Cleanings From Powles' Corners

(Special to The Post.)

For the first of April there is a lot of snow on the road, and we can safely say that they are almost impassable, and will be for some time to come.

Last Friday evening a sleigh load drove to Mr. John Graham's, Blythe, the sleigh carrying seventeen, and they received a royal welcome.

Mr. H. Eyres, of Cameron, is back to this section with his wood cutting machine. There are a few jobs awaiting him. Harry is a first-rate, good, honest fellow to employ.

On the 27th of March Mr. A. McGee held a very successful credit sale, the horses and cattle realizing good prices, and no doubt if fodder was plentiful the live stock would have sold a little better. One matched team brought a little over five hundred dollars, and one cow sold for one hundred dollars. Some farmers complain about everything being so dear, and some of them are making live stock dear.

There are a few farmers in every section who are compelled to hire help, and in this community there are a few farmers who have already secured their men. If you want a good hired man, do not crowd him. It is not the man that can do the biggest day's work that is always the best. Some farmers like a man who is careful, who looks after little things and is also asking questions about the work.

The vast majority in this district are pleased to learn of the new temperance platform adopted by Mr. N. W. Rowell, leader of the Opposition. We will support it.

The concert and basket social held Little Britain on Friday, March 29th in aid of our hockey team was largely attended, and everybody is well satisfied with the result. The play, which was given by the local dramatic club, was all that could be desired. It is needless to point out any one as the star as every one acted their part in a first class manner.

The music rendered by the Little Britain orchestra was sweet and harmonious. Our orchestra certainly are worthy of much praise for their good playing, and I must say they were very fortunate in securing the services of Mr. James Marshall, violinist. His playing was excellent and worthy of a place in the best orchestras.

Mr. J. J. Rich acted the part of auctioneer in his usual good style. In the opening address, Mr. David Yerex briefly stated the manner in which the boys had defended the name of the Little Britain hockey team before the sporting public, by winning eight out of ten games played this winter, and they have yet to taste defeat on their own ice, and thanked the people in behalf of the boys for their splendid support in the past and hoped it would continue as long as there were so many clean sports in Little Britain.
