INJURIES & SKIN SORES—QUICK CURE.

A little child ran crying to her mother the other day with a nasty flesh wound and asked for Zam-Buk.

There lies a more powerful argument for Zam-Buk than even the scientists can bring. The child had had Zam-Buk before, and knew it eased pain and healed.

Zam-Buk works in two directions. Prevents worse results from a skin injury or skin disease (such as festering and blood poisoning) while it repairs the damage already done. Zam-Buk is entirely herbal, is pure, contains no trace of animal fat or mineral coloring. Surest and quickest known healer.

FATHER AND SON BENEFIT FROM USE OF THIS BALM.

Mr. Walter Adams, 177 Railway Ave., Stratford, says:—"My son, William, while playing barefooted about the backyard, cut his little toe on the sharp edge of a piece of tin. The toe was cut at the first joint, and almost severed from the foot. My wife hurriedly bathed it with warm water, afterwards applying some liniment spread with Zam-Buk. The healing balm quickly checked the flow of blood, eased and soothed the pain, and prevented inflammation and more serious results. In a few weeks Zam-Buk healed the wound so nicely that my son was able once more to go about, and also to wear his shoes without the slightest inconvenience. Not only is Zam-Buk valuable for wounds and cuts, but, used as an embrocation, I have also found it effective for rheumatic pains."

Zam-Buk cures cuts, burns, eczema, ringworm, ulcers, cold cracks, and all skin diseases. Druggists and stores, 50c box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

Brilliant Opening of The Collegiate

Improvements have also been made in the accommodations in the old building; among them a new physical room, which will soon be ready for accommodation.

The staff of this school is unusually strong and the general tone of the school is excellent. The improved accommodations will prove a part in attracting more pupils to the school. A ninth teacher should be selected in May or June for the fall term.

This is one of the few schools in the province which have organized a Middle Art Course. I hope to be able next June to recommend the special grant provided for this course.

All that was required, the chairman said, was to let the people understand what was needed to reform the conditions and the people will readily give the money. At the invitation of the Board, we have with us to-night the president of Toronto University, the greatest seat of learning in the Dominion, and, I hope, under his guidance and good management, one of the greatest in the world.

When the governors of the school wanted a president they looked over the whole world. They made no mistake in their selection, for week after week, month after month, as time rolls on, emphasizes the fact that the Board of Governors had acted wisely. I am glad to-night to have a man with us who fills so prominently a place in the lives of the people of Canada.

said it was a great pleasure for him to be here on such an occasion as this for several reasons. One reason is that any university recognizes the fact that the kind of work that you do in the schools is closely related to university work. Our educational system is one. This collegiate has a good reputation and has done much for us in the University of Toronto and other colleges. We have had many students who have won distinction for themselves and incidentally for this school. When a school gets a reputation, especially a good one, it is difficult to change those traditions, and you ought to be proud of them. A school that has an ideal that an ordinary school has not got. There is an impulse that a student carries with him all through the school by the knowledge of the good work done by his predecessors. It is a great privilege to belong to a great school and every community should endeavour to gather all its boys and girls together and have them taught by the best teachers.

The great public schools in England have done much for the country. Some of the greatest are Rugby, under the great Dr. Arnold, Eton and Buckingham, my old school. The students from these have gone into the world for themselves and have been a power in the land. It is not your that makes you a success, but rather the confidence with which you go at something, resolved that you will do your best and be faithful to the traditions of your school. Lindsay Collegiate has traditions. Of course, in this new country of ours, perhaps we do not look to the past as they do in other places. We are facing the future almost entirely, but remember that the future depends on the past. And yet we have a past. We are Anglo-Saxon and inherit much from our ancestors. Great things will be done by our boys and girls in the schools to-day and everything to strengthen them, to stimulate them, will make them a still

STRONGER ASSET TO OUR FUTURE NATIONAL LIFE.

The strength of any man is shown by his power of depending on others and using their resources in the proper way. Get a reputation for being able to face difficulty, able to undertake difficult tasks.

