Miss Pearl White and Mr. H. Limke of Pembroke, were the guests of Mrs. A. H. Veals on Sunday last. During the last week some farm deals were made in this neighborhood. On Wednesday we learned that Mr. Jos. Whiteside has purchased Mr. Thomas Steward's farm for $5500 and by Friday Mr. Wm.

Kerr had closed the deal for Mr. Jos. Gardiner's farm, the price to be somewhere in the neighborhood of $8000. Both parties take possession in March 1915. We wish them success in their undertaking, but are also very sorry to lose from the neighborhood Mr. Steward and Mr. Gardiner.

FENELON FALLS

(Special to The Post.) The entertainment given by the Eckhardt company on Wednesday evening in aid of the Public Library was a decided treat to those who attended, by no means so large a number as the excellence of the entertainment called for. The music was not only first class throughout, both as regards hand bell ringing, violins, musical glasses and other instruments, as well as vocal music, but the acting of Mr. G. Eckhardt in character sketches called forth enthusiastic applause from the audience. A garden party under the auspices of St. James church will be given in the rectory grounds on Friday evening from 7.30 to 10.30. Refreshments of all kinds provided.
