It will be remembered that Stuart was so unfortunate as to have a rusty nail run into his foot at Sturgeon Point, necessitating his removal to the Ross hospital. Dr. Hall, of Little Britain was in town Tuesday with his automobile. Mr. Hall is one of the automobilists whom the farmers have no fear of meeting on the public roads, as he shows good sense and judgment when paving rgs and is doing more to educate the horse to its road rival than almost any autoist we know of. Piles are easily and quickly checked with Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. To prove it I will mail a small trial box as a convincing test. Simply address Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. I surely would not send it free unless I was certain that Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment would stand the test. Remember it is made expressly and alone for piles, painful, bleeding or itching piles, either external or internal. Large jar 50c. Sold by all dealers. The Boy Who Didn't Pass A sad faced little fellow, sits alone in deep disgrace. There's a lump arising in his throat, and tears stream down his face. He wandered from his playmates, for he doesn't want to hear Their shouts of merry laughter since the world has lost its cheer; He has sipped the cup of sorrow, he has drained the bitter glass, And his heart is fairly breaking; he's the boy who didn't pass.

Grand Trunk Flyer Leaves at 7.55

Many Belated Passengers Miss it Under Misapprehension The number of people who have missed the G. T. R. flyer which leaves Lindsay at 7.55 in place of 8.05 as formerly, is remarkable, as almost every morning recently has some belated passenger had put in an appearance after the train has gone hence. Five minutes to eight o'clock she goes rain or shine and don't make any mistake or you will be left.

What Makes Grandma Cross

My mamma's gone away to-day, And grandma's cross; My mamma told me to be good, I've tried to help just all I could, And haven't done a thing that should Make grandma cross. I cleared away the breakfast things Quick as a fly. The gravy spilled a little, and I thought I'd better clean it up tight. But if I was an awful sight, I didn't cry. I went up stairs to make the beds And dust around. I filled the bath tub to the brim. So Jacky Tar could learn to swim— And then I jumped in after him Before he drowned. I really thought the parlor should Be dusted too; An angel fell down on his face, And hit a Royal Worcester vase, I put the pieces back in place With Stickum's glue. I've been as good as good can be— But grandma's cross. I've swept, I've ironed all my clothes I've washed the windows with the hose. What in the world do you suppose Makes grandma cross!

"Bang it Again"

The family were gathered in the library admiring a splendid thunder-storm, when the mother betthought herself of Dorothy, alone in the nursery. Fearing lest her little daughter should be frightened (and feet afraid, she slipped away to reassure her. Fanning at the door, however, in a vivid flash of lightning which illuminated the whole room, she saw her youngest olive branch sitting straight up in bed. Her big, brown eyes were glowing with excitement, and she clapped her chubby hands, while in a shrill voice she shouted encouragingly, "Bang it again, God! Bang it again!" He was Poor Once The little hero of the following incident did not belong to me.
