is spending a few weeks' holiday with her grandmother. Mr. Arch Cameron and Miss E. Cameron visited Woodville and Glenora for the 1st. Mrs. G. A. Washington and Master Andrew spent a few days with Cameron friends this week. The strawberry festival held under the auspices of the Epworth League on Tuesday, Dominion Day, was a grand success. The lecture by Rev. J. U. Robins, of Little Britain, was very interesting throughout, and was greatly enjoyed, also the readings by Mrs. W. M. Webster, Miss Rena Cullis of Linden Valley, whose accompanist was Mrs. Marvin Rogers, and Mr. C. E. Weeks of Lindsay rendered several selections of music, which were greatly appreciated, Miss D. E. Dobson, of Oakwood, being his accompanist. Proceeds $96. Mr. O. Silver of St. Catharines, and Mr. Carwell Silver, of Lindsay, visited their uncle, Mr. Thomas Mowry on Sunday. Miss Elva Wilson and Mr. Jay Wilson of Woodville spent Tuesday with friends here. Mrs. Soanes, and son, of Lindsay visited her sister, Mrs. A. Armitage, on Sunday. Miss Zella Prouse and Miss Nell Green, of Woodville, visited Miss Pearl Prouse on Sunday. Mr. Roy Weldon, of Lindsay visited his cousin, Mr. H. S. Weldon on Tuesday. Mrs. (Rev.) Lambert and Master Horace spent Monday in Toronto.

HARTLEY

Last Thursday night, June 26 was the occasion of a pleasing event, when the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. A. Spence assembled on the lawn surrounding their home to bid them farewell and to do them honor previous to their departure for their new abode in Toronto. A few weeks previous Mr. Spence sold his property here to Mr. John Baker, thereupon deciding to move to the Queen City early in July. Hartley people thought this an opportune time to express in a slight degree their appreciation of their departing friends. Rev. W. R. Archer, our regular pastor, was present and acted in the capacity of chairman. He first called upon Miss Ross and Mrs. A. H. Campbell, when the following address was read and the presentation was made of a purse of about twenty-five dollars: Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Spence.

Dear Friends,—We, your life long friends and neighbors are met together to do you honor. We recall to-night many joyous scenes and happy hours which we have spent together. In times of prosperity and pleasure we have ever found you responsive, and when the clouds have gathered and trouble came you always sorrowed with us, and now we come together to the parting of the ways, and we are sad of heart. We know you will find new friends but we pride ourselves that you will still find room in your hearts for your Hartley friends.

We Hartley people are named for a quality we possess. The full original name must have been H-e-a-r-t-l-e-y. There is a good deal of heart about us if we say it ourselves, and we hold it true what'er our befall.

We feel it when we sorrow most, 'Twere better to have loved and lost Than never to have loved at all.' Not that we feel that we have lost you, for we know that the ties that bind you to Hartley though they have proven too weak to hold you, here will yet prove elastic enough to bring you often back to the scenes of your childhood Home, Sweet Home, the Old Oaken Bucket, and the friends you leave behind you.

Dear Mrs. Spence, not for its intrinsic value, but for the love it brings, we beg you to accept this token of our appreciation of you and your faithfulness in all things while among us, and we bid you God Speed for the future. Signed on behalf of Hartley people, Miss M. Ross, Mrs. A. H. Campbell.

Though completely surprised, Mrs. Spence responded suitably, giving a cordial invitation to her old friends to renew their friendship when they journeyed to the city.

After this presentation Miss Florie Spence was presented with a bible by her friends of the Sunday school, she having creditably acted as treasurer for the school for the past year.

During the next hour an impromptu program was rendered on the lawn, Mr. Archer acting as chairman in his usual jovial manner. Several spoke in feeling terms of Mr. and Mrs. Spence, and wished them the best of success in their new venture. A feature of the program was the rendition of a reading entitled, "A Starless Crown" by Mrs. Archer.

After the programme refreshments were served, and the gathering dispersed.

CATHOLICS ASSEMBLE.

Convention at Three Rivers Affirms Need of Church Party.

THREE RIVERS, Que., June 30.—The supremacy of the church in matters moral and religious, its right to be sole director of the education of its youth and the necessity of a united Roman Catholic party in Canada, instead of the old division of Liberals and Conservatives. These were among the doctrines reaffirmed at the opening of the congress of the Association Catholique de la Jeunesse Canadienne Francaise, which took place in the City Hall Saturday evening, some two hundred delegates being present from various parts of the province. The hall was filled with citizens of the town, who are showing great interest in the congress and have decorated their houses for the occasion.

