AUBREY WARNER'S BRAVE DEED

Lindsay has in Aubrey Warner, a sixteen year old hero who is entitled to the Carnegie Medal and grant of money, for his consummate bravery in rescuing little Patricia Primeau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Primeau, Cambridge-st., from a watery grave on Wednesday afternoon. Aubrey is the hero of the hour, and is being congratulated on all sides for his pluck and bravery.

On Wednesday afternoon Patricia Primeau, who is seven or eight years of age, accompanied by several playmates ventured down to the town wharf. The high wind prevailing during the afternoon blew her hat into the river near the west end of the wharf.

The little girl took off her boots and waded in for the purpose of securing her headgear, but as the shore of the river slopes considerably, she was soon struggling in deep water. Her companions did not seem to realize her danger at first as they made no outcry, but when she disappeared from view they proceeded to give an alarm and attracted the attention of several citizens.

Aubrey Warner was up on Lindsay street near the billboard at the time, and his attention was directed in the direction of the town wharf by the shouts of several people. He bravely rushed down the incline to the wharf, taking off his collar enroute. On reaching the western end of the wharf he quickly tore off his boots and notwithstanding the fact that the little girl had entirely disappeared from view he bravely dived into the water to her rescue. He came to the surface, without success, but on making the second dive he located the drowning girl. Down the brave little had plunged again, and the on-lookers uttered a silent prayer when they saw him come up with the little one in his arms. He brought her to shore, and Armour Hancock went to his assistance. He also waded in and secured her hat.

Little Patricia was laid upon the wharf in an unconscious condition, and it was feared that the spark of life had fled. Dr. White was immediately summoned to the scene, but in the meantime Misses Fanning and Twamley, two Public School teachers who had been attracted to the scene, (assisted by Aubrey Warner,) proceeded to revive the unconscious child. Thanks to the excellent instructions in the resuscitation of the human body imparted to our teachers, their efforts were crowned with success. When Dr. White arrived the child was breathing quite freely. She was taken to her home, and her condition today is greatly improved.

Too much credit cannot be given Aubrey Warner for his bravery on this occasion. He lives with his mother on St. Lawrence-st., and is very modest when speaking of the incidents in connection with his daring rescue.

BOBCAYGEON HAD FIRE SCARE

Bobcaygeon Independent: Word was brought up from Little Bob on Wednesday by the electrician that a fire in the sawdust was spreading under the gale that was blowing from the northwest. Reeve Bottum drove down with some pails, but found the fire was spreading so rapidly that he returned and had the fire engine taken down. Sparks were carried by the gale into the woodwork of the rack at the power house, but it was got out with pails. Sparks were quickly carried across the river and a large boat house being threatened, good work was done with a few pails. The fire took through the swamp and ran to the lake shore. The engine worked till late at night, but the fire will remain in the banks of sawdust until there are heavy soaking rains. It is probable that the phones will be placed in the power house and in the electrician's house. A phone connection with the house would in all likelihood have caught the fire in time. The need of such phone connection was obvious enough last December, when the power house and plant were destroyed, and the need was again emphasized on Wednesday.

MOTHERHOOD SUGGESTIONS

Advice to Expectant Mothers

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results. There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Naylor, Colborne street west, are today celebrating the silver anniversary of their wedding. On Wednesday, June 13, 1888, (just twenty-five years ago) they were united in marriage at the bride's home in Manvers township. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Mr. Powers of the Methodist church.

The wedding day was Wednesday. The weather was beautiful, with only a slight shower in the afternoon. The bridesmaid was Maggie Lowery of Janetville, now Mrs. James Rehill, of Regina. The groomsmen were Mr. W. A. Glenn, of Oshawa, now manager of the Standard Bank at Harrison, at which place he has been for twenty-five years. Mr. Glenn and Mr. Naylor became acquainted in Toronto, where they boarded together for some time.

Mrs. Naylor's parents were Mr. and Mrs. James Marshall, now deceased. Mrs. Naylor was born in Manvers, and there spent her childhood days. Mr. Naylor's birthplace and boyhood home was Mariposa township, near Valentia. His parents were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Naylor, now deceased.

