SMALL SPIRIT OF PARTYISM

The following rebuke is from the Toronto Telegram, which cannot accused of having any love for Liberalism :-

"A small-spirited partisanship planned the grand Oriental entry of John Webster, M.P., as an anti-climax to the Parliamentary reception of Hon. Geo. P. Graham

"The same spirit prompts the dismissal of postmasters and caretakers just because they are Liberals.

"It has been the glory of Sir James Whitney to rise above the desires of the smaller spirits in his following. It will be the shame of Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden if he lets his Government sink to the level of these desires. The spirit that plans burlesque receptions to John Webster, M.P., and demands the slaughter of Liberal office-holders is a spirit that never should be permitted to dominate the Parliamentary tactics or public actions of the Borden Government."

STAY IN ONTARIO

(London Advertiser.)

There are just now particular reasons against the Ontario man going west to farm. It becomes month by month more glaringly apparent that legations that waited upon him, but that defeat of reciprocity is a heavy set back to the prairie country. It means depression of prices for Western produce so long as the American market is closed. Opportunity came, and she is bald behind. The West is tied down to a European market and a narrow outlet through Eastern Can-

Of course the prairie region will go on growing through its own momentum from vast productivity. Good crops will still be profitable, even the price of wheat remains from to 15 cents a bushel lower than the United States. The profit will be due in part to the cheapness of land; the land will have to be cheaper as an inducement. To Europeans and Americans needing land the west will still be a magnet. But it does not seem probable that the west can go on increasing at the expense of the older provinces which are so much nearer to the great markets and have an urban population of their own consuming to som extent their pro-

"Stay in Ontario" is the best advice to a young farmer to-day. The west is for the present bottled up.

VOTING BY BALLOT

The following article appeared in recent issue of the Peterboro Review, (Conservative) :---

"It is with a considerable degree of amusement that I read the motion of Mr. Burnham, asking the Premier he had considered the advisability of introducing vote by ballot on questions in the House of Commons.

I would remark in this connection, Mr. Editor, concerning those occupiers of the World's upstairs, the Powers that Be, that we are all at variance as to whether they are fates ville. or furies, angels or demons, gods or Few can take a truthful inventory of themselves, especially when it comes to vote. I fancy the Premier will put his foot down where he means to stand and will insist on having an inventory of his stock when the division bell rings."

WESTERN FARMERS BUNCOED

The Winnipeg Free Press in discussing the amendments to the Canadian Grain Act hands out the following to Mr. Foster:

Western farmers and eastern millers furious over the amendments made to the Canadian Grain Act by the House of Commons upon the recommendation of the Minister Trade and Commerce. Naturally they are indignant. They have been buncoed in the most thoroughgoing and artistic manner by George E. Foster, sleight-of-hand performer.

The new Grain Act destroys at one blow every safeguard to the farmer and the eastern miller that has been a series of annual conferences at Ottawa followed by careful legislation. Mr. Foster listened to the various dehe harkened only to the spokesmen of the big interests-the railways and the elevators. After ten years of defeat they found a Minister of Trade and Commerce who was in active sympathy with their ideas as to how grain should be marketed and hand-

The farmers and the millers do we to be indignant. The display of dignation is about all the relief that is left to them. Mr. Foster will repeat to them the patronizing remark he has already made that his vision is wider than the "localized view" of the mere farmer. "I am here, and here I shall remain," is his motto; and while he remains privilege will have the ear of the court.