The meeting was opened by Maurice Gelinus, who welcomed the delegates on the part of the members from Three Rivers. Dr. Geo. H. Barril of Laval University, Montreal, outlined the object of the congress and the subject of discussion in its meetings. The association numbers 4,000 members, and has for its object the preparation of a generation of militant defenders of the Roman Catholic religion and the Canadian nation. It chose to discuss the vexed subject of primary education in the Province of Quebec because of the prominence of the question in recent discussion and because it is firmly convinced that the criticism adverse to the Roman Catholic system is without any foundation in actual fact. Dr. Barril spoke of the public as the battleground on which were arrayed the contending forces of the church and the state.

BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES.

A Central News, Rome, telegram says: Pope has announced he will create a Canadian cardinal at next consistory.

Roy Goatbee, aged 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Goatbee, of Sault Ste. Marie, was drowned yesterday afternoon at Espano, La.

Chief Williams, London, Ont., is the new president of the Chief Constables Association of Canada. Winnipeg is the next place of meeting.

Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden left Ottawa Saturday for the Atlantic coast for an extended holiday. Hon. W. T. White and Hon. Martin Burrell are leaving for England.

It is reported from Quebec that Lt.-Col. Gaudet, superintendent of the Dominion Arsenal at Quebec, has forwarded his resignation to the Minister of Militia.

The Rt. Hon. Alfred Lyttelton, Unionist member of Parliament for St. George's, Hanover Square, has undergone a serious operation, and his condition is critical.

Edward Mikel, an employe of a cheese box factory at Phillipsville, was taken to the General Hospital, Brockville, for treatment. Mikel accidentally tumbled into a vat of boiling water.

Miss Laura Geraldine Lennox, sub-editor of The Suffragette, who was released from prison June 21, owing to ill-health, brought about by hunger strike, was rearrested yesterday in London.

The recently assassinated King of Greece left about $2,000,000 in addition to his four castles. This money will be divided equally among the King's four sons, and each will inherit a castle.

The first of the five sections of the Barnum & Bailey circus train, consisting of eighteen cars, bound from Ottawa to Montreal, ran into a stalled freight train at Valois early Sunday. There were no fatalities.

A Lark's Lofty Flight.

Some Bavarian officers experimenting with a balloon 6,000 feet aloft noticed a little black speck which seemed to accompany them and which, they thought, was one of the cards they carried for throwing out reports and that the dropping of the balloon drew it along, but on looking at the barometer they found that the balloon was rising and not dropping. Suddenly, however, a loud chirping showed that it was a lark, which, flying at this extraordinary height, had been frightened by the balloon.

Balzac's Copy.

Balzac had his printing office in the Rue des Morais, in Paris. It has been said that the failure of the printing business was the direct result of the enormous labor entailed in making corrections in Balzac's manuscripts.

A compositor did his imprisonment, wrote Champfleury. The stupendous task of setting up Balzac's manuscripts is shown by the fact that "Cesar Birotteau" had to be recomposed fifteen times in twenty days.

SHE HADN'T ENOUGH.

And Lucky Paper-Sorter Sued Mate, But In Vain.

CORNWALL, June 26.—An interesting case was tried at the non-jury sitting of the High Court of Justice before Hon. Mr. Justice Latchford here yesterday. The case arose out of the finding of diamonds and other valuables in a bundle of old paper at the St. Lawrence Paper Mill, in January last. Mrs. Buell, a widow, found 300 odd diamonds, 75 unset emeralds, a gold ring set with diamonds which was valued at $600, and a pair of diamond earrings, in the waste paper she was sorting.

ERRORS RIGHTED.

Deputy Minister White Denies Stories of Land Grievances.

TORONTO, June 23.—The Department of Lands, Forests and Mines is taking steps to disqualify any exaggerated reports of the treatment awarded applicants for lands in the north country. A despatch from Hearst alleging unfair treatment to settlers who had traveled long distances to the registrar's office was entirely discredited by Deputy Minister Aubrey White last evening.