After their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Naylor resided in South Ops, later moving to Valentia. In 1896 they came to Lindsay. Mr. Naylor entered the employ of the Flavell Milling Co., (now the Canadian Cereal and Milling Co.) fourteen years ago. He is still a valued employee of the latter company.

Two children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Naylor, Stanley, now in the Standard Bank, Brantford, and Herbert, who is attending medical school in Toronto.

This evening Mr. and Mrs. Naylor will be at home to their friends at their home, on Colborne street west.

A PRESENTATION
Last evening a few of the members of the local court of the Canadian Order of Foresters went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Naylor and presented them with a beautiful silver tea service. Chief Chilton, who is Chief Ranger, read the address, and Mr. W. E. Keicher made the presentation. Mr. and Mrs. Naylor were completely surprised. Mr. Naylor thanked the brethren, on behalf of himself and wife, for their kind words and the beautiful gift. Mr. Naylor has been treasurer of the local court for twelve years.

The Post unites with their many friends in extending congratulations.

THE ADDRESS

From Court Lindsay, No. 125, Canadian Order of Foresters to Bro. Robt. Naylor, Treasurer:
Dear Sir and Bro. — It is with sincere pleasure we learn of this, the 25th anniversary of your wedding day, and we cordially congratulate you upon the occasion. We extend our felicitations to Mrs. Naylor and wish you both many more years of happiness, health and prosperity.

We recognize also that for almost fifteen years of this time you have been our treasurer and during that time you have always enjoyed our respect, esteem and confidence as you have always discharged your various duties promptly, zealously and faithfully.

Recognizing, now as ever, your fidelity, zeal and services to our order we ask you to accept this silver tea service as a slight token of our esteem and confidence, and we trust you, Mrs. Naylor and family will long be spared to enjoy the same. Signed on behalf of Court Lindsay, No. 125.

UNION W. H. M. S.
AND W. F. M. S.

Toronto Telegram: The proposal to unite the Women's Home Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church, with the Women's Foreign Missionary Society to form a United Women's Presbyterian Missionary Society is not to be carried out this year.

Tuesday morning's session at St. Andrew's church was given over to the discussion of this project. Dr. McQueen was present to conduct the debate, and he read a resolution which had been drawn up at the opening session in relation to the matter.

Most of the delegates had come to the meeting primed with strong arguments for and against the union,

They Don't Drip Oil

The neatest woman that ever lived would consider a Sharples Dairy Tubular Cream Separator an ornament in her kitchen. That's because Tubulars are neat—have no oil cups, oil holes or oil tubes to drip. You don't need an oil can for Tubulars.

TUBULARS ARE NEAT

To oil the Dairy Tubular, simply lift the gear case lid once a week and pour a spoonful of oil right down among the gears. The oil stays there. The lubrication is perfect and never forgotten. There is no dripping on the floor. Both men and women appreciate that—and the many other exclusive fine points about Tubulars—fine points other separators don't have. Tubulars double dairy profits and cut the work in half. Come in and see the Tubular—examine it inside and out—next time you're in town. Welcome to look at every piece—and THE PIECES ARE FEW because the Tubular is mighty simple.

Old Separators taken in exchange. We sell the Sharples Mechanical Milker.

and with the full intention of placing those opinions before the Assembly.

The stumbling block to the success of the union of the two missionary societies in the Presbyterian church seems to be the question of the "silver," as the financial methods of the two branches of mission work are entirely different.

It was eventually decided to postpone the actual union till the next annual meeting of the two societies, which will take place in Toronto next year, and the two branches can frame a joint constitution, although a basis, of union has always been practically agreed upon.

Madame president had to bring her gavel into play on one or two occasions when several delegates wished to express their opinions at the same time, and occasionally an exclamation or interjection escaped from the occupants of the gallery. But the learned doctor was always on hand to pour the oil of logic and reason on the troubled waters.

The following figures will show the growth of the W.H.M.S. movement from its conception in 1904 to the present time: 1904, members, 442, contributions, $3,764; 1913, members, 22,635, contributions $48,031.

A meeting of the W. F. M. S. of St. Andrew's was held last evening in the Sunday School room. Mes-
