

DETROIT MOTORMAN GAVE UP BLOOD TO SAVE THE LIFE OF A STRANGER

(Special to the Post.)
Detroit, Mich., March 19.—In order to save the life of a man, whom he had never seen before, John Wisner, a ruddy checked motorman of this city, yesterday calmly placed himself upon the operating table in Harper hospital, and without being anaesthetized allowed nearly two quarts of blood to be pumped from his body into the veins of W. L. Fanson, of Abernethy, Sask. The radial artery in Wisner's right wrist was dug out of the flesh, severed, and connected with the basilic vein in the left arm of the patient. Then for an hour and a half, rich red drops, pumped from the healthy man to the weak one, leaving the former pale and exhausted, and the latter ruddy and revived.

Fanson is a brother-in-law of Dr. John W. Harrison, of this city and when the doctors of Abernethy failed to help him he came to this city.

Dr. Harrison found his condition serious, and announced that he was suffering from pernicious anaemia. Transfusion of blood, he said, was necessary to save his life, and he began searching for some one who would volunteer to risk his own life for the sick man. Wisner, who is a strong, healthy man, 30 years old, and weighing 250 pounds was approached and he consented, and without thought of compensation, went to the Harper hospital, prepared to give his blood.

A three-inch incision was made, and after some difficulty the artery was drawn out of its casing from firm flesh. The vein in Fanson's arm was more easily made ready, and after both arteries were bared, they were severed and placed together.

Gradually by pressure the blood in Fanson's veins rose from 110 to 135, his cheeks rose and his colorless lips took on a ruby tinge. Wisner's pressure fell from 150 to 100, his face paled and his hands were unsteady, but a smile left his lips as he watched the other glowing with the new vitality which he had given.

Fanson is reported in excellent condition at the hospital today and wife and child are overjoyed at his recovery. Wisner scoffs the idea of heroism, and is merely irritated that his sore arm prevents him going back to work as a motorman on the Sharman line.

SURGERY GIVES MAN A FACE

New York, March 22.—(Special)—By means of plastic surgery, a new face is furnished to Timothy Martin, and this week the physicians of St. Joseph's hospital, Long Island City having the case in charge, are beginning the last stage of nearly a year's patient work by making preparations to give Martin a new nose. It is being made out of the little finger of his left hand. Martin is 43 years old. On May 16, 1910 he fell face foremost into a set of revolving cogs in the Sunny side railroad yards in Long Island City. Only his eyeballs, said the doctors, escaped mutilation. His entire face was gone. Three of the hospital surgeons undertook the work, and finally succeeded in giving Martin a chin and mouth and lips so that he can talk and eat.

CHEAP POWER FOR KINGSTON

Kingston, Ont., Mar. 21.—The civic light and power committee has received more favorable terms from the Seymour Electric and Power Co., of Campbellford, for water-power than at first offered, and has decided that the proposition is now far enough advanced to call in an expert to advise the city whether to accept the offer or not.

The Seymour Co.'s offer is on the basis of $25 a horsepower with provision for selling of whatever the city wants over a certain amount at one and one-half cents at kilowatt hour.

F. L. FOWKE M.P. HANDS IT OUT

Montreal, March, 20.—The men who buy columns of space in Liberal newspapers and put in anti-reciprocity stuff that looks editorial matter, will make a bed for themselves to lie upon that will bristle with thorns for them yet," said F. L. Fowke, M.P. for South Ontario, Saturday night, in addressing a big meeting under the auspices of the Montreal Reform Club. "Those who have become millionaires, under the more favored interests, are crying out like the bulls of Nashan; the milling interests for instance. The unfortunate veom of the manufacturer against the farmer is shown in this question, which is being debated far and wide. There is no need of a mandate on the question. We have no right to be in parliament representing the people if we can't think for them. Sir Byron Walker believes in free trade in money. I think he would sacrifice his wife's relations for head lines. He believes in the city of Toronto, the headquarters of Orangeism and Toryism. He leads the list of the noble eighteen."

MR. McNEILLIE ON DEPUTATION

Toronto, March, 22.—A deputation representing all parts of the province waited upon Sir James Whitney and Hon. W. J. Hanna, at 10.30 this morning and placed before them the necessity of making provision for the adequate care and supervision of the feeble-minded in Ontario. The deputation was introduced by Hon. Mr. Lucas, and assembled in the main corridor of the Parliament Buildings. Mayor Geary introduced the speakers who comprised the following: Mrs. Lyle, Hamilton; Mrs. Torrington and Mrs. Heustis, Toronto; Mr. Macdonell, K. C., Kingston; J. R. McNeillie, Lindsay; Dr. Charteris, Chatham; Dr. Smellie, Fort William; Sheriff Cameron, London; and Mr. Lewis, Toronto.

