

DYNAMITE EXPLOSION AT THE FALLS YOUNG MAN IN CRITICAL CONDITION

(Special to The Post.)
Penelon Falls, April 30—A shocking accident occurred near the Falls on Monday evening, when a young man named Artis, who lives a few miles out of town, was severely injured by an explosion. It appears that he was engaged in removing stumps with the aid of dynamite and after applying the fuse to one he retreated and waited longer than the time usually required for an explosion to take place. No such result occurring he went over to the stump and leaned over, when the explosion took place, part of the stump striking him on the head and making a terrible wound, which bled profusely. After the accident he made his way to the house, but finding no one there, he managed to harness a horse and drive to the Falls, where he now lies at the home of Mr. Smith-gram, south of the river, in a critical condition, under the care of a physician.

LINDSAY BOY HOME FROM WEST COMMENTS UPON TOWN'S ADVANTAGES

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. McGeough are in town yesterday and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. McGeough, Malborough street. Mr. McGeough leaves Monday for Toronto where he will represent the Saskatchewan Canadian Pacific telegraphers at their annual business meeting. From there he will go to Baltimore, Md., and will spend two weeks in the interests of the C.P.R. employees at the grand assembly of the O.R.T. This meeting will be composed of representatives from every railroad in the United States, Canada and Mexico and its deliberations are closely followed by all key-men of America, but especially by Canadians, as important changes in connection with them are anticipated.

Mr. McGeough has twice represented the telegraphers at such meetings, which goes to show the ability of one of Lindsay's home boys. Conversing with T. C. Matchett, C. P. R. agent here this morning, Mr. McGeough commented upon the advantages which Lindsay offers to manufacturing interests and is confident that if good progressive methods are employed, many manufacturers could be induced to locate here. When Saskatchewan, remote as it is, with wages and living so high, can procure fourteen industries, each employing from fifty to two hundred and fifty men, and still have seventy more prospects, what could Lindsay not do, considering their splendid shipping facilities, labor, power and other advantages.

COMMISSIONER O'NEIL HAD NARROW ESCAPE

Tuesday afternoon Street Commissioner P. O'Neill had a narrow escape from death at the drain crossing. Robert St., near Dr. Blanchard's residence. He was down in the bottom of the drain with a cant hook for the purpose of placing a 1,000 lb. pipe which hung suspended over him when a tripod falling towards him. In his efforts to get out of the way he was struck in the head and shoulders and also sustained injuries to one of his hands and arms. The blood spurted from a cut on the side of the head, and it was thought Mr. O'Neill was badly injured. It was a narrow escape for had the tripod fallen on him a terrible accident would have resulted.

LIEUTENANT RYAN IS IN COMMAND

Major Bennett, D.A.A. and B.M.G., was in town yesterday, and accompanied by Col. Hopkins motored to Norfolk, where they inspected the Company of the 45th Regt., and transferred it to Lieut. Ryan. This is the last company of the 45th to be inspected, and Col. Hopkins is to be congratulated on having all the old clothing of the regiment condemned, and a complete new outfit of uniforms ordered to be issued at once. Considerable enthusiasm is being displayed by both officers and men as they naturally appreciate having new uniforms to go to camp in. Lieut. Ryan will have fine representative body of men in his northern company this year. He has proved himself a very capable and popular officer when serving with Captain Le-Craw, and now that he has been promoted to command, it is expected that this company will turn out better than ever before.

HAZEL COAD IS STILL UNCONSCIOUS FAINT HOPE FOR HER RECOVERY

(Special to The Post.)
At one o'clock this morning, the condition of the two women victims of the College street, (Toronto) accident, had changed very little. Dr. J. W. Russell and Dr. Yeo, however, reported that there was evidence of a change for the better in Mrs. A. E. Britnell's condition, and that even Miss Coad might recover.

Mrs. Britnell, at times has been conscious, but at no time has Miss Coad shown any sign of regaining her senses.

Joseph Coad, of 20 Hepburne-st., the young woman's father, when at the hospital yesterday was told by the physicians that there was now a faint hope of his daughter's recovery, although she was still unconscious. Mrs. Coad, the mother, has been unable to stand the shock and is now ill at her home. She was anxious to see her daughter yesterday, but her condition made a visit impossible.

Joseph Coad, father of Miss Hazel Coad, was informed of the accident just as he was retiring for the night.

"A gentleman came to the house," said Mrs. Coad to The Star, "and asked if I had heard of it. I told him I had not, and he broke the news to me. I had a few words with Edward Britnell at the hospital. Edward told me that he had seen the street car just as he was about to turn down Dufferin from College, but that it was a considerable distance away. Britnell said he was not driving the auto more than eight miles an hour, and that he was exercising proper care. Then a most, before he knew it, the street car had struck the motor car.

"I do not believe that Britnell was speeding. He was taking Hazel and the others to Brock avenue, and was coming back for others.

"Regarding my daughter's condition it was thought at first that her injuries were more serious than Albert Britnell's. While my daughter is still unconscious, she is alive, and while there is life there is hope. Her head is injured, and she may have sustained internal injuries, although we do not know this."

Miss Coad, aged 19, is a member of the office staff of Lowndes Company. She is a bright, popular and accomplished girl. She took part in the adding machine contest at Macey Hall on Saturday night, plays the piano, and sings particularly well, is a member of the As You Like It Club, and is actively connected with the Dovercourt Presbyterian church.

The Coads moved to Toronto from Oakwood, near Lindsay, four years ago.

At nine o'clock this morning Miss Coad was still unconscious, and her doctors were doubtful as to her chances of recovery. Besides being badly bruised and cut up, her skull was thought to have been fractured.

Later—The Post has received information just before going to press that Miss Coad had regained consciousness for a short time and that hope are now held out for her recovery.

SAVED GIRL FROM LIFE OF SIN PORT HOPE MAN WINS MILLIONS

Montreal, April 28—David Kydd Byrne returned to Montreal from Australia where for the last four years he has been engaged in establishing the legality of his claims to a fortune which he avers has been left him by a millionaire named Byrne as a reward for the part he played in the salvation of Byrne's daughter from a life of shame.

Mr. Kydd-Byrne says that upon the completion of a few minor formalities he will enter into the enjoyment of a part, and the administration of another part of an estate of eight and one-half million dollars.

He stated that some years ago he had been a resident of Montreal, being at that time engaged in the tea business. He had subsequently moved to Toronto and in 1907 left the latter place to visit a brother in Chicago. One day he was accosted by a young woman, who told him her life story, whereupon he entreated her to give up her evil ways and return to the home of her father, a Pittsburg millionaire named Byrne. This she promised to do.

In September of the same year, Kydd while in Toronto, received a communication from the girl's father, stating he had returned home, and that he was overjoyed, he wished to meet the saviour of his child.

ASSUMED ANOTHER NAME
Byrne died, but not before he made a will, leaving the bulk of his fortune to Kydd, his sole request being that Kydd assume the name of Byrne. The affairs of Byrne were found to be in a complicated condition, and it has taken four years of constant work in Australia on the part of the present legate to straighten matters out.

Mr. Kydd-Byrne, who is accompanied by his wife and son, Charles, will remain some days in Montreal before proceeding to Port Hope, his birthplace.

Sir Charles Tupper is in Ottawa, the guest of Collingwood Schreiber. Premier Borden met him at the depot.

The farmers in this section will find the new veterinary doctor at home at Penelon Falls, while Dr. Mason is following Whitney and voting against temperance measures. Seeding is well advanced in this locality.
