The Poetry of The Habitant

Subject of a Delightful Lecture by Rev. F. J. O'Sullivan

A delightful literary treat was afforded the members of the Catholic reading circle at the residence of Mr. Thos. Beady, Lindsay-st., last evening.

Alderman R. Kyle presided, and Rev. Father F. J. O'Sullivan, of Port Hope, a former curate of St. Mary's church, was the speaker of the evening. His subject was "The poetry of the Habitant," which dealt with the poetic gems of the late lamented Dr. Drummond.

The reverend gentleman's address was an intellectual treat of the highest order. He interspersed his remarks by reciting several of Mr. Drummond's best poems in a delightful manner, and also paid a warm tribute to the ability of the dead poet.

The reverend gentleman was the recipient of a hearty vote of thanks at the hands of Senator McHugh and Mr. J. Rogers.

During the evening Rev. Father O'Sullivan and Prof. E. Kyle, of Toronto University, who were the originators of the reading circle, congratulated the members on its progress.

Miss M. Flurey also rendered a delightful vocal number, and Dr. Blanchard recited with splendid effect Drummond's "Last Portage".

The gathering at the close partook of a dainty lunch served by Mrs. Brady.

Obituary.

LESTER H. AVERY.

The death occurred on Sunday at the King Edward Sanitarium, Weston, of Lester H. Avery, a Yonge street cigar merchant, and resident of Toronto for the past eleven years. Deceased, who was 31 years of age, had been ill for a year. Mr. Avery was born at Cobocook, in 1878. He resided with his parents at 17 McCaul-st. He also leaves one sister and four brothers, one a Yonge-st. druggist. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon from the above address to Mount Pleasant cemetery.

THOMAS SMITH.

On Sunday, May 2nd, there passed away at his home near Rosedale, one of the oldest and worthiest residents of Fenelon township, in the person of Mr. Thomas Smith. He had been in declining health for the past six months. Without any apparent pain or agony he slept peacefully away, murmuring to those about him that he was going home to Jesus. Of his death it could be truly said, "Nothing in his life became him like the leaving it."

Eighty-five years ago Mr. Smith was born in Northumberland county, England. There he married Isabella Morton, and at once, in company with his young bride, he set out for Canada. They crossed the Atlantic in a sailing vessel, and eventually reached the village of Keene, where they lived on a farm for a few years. Some fifty-three years ago they moved to the township of Fenelon and settled on the present Smith homestead. Fenelon was then covered with dense virgin forest, which was then penetrated only by a few blazed paths. Mr. Smith was a man of singular activity and vigor, and in the early days he walked all the way from Rosedale to Keene, a distance of sixty miles. Farther in those times than now, because then the only road from Rosedale to Lindsay was the circuitous route through Islay and Cambridge. We could relate many other stories of the pioneer life of Mr. Smith, but it is sufficient to say that it was similar to that of all the first settlers, who by reason of the hardships they endured and by ceaseless resource may be called the makers of Canada.

In politics Mr. Smith was a Liberal, and from early manhood was an active member of the Presbyterian church. He was widely known for the honesty and integrity of his character, while his kindly disposition won him the respect of all.

Mr. Smith had seven of a family. His wife died about fifteen years ago and two of his family, viz., Thomas and Isabella are also deceased. Those that survive him are Messrs. William and Andrew and Miss Dorothy at home, Mrs. R. Brooks, of Rosedale, and Mrs. J. Hughes, of Orillia.

The funeral to Fenelon Falls cemetery on Wednesday was largely attended. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Ross, of Kinmount.

Wedding Bells

BURKE-BARNETT

Two popular young people of the town were united in marriage at St. Mary's church on Monday morning in the person of Miss Clara May Barnett and Mr. Patrick Burke.

Ven. Archdeacon Casey celebrated the nuptial mass, and the bride was assisted by Miss Lena Tetro, while Mr. Fred Barnett acted as best man. At the conclusion of the mass the happy couple repaired to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Bargett, St. Paul-st., where the wedding breakfast was partaken of. Mr. and Mrs. Burke will reside in Lindsay.