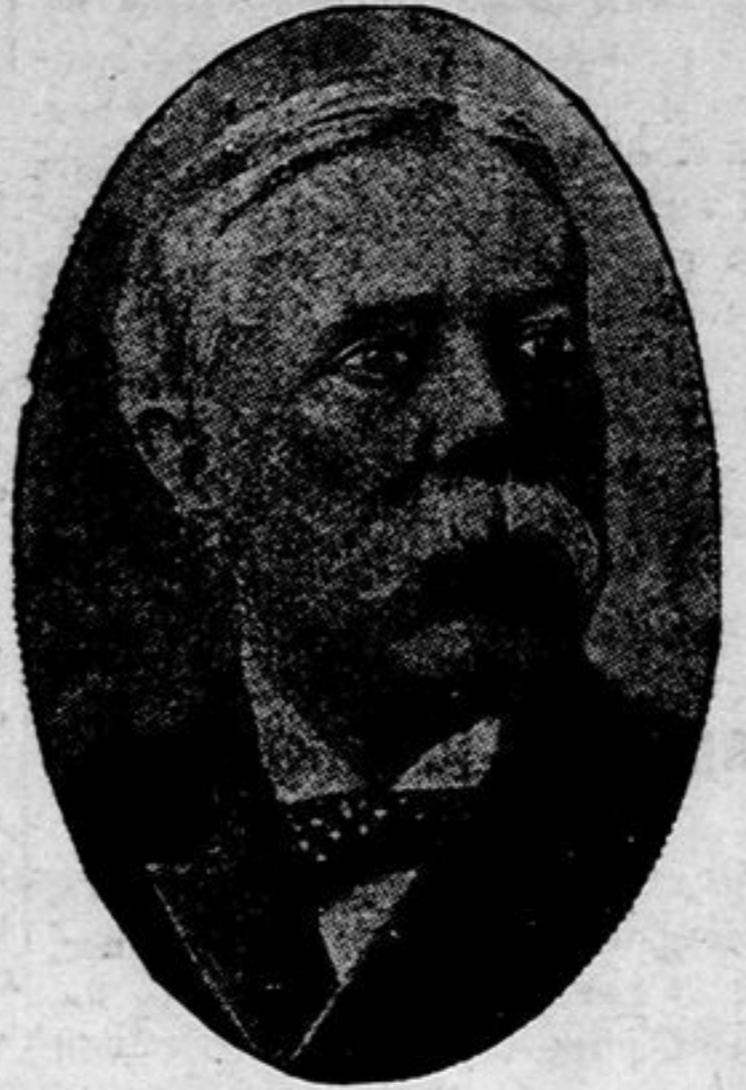

FAIR AMAZONS PLAY HOCKEY

Bobcaygeon, March 22.—A most successful benefit night for the curlers was held here last night at the local rink. A large crowd was in attendance the principle drawing card being a ladies' hockey match between two teams picked from the village. The game was full of excitement and the enthusiasm of the crowd knew no bounds as the "fair sex" cavorted around the rink. The play was surprisingly fast and some of the Lindsay "Hobo Leaguers" would be put to shame by the playing of the teams last night. Every member held her position down fine, and the checking was strenuous at all times. About the middle of the first half, Miss "Kit" Read, who was playing a magnificent game, succeeded in scoring the first goal on a combination rush with Miss Mae Arnborg. In a few minutes, however, Miss D. Robinson evened up the score, and the half ended, 1-1.

After refreshments of chocolates, bonbons, etc., the second half started, and was even faster than the first. The half was one of the most interesting ever seen in Cayceon. The disk was unmercifully chased from end to end and goal tenders had their work cut out. Near the end of the game, Miss Blanche Wright secured the puck and after one of the best end to end rushes of the game, scored the winning goal on a side shot that caught the goal tender napping. The game ended 2-1.

