

IMPORTANT FACTS —CONCERNING— THE CANADA LIFE ASSURANCE CO.

No Claim Has Been Contested.—The Canada Life has a record of sixty years of honorable dealing, during which period no claim has been contested on account of a technicality. In fact, no record of any such action appears in the entire history of the Company.

$115 For Every $100 Paid In.—The Canada Life since its inception has paid or credited to its policy-holders $115.00 for every $100.00 paid by them. This is conclusive evidence of successful management.

A WEEPING WILLOW.

The Warder has got the weeps. With the marks of pain and sorrow upon its face and tears streaming in torrents down its furrowed cheeks, it turns an agonized face to a cold and callous world and in tremulous tones appeals for sympathy because, as it alleges, Sam Fox has an impediment in his speech and the wicked, hard-hearted and cruel Post has magnified the defect most shamefully and called him a mute. Oh! the horror of it! So everybody must vote for Sam Fox to show that they don't believe he is a mute, and to prove their deep and heartfelt sympathy for him in the pain the Post has so heartlessly inflicted.

What a wicked world this is to be sure. Let us weep, too.

But if Sam Fox has a physical impediment in his speech the Post didn't know it and if it were true we should be the last to mention it. Did not Col. Matheson, who surely could not lie to a Lindsay audience, tell us that Mr. Fox is one of the best speakers in the House, and after ten years' association with him in the Legislature he ought to be able to form a very accurate opinion. Of course, it will be remembered that the gallant Colonel did not go so far as to say that Sam ever did any talking in the House, but only that he is one of those capable of talking. And a man who can talk and won't be mute, or we don't know our dictionary. It may be, and very probably is, that Mr. Fox feels that the quality of his talk, Col. Matheson notwithstanding, is not just of the high quality—does not evidence that broad mental grasp—which should characterize parliamentary speakers, and therefore he maintains an indignant silence. But is that any reason why we should beat our breast or tear our hair, or lift up our face and weep. Better follow the lines of least resistance and substitute a man who has no mental impediment to his speech and who is endowed with every qualification to make him a brilliant and creditable representative. To whine and cry for sympathy, on false cries because the people of this riding are deciding to send the ablest of our citizens to represent them in the Legislature is childish in the extreme and only excites ridicule in the minds of the electorate and even the boys on the street.

IT WON'T DO MR. WHITNEY

Discussing Mr. Whitney's speech in Lindsay, the Hamilton has this to say:

In a speech on Tuesday Premier Whitney made an attempt to turn aside the criticism which his action in the La Rose matter has naturally called forth. Following his usual custom, Whitney did not deal with it in a candid and straightforward manner, but assumed a high and mighty air, and endeavored to make it appear that the payment of $130,000 to the La Rose people, among whom is Hon. Mr. Cochrane's brother-in-law, was by way of purchase of evidence that would prove of value to the province. He alleged that this mine might be worth millions, yet Mr. MacKay, without knowing anything about the matter, or the rights or claims of the parties to the dispute about it, by a stroke of his pen gave it to the O'Briens.

There is only one way by which a statement of this kind, coming from the First Minister of the Province, can be properly characterized. It is a deliberate attempt to misrepresent the situation and to deceive the people whom he addresses.

In November 1903, two parties claimed the discovery of this mining location. The rights or claims of one party to the title were purchased by the O'Briens; of the other, by the La Rose Company. The dispute as to which should hold the title went on during most of the subsequent year, and in due course was submitted to a board of arbitrators, which sat publicly and openly, clothed with the powers of a court, for about three weeks, hearing the evidence in the case. The Commissioners were: T. W. Gibson, now Deputy Minister of Mines; Arthur White, now Deputy Minister of Lands; Dr. Kennedy, Head Law Clerk of the Department. Each party was represented by counsel, and the Board gave its decision on Dec. 20, 1904, awarding 40 acres to the La Rose people and the balance of the tract to the O'Briens.

Mr. MacKay was sworn in as Commissioner of Crown Lands on Nov. 23, 1904, and in pursuance of his duty to give effect to the decision of the arbitrators, he endorsed their report, which was not his business to do, and to know the pros and cons of the case; they were left to the court, in which all parties had confidence.

