah Worsley, Wm. Pethick, Sam Worsley, Wm. Wilson, Philip Allin, John Mark, Neil and Percy Mark, Wm. Everson, Charles Everson, John Eyerson, Charlie Elford, Warren Worsley, R. C. Webster, M. Moynes, Miss Lily Tamin, Miss Florence McPadyen, Mrs. Wm. Tamin, Mr. Wm. Barnsley, Mr. Herb Everson, of Beaverton.

The Roads Were Flooded

The Colonel's Applejack

A story is told of a colonel in General Lee's division in the late civil war who sometimes indulged in more applejack than was good for him. Passing him one evening leaning against a tree, the general said: "Good evening, Colonel. Come over to my tent for a moment, please." "S-s-cuse me, G-general 's-cuse me," replied the colonel. "It's 'bout all I can do to stay where I am."