The ladies presented a very neat appearance on the ice, being dressed in white waists and dark skirts, one side wearing blue ties and the other red. Dr. Fallis, of the Curling Club, refereed the game, and incurred the ever-lasting enmity of the losers by penalizing their star player and thus making it easy for the winning goal to be scored. A complaint was lodged that the goal was scored on an off-side, but the doctor only smiled that "got-to-show-muh" smile of his and allowed the counter. Only a few minor penalties were meted out during

THREE ACCIDENTS NEAR BADDOW

Baddow, March, 21.—Mr. Howard Wilson, who a couple of weeks ago had the misfortune to have one finger taken off and another one and his thumb badly cut by his sawing machine caught cold in it and has suffered a great deal of pain, but we are glad to report that he is now getting better again.

Mr. Jos. Watson while working around Mr. John Wilson's sawing machine one day last week, was caught in one of the pulleys, and wound round the shaft. Mr. Watson was pretty badly cut and bruised and was at once taken to Dr. Johnston, of Fenelon Falls who dressed his wounds. We hope to see him around again soon.

What might have been a serious accident occurred at Mr. Greg Suggitt's one day recently, while cutting wood a large set screw in one of the pulleys struck Mr. C.D. Salter in the head which broke the screw right off, but Mr. Salter felt nothing serious only a numbness in that portion of his head.

There are still a few cases of measles here and they do not seem to stay with the children as Mrs. W. T. Watson are just recovering and Mr. Richard Suggitt is just commencing with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Goodhand and Master Freeman spent a few days with friends here recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Hatherly, of Millbrook, are visiting friends here at present.

Miss A. Watson of Cobocok has been spending a few days with her friends here.

DIAMOND WEDDING OF FORMER CITIZEN RECENTLY CELEBRATED AT OSHAWA

The following from the Oshawa Reformer refers to the grandfather of B. J. Gough's. Mr. Conway was at one time a resident of Lindsay having at one time conducted a hotel on the site of the present Shier block.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Conway, of Oshawa, celebrated their diamond wedding or the sixtieth anniversary of their wedding day, on Tuesday.

They are both natives of Ontario. Mr. Conway was born at Napanee 81 years ago and Mrs. Conway's birthplace was near Columbus, where she was born 77 years ago. Both still look happy hale and hearty and not much the worse for their long journey. They have five children, thirteen grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

When asked if marriage was a failure, Mr. Conway answered emphatically no, then qualified it by saying it had not been so in his case. He and his sweetheart had begun life together on his father's homestead which had fallen to him at his father's death some year's previous. They had set out to hew out a fortune in the forest. It was nearly all woods then, only little clearances here and there where crude huts answered for homes and told of a country in the making. There were no roads then; trails or paths through the woods from one settlement to the other were the best the country afforded. They used the crotch of a limb of a tree, with a box set in it as a wagon or conveyance in which they hauled by oxen, 1 sack of wheat at a time, 10 miles to a mill, to have it made into flour, then walking and driven in the oxen, and had to return home the same day, as there were no hotels in those days.

This old couple have seen many changes. Forests have given place to green fields, villages have grown into towns, and towns into gigantic cities, since they were young. They have seen many of their friends drop out of the race and pass over to the silent majority.

Mr. Conway lived in Toronto seventy-two years ago it was then known as Little York, and had a population of about 6 or 8 thousand, to-day, as we know it has about 400,000 of a population.

Mr. Conway says Canada is a vastly different country from what it was in the old days. He does not believe the young Canadians of to-day have the endurance or stability the young men of his day had, and thinks the old plain way of living produced better and stronger men.

Mr. and Mrs. Conway received messages of congratulation and checks from the different members of their family. Each wishing them many happy returns of the day.

Galt, March, 21.—The Galt town council has decided to spend $12,000 in the purchase of a 120-acre farm part in the town limits and part outside, to be devoted to industrial purposes. Already contractors are preparing plans for the erection of houses on new streets to be opened in this district.

MILK BILL IS FINALLY ADOPTED

The new Ontario Government milk bill was given a third reading on Monday. A number of amendments, were made in committee, but Hon. A. G. Mackay failed to convince Hon. Mr. Duff, Minister of Agriculture, that a Provincial standard for milk was better than a multiplicity of them as the bill leaves room for. The clause to which objection was taken gives power to each municipality to fix the standards and regulate the conditions surrounding the milk used within its boundaries. The Liberal leader, Mr. Mackay, pointed out that a producer who sent milk to several municipalities, was likely to have several different standards to live up to, according to the ideas of each city. The Minister of Agriculture thought that a general standard would have to be a low one and that many municipalities would not be satisfied with it.

"Let it stand that way for a year, and we'll see how it works," he added, and with that the bill went through.