A Sermon by Former Minister

Rev. Dr. McMillen's Splendid Address in St. Andrew's Church Sunday

The people of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church were favored Sunday night in having with them their old pastor, Rev. Dr. McMillan, and the large congregation present heard with profit and pleasure the words which were spoken to them by their old friend.

Dr. McMillan is on his way from Winnipeg to Halifax, where he has accepted a new charge. He expressed to be benefited in other ways very from the same pulpit and to the same congregation that he had left six years ago. He noted with pleasure that the congregation were making great headway in the work which they had undertaken and any advancement in St. Andrew's, Lindsay, greatly interested him.

Dr. McMillan took for his text, Psalms 107, part of the 27th and 28th verses, "At their wits' end, then God." If you were to tell a man that he lived by his wits he would be inclined to feel insulted, but when we come to look into the matter we find that the idiot is the only man who does not live by his wits. Even the savage lives by his wits and exercises them in making provision for winter. There is a time, however, when man is at his wits' end, when he has nothing to fall back on. If wits had no end we might be today without any religion. God is all over, but men's eyes are like bats, they see only when it is dark. A great many people only pray when things are going wrong and when they see there is no hope for them. Some sailors pray when the sea is calm, but most of them pray only when the mast is trembling in its socket, and the waves are dashing over the vessel. The just shall live by faith. Some people say "In failure, when we are at our wits' end, then we will seek God." We should be praying to God through calm and storm, whether failure or prosperity prevails and not be like bats, who can only see when darkness is on.

A GUARANTEE OF SAFETY

Most of the soothing syrups and powders advertised to cure the ills of babies and young children contain poisonous opiates, and an overdose may kill the child. Baby's Own Tablets are sold under the guarantee of a government analyst that they contain no opiate or harmful drug. They can be given with absolute safety to a new born child. They cure all ailments originating in disordered stomach or bowels. Mrs. F. S. Young River Herbert, N. S., says:—"I have used Baby's Own Tablets for constipation and stomach troubles and for when my baby was teething, and I have found them the best medicine I know of for these troubles." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

New Steamer on the Trent Canal

Within the next week or ten days the Provincial Government will put the steamer "Maya" in the Trent waters to protect the fish by preventing illegal methods in fishing.

Capt. Hunter, of Belleville, was in Peterboro in connection with the matter, and from the information gained the "Maya" will make a fine addition to the Trent fleet. It will patrol the whole Trent waterway from Healey's Falls to Lake Simcoe. It is a sixty-footer, trim and fast, and has been doing duty on the Bay of Quinte. It will be placed on flat cars at one of the lake shore towns and taken to Peterboro.

National Conference of Charities

The thirty-sixth national conference of charities and correction will meet in Buffalo from June 9th until the 16th, and over one thousand social workers are expected. The addresses and discussions will be led by distinguished and experienced men and women, and every phase of social and charitable activity will be fully covered. Mr. J. J. Kelso, of Toronto, is a member of the executive, and has been special instructed to convey a friendly invitation to Canadians to attend. The invitation should be widely accepted.

Assumed the Duties

Mr. J. H. Sootheran, who was recently appointed county court clerk, assumed the duties of his office on Wednesday of this week.

Thrown from Bike While Going Home

George White Badly Cut About the Head—Six Stitches Required

While wheeling to dinner Monday Mr. Geo. White met with a very painful accident which will necessitate his remaining in for a few days. Mr. White was on his wheel and was crossing the railroad at Colborne-st and Victoria-ave., when the front wheel caught in the track, throwing its rider to the ground. His head struck one of the ties, inflicting a deep gash about three inches long. Mr. White was picked up in a semi-conscious condition and taken to his home, where a doctor was called. Six stitches were required to sew up the cut. Mr. White's many friends hope for his speedy recovery.

