Manilla Boy Highly Honored

Dr. Alex. Ferguson Making His Mark in Medical Profession

Cannington Gleaner: The following is taken from Saturday Night of July 9th, 1910, and has reference to one who was well and favorably known to the good people of Brock and Mariposa. It always gives the Ontario Gleaner pleasure to learn that the people of Canada, and particularly those of this section, are making progress in the advancement of the betterment of this world, and that they are taking a first place in the arts of learning:

"Dr. Alexander Hugh Ferguson, one of the best known of Chicago's physicians, and a popular ex-Canadian, was recently elected president of Chicago Medical Society in a most keenly contested election. Dr. Ferguson is a native of Manilla, Ontario, where he was born in 1853. He was educated at Rockwood Academy and Manitoba College, and began his medical studies under Dr. John H. O'Donnell, at Winnipeg, in 1877. He took a course in the medical college of Trinity University, becoming honor graduate M. B., in 1881, and later, in the same year, honor graduate M. D., C. M., of Trinity University. He spent part of his time, soon after his graduation, in visiting various American hospitals and in taking a special course at Koch's laboratory, Berlin. He entered upon the practice of his profession at Buffalo, N. Y., in 1881, but soon after returned to Winnipeg, where he practiced until 1894, at the same time being largely instrumental in founding the Manitoba Medical College, and was chosen first president of the Manitoba branch of the British Medical Association. Since 1894 he has been an eminent member of the medical profession in Chicago. He was induced to go there as professor of surgery in the post-graduate medical school, and in 1900 was elected to the position he now holds as professor of clinical surgery in College of Physicians and Surgeons, the medical department of the Illinois State University. Dr. Ferguson was notified not long ago that he had been awarded a commandship in the Order of Christ of Portugal, the highest decoration that King Charles of that country can bestow on any one outside of royalty.

Silver Wedding At Bobcaygeon

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Smith Celebrate Important Function

The popular pastor of Knox church, Bobcaygeon, Rev. W. G. Smith, and Mrs. Smith, celebrated their Silver Wedding on Friday, July 8th, having been married in Oro township on the 8th of July, 1885, when Mrs. Smith discarded her maiden name of Margaret Rouse About 125 members of the Knox and Dunsford church assembled in the afternoon to celebrate the event.

The Dunsford congregation read an address expressing their appreciation of the pastor's faithful work in the Master's vineyard, and handed to Mrs. Smith a very handsome silver tea set, butter dish and chafing dish.

The Knox church address spoke of Rev. Mr. Smith's unselfishness, patience and love, his sweetness of spirit, strength of will, as well as his ability in the pulpit and accompanied their expression of good will with a bag of silver coins.

Mr. Smith replied feeling to the kindly expressions and warmly thanked them for the mementoes of the happy occasion.

There were a large number of individual gifts, including many from a distance.

Mr. Smith's father, Mr. Wm. Smith of Newmarket, was present as well as Mrs. John Smith from Newmarket.

Refreshments were hospitably served and a very sociable event passed off most agreeably, Mr. Sam. Fletcher hitting off the general spirit in his own humorous way by saying that he wished Mr. and Mrs. Smith a hundred repetitions of the happy occasion and that he might himself be present at every one of them.—Independent.

British Comment On Ozone Test

Report on Engineering Works by Layman Not Convincing

The "Surveyor" in its issue of June 24th comments upon the Lindsay ozone plant, and notes the weak point in the Provincial Board of Health report, viz., that no engineering examination and report was made on the plant which failed because of certain engineering features. We quote as follows:

"The Lindsay plant may be as defective as the chemists tell us, but to the unprejudiced reader any report upon engineering works prepared by laymen will not be convincing, and the reader may well wonder whether all these gentlemen may not have found a mar's nest. Assuming that the mixing part of the apparatus is not hopelessly inadequate, it seems possible that it was merely out of order, and that an engineer might have been able to lay his finger upon the defect and have it set right. We are told that enough ozone was produced to do the work, and that if it had been properly mixed the work would have been done. The fact that the ozone was not mixed with the water is at the root of the matter, and a report upon the reasons why this part of the installation failed, prepared by an engineer, would be more useful than analyses made of water with which ozone had not been mixed. Having been told that the ozone was not applied, there can be no interest in daily analysis, extending over a period of three months, which are exactly what one would expect them to be. The plant at Lindsay may or may not be as bad as the report infers, but it is to be hoped in the interest of the Lindsay authorities who have purchased the plant that it is capable of being set right, and that the Board will appoint an engineer to inspect the machinery before they condemn it on the chemists' report.