But in the face of the Tory campaign statement—a falsehood, of course—that "MacKay secretly decided the dispute," the records show that the lease of the property held by the La Rose people was issued by the O'Briens Government, while that to the O'Briens was issued by the Whitney Government in 1905. Where, then, the use of Whitney's money to the La Rose people?

Whitney's plea is understood to be that with this $130,000—and nobody knows how many thousands yet to be paid—he purchased evidence which placed the province in a position to collect a rich royalty on the product of the property.

No such plea will for a moment be entertained by anyone who understands the situation. The province's right to collect royalty, to any extent, large or small, did not depend in the slightest degree upon who held the lease of the mining location. Ontario's claim to her levy upon the product was secure in any event. The action of the premier in interposing between the disputants could not benefit the province in any way; but it might, and, as a matter of fact, it did, result to the advantage of one party, and to the disadvantage of the other. It was an altogether unwarranted and scandalous abuse of executive authority, and outrage against justice and the rights of the citizen. And that $130,000—and the promise of other thousands—should have been thrown into one side of the scales as a gift to the favored party was an act of infamy of which no honest Ontario voter will approve.

TREASURES AND REBELLIONS

The strongest condemnation of the Whitney government has been from the Conservative press. The Toronto News called it severely to account for its failure to treat with the Electrical development company and so secure the cheap power from the Niagara, according to promise and beyond the possibility of a monopoly. The Toronto Telegram has charged that the cabinet is not united on the power question, that Mr. Beck has been hampered in his work and would be justified in learning the government to its fate. The Toronto World, in April at the close of "that last awful week" called the administration to a reckoning in these caustic phrases: "Caesar's wife must be above suspicion." It is not enough to be able to explain compromising appearances. These are not the relations that will occur to ward leaders and feeders at the trough but it is a first thought to all who sought in Premier Whitney, a strong, clear-headed leader, honest as the day and supreme, above tricks and dodges when the government has cried most heinously and in opposition to the plainest dictates of common sense and even, it is reported in the face of advice.

When the La Rose payment of $130,000 is considered it will be seen that it is matter that must have been under consideration for some time. Why the government should have appeared to desire to conceal it until the last hours of the session only the lunar dieties can explain. And as much may be said of the Canadian Northern Railway guarantee.

If Premier Whitney has no one around him to advise the wisdom of early publicity to matters that constitute the most emphatically enunciated principle he should choose them. If he has been advised and has not been wise enough to hearken the public will inevitably judge with judgment. Slide-bos no partisans think it is treason to think such thoughts and rebellion to utter them. The contrary is the case. The sanity and stability and recidity of the party depend upon the diagnosis of the diseases.

True, that was sometime ago, before the tocsin of war had been sounded and before the World had decided that the interests of the party required that its faults be obscured. Our contemporary is so anxious now to see the Whitney government returned that the things that sound like treason or rebellion have been laid aside and will not be revived until after the election.

an unholy purpose, for what reason was the polling place moved from a building in Manila which has but one large room, and where everything must necessarily be done in the open and above-board to a hotel, against which convictions for violating the law have already been recorded and in which there are numerous rooms where every needed facility is at hand for wrongdoing.

