THE POST - LINDSAY

BRITISH COLUMBIA ELECTIONS

Semi-official announcement of the provincial election March 23rd finds the country in readiness for the contest which, like November 25, 1909, will be largely fought on the programme of railway construction. Of the forty-two members of the present House, thirty-nine are supporters of McBride. Prior to November three years ago the Opposition numbered thirteen, but the Liberals opposed the Canadian Northern proposal, upon which McBride then went to the country, with the result that only one Liberal was elected. This is the twelfth Parliament of the Government has held but only three sessions, and therefore are entitled to hold a fourth, their term not expiring until next year. But only three sessions of the eleventh Parliament were held, the Government deciding to submit the then policy of nearly 800 miles of new line for endorsement of electors. Present railway policy slightly in excess of that mileage being eight hundred and forty-five miles. There will be, of course, no increase in representation, and election will be held, not on new but on present year voters' lists. To this Liberals will object but it is explained that there is not time to complete new lists. Conservatives well organized and look for victory. In expectation of the contest, Liberals have been organizing for the past six months and expect to wage a lively fight with candidates in each riding; in many cases former members are expected to stand. Former Liberal leader Johnson, who was a member of the House for twelve years before his defeat three years ago, had been active in Victoria during the present session, and may again lead the party. Just what the Liberal policy will be is not yet made known. At least eight Socialists are expected to be nominated at this contest.

THAT TARIFF COMMISSION

The Montreal Witness in dealing with the Tariff Commission says: There does not seem to be much new about Mr. Borden's tariff commission. The practice has always been to give the interests a private hearing and then shape the tariff to suit them as far as the country would stand it. It is not by prayers that elections are gained. People do not subscribe big sums for the country's health. This commission is, as Mr. Ames explained, to regularize and put the seal of law and national approval on this United States principle of action. Mr. Cannon, who was the real power during the last Congress, and who worked the president and Mr. Payne and Mr. Aldrich and all the rest, formulated it thus: When all the interests have exercised their influence, the resultant action will necessarily be the best for the country. He simply ignored the inarticulate interests, those of the common people, who do not understand tariffs and have no voice for what concerns them.

MONTRÉAL, Feb. 27.—There was an improved demand from foreign buyers for Manitoba spring wheat for nearby shipment, and the prices bid were 1/2 higher; but, notwithstanding this fact, there was very little business done on account of the scarcity of ocean room, and exporters generally being well sold out of near-at-hand grain. The demand for May-June shipment wheat fell in sympathy with the weakness in the Winnipeg market for oats, prices on spot declined 1/2c per bushel. A good business was done in flour at steady prices. Mixed feed scarce and in good demand. Butter is firm and fairly active. Demand for eggs is good.
