(Special to The Post.) Miss Velma Christian, daughter of Mr. John Christian, of Lindsay is visiting her sister, Mrs. Tom Ferguson of this district. The Institute meeting at the home of Mr. Boyd on Thursday evening, was a decided success. Quite a large number of ladies and gentlemen were present. Mr. Naylor very efficiently filled the chair. The principal feature of the meeting was the very excellent address by Miss Robinson of Iderton, her subject being "The economical problems of a country girl." Miss Robinson is a very clever speaker and certainly did justice to the subject, her lengthy address was listened to with the closest attention and was thoroughly enjoyed by all. She also gave a talk on "What the Women's Institute is doing." This, too was very interesting and profitable. Music was furnished and the meeting was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem. Miss Lily McFarlane of Woodville paid a short visit to friends in this vicinity last week. NESTLETON

Dr. C. D. Fallis and family came down from Toronto in his auto last Saturday, to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Fallis, at the station. Mr. L. D. Fallis, of Seattle, is visiting friends here. Mrs. Pue and Miss Malcolm, of Orillia, are visiting Mrs. Pue's brother, Mr. A. Malcolm, at the station. A number of our young people attended the ball game at Yelverton on last Friday. The Farmer's and Woman's Institute Convention, held here last Friday, was a very interesting affair. Over forty ladies attended the meeting in the basement of the church. Mrs. Haycock, of Newtonville, president, took charge of the meeting, giving the first address. She commenced by paying a loving tribute to the memory of Miss Walsh, their former president who died last July. She said that to know Miss Walsh was to love her and that they had not only lost an earnest, faithful worker in the Institute, but a true friend. A resolution was passed by the institute that a memoir of Miss Walsh be placed on record of the institution. Miss Haycraft, sec-treas., also spoke in glowing terms of Miss Walsh and gave a good report of Institute work. After election of officers, Miss Emperson rendered a solo, "Loch Lomond" after which the president suggested that ladies go in a body over to the Hall to hear what the gentlemen had to say. They arrived in time to hear a splendid address by Mr. James of Bowmanville. He had to make some changes in his address to make it interesting to the ladies, he said. He first urged the farmer to take part from the ladies and organize a farmer's club in order to co-operate. He said farmers were inclined to be jealous of one another and they were the only business men that did not co-operate along business lines. He complimented the Cartwright farmers on their fine, well-kept buildings and prosperous looking farms. Then he urged mothers to educate their girls not only in book learning but in all household affairs, in order to fit them properly for homes of their own. Mr. James disapproved of so many girls being school teachers, office and shop-girls. He thought that if girls were taught to fill their own sphere in life, men would put themselves in a position to establish homes and take wives who are fitted for the home. He urged the boys and girls to stay on the farm, showing many advantages of the country over the town and city. After the address the meeting adjourned and had a photo taken on the church lawn, after which all sat down to a well spread table and social conversation closed what was thought by all, a most enjoyable and profitable time. Rev. J. U. Robins took charge of the League here on Friday evening last. We regret to say that he will only be with us for another two weeks. Don't forget Nestleton Anniversary on Sunday and Monday next. A good program is in progress there being something special by Rev. Robins, also Mr. M. Veale, of Toronto, will sing and other outside talent is expected. A ball game between Lifford and Nestleton will be played during the afternoon.

H. Sylvester, of Stouffville, Ont. Mrs. S. Moore visited friends in Gelert, last week. Road Inspector Bailey was in town during the week. POWLES' CORNER

(Special to The Post) The carpenters have finished Mr. Jas. Slater's new barn, and it is to be hoped that it will last until the end of time. Mr. Harry Welch, who drives Terrill Bros. egg wagon, had a narrow escape recently, as the team he was driving became exasperated on account of a multitude of mosquitoes. While driving through a swamp on the seventh concession they started off at a lively pace for over half a mile. Mr. Thos. Arnold of Lindsay passed through here last week with his auto. Good judgment is in great demand amongst the farmers just now to take quick action in sowing whatever seed will give the greatest amount of feed for another long winter. Give woman the franchise and they will help abolish the bar. Whitney wants the bar to stay but to stop the treating. It is a great thing to redeem a drunkard but it is a greater thing to close the bar that produces the drunkard. Quite a number from here attended the church anniversary at Zion last Sunday.