There were only three cases which caused any complaint whatever. In these it was claimed that the agent had accepted applications by mail, while his instructions called for a personal application in every case. Mr. White spoke as follows: "When the information reached the Department that the agent had accepted applications by mail the Minister directed that the applications so accepted were to be disallowed and the parties who applied personally to the agent according to instructions given him were awarded the lands. There were no such excitement as people would imagine by reading the despatch, as there were only three cases about which there was any dispute." Mr. Smith Ballentine, who was quoted as one of those discriminated against, actually received the land he applied for.

SMALLPOX COMMON.

New Ontario Township Rampant With Scourge.

NORTH BAY, Ont., June 23.—Provincial Health Inspector Young has been trying to trace the source of the smallpox cases which have appeared in various places in the north country, principally in lumber mill towns and lumber and construction camps. Almost everybody in the settlement had been affected with smallpox, even the reeve, the chairman of the Board of Health and the school teacher. The disease had been concealed and no physician called in until one man who had contracted it thought he was going to die, and called in a physician who reported the case.

THEY ONLY GOT $6,000.

"French In Ontario" Tag Day Was a Disappointing Affair.

MONTREAL, June 23.—Only $6,000 was collected in the Tag Day organized this week to aid in the work of preserving the French language and help wage war against the Irish bishops in Ontario.

There were several reasons for the failure of the scheme. In the first place, people in Montreal are tired of Tag Days, and in the next place it was looked upon as ridiculous to ask English and Irish citizens to help in a work to be directed against them. It was expected that at least $10,000 would be raised.

Teddy Can Carry a Gun.

NEW YORK, June 23.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt and District Attorney Charles S. Whitman both have permission to carry pistols. Reports some time ago that they had applied for such permission were confirmed by Magistrate Corrigan when he told fellow magistrates at a meeting in Brooklyn Thursday that in issuing the permits he had waived one of the chief requirements of the law and had asked neither of the applicants for an affidavit of good character.

SURPRISED THE JUDGE.

Soo Jury Found Prisoner Guilty of Manslaughter.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., June 26.—Fred McGregor, charged with the murder of a man named Morin at Blind River on March 7, was last night adjudged guilty of manslaughter, and he will be sentenced by Justice Britton to-day. McGregor killed Morin with a revolver during a drunken brawl in a Blind River hotel.

The verdict of the jury was apparently a surprise to Justice Britton, who remarked that the jury should have adjudged the man guilty of the crime charged, or brought in a verdict acquitting him. The judge said the man had been found guilty on his own evidence.

McGregor made a sensational attempt to escape from the jail here some time ago, manufacturing a bogus revolver from pieces of wood and tin-foil from tobacco packages.

The Hens Were Jealous.

"My dear," said the professor's wife, "the hens have scratched up all that egg-pot seed you sowed!" "Ah, jealousy!" mused the professor. And he sat down and wrote a twenty page article on the "Development of Envy in the Minds of the Lower Birds."—Ladies' Home Journal.

A Handy Woman.

Mrs. Housewife—I never had a laundress who could do up white dresses as nicely as your wife does. Rastus (grinning admirably)—Ya's. My Mandy's a right handy 'ooson. She kin do me up jes' as easy as one o' dem air dresses.—Puck.

Made It Clean.

Mrs. Youngbride (to grocer)—Shall I open an account, or do you prefer to have me pay for what I get? Grocer—Roth, madam.—Boston Transcript.

Making a friend laugh is often the best help we can give him.

A Quick Wit.

Husband—Did you notice how ill tempered my colleague was this evening? He was annoyed because I have brought you a new set of jewelry. Now he will have to get a new set for his wife too. Wife—A disagreeable fellow that man is! If I were you, I would sneer him often.

STRENUOUS LOVEMAKING.

Duke William Tamed Matilda, and She Got Square on Brittrich.

A modern lover who resorted to brute force to win his lady would soon find himself in the street, if not in the police station. But fashions in proposals have changed in a thousand years, and when William the Conqueror set out to make Matilda, daughter of the Count of Flanders, the happiest of maidens he adopted measures that were forcible, to say the least. The New York Sun tells the story of his tempestuous wooing: The suitor Matilda had she did not want, and the man she wished to woo her she could not get. The man she did not want happened to be William, duke of Normandy, and he decided to go to Bruges and conquer Matilda. There were no national roads through France in those days, and William doubtless had a hard trip. Perhaps Matilda noticed the mud on his clothes when she came out of church and found him waiting for her. At any rate, William descended from his horse, and taking Matilda firmly by the back of the neck, rolled her over and over in the mire of Bruges, planting wild directed blows upon her royal face and body with his other hand. Life was elemental a thousand years ago.

