new unrest.

watching her.

coming."

marry him."

are going to marry me?"

and sheltering embrace.

love with me!"

my arms. Come!"

-loved-loved!

is waiting. Go to him."

dress had her held tightly to his her were those that had been her ref-

"Cedric John Jardine Dynely, Lord

"John," she whispered. "John!"

fair, sweetheart, in love and war!

A Stubborn Husband.

A most interesting phenomenon the stubborn husband. He is not Lessington," he corrected her.

uge that morning in the forest.

ing up the room.

lives a success.

the ecstatic knowledge of her own

"No, no?" she cried and drew away.

Her color came back with a rush.

He laughed, a low, contented, joyous passionate words in her ears.

bright audacity to conceal this strange

Homeward bound an hour later, they secured their mail at the village. In the green gloom, gold pierced, of the forest pathway the girl sat down to read her letters. Leaning against a tree, grave and silent, Jardine stood

"Oh," she cried out suddenly and turned very pale, "he is coming! His and ugly and altogether detestable!"

Constipation is the rest of many forms of sikness and of an eridless amount of human misery.

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, thoroughly tested by over fifty years of use, have been proved a safe and certain cure for constipation and all kindred troubles. Try them.

25c. a box.

* It's never too late to

We know how to make a boot and how boots are made, therefore we know tow to repair your boots. Only first class mechanics employed and the very best . leather used.

We repair your boots while 3 you wait.

If you have tender feet . corns, bunions or any de formities call and see

HUGHES

The Hand Sewn Bootmaker William St. North and Lindsay-st., opp. Skating Rink 💠

 PHOTOGRAPHIC SUPPLIES

Just received a fresh stock of Canadian Kodak & Supplies.

R. J. MULLIGAN

Drug Store

Omemee

SEASON 1910.

parties to points on any part of the and should be kept in the Trent Valley Canal.

For terms and particulars apply to

FRED MARTIN, Foot Kent St., or STONEY LAKE NAVIGATION Young's Point.

Dr. T. P. McGullough

166 Brock-st., Peterboro Will visit BENSON HOUSE, LIND AY, everylst and 3rd Wednesday of he month, from 2 p. m. to 6 p.m. for ensultations in Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat.

Guard Against Deadly House Fly

Little Pests Carry Disease Germs by the Thousands.

The housewife of Canada is not so careful about screening her doors and windows as are the women in the United States. There, in most plac-35, screen doors and windows are as much a part of the ordinary house as are the wooden doors and window glass; and a stray fly that manages to get inside is hunted as if it were a murderer, for it is not only a filthy insect, but a most dangerous one, carrying as it does, disease germs the thousand on its legs and wings. The following printed rules have been issued to householders in New York City, and we commend them to Lindsay women:

Keep the flies away from the sick, especially those ill with contagious diseases. Kill every fly that strays into the sick room. His body is covered with disease germs.

Do not allow decaying material of any sort to accumulate or or near your premises.

All refuse which tends in any way fermentation, such as bedding straw, paper waste, and vegetable matter, should be disposed of or covered with lime or kerosene oil.

Screen all food. Keep all receptables for garbage carefully covered and the cans cleaned or sprinkled with oil or lime.

Keep all stable manure in vault on pit, screened or sprinkled with lime oil or other cheap preparation.

See that your sewage system is in good order; that it does not leak, is up to date, and not exposed to flies.

Pour kerosene into the drains. Cover food after a meal; burn or bury all table refuse. Screen all food exposed for sale.

Screen all windows and doors, especially the kitchen and dining room Burn pyrethrum powder in the house to kill flies.

Don't forget if you see flies, their breeding place is in nearby filth. It may be behind the door, under the table or in the cuspidor.

If there are no dirt and filth there i mer." will be no flies.

If there is a nuisance in the neighborhood, write at once to the health department.

The Board of Health should take this matter up and see that these regulations are enforced in Lindsay. We can't afford to have disease carried from house to house by means of flies when a little attention and care will prevent it.

DIED

KENNEDY-On the 9th, at Toronto, Martha Kennedy, aged 45 years, eldest daughter of Mr. Wm. Kennedy, Bobcaygeon.

Davis' Menthol Salve ("The D. & L.") and be prepared for a hundred ailments, which may not be dangerous but are very annoying and painful, like neuralgia, earache, sprains, burns, bruises, insect stings, cuts, piles, etc. It is a household remedy always useful for some trouble, family medicine closet.

WILL MAKE HAIR GROW

Prepared from the grease of the Canadian Bear. Delicately perfumed.

The Standard Pomade All Dealers 50c. per Jar.