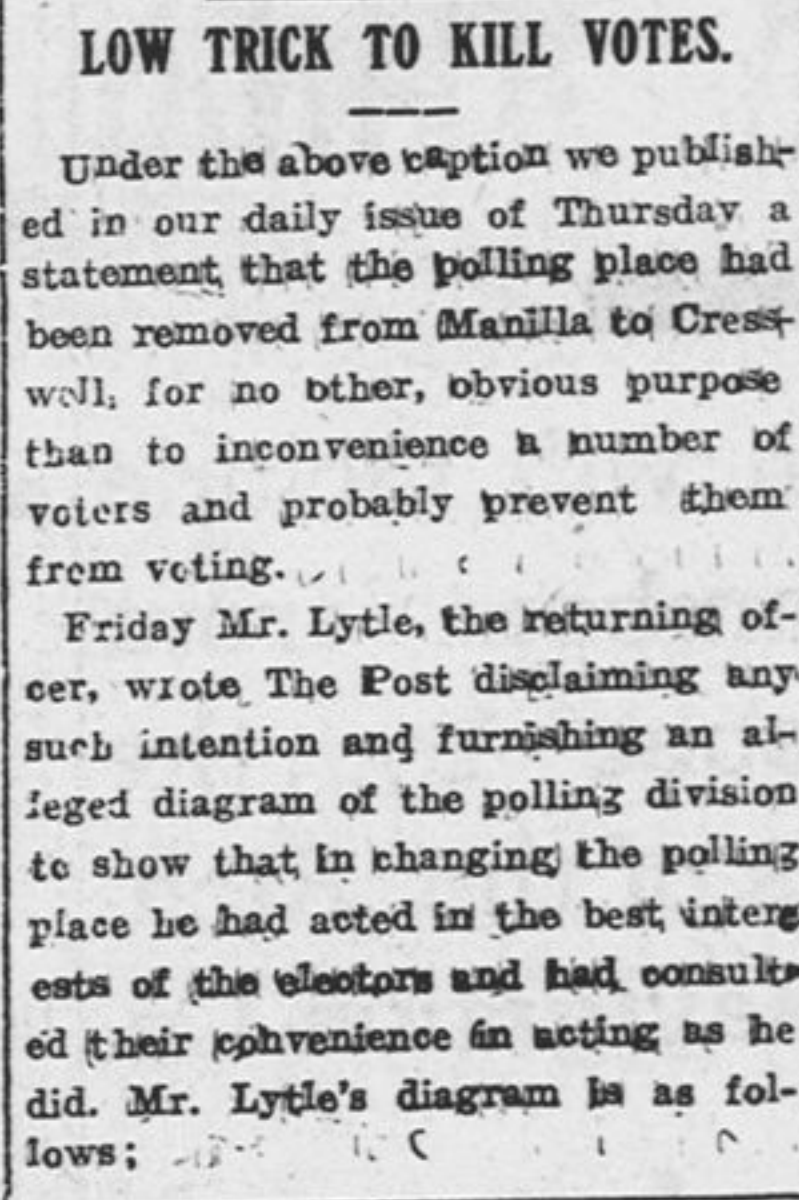

We have no reason to believe that Mr. Lytle would knowingly consent to this highly improper change if he knew its purpose, but it is quite clear that it has not been made in the interests of the voters, and that he has been misled for some nefarious reason.

The uncovering of this action by the Post, however, will probably have the effect of stirring Mr. Stewart's friends to increased activity and cause them to exercise greater watchfulness.

