Self-Reliance the First Law of Manhood.

The knowledge that one has something laid by, on the side, for emergency, helps to stiffen the back and give one courage.

Next to character, courage is the great stand by, and in the practical affairs of life, if courage is supported by a cash reserve, no circumstances can down a man.

When we have to ask favors, we weaken ourselves. Therefore, to those who have not started to place themselves in the line of independence, I would urge commencing now to do so. Start a Savings Account with the Bank of Montreal with one dollar, or as much as you can afford to put by, and you will have made a beginning that you will never regret all your days.

ANOTHER GOOD RALLY

The Committee Rooms Crowded Nightly
 —Splendid Meeting Last Night—
 Music, Speeches and a Good Time Generally

Great interest is being taken in the campaign by the supporters of Mr. Stewart and every night the Committee Rooms are thronged with busy workers in the cause. Committees are most enthusiastic in their labors, and a cheerfulness and an optimism prevails throughout, the more particularly as day by day the canvass shows ever-increasing accessions of strength to Mr. Stewart.

The course pursued by Mr. Fox and the Warder in attempting to blacken the character of a worthy citizen in the hope of gaining a party advantage has acted as a veritable boomerang, and numbers of independent citizens and fair-minded Conservatives have announced their intention of voting for Mr. Stewart as the only means within their power of rebuking such detestable campaign methods as are being employed.

Thursday was no exception to the rule, and those who attended the Committee Rooms enjoyed a treat in an excellent programme of music and speeches, the music being furnished by Messrs. Kelly and Otto.

The chair was occupied by Mr. W. E. Reesor, who opened the proceedings by expressing his deep regret that Mr. Fox and his supporters should seek to advance their campaign by traducing the character of a worthy citizen. Such tactics were very much to be deplored by everyone who had any respect for the fair fame of the good town of Lindsay. But however much this course may be followed by Mr. Fox the Liberals would refuse to follow in his footsteps. So far as they were concerned the campaign would be conducted in a fair, manly way, and nothing would be done by any friend of Mr. Stewart's that would in any way reflect upon the character of Mr. Fox. Mr. Thos. Connolly was the next speaker, and was followed by Mr.

W. R. WIDDESS,
 Secretary West Victoria Liberal Association.

Jas. Gilgoly, both of whom delivered short, snappy speeches on the issues of the day.

Mr. McLaughlin, K. C., delivered a splendid speech and was closely followed and liberally applauded. He began by expressing his sorrow at the course being pursued by the Warder in the campaign and expressed the belief that the reputation and good name of Lindsay was jeopardized by such tactics and was sure that the people of the town would resent any such methods as these to advance the interests of Mr. Fox. He dealt at length with the gerrymander and showed how unfairly the Liberals had been treated by Mr. Whitney in the measure. How different had been the course of Sir Wilfrid Laurier! His redistribution bill was so eminently fair that the members on both sides had expressed their approval and satisfaction with it. Then, too, the Whitney Government had taken away from the school trustees throughout the country the right to say how much taxes they might levy, what teachers they should employ, and what they should pay them. This was a matter which called for the strongest condemnation of the electors of West Victoria and he was satisfied it would be rebuked at the polls. Mr. Fox had claimed credit because the grants to the schools and agricultural societies had been increased. As a matter of fact he did not see that West Victoria got its proportion of the increased revenues of the province. These revenues were greater, not because of anything Mr. Whitney had done, but because of previous legislation passed by the Liberals. The government is but the custodian of the moneys of the people and it was his duty to properly disburse these moneys amongst the people and not for the benefit of his friends. Instead of doing that they had increased the number of officials by seventy-nine, although previously they had contained that there were altogether too many. Law expenses had increased from $14,000 to $43,000 and so on throughout the list, so that instead of making the grants much larger than they are they squandered hundreds of thousands of dollars amongst their friends.

Special Police To Catch Tramps

The Nomads Have Been Doing Much Damage Along the Railway.

A small army of special constables is being sworn in to do duty along the C. P. R. tracks. For some time past the audacity of tramps has been increasing and their depredations cost a good deal of money. Not content with destroying fences to make fires they pilfer the cars left on sidings and they ride even on passenger trains. The C. P. R. authorities have decided to deal sternly with this evil and all tramps arrested will be prosecuted to the limit.

The trouble is reported to be general along the line but especially so in the vicinity of Montreal. The Peterborough division has not suffered much in this respect, but precautions are being taken to prevent any mischief being done.

Obituary.

GEORGE SMITH.

Mr. Geo. Smith, of 80 Queen-st., this town, was found dead in bed on Saturday. Heart failure is given as the cause.

He was 68 years of age and a well known and highly respected resident. On Sunday he was well enough to attend St. Andrew's church of which he was a member, and last night he retired in apparently his usual health.

About a year and a half ago he came to Lindsay to live from the vicinity of Reaboro, Ont. P. T., where he had carried on the business of a farmer for many years. He is survived by a family of twelve children. They are Andrew, of Thief River Falls, Minnesota; George, of Reaboro; Richard, of Reaboro; John, of Omemee; James and William, of Reaboro; Mrs. David Hunter, of Barabey, Man. Mrs. R. Goodham of St. Mary's; Mrs. A. Edwards, Manitowish; Mrs. F. Hickson, Reaboro; Mrs. J. McNevein, Reaboro; Mrs. P. Pogue, Reaboro.

Interment is to be made on Wednesday in Riverside cemetery.

Fishing Notice.

