

County Constables Meet in Toronto

Will Ask the Government to Have a Paid County Constabulary

Chief of Police Vincent was in Toronto Wednesday attending a meeting of county constables of the province. In reference to the session the Peterboro Review says:

A meeting of county constables of the province of Ontario will be held in Toronto in the course of a few days to take up an important matter, and one in which the county constables in this district are deeply interested. It is proposed to ask the government to have a paid county constabulary, and at this meeting the matter will be discussed and action taken. The suggestion is one which was brought up a few years ago, but at that time no action was taken. As it stands now county constables only receive pay for the case they are called upon to investigate, and work up, and the remuneration is not sufficient.

A county constable who was in the city this morning stated that he would likely attend the meeting in Toronto. He said that under present conditions there was no encouragement for a county constable to stay at the work, as the pay was very small when there was no fixed salary.

"I think the time has come when we should have a paid county constabulary," he added.

Launch Owners are Getting Ready

The Advent of Spring Has Created Much Activity on the River Front

On Wednesday a Post reporter took a stroll along the river front where the pleasure craft of the citizens have been in winter quarters, in order to ascertain if the advent of spring were proving an incentive to the owners to get their floats in readiness for the summer.

On all sides there were evidences of activity. The launches were being made ready for a new coat of paint, or the installation of a new engine to say nothing of the other repairs and fixtures that are usually required each spring.

Things are getting very busy, too, at Mr. Jesse Perrin's boat house and several natty launches will be seen on the Scugog this summer. Several local citizens, it is understood, intend having pleasure launches this season, so that the outlook for a substantial increase in the number of launches on the local waters this season is very promising.

Many are anxiously waiting until the ice disappears, so that they can participate in the initial cruise.

Hymn Recital at St. Andrew's

Entertainment Under Auspices of Talent Workers a Decided Success

The musical entertainment, under the auspices of the Talent Workers of St. Andrew's church, which was held on Tuesday was a most decided success. The church was well filled with the lovers of sacred music and they were delighted with the programme. Although the entertainment was long the audience remained until the end and paid strict attention until the closing number was finished.

Mr. J. P. Donald made a very efficient chairman for the evening, and in a few well chosen words opened the programme.

Mrs. Mowatt, of Berlin, was present and she explained ten of the most familiar hymns used by all congregations. Mrs. Mowatt showed by her explanations that she had searched thoroughly and deeply into the history of the hymns and the audience was greatly enlightened. It would be hard, indeed, to pick out the star of stars in the programme, as every one who took part performed his or her part exceedingly well. The organ selections by Mr. Henry Hamilton, organist of St. Andrew's, delighted the audience and marked the player as a thorough master of the instrument. The anthem by the choir were also well rendered and reflect credit upon their leader.

Following is the programme of the evening.

Organ selections—Mr. H. Hamilton Solo—Abide With Me—Miss Cumberland.

Quartet—My Faith Looks Up to Thee—Messrs. Moynes, Hendry, Adams, and Bickford.

Solo—Jesus Lover of My Soul—Mrs. Blackwell.

Luther's hymn—Choir.

Quartet—Nearer My God to Thee—Messrs. Pym, Metcalfe, Morgan and Williams.

Organ selections—Mr. H. Hamilton. Anthem—Son of My Soul—Choir.

Solo—Rock of Ages—Miss Amy Smith.

Anthem—Lead Kindly Light—Choir.

Solo—Just as I Am—Mr. Pym.

Quartet—Crossing the Bar—Misses Adam and Morson. Messrs. McGregor and Pym.

Doxology.

Lumber Jack Lost His Wad

And Wrong Man Was Arrested But Subsequently Released

Jerry Toomey, a resident of Ennismore township, who has been in town for the past few days, is mourning for the loss of $40.00 which disappeared from his pockets in a mysterious manner.

He accused a well-known local young man of purloining it, and on Wednesday county constable Minthorne, who had been told of the theft, planted the handcuffs on the accused as he was standing in front of the Moore House and hustled him off to the police station.

The young man protested his innocence, and made satisfactory explanations to Acting Chief of Police Thornbury, giving his word of honor that should he be required at any time he would certainly be on hand.

Toomey, it is understood, has been in the woods, and since his arrival in town has been knocking around with several chums and is not quite sure just how he lost his roll.

Wedding Bells

STAPLES — LOWERY

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Lowery, Brunswick, was the scene of a very pretty wedding when their daughter, Miss May Agnes, was united in marriage to Mr. Cephas Staples of Lifford, in the presence of about a hundred guests.

The house was very beautifully decorated with evergreens and white bells. The bride was handsomely dressed in white net over silk, trimmed with over lace and white duchess satin, and carried a bouquet of carnations and smilax. The bride was assisted by Miss Jessie McQuade, of Omeme, who was gowned in white poplin trimmed with white satin and over lace and wore the gift of the groom, a beautiful pin set with amethysts. Miss Mammie McGill, niece of the bride, was maid of honor, and was attired in cream silk, trimmed with blue ribbon and insertion and she also wore a gold pin, with initials engraved on it as a gift of the groom. The groom was very ably supported by Mr. Ota Staples, Lifford. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold pin in the form of two hearts.

The bride was given away by her father, and entered the parlor to the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. H. Ryley, of Bethany. After the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Mr. Johnson, of Millbrook, they sat down to a sumptuous repast. The evening was passed in games and in viewing the presents of the bride, which were numerous and costly.

The young couple were escorted to Manners Station next morning, where they took the train for Hamilton, and Niagara. The bride's going away dress was of brown venetian cloth, with an ecru net, over silk waist and hat to match.

On their return home Mr. and Mrs. O. H. McGill gave them a reception which was largely attended by their friends and neighbors. Mr. and Mrs. Staples will reside at Lifford.