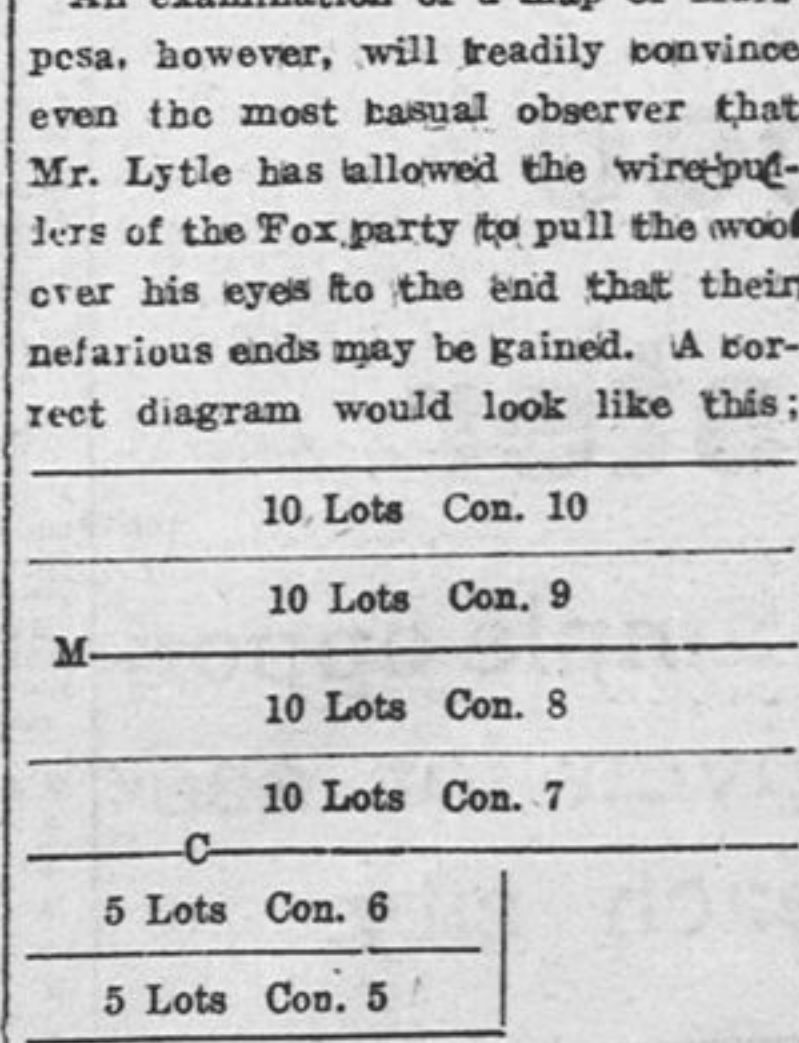

LOW TRICK TO KILL VOTES.

Under the above caption we published in our daily issue of Thursday a statement that the polling place had been removed from Manila to Cresswell, for no other, obvious purpose than to inconvenience a number of voters and probably prevent them from voting.

Friday Mr. Lytle, the returning officer, wrote the Post disclaiming any such intention and furnishing an alleged diagram of the polling division to show that in changing the polling place he had acted in the best interests of the electors and had consulted their convenience in acting as he did. Mr. Lytle's diagram is as follows:

An examination of a map of Markpesa, however, will readily convince even the most casual observer that Mr. Lytle has allowed the wire-pullers of the Fox party to pull the weight over his eyes to the end that their nefarious ends may be gained. A correct diagram would look like this:

When we consider that Manila is so obviously the more central point for the polling of votes, we are moved to ask why it was changed. Manila is the more populous place and there are numbers there who have no horses or vehicles with which to drive to Cresswell, while every one in Cresswell either has or can easily procure without expense a conveyance for that purpose.

In no previous election has it been found desirable to make any change, and surely if Manila were an inconvenient point the municipal elections would not have been held all these years at that point without a protest being raised.

If the thimble-riggers of the Tory party did not procure the change for

SWINDLING THE MUNICIPALITIES

The Mail and Empire boasts that the Whitney Government has distributed among the municipalities about $80,000 as their share of the taxes collected from railways, and it adds "this sum reduces the tax the farmers would have to pay were it not that the government thus subscribes to the local income." Two considerations the organ omits. The first is that in this matter the railways are merely tax collectors they being obliged by the tax to charge the shippers not only the amount distributed among the municipalities and the amount taken by the Government, but also some thousands of dollars extra. The railways naturally reimburse themselves, and the people pay the shot in the end, and with profit to the roads. Then again it is to be remembered that it is a part of this arrangement about sharing railway taxes with the municipalities (and it is a matter of which the Whitney organs say nothing) that a burden, and one that will grow in placed upon the municipalities, in that they are required to assume the maintenance of all the lunatic asylums. It is the thin end of a wedge that is being inserted, the intention being to make the municipalities pay for the support of the insane, heretofore borne by the Provincial Government entirely. It is an arrangement in which the municipalities get in every way the worst of the deal. They pay every dollar of the railway tax—many dollars for one—and they must pay every dollar of the maintenance of the lunatics charged against them.

MR. LYTLE REGRETS CHANGE

As will be seen by his letter in another column Mr. Lytle, the returning officer for West Victoria, admits the correctness of our diagram of the Manila polling division and regrets that he changed the polling place to Cresswell.

We unhesitatingly acquit Mr. Lytle of any intentional wrong doing, as we hold him personally in high esteem. The difficulty is that he is so straight himself that he did not suspect the game that was being played upon him. But what can be thought of Mr. Fox and his chicle-rigging friends who have perpetrated this inconvenience and injustice upon the people of the division indicated. It is hardly likely that any criminal practice will be attempted now, however, since thanks to the watchfulness of The Post and its promptness in exposing the scheme every decent and self-respecting elector has been placed on his guard.