Emphatic Denial from Miss Rankin

She Declares She Never Forced Pupils to Attend Catholic Exercises

Ottawa, July 14.—Miss Grace Rankin, a teacher in the district of No. 10 Clarence, County of Russel, writes to the Free Press, giving an emphatic denial to the statement made by James Smith in the affidavit read by Rev. Jogn Cobourn in Toronto, and which was published throughout the province, that she compelled his children to attend the Catholic religious exercises, and that she had had a statute of the Virgin Mary in the school. She asserts that the statements are absolutely untrue, and that the only prayer was the Lord's prayer, at the opening of the school each day.

Civic Holiday At Fenelon Falls

Gazette: The annual celebration of the Ninth of August, civic holiday, will this year be conducted by the curling club, and organization that is well qualified to make as great a success of it as it has ever been in the past. They will try hard to make it the best yet, and they deserve, and without doubt will receive the hearty support of everybody. It may not be generally known that the curlers last winter purchased the rink they had up to that time been renting, and that they intend to hold a bonspiel next winter. Any funds that may be left, therefore, after the celebration expenses are met, will be very acceptable to the curlers. They are going to put on as good a list of attractions as can be got together for the day, and will use every effort to give all who come a first-class day's enjoyment.

What To Do In Thunderstorm

Sheltering Under Trees or Near Hay Stack Should be Avoided

Lightning, owing to its extreme subtlety and tremendous force, is regarded by the majority of people with distinct respect, if not absolute awe. The flash strikes terror into the hearts of highly strung and nervous temperament, and often in the rush for safety they act in the very way to court disaster. What should one do in a thunderstorm? On this point Mr. Kinningworth Hedges, M. Inst. C. E., the well known authority and author of Modern Lightning Conductors, offers some very pertinent hints in the new edition of his standard work. Sheltering under trees should be avoided, as well as standing in the vicinity of spreading branches; nor should one stand on the lee side of a haystack or building, as the rain dripping from the top thereof may easily lead the flash in the direction of one's person, converting one into a human lightning-conductor. Telegraph posts should be given a wide berth, and the telephone should not be used during a storm. Lightning-conductors, rain water pipes, and such like should be avoided. If one is walking over open country and becoming saturated with the rain, the best safeguard is to crawl under a low copse or hedge. Should such be unavailable, as on a plain or moor, the safest procedure is to lie flat down. To hold up an umbrella as shelter against the rain is to seek disaster. Similarly, should one be cycling when overtaken, one should dismount and leave the cycle on the ground. It is not that the cycle directly attracts the lightning, as is generally supposed, but a flash throws out innumerable branch discharges. If one's clothes are dry one may receive no further injury than a smart shock, but if the garments are sodden with rain fatality may easily result. The safest place is within the house. True, the building may be struck, but the chances are very remote if such should result, it is invariably the chimney stack, which is selected by the flash in its passage to earth, and consequently one should stand well clear of the fireplace, which invariably will be blown into the room. Hot water and other pipes should likewise be avoided. The windows should be shut, for glass is an excellent insulator, and will not attract lightning, as is popularly believed. One should not sit in a conservatory or greenhouse, for the trailing wires and general metallic work may be highly charged with electricity resulting from a flash; and one should not shelter in a farm building where animals are collected. Lightning is most erratic in its selection of convenient channels for its passage to the ground; but if the foregoing hints are borne in mind a person caught in a storm is less likely to be a victim to its caprices.—Chamber's Journal.