Davis & Lawrence Co., Montreal.

All Is Fair, He Said, and His Sweetheart Agreed.

By KATE M. CLEARY.

Doris was singing as she came flying down the wide stairway and out into the warm brilliancy of the young day, for it was midsummer, the time of roses, of fragrance, of romance.

And Doris seemed the veritable spirit of it all-at least so thought the young fellow watching her from his seat under the great elm. But it was not till she was quite close to him that she was aware of his presence. The gay little chanson she had been lilting ceased, and the pretty, startled color deepened in her soft cheeks.

"Bon jour!" she cried blithely and paused in her Atalanta-like flight. "Mercy! What a morning to be poring over a book! Why, instead you should"-

"I know!" He had risen and was towering before her, straight and stately, a man with an air that was more that of a soldier than a student. "You think I should prefer to cultivate Dame Nature."

There was a quizzical flicker in the gray, black lashed, black browed eyes that met her accusing gaze.

"If you will put down that book you may walk with me as far as the abode of Mrs. Melinda Parsons, who is expecting me this morning to write her monthly letter to her son in the Philippines."

"The permission is tempting," confessed John Jardine, "but there is Freddie"-

"Oh, if you prefer Freddie's society to mine!" The little chin with the dimple went up in the air.

"But I'm paid to teach your brother, Miss Ware," he hastened to explain. "And not to accompany me. I quite understand." And then, with much dignity of demeanor, "Good morning.

Mr. Jardine." "Good morning," he replied ruefully. But the quizzical smile was dancing again in his handsome eyes as Miss Ware flashed open her parasol, whisked up the skirts of her embroidered batiste and turned loftily away only to pause when she had taken a few steps and look back over her shoulder with eyes full of infinite reproach. "There's that dog at Brown's andhe might bite. And-and it's hard to get over the pasture stile-alone. And" -a pitiful quiver in her voice clinched the sincerity of her assertions-"I am afraid of snakes-and there may be snakes. Freddie saw one last sum-

There was no questioning the triumphant truth of the final declaration. Nor was refusal longer possible. Conquered, John Jardine found himself walking along the avenue, adjusting his long stride to the gait of Miss Doris Ware, who, now that she had her own way in persuading the most stubborn individual with whom she had ever come in contact, was radiant and bubbling over with merriment. Since six months before their acquaintance began the little flirt, belle, beauty and heiress had vainly tried all her graces and fascinations on the seribus and stately instructor of her boisterous young brother. It had seemed so natural since she was a schoolgirl in short dresses to have admirers by the dozen that the difficulty she experienced of bringing Jardine to her feet piqued her and made her more than ever determined to make him capitulate. She would have opened her pan-Invest 25 cents in a box of sy purple eyes very wide indeed and have been honestly amazed had any one accused her of being heartless. She would have said that no one meant to be serious. Anyhow all knew -for it was an open secret-that she was not free. Her marriage had been arranged-oh, ages ago-by parents and lawyers and solicitors and that kind of people. It was purely a marriage of convenience. But it appeared to be very convenient indeed and quite satisfactory all around.

Some day, when she was old, very old-perhaps twenty-four or thereabout -Lord Lessington would come sailing over the sea and wed her and bear her back over the billow to a magnificent historic old home in Sussex, and she would be a great lady and lead a good and beautiful life and be happy forever and ever, which, as her heart had never been touched and she was only a wild and winsome little maiden, seemed quite right and natural. Only of late she had begun to wonder why her eyes would droop when rattling on in light, inconsequent fashion. She was furious when she found her cheeks grow burning hot at the character in her sheets which is as interion. She was furious when she found her cheeks grow burning hot at the

was he to her that her heart had come to beat more quickly when in his presence? Defiantly she summoned all her

HOW VAN HORNE FURNISHED SPORT TO TWO WRITERS.

He Didn't Know Where to Find a Moose, But He Warned Them Not to Make a Slaughter - Turned Them Over to Pat Murphy and Patrick Did the Rest-Five Moose Just Off the Railway Track!

lawyer writes he is coming! Oh, I Sir William Van Horne, of the didn't think he'd come for years and Canadian Pacific Railroad, once told years!" There was downright dread in Mr. J. R. Barrett how he furnished the eyes that looked piteously up at Julian Ralph and the late Frederick her companion. "Lord Lessington is Remington a complete moose hunt, which was duly described and depicted in Harper's Magazine, a few He nodded. "You've never seen years ago. True the moose were there, him?" he asked. "He is old, I suppose, were shot, and photographed, but how they happened to be there is another "No-oh, no! It was all arranged. story. Mr. Barrett quotes Sir William But they say he is young and good. as follows in The Bellman, (Minnea-He is very rich, of course. I didn't