Procession Was a Howling Success

The Experience of a Mariposa Man at Cannington

Cannington Plaindealer: About five o'clock on Tuesday afternoon a fisherman from Mariposa who came to town to fish "suckers" must have found it very cold, for he took an overdose of "dope" with the result that on his way home he felt weak about the "hocks" and laid down to rest at the friendly door of Mr. Stephen, west Simcoe street. The chief of Police was immediately telephoned for, who, as usual was "Johnny on the spot" and could be seen tearing down the street at the rate of thirty miles an hour as timed by our Fly Back. After some difficulty the fisherman was awakened and quiet as lightning the Chief had the nippers on his wrist, thus averting what might have been a tragedy. The procession started for No. 1 police station at 5.18 p. m., with Messrs West and Jack Hepburn ready to bail the prisoner out, and followed by a howling mob of school children, and by the time the grist mill was reached the excitement was intense, and the street presented an appearance which might be expected if Ringling Bros. circus had struck town. Via Islay street, with great difficulty the Chief worked his way through the maddening crowd, and landed him at the door of the police station, where our popular carter, Mr. Jack Hepburn, arranged matters to the satisfaction of the chief, and Mr. West, and by this time the 'jag' having recovered from his indisposition, was allowed to depart to his happy hunting ground in Mariposa.

Burleigh Falls Power Purchase

The City of Peterboro Will Consider the Purchase of This Power

Times: An emergency meeting of the committee of the whole council was called in Peterboro Friday night at the request of Mr. J. A. Culverwell, of the Central Ontario Power Company, Limited, who desire to place before the city a proposition whereby the city would purchase Burleigh Falls power and have a good supply of electric energy for all time to come. Mr. Culverwell was accompanied by the solicitor for the company, Mr. R. J. McLaughlin, K. C., of Lindsay, and Toronto, who is a prominent shareholder.

These two gentlemen placed their proposition before the council. They wanted the city to purchase Burleigh Falls power and develop it themselves or to purchase it developed from the company. They said they are having a report by a prominent engineer prepared now, and that it would be ready about the end of next week. As soon as it was they would give it to the council as the company is very anxious to do business with the city.

It is a well known fact that the city would like to purchase the Burleigh Falls power and have been for several years. From the discussion which took place last night, however, it seems more than likely that something definite will result very shortly.

Lost His Balance

On Saturday evening a citizen who had imbibed too much liquor drifted into a Kent-st. store, and proceeded to fall over everything before him. He finally lost his footing and in falling backwards struck his head against some shelving, inflicting a nasty cut. Several of his friends took him in hand and had his injuries attended to.

Toronto and Ontario houses are interested in the failure of Mr. Israel Crossman and Messrs. Shaer & Ellsoph, of Montreal.

Canadian National New Building

The Transportation Building About to be Erected for Toronto's Fair

The new Transportation building, the latest addition to Canada's National's Exhibition City, is to be substantial, ornate and modern, to be in keeping with the two million dollars worth of other buildings which give the Canada National Exhibition the most extensive and best equipped exhibition grounds on the continent.

This new structure is of red pressed brick and buff stone trimmings, with concrete foundation and roof supports of trusses of steel. It is 337 feet long by 153 feet wide, and provides 43,000 square feet of exhibit floor space. There will be four entrances with ornamental pediments over each entrance, and also over the corner pavilions, and a balustrade surrounding the whole buildings on this or any other continent. Toilet accommodation is provided for men and women at the north and south entrances, with drinking fountains at all of them.

With the steady increase in the use of the automobile, which, however, does not seem to offset the trade in carriages, buggies, wagons, etc., Transportation is becoming more and more a feature of exhibitions, and the Canada National, with the splendid facilities provided by the new Transportation building, will be in a position to make the most of the feature.

The work of building is already well under way, and August 28th, when the exhibition opens, will see it complete in every detail.

But this is simply one evidence that the Canada National is determined, to keep not merely abreast, but some distance in advance of the procession. In all other lines, the big fair is forging ahead. In exhibits of all kinds, band music, and special attractions, nothing has been overlooked that will help to make August 28th to September 13th red letter days in the exhibition history of Canada, and keep the Canadian National Exhibition in its place as one of the greatest annual exhibitions.

From the way May came in it is evident that she has a mean disposition.

The heavy rains play havoc in the low lands.