Supt. of Game and Fisheries Timmely, of Toronto, has sent out the following notice to those who are disciples of Isaac Walton:

Non-residents of the province, living at hotels or boarding houses or living in cottages, desiring to angle in the province must first obtain an angling permit, the fee for which shall be two dollars for one person, and for a family not exceeding five persons in all, five dollars. For non-residents fishing from their own boats or returning to their homes every night, the fee shall be five dollars per rod.

These permits are good for three months only, and must be produced by the person angling when required to do so by an overseer or other official authority. The holder of such permit shall be entitled to take with him when leaving the province the lawful catch of two days' fishing, when the coupon accompanying the permit is attached to the receiptable containing the fish, otherwise the fish will be liable to confiscation.

Narrowly Escaped Drowning

Two boys had an experience Wednesday that they will not forget for a long time. Their names are Archie Gaul and Will Piercy. They were in a canoe on the river above Charn's mill going down stream with their current sending them along at a pretty fast clip. Whether purposely or not the canoe ran into the landing, bounding back with a great deal of suddenness. This had the effect of tipping both occupants of the canoe into the deep and cold Scugog, from which they were rescued with some difficulty.

A gang of men, in the employ of Mr. Carew, saw the upset, and running down, helped the boys out. Young Gaul could swim, but the other lad, Piercy, couldn't and it is said he would have had a pretty hard time of it setting out had not Jack Winters, one of Mr. Carew's men, caught hold of him and pulled him out.

Besides a bad scare the boys received a complete ducking and in consequence were in some danger of catching "their death of cold." Young Gaul appreciated this, for once he got free he took to his heels in the direction of home. The other lad, Will Piercy, who had gone down a second time, and was in a bad way, was some little time before he felt perfectly well and stayed long enough to see and express his gratitude to those who rescued him.

Piercy is a son of Mr. Charles Piercy, one of the dispatchers in the local office of the Grand Trunk Railway. Gaul is a son of Conductor Gaul of the Grand Trunk.

Next day boys were well enough to laugh over their experience.

Steamer Manita Made First Trip

Started Its Regular Daily Run to Sturgeon Point this Morning—Steamer Newly Fitted Up.

The str. "Manita," of the Trent Valley Navigation Co. Bobcaygegon, made its first trip of the season this morning, arriving here in time to leave at 9.30 in its regular trip to Sturgeon Point. Passengers to the deck and surveyed the busy scene as the steamer slid noiselessly down the now swift Scugog. The steamer has been fitted up considerably for the season. The machinery has been overhauled and repaired and the upper works repainted.

A Spring Broke

Toronto Train Meets with a Slight Accident Last Night.

The 8.20 train from Toronto Friday evening was a few minutes late on account of a spring under the engine breaking and letting the boiler down so far that the driving wheels rubbed against it. The friction caused such heat that part of the woodwork of the cab was badly scorched. Another engine was coupled on and the train proceeded on its way.

Rod and Gun

Extremely attractive is the May number of "Rod and Gun and Motor Sports in Canada," published by W. J. Taylor, at Woodstock, Ont. Stories of hunting moose, mountain goat, bear, deer and ducks surely offer enough variety to the hunter, while to the fisherman the papers on salmon in Ontario waters by the Rev. Dr. Murdoch and maskinonge fishing by W. Hickson must call up memories and awaken thoughts such as only the fisherman can know. "Early Postal Difficulties in Eastern Canada," is a contribution to the history of a subject which is near enough to be full of the deepest interest to the present generation. The visit of the President of the Alpine Club of Canada is described and a touching account given of the fatal accident which occurred to the leader of the party attempting a record climb in the Swiss Alps. "The Majesty of the Mails," a story of the heroic efforts made by the letter carriers of the far north to deliver mails in the graphic fashion and one understands as one reads the fine contribution how it is that despite enormous difficulties and dangers the Hudson Bay Company have never lost a mail. What wonderful heroes these northern mail carriers are. Amongst the many other interesting stories to be found within this number is a page of "Game Don'ts"—most appropriate as the canoeing season of the year is just beginning, and an account of a one-legged trapper who makes his own wooden legs. These are but samples of the many good things in this number which forms in itself a demonstration of the wide field of interesting experiences to be found within the Dominion.

Exciting Runaway Last Thursday

Last Thursday about 11.45 P. M. T. A. Fisher's delivery horse made an exciting dash up William street. No serious damage resulted however.

Many who saw the runaway, remarked that it was a great wonder that neither man nor beast was injured.

This is how it happened: While the driver was delivering a parcel at a house near Maumder's hotel the horse became frightened at, apparently, nothing in particular, and dashed off up William street, crossing Kent st. safely but when opposite A. L. Campbell's grocery their thoughts, evidently, began to run in different directions, so much so in fact that a sudden swerve swinging the rig to the right over the Bell Telephone's conduit, landing it nearly on top of the pavement, and incidentally on a couple of workmen who were nearby.

But this did not tend to dampen their spirits in the least and dashing on they narrowly escaped destruction by falling into the concrete culvert in front of the Bell Telephone Company's new building. The continued their wayward way recklessly up William street and were ultimately captured by Angus Campbell near the Horn Bros. Mills, the damage to the rig being slight.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Discussing it later people were at a loss to explain how the horses got away so safely in view of what they had to overcome. The wagon being overturned was left on its side in the ditch on the east side of the street at a spot directly across from Post building. Immediately in front of them was a concrete manhole. In course of construction, some four feet square, with a railing around it of planks placed on blocks of wood. Had the horses not jumped, as they did, into this hole they must have gone. Their leap for life must have been at least four feet high and three yards in length—that much at least to clear the obstruction.

Additional excitement was caused when a horse and rig, belonging to Mr. Campbell, started after the fleeing team.