This strenuous lovemaking somehow appealed to Matilda. Perhaps it was what she would have liked to do to Brittrich, the gentleman she could not get, who was only the English ambassador at her father's court and not at all a proper person to be snubbing a princess. So Matilda sent word to her father that, "sick in health and dolorous in body," she had firmly resolved to marry no man but Duke William.

Later, after William had conquered England, he offered his queen the estates of any English nobleman she might name. Matilda did not have to think twice. She not only chose Brittrich's estates, but she put him in prison and kept him there all the rest of his life—an excellent argument for the wise custom of restricting woman's choice to one year in four.

High-Priced Sermon.

Perhaps the highest price paid for a sermon goes every year to a German preacher, who discourses on the good deeds of a French baron named Favart, who died in Elberfeld in 1690. Favart left money for this purpose, and the interest now amounts to $4,600 per annum, which goes to the preacher as his reward.

Mind Reading.

"I am sure that girl has a kind heart and a considerate disposition," said the young man.

"Why?"

"Because when I asked her what her favorite flower was she took care to name something that doesn't cost more than 50 cents a bunch."

Nightmares.

Willie—Paw, what do nightmares live on?

Paw—Wild oats, my son.

ANOTHER MAY'DIE.

All the Others Hurt in C.P.R. Wreck Are Progressing.

OTTAWA, June 27.—Passengers injured in the wreck of the C.P.R. train near here Wednesday afternoon are reported to be progressing favorably, with the exception of James McNeely, son of Mrs. Jane McNeely, one of the dead, who is said to be seriously injured that he may not recover.

BULGARS REPULSED.

Servians Force Them To Abandon Positions They Seized.

BELGRADE, June 27.—The Bulgarians have been defeated at Zietovo. An official report says that the Servians went into action only when heavy forces of Bulgarians began to cross the river.

Incendiarism by Farmers.

REGINA, Sask., June 27.—That incendiarism is rife in the rural districts of Saskatchewan is the statement of R. J. McLean, provincial fire commissioner. In many cases he believes incendiarism is due to the fact that farmers are short of money, and in order to collect some ready cash set fire to their own buildings.

BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES.

The C.P.R. will spend on various improvements, etc., in Canada this year about $100,000,000.

The appointment of Lt.-Col. G. S. Maunsell as director-general of Canadian military engineering services is gazetted.

David Pottinger, of the I.C.E. board of management, will retire on superannuation on completion of his fiftieth year of service next month.

TO RAISE LAKE ERIE.

Waterways Board Favors Dam to Deepen the Water.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—After more than ten years investigation the International Waterways Commission yesterday, through the president, recommended to Congress the construction of a submerged dam or weir in the Niagara River, to raise the level of Lake Erie and its upper waters. The commission stated the value of the proposed work to Lake Erie ports could hardly be estimated, and that it would result in extensive improvements to harbors and docks.

Several years ago, the commission reported against the advisability of constructing an ordinary dam across the Niagara, because of the consequent damage to property below the dam. This dam would have completely regulated the height of the waters in Lake Erie, but the latest plan contemplates only partial control.

The cost of the weir and consequent works to avoid damage to property is estimated at $3,500,000.

DOCTOR MAY DIE.

Toronto Army Corps Officer at Niagara Camp.

TORONTO, June 23.—Dr. W. P. Lowry of 102 College street, apparently fatally injured when he was thrown from a horse at Niagara camp yesterday. While he was gazing over the camp grounds, his horse was taken unconscious to the hospital. At midnight his condition was critical. His father, Dr. W. P. Lowry, and his mother who live in Toronto were summoned to the bedside.

Dr. Lowry has been a member of the Army Medical Corps for 30 years. He went to Niagara on his present camp command last week ago. He is a well-known specialist in Toronto, having at one time been an assistant at the Toronto Hospital for Sick Children, and at the Toronto General Hospital.

He is a man of 40 years of age, he is recognized as one of the most efficient specialists in the profession. He graduated from the Toronto University in 1901 and has spent the last few years following his work in the eye and ear department in Birmingham, England.

POOR OLD BATCH.

He and the Old Maid Are Victims of U. S. Tax Collector.