On the opening of this school you enter upon a new phase of your life which ought to be very beneficial to you. I congratulate you, Mr. Chairman, on the very excellent addition to your already good building. There is just one thing that you shall have, and that is ornaments. They are essential. Environment means much. Do you imagine for a moment that people who live near cathedrals and other large beautiful buildings are not benefitted thereby? It has an uplifting influence on the

MORAL CHARACTER OF THE PEOPLE

The home is an important factor in the education of the children but the church and school are also very essential in the life of the people. It is a great boon to any community to have such a building as you have. A rich man with all his wealth may know what beauty is, and yet a poor man may. In London there are many masterpieces which could be bought at a small outlay. If anyone wishes to benefit education, let him adorn this building with masterpieces of art.

The boy from the country is an asset and always will be an

ASSET TO THE NATION

He is surrounded by the masterpieces of the Divine Hand. There is color and sympathy in nature that cannot be reproduced by man. Education is not a matter of books, but of spirit. Further, it is a great addition to a school like this to be equipped with such as you have. You ought to be very proud of your inspector's report. One of our national dangers is that we have so many natural resources we think we can just fold our arms and let things go. The teacher plays an important part in our national life. Just a short time ago, I was looking over some of my old examination papers and I found I could not pass some of those same examinations again. But this is nothing serious. We sap the juice out of our studies and it makes us stronger men and women. Studying a lot of work just before an examination is not going to benefit us. It is forgotten very soon, and our minds are left barren. Constant and consistent study is what counts. After five, ten, or fifteen years, the student who worked diligently at his studies will make his mark in the world.

President Falconer closed by making an earnest appeal to the students to do their best.

NOTE OF THANKS.

Dr. Blanchard moved a hearty vote of thanks to the speaker for his excellent address, and was ably seconded by Mr. J. R. McNeillie. The meeting closed with God Save the King.

JANETVILLE

Well, March has come in like a lamb very quietly and with every sign of the glorious season of the year when life in nature shall be reviewed, when we shall again hear the music of the little feathered songsters as they return from the southern climates to seek out new homes and abide and help us through another season. The atmosphere is getting that spring and new life odour and in spite of wet roads cheer seems to be creeping up on all sides.

The soft weather has made the roads bad in some places, the horses cut through and made bad holes in the roads where the snow is deep. But the snow is rapidly disappearing, and when it goes in this way there will not be as much water lying around as if the thaw came in a hurry later.

Miss Margaret Armstrong has returned to her home after visiting with her sister, Mrs. Jas. Nasmyth, in Lindsay.

Miss Margaret Hobbs is visiting for a week or so with her sister in Oshawa.

Miss Ruby McGill, of Lindsay is spending a few days with Miss Mahalia McGill.

Miss Mossie Hutchinson is in Lindsay visiting with her aunt, Mrs. Jas. Nasmyth.

Mr. Richard Jennings, of Oshawa, is spending a week or so with his nephews, Mr. Jas. Hobbs and Mr. Hilliard McGill.

Mr. Clifford Henders, of Yelverton who is going out west soon, is spending a few days at the home of Mr. Jas. Armstrong.

Mr. Jas. Miller is wearing that broad smile that won't come off. He has a little boy at his place, now.

Miss Staples, of Fleetwood, is spending a few days with friends in the village.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. Jno. McGill has not improved in health and that it has been again necessary to take her back to the hospital at Lindsay. We hope she may soon recover.

Our Epworth League took a trip to Valentia last Friday evening. They had been invited for Wednesday and bad condition of the day evening but owing to the bad roads, could not get over. However Friday proved a fine day and the evening was fine. The trip over, across the lake was fine and exhilarating, but oh the roads in Mariposa were terrible. But after they arrived at Valentia Methodist church they found everything fine and to the satisfaction of all. A good programme was given consisting of readings, recitations, speeches solos and choruses by both Janetville and Valentia leagues. After that the people were coupled up in good style and adjourned to the basement, where a social time was spent, after which all prepared for the drive home in the bright moonlight after spending a very enjoyable evening.

A few of our people journeyed to Pontypool last Friday and spent the night in tripping the light fantastic.

A few of our boys went over to Valentia Saturday afternoon to see a game of hockey between Nestleton and Valentia teams, which resulted in a victory for Nestleton. Our boys play at Valentia next Friday, weather permitting.

