MESSRS. ROBINSON AND ARNOLD WILL ERECT AUTO GARAGE ON LINDSAY-ST.

Mr. L. R. Knight, on behalf of Melville Robinson and Thomas Arnold made application to the council for a permit to build an automobile garage between the building known as the Robinson Motor Works, and the building occupied by Morrison Bros., plumbers, on the east side of Lindsay st.

Mr. Knight appeared before the council on behalf of his clients. He explained the nature of the structure, which he said would conform to the requirements of the Fire by-law. It was pointed out that the proper procedure was to apply to the town clerk for a permit for the erection of the garage according to the requirements of the by-law.

JAMES LOW RECIPIENT OF GOLD RING MASONIC BROTHERS MADE PRESENTATION

On Monday afternoon a very pleasing presentation took place in the Masonic Hall when about twenty members of Faithful Brethren Lodge, A.F. & A.M. assembled to say farewell to Bro. James Low on the eve of his departure for Vancouver.

ed as Chairman, and in a brief address stated the object of the gathering, and expressed his regret that the lodge was losing such a valued member and the town an ideal citizen. Rev. J. Wallace, P.W.M., then stepped forward, and in a few well chosen remarks presented Bro. Low with a solid gold Masonic ring.

GOVERNMENT'S RECORD AT FIRST SESSION THINGS DONE AND NOT DONE AT CAPITAL

Ottawa, April 2—Yesterday, the first session of the twelfth parliament of Canada, came to an end. The selection of All Fools' day for the exploitation of the red light effects, has its moral, and it is not hard to decide who has been "fooled."

on the grounds of the loyalty of its leaders and followers, on the grounds of its hostility to any possible disloyal element. It was claimed that there was disloyalty in trading freely with our neighbors to the south of us and that the idea was approved of by the electors. The flag, British connection and imperialism were the keystones.

GEO. INGLE

Nationalist ministers, giving them the portfolios appertaining to the largest spending departments of the government; with the result that the Borden government has broken into a saturnalia of extravagant expenditure—forty millions greater than in any year in the history of the country.

When the new government came into power we were to have the ne temere quashed; we were to have people know when they were married. We were to have instant justice; but when a private member of the government party brought in a bill to make marriage uniform and draw the teeth of the hated ne temere decree, the loyalist government and its supporters voted it down—and among the members who joined in this inconsistent vote was the member for West Peterboro so the matter was shelved—the responsibility shirked—by referring it to the Supreme Court with the certainty of prolonged delay, and the title of a man to his wife, hung up in doubt indefinitely.

Another of the first acts of the government, elected on the loyalty and British connection cry was to kill the contracts for ships for a Canadian navy and do nothing in the way of assisting in imperial defence, though Mr. Borden himself regarded the matter when he was in opposition, as so urgent that he wanted to hand over twenty-five million dollars to the British government to build Dreadnoughts at once.

The Borden government has marked the session by further displacement of responsibility—shown its inability to do its own business, by the appointment of commissions. These commissions are so numerous that the commissioners, to the number of forty-eight, have been appointed, at an expenditure of hundreds of thousands of dollars to do the work of ministers.

One of these commissions serves to further show Mr. Borden's failure to connect with his promises. He was rightly insisted upon a pure civil service—men must not be dismissed without cause and they must be replaced by men chosen for merit.

Yet in all the history of Canada we have never had such a slaughter of the innocents, such a riot of place hunters as under the Borden government and the merit of their successors so little heeded. Mr. Borden appointed a commission to investigate the civil service—really to flag a dead horse by trying to find crookedness among the appointees of the late government and to create vacant places for Conservative camp followers. The personnel of this purity commission itself, convicted the government of insincerity. Two of its members rest under grave charges of improper conduct—one is said to be a convicted criminal, a very practical application of the police theory—"set a thief to catch a thief."

SALARIES OF CLERGYMEN

(Kingston Standard.)

It is not about time the clergymen of Ontario went on strike for higher salaries? All classes of workmen, clerks, bookkeepers and school teachers are earning 50 per cent. more money than they were ten or twelve years ago. Has the clergyman's salary gone up in proportion? Not by any manner of means. His congregation is generally quite content to let the minister slave away for the same old salary year in and year out without saying a word as to an increase.

The tariff commission, another promise, formed a basis for an attempt to manipulate the tariff in the interests of the highly protected classes, and rather than forego this advantage, and accept reasonable amendments, the bill has been dropped—aut Caesar, aut nullus; full power to favor the classes against the masses or nothing. Thus is the practical election support of the "big interests acknowledged.

The promise of greater economy in Dominion expenditure has been met by increasing the national outlay forty million dollars more than under the most "extravagant" days of the Liberal government.

The promise to assist the construction of highways was kept in the letter, but not in the spirit; the proposal to make the grant of a large sum of money and its expenditure a political machine for strengthening the government, was defeated.

The proposal to promote economy, by devoting two million dollars for a subsidy to the Provincial railway of Ontario, lost its value when the government refused to have the railway subsidized by the Dominion, brought under the authority of the Dominion Railway Commission—a condition that applies to all other roads receiving government aid.

Altogether the session has revealed that the government has disappointed, by its lack of effective work and its failure to implement its promises and justify its policy, not only the people but its own friends; the latter are secretly disgusted, but still loyal—as the Nationalist ministers subordinate their principles to the retention of their salaries, so does a certain class of government supporters swallow their disgust in hope of favors to come. "Principles be blowed. Keep on the sunny side of the hedge—do anything, surrender anything to maintain power."

Presbytery in Canada should follow the example of these public spirited Presbyterians of Glengarry and pay their clergymen what has been fixed as the lowest salary that should be offered a minister.

As a rule in Canada it may be said that Presbyterians pay their ministers as well as, if not better, than any other denomination; a free manse and $850 is the lowest that any one received and in all conscience that is low enough. What shall be said however of congregations of other denominations which do not attempt to pay anything like that sum? The most scandalous case of the kind that has come to our notice is one in a place not a hundred miles away from Deseronto, where a clergyman of a certain denomination (not Presbyterian) is actually expected to support himself, a wife and two children on a miserable pittance of $700 a year. Why, a boot black doing a good business, will make more than that. A common laborer on the street earns nearly as much. The ordinary mechanic in any city in Ontario is paid a higher salary. And yet this man, a university graduate, who spent years of his life and thousands of dollars to fit himself for the church, is expected to dress well, live well, educate his children, buy books and medicines on this wretched allowance. It is a disgrace to any church in this rich Province of Ontario that such a salary should be paid to any man; and the sooner the members of this particular congregation, who are quite wealthy enough to pay a much higher salary, wake up to the scandalous parsimony that characterizes the treatment of their minister the better for them and for the church of which they are unworthy members.