I was sitting in my office one day think I'd mind-and now." She rose, when two cards were brought in beartrembling. The tears brimmed over and ran down the cheeks from which ing the names of Julian Ralph and the rose bloom had faded. "He will be Frederick Remington. I knew the names and told my secretary to show here today, and I-soon I will have to the gentlemen in. They came, and presented a letter from Harper's Magazine, from which it appeared that "You poor little thing!" The compassion in his voice thrilled her-that they had been sent, the one to write and the other to illustrate a Canaand something more. "Don't you know -you do know, my darling-that you dian moose hunt. The editor of Harper's Magazine asked me to show Then he had her in his arms and them any courtesies which would assist them in their object.

was holding her close in their strong Now I hadn't a notion whether there was a single blest moose along the whole line of the Canadian Paci-For an instant or two she did not fic, but I wasn't going to say so to resist. The sweet shock of it all, the two men from New York. Sosense of being protected, more than all

"I understand, gentlemen," I said, "that you have come here to shoot heart, overwhelmed her. His kisses moose." They said that was the case. were on her cheeks, her lips, and his "Well, now," I continued, "I suppose that I can take it for granted that you are gentlemen and have the proper sporting instinct. If I turn "It isn't right! I must marry Lord you loose you are not going to go Lessington. It was all arranged long ago. I never objected. I didn't slaughtering our moose and filling the woods with blood?" No, no, no; they wouldn't think of "That-no, I shan't touch you again "You don't propose to decimate our herds of these noble animals?" unless you come to me. You didn't know that you were going to fall in "Why certainly not." "I presume that one good bull moose apiece would satisfy you?" And "Is this," she faltered-"is thistheir eyes glistened as they said that indeed it would. "On that understanding," I said, "I'll give you a letter to our agent at Mattawa. The reason why I chose him was "I will answer that only with you in because if there was a moose to be found in Canada Pat Murphy was the She hesitated. Aware of a bewildering sense of happiness, she still hesi- man to find it when told to. If there tated. But his eyes compelled her. wasn't a moose in the country, I knew he could take a joke. So I wrote:

She took a step forward, and again Dear Murphy.—This will introduce his arms infolded her. It was with to you Frederick Remington, the well-known artist, and Julian Ralph, dread of the battle to be possessing the equally well-known writer, who her that Doris Ware heard the first dinner bell that evening. But it was have come in the interest of Harper's a determined young lady who held her Magazine to describe and illustrate a head high and went down the stair- moose hunt. They have promised not way to meet the English nobleman to kill too many of the noble animals, whom it had been decided should but will be content with getting one make her his wife. Would her always good bull moose apiece. I trust to indulgent father be furious to learn you to see that they get them. Yours, she was to marry a penniless tutor? etc.

Would her weak, ambitious mother I had forgotten all about the matweep and protest? What matter? ter in the press of business, when a She would have him whom she loved couple of weeks or so later, the same two cards were brought to me again and once more I met Mr. Ralph and "Go in!" Her parents, standing at Mr. Remington. They were delightthe foot of the stairs, kissed her. ed. Had they got their mooses, or meese, or whatever it is? Of course

Now it was up to Murphy.

"Go in, and God bless you both! He they had. They had had a simply glorious time, and couldn't say en-Then the slender figure, all in snowy draperies of clinging lace, was walk- ough in thanks to me or in praise of Murphy. In due course, the article appeared in Harper's. One of them "I am sorry to have to tell you, Lord sent me a copy, and a rattling good Lessington"- she began, but the words article it was, pictures and all. But what puzzled me was how it had all she would have spoken were never happened. Murphy told me some time

The tall, handsome man in evening later. When they arrived with my letter heart, and the arms that closed around he didn't know whether there was a moose within five hundred miles. He hadn't heard of one for ten years, but he wasn't going to give us away to any New Yorkers any more than I Besides, I had said that he was to see that these men got their moose, and he proposed to do it.

loved, I've won you! I've served for He made excuse that his best huntyou, if not as long as Jacob served for ers happened to be away for a few Rachel, as faithfully. It's fair-all's days and it would be necessary to wait till they came back. Then he sent out runners. He sent them to every point of the compass to start the Indians beating the woods towards Mattawa. I don't know how many Indians and others he got to bad man. He is contrary, and he has work, but they beat for all that was in them. From somewhere up in the to be managed. He is usually married Arctic regions, from east to west, the to a clever little woman, who is conentire population of the country came stantly devising schemes to accomplish the things which make their joint converging toward Mattawa, with a line that any man who let a moose He has no suspicion of this. If he through would be shot out of hand. had he would be so mad he could un-It took six days, but they got 'em. doubtedly eat her. So all through life By the evening of the sixth day, men came, in and told Murphy that they she goes on swinging a turnip ahead of his nose to make him go the same had five moose, two bulls and three as though he were a balky mule. She cows, safely cornered ten miles off in is a cheery little body, and she grows the woods. So Murphy announced plump with every year, and she does that his hunters had come back, and plump with every year, and she does would be ready to go out next day.