A sleighload of young folks drove over to Valentia one evening last week with the intention of skating, but were disappointed. The rink was not open Mr. Blackburn, of Pontypool, spent Sunday with a friend in our village.

Owing to the condition of the roads, Mr. Hill, who was to have taken Mr. Gomm's place in the pulpit of the Presbyterian church was not able to be present. A small congregation has assembled, but had to go home without hearing a sermon from the preacher.

On Sunday evening Rev. Mr. Snowden preached a fine sermon on "Odd characters," using as his text: Hotea, 7 and verse 8, "Ephraim is a cake not turned." These are some odd characters in this world. Are you one of them?

Some people are trying to prophesy an early spring. We have not seen any robins yet, though one man said he saw a canary the other day. It was in the house, though.

"All is not gold that glitters" is a proverb that generally holds true. Nevertheless, Mr. Dougal Robertson of the Scotch Line, South Verulam proved it false on last Saturday at midday, as he walked from the C.P.R. train here, for he saw something glittering in the warm golden sunlight, right in the sleigh track, which attracted his attention, and on pulling it out of its nice case he found it to be a handsome lady's gold watch. The horses' hooves had gone clink, clink, over it many a time during the past month where it had lain as safely as if it had been in its nice chamois pocket in the jeweller's shop all the while. As soon as Mr. Robertson examined it he wound it and it started off just as merrily as it had been going when it dropped from the young lady's belt, as she tripped off from the train to the rink here a month ago. On presenting it at the Post office here, Mr. Robertson found that it belongs to Miss W. B. Reid, teacher in No. 3, Emily. It is now hanging on the wall ticking off the time just as other watches do, till Miss Reid will return some Friday evening to take it back to school again.

(Special to The Post.)

Mr. F. S. Stinson was a visitor in Lindsay on Thursday. Mr. Richard Lindsay returned from Parry Sound on Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Baker went to Stanhope on Tuesday to attend the sale at the home of Mr. Thos. Godwin.

Messrs H. H. Clarke of Haliburton and A. J. Scott of Geleit, county auditors, were visitors here this week.

Mr. Gallier of Lindsay was a business visitor here this week. Miss Nellie Casey returned on Thursday last after spending two weeks with friends in Lindsay and Woodville.

Messrs. R. Hannah and H. Harrison, of Donald, were visitors here this week.

Mr. Langdon is building eight new skiffs to be used on Gull lake next summer.

The Women's Institute entertainment which was held in the town hall on Friday, February 25th, was a decided success. Although the hall was not as full as the ladies had wished for, there was quite a large crowd present.

Mr. Young ably took the chair as chairman, and at the appointed hour, 8 o'clock, the programme began as follows:

Four minute Records for the Edison Phonograph

When Mr. Edison invented the Amberol Records he invented the longest Record ever made for a sound reproducing machine. But the Amberol Record is not only longer; it is better. It is made from a new composition which makes a more perfect reproduction of music or the voice than any known method.

An Amberol Record in an Edison Phonograph is the most perfect reproduction of a song or a piece of instrumental music that you have ever heard.

But do not accept our statement. Go and hear it. There is a dealer near you. Hear the Edison Phonograph and compare it with other instruments before you decide. We will leave it to your judgment as to whether you can buy anything for the price that will give you so much real, genuine fun and pleasure as the Edison Phonograph.

Children FOR FLETCHER'S CASTOR

Meaning of the English Budget

The main features of the budget, over which war has been waging in English politics, are likely to become law and it will mean to many of the proudest peers in England, not only the loss of their ancestral homes, but even absolute ruin. This now famous budget imposes extraordinary taxes, especially on land which brings in no revenue and which is to be rated by its capital value, estimated on the basis of the highest priced real estate in the country. Take for example, Holland House and Holland Park, one of the most picturesque and historic landmarks of the British metropolis. It has been likened to a beautiful oasis in a desert of brick and mortar. It is indeed one of the so-called lungs of the capital—that densely crowded capital of nearly seven million inhabitants. Yet if the land tax becomes law, Lord Ilchester the owner of Holland House, will be
