Week's Doings At Oakwood

(Special to The Post.) The Woman's Institute held their social evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor on Thursday evening last. Their spacious home was filled, but it was impossible to ascertain the number of guests present.

Little Britain, Cambray and Linden Valley institutes were well represented. The programme was excellently rendered and well selected, being composed of solos, recitations by Misses Wooldridge, Webster and Hardy. The music rendered by the Linden Valley orchestra was much enjoyed, and they were repeatedly encored. The dialogue entitled city vs. country in which the following took part, Misses Coad, Hughson, Fane and Messrs Lane, Coad and Bonney was very interesting.

This was followed by a debate, resolved "That it is better for a lady to marry and go on the farm," was listened to with intense interest.

Mrs. J. F. Brass was the leader for the affirmative, assisted by Misses Hardy and Lane, while Mrs. Y. Richardson, assisted by Misses Webster and Brown, took the negative side, and all handled the subject with great ability and excellent thoughts were given on both sides, showing that they had thoroughly studied their subject. The judges were Mrs. (Rev.) Munro, Miss M. Graham, and Mr. F. Webster, of Cambray who gave their decision in favor of the negative. A dainty luncheon of cake and ice cream was then served, and all repaired to their homes having spent a very enjoyable evening. A vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. and Mrs. Taylor for their kindness in opening their home and the hospitality extended to all.

A large number of friends assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Cunnings on Tuesday evening of last week, when the following address was read:

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Cunnings: Having learned that you intend leaving in the near future, to make your home in the West, we assemble here this evening to express our regret at your departure.

In the years that have gone, even from early school days, when you mingled in childish play, up to the present day of manhood, we have learned to admire your noble character. Later in life, your brothers and sisters having sought homes elsewhere, you still clung to the old home, and brought into our midst your amiable wife. Since that day we have ever appreciated you both as friends and neighbors and always found you ready to lend a helping hand in time of need.

As the pioneers of this country found homes and prospered, so we hope for your prosperity and success in that great western country, where the abundant harvests must mean good times. Though the distance may seem great, to number in miles yet in these modern times it can be easily covered in a very short space of time. We will be looking forward with pleasure to the time when you will visit the land of your birth, and give us glowing accounts of your western home.

We beg you to accept this gift (a family bible and hymn book) as a slight token of our kind regard and appreciation of you as a neighbor. It is our sincerest wish that God's richest blessing may follow you, wherever your lot in the future may be cast. Signed on behalf of this gathering, Miss B. Dale, Mrs. O. Weldon, Mr. Richard Dale.

Mr. Cunnings then replied in a few well chosen words thanking their many friends for their beautiful gift. The evening was then spent in games interspersed with music, etc.

THE HABIT OF SAVING Counts more than the amount saved, especially in the beginning. Those who make a practice of saving regularly find it possible to save under conditions decidedly unpromising. And the smallest sums, saved steadily, in due season make totals of surprising size. Begin now by opening an Account with THE DOMINION BANK