her smiling behind the door or she

They went. The skill those men

We've cool clothes that would make a smelting man smile. Light weight Suits in single and double breasted styles, regular colors.

Then there are Trousers thin and comfortable, $1.50 2.50, 3.00 and 3.50

White Vests, regular price from $1.00 up to $1.75 clearing at 75c a piece.

Thin Underwear in great variety, Cool Hesiery, Fancy Straw Hats, Light Soft Hats, etc., etc.

A smile with every purchase, Come here for comfort and the smiles

J. HOUZER

One door west of the Post Office.

nours they were on the track of herd of five, and early next morning one of the ambitions of the lives of both was realized, for each had shot with his own rifle a good Canadian

Within a few miles of the line the railroad, to strike off at random into the woods and pick up moose as if they were prairie-chickens-what a paradise for hunters!

HIGH PRICED EXPERTS.

Specialists Who Charge Enormous

Fees For Their Services. A great many people cannot understand why professional experts charge such enormous prices for their services-why an eminent surgeon, for example, says Orison Swett Marden in Success Magazine, should charge $5,-000 or even $10,000 for a single operation or a great law specialist like Elihu Root $2,500 for a few hours' work in cross examining a witness. They do not take into consideration that the surgeon has spent years in learning how to perform quickly and efficiently the difficult operation which saves a life that might have been lost in less skilled hands. ist is to enable him to meet the un- daily except Sunday. usual, the unexpected demand. The | Full information and tickets from surgeon trains for the rare operation, W. R. WIDDESS, A, MACNAER the possible emergency. He knows that there are times when it is know- or from the company at Samia a ing what the ordinary surgeon did not Collingwood. think it worth while to learn that may save a life. There are surgeons now living who never had a dozen emergency cases in all their experience which called into play the utmost power and skill of which they are capable, but it was these few extremely dangerous operations which gave them their great reputation and enabled them to get enormous feas.

It is not the good surgeon, but the superb operator, the man who knows a little more about anatomy, who has a little steadier nerve, a more acute touch, a little better education, that is sought to perform the delicate operation in the emergency when life hangs by a thread.

The Artist and the Critic. Sidney Cooper, the English artist, happening one day to visit the Royal academy, where some of his works were on exhibition, while a couple of critics were examining the pictures strolled up to where they were standing. At that moment the younger of the two critics exclaimed, "Any machine could turn out sheep like that!" Mr. Cooper put his hand in his pocket, produced his card and, handing it to the newspaper man, said, with gravity, "If you will kindly send that machine to this address when completed I'll send a check for $1,000 to the institute for decayed journalists."

Conditional. "If I ask your father's consent will you marry me?" "Well, it depends on how your face looks when you get through asking him."-Cleveland Leader.

Children Cry

Charming Muskoka, Beautiful Lake of Bays, Ceorgian Bay, Temagami, Algonquin Park, Magnet awan River, French River, Stoney Lake. Kawartha Lakes, lake Couchiching etc.

ON SALE AT LOW RATES

SAILINGS OF PASSENCER STEAMERS

Sailings of passenger steamers from SARNIA for SOO, PORT ARTHUR and DULUTH, S.S. Saronic every Monday, S.S. Hamonic Wednesday and S.S. Huronic Saturday at 330 pm The Wednesday and Saturday steaners going through to DULUTH.

Sailings from COLLING WOODL m, and OWEN SOUND 11.30 pm S.S. Majestic every Monday, S.S. Mil land Wednesdays and S.S. Herman Sacurdays for SOO, Macking Island and GEORGIAN BAY PORTS.

Sailing from PENEZANG 3.15 pm Much of the training of the special- to PARRY SOUND and way pess

City Agent.

The pain produced by eye strain causes an aversion to study.

We relieve the strain when study becomes a pleasure.

WELSMAN Jeweler

 Artesian and Rock Drilling rock or seil at all times a year. Long experience. about wells or water supp Reference given. Thos. R. Mosley William are four sisters left to mourn his loss appearance of the building and sur-Mrs. J. Hepburn, of Lindsay, Mrs roundings.