A further examination of the situation reveals the fact that tributary to the old polling place at Manila, that is to say, in concessions 8, 9, and 10, there are thirty lots besides the village itself, and in that adjacent to Cresswell there are only twenty lots. Looking into the matter still further we find that there are 92 voters who are nearer to Manila and only 61 to whom Cresswell would be more convenient.

To say that these facts were not already known and calculated upon by the Fox schemers is to allege something altogether too absurd for belief, and the reason for urging the change upon the returning officer is too plain to be misunderstood.

Let the honest electors, and there are many in the Conservative party, visit their condemnation upon those who would try to steal a riding which they know had slipped beyond their grasp.

If the Whitney Government had felt proper regard for Ontario's finances when handing out $130,000 to a Cabinet Minister's favorite they would have improved the opportunity to settle rival claims between the recipients and the Province as owners of the railway right of way. The La Rose people who received the $130,000 carried on extensive mining under the right of way believing it to be a part of their claim. The result is an action against them for a large amount by the lessees of the commission. With this action pending the Government handed out the money without improving the opportunity to effect a settlement.

Like a ship Mr. Fox runs on the rocks. While out on the electoral sea, for one can't forget how sad his neglect. When he got us that Normal School.

In a few days the active minds of both political parties—the minds of the men who do things—will be free to turn their attention and their activities in some other direction and what direction could be more meritorious than that which would boost the good old town of Lindsay.

Let the Board of Trade the Mayor, Aldermen and the hardworking boosters get to work join hands and think of Lindsay in the morning Lindsay at noon and Lindsay in the evening, and then again let us dream of Lindsay at night if we will dream, but of course the latter should not be made compulsory.

The town is splendidly situated from a business standpoint located as it is on both great national highways and it should be the aim of our citizens to work harmoniously together to the end that the already large number of our industries may be increased. There can be no doubt in the mind of any reasonable person that manufacturers are of the greatest possible benefit in the progress of a town. Workmen earning fair wages add great desideratum to the merchants in the purchase of the necessities of life; they are also of much benefit to the property owner for the greater the demand for houses the greater becomes the value of property.

In every way the subject may be viewed it can only present one side to everyone interested in the welfare of the town and there is no doubt that if we put a little enthusiasm and a fair modicum of energy into the matter good results will follow.

We should like to see the Board of Trade take the initiative and call a meeting for an early date enlist the city fathers and other energetic citizens and form a Lindsay Boost Club then let regular meetings be established good committees formed and—get results.

OH, YES! IT'S A VERY SLICK SCHEME and we don't wonder why the Tory organs and orators are anxious that little be said about it.

STALLION ANNOUNCEMENT.

The Pure Bred Clydesdale Stallion
SIR BEN,
(5408) (12739) Imp.,
the property of E. G. COSTELLO, White Horse Farm, Downsville, will make the season of 1908 at his own stable with the exception of Friday afternoon and Saturday, when he will stand at the Little King Edward Hotel, Lindsay, stopping at Salem Friday morning.

This young horse has developed into a sire of the most desirable type. His breeding is gilded, coming as it does from two of the most popular families of Clydesdales in Scotland. The Sire Everard or Baron's Pride bred on the sire, and Darley on the dam side gives him an infusion of blood that is bound to produce the best. SIR BEN is a half brother to the Canadian Champion Stallion Sir Marcus.

Parties interested are invited to inspect this horse. For pedigree and terms see posters.

Col. Matheson was in Grenville on Thursday night to give Mr. Ferguson a boost and he did it by saying he was one of the best men in the House and would soon be in the Cabinet. He also said in Lindsay that Sam Fox is one of the best speakers in the House. The Colonel is certainly the champion jollier.

Accumulation of waste products is the undoubted cause of tissue fatigue. It is said that it probably does not matter much whether these waste products are other people's or our own. The material giving rise to the sensation of fatigue may be derived from our own tissues by internal respiration, or it may be breathed in with foul air from the tissues of others. This is probably why it tires some people to see others working.
