Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Rutherford returned last week from a visit to Boston.

On Friday last one of our young aquatic sports, Mr. Neil Robson, unfortunately upset his canoe just below the railroad bridge. He was talking to Mr. Harry Sawell who was standing on the bridge, when the Beaver came along and the canoe was tipped over him. He escaped with a ducking but the canoe shot under a boom and went down the log channel and over the Falls. It was found a little later in a damaged condition but not beyond repair.

The Misses Hough, of Lindsay were water and numerous picnic parties could be seen going off for a full day's pleasure.

Messrs. Watson Bros. boatmakers have been busy lately preparing their fleet of skiffs and canoes for the tourist trade which is opening up rapidly this year. They have now some thirty of the smaller craft ready having the winter months. All of these are now in first-class shape. The firm do a large livery business during the summer.

Mr. J. A. Isaac who runs the stage between here and Fenelon Falls has opened with a rather peculiar accident last week. On the down trip the neckyoke broke through some defect. The wagon immediately took the ditch throwing out Mr. Isaac and one of his passengers Mr. Fountain.

Both wheels of the rig passed over Mr. Fountain and he was struck on the head by a falling seat, but fortunately he escaped without serious injury. Mr. Isaac got off with a few scratches and bruises.
