THE COLONEL'S REPLY

To the Massachusetts Historical Society who is endeavoring to get possession of the gun captured at Bunker Hill in 1775 we may expect Col. Sam Hughes to reply, "What we have we hold."

BRITAIN'S DRINK BILL

The drink bill of Great Britain for -crease of $26,000,000 over the mous total of $814,000,000, an the last year amounted to the enorvious year. Some observers interpret the increased expenditure as meaning increased prosperity, the argument being that the more money a people have the more they are able spend, foolishly or otherwise. the other hand it might be contended, says the Woodstock Review, that the more money the people of a nation spend in drink the less likely they are to be blessed by prosperity.

BANK MANAGERS

Those people who are willing to sit meekly by and let bank mergers become the fashion in Canada until Enally the country is wholly in the Tower of a great money trust will do well, says the Kingston Standard, to read the evidence before the Committee of the American House of Representatives which investigating the so-called money trust in the States. When a perfectly solvent bank can be forced to the wall and good men's names taken away by a dominant and dangerous trust it is high time to ask where country is at, and where the will be later on. We want of this sort of thing in Can-

QUESTION OF ECONOMICS

A recognized authority on economics, Chiozza Money, a British M. P. has recently published a book which is createing considerable comment. The writes declared that high wages so far from making economy in production impossible, tend to greater economy in production. In support of his stament he stated that U. S. United Kingdom and Germany pay higher wages than any other countries in the world, and still these three nations have by far the greatest export trades in the world. Where labor costs little there is apt to be extravagance in the use of it; where it costs much it is utilized to the best advantage. Moreover high priced labor is necessarily highly skilled labor and skill spells economy

PEAT FOR FUEL

He would indeed be a public benefactor who could invent a system by which moist peat could be converted into compressed briquettes for fuel. The rapid depletion of our forests, it rightfully belongs. and the absence of coal in this province makes a cheap fuel an urgent In Germany a 300 horse power installation has been successfulfy operated, consisting of a peat gas producer and a gas engine, with a result which shows that peat is one of the least expensive fuel sources known to the scientific world. Ontario has no coal, but plenty of peat. Now and then we hear of attempts to convert moist peat into dry compressed briquettes suitable for use in mestic heating, but somehow product has never become so plentitheir ballots, according to W. #### ULSTER WON T FIGHT

T. P. O'Connor, tamiliarly known as "Tay Pay," one of the most brilliant Parlianmentarians in the British House of Commons, makes the following comment in reference to the threat of Ulster to fight if a Home Rule bill becomes law :-Mr. O'Connor bases this statement on the commercial situation in Ireland, Belfast, the chief city in Ulster, although doing a large international trade, does a still larger trade with the rest of Ireland. Three great seed houses in Belfast, O'Connor says, supply the greater part of the farmers of Ireland with seed. All the south of Ireland gets its ready made clothing in the same city; in tea and whiskey, Belfast is again the chief supply house for the rest of Ireland. In fact, Belfast commercial travellers are found, O'Connor says, in every town village and hamlet throughout the south and west. Belfast's trade would of course be entirely destroyed by civil war, and with the destruction of trade would come the ruin of the city in which it is carried on. Belfast knows and knowing will not be so foolish as to commit commercial mustered a corporal's guard of sup-

THE ENGLISH LAND QUESTION

Wales, Lloyd George came near an agitation which caused them to as if it were a hedge hog. He declared further that if the British people Jersey, coupled with the poor showtional trade in the world, to speak of the land question,

"The greatest people in England own land which at one time belonged to the poor-paid service of religion. The vessels of the consecrated sanctuary are still on their sideboards. Meat dedicated to the altar stocks their larders today. Go to Primrose League meeting and look at those on the platform. One-third of them are probably people who have got church land. The very primroses which adorn their buttonholes were plucked from land consecrated tion. to the service of the altar, and they have the effrontery to charge us when we ask that the money which belongs to the poor ought to be returned-they have the effrontery to say we are robbing God.

MAD DOG SCARE IN WESTERN ONTARIO

Guide: In Western Ontario mad dogs are again in evidence, and it would be well in "times of peace to prepare for war."

Dogs should no more be allowed to run at large than pigs, cows or bears. Every day or two children are bitten by the worthless curs, which are allowed to run 'at large, under no restraint or control.

It is only this week that a small boy was bitten on both legs, and it is high time that the stray were destroyed and owned ones kept under control at all times by those who value them. As a community, we cannot afford to run the risk.

LAST EVENING

The cahin cruiser Ogemah built by the Lindsay Boat Works was launched yesterday afternoon at the foot of Ridout street without any caremonies or the breaking of a champagne bottle, on her prow. The Ogemah gracefully took to the water, thus completing the work on the finest power craft ever built in this district. The boat tested promed to the entire satisfaction of the builder Mr. Jesse Perrin, and the owner, Mr. H. P. Beall, of Ottowna, should teel justly proud and should have nothing to regret for having his boat built by the Lindsay Boat Works. The Ogemah is forty feet in length and has a nine foot beam. It is inished with oak and has a twentyfive horse power engine.
