

The Churches

Services Held in the Various Town Churches Sunday.

ST. MARY'S CHURCH.
Sunday the feast of the Immaculate Heart was observed at both masses. Rev. Father Collins preached an impressive sermon on the words "Woman, behold thy son; son, behold thy mother."

ST. PAUL'S.
Rev. Mr. Collier had charge of both services at St. Paul's on Sunday. In the evening he took his text from St. Luke, 17, 15, "I will arise and go to my Father." As we look up in the world to-day, one of the saddest pictures is to see a young man, fresh in the prime of life, wandering about aimlessly spending his money in a riotous living. This young prodigal was spoken of in this chapter was not in his right senses when he ran away from home. He was beside himself. Jesus was when he considered sin a trifle, and a headache which held men down. When this prodigal came home, he made no excuse. He owned up in a straightforward manner that he had done wrong. We must not make any allowances for a man that makes allowances for himself. Christ's aim was to make men themselves. A follower of Jesus Christ possesses the freedom which other people do not possess. If any man does not possess the spirit of Christ, he is none of his. The only way to be saved is to obey our lives to Christ. Let us hearken to the call of Christ, and may we say "We will arise and go to my Father."

ST. ANDREW'S.
Rev. Jas. W. Wallace occupied the pulpit in St. Andrew's church at 10:30 a.m. Sunday. In the morning he took his text from Proverbs 15, 1, "A wholesome tongue is the life of life." We find in the book of Proverbs many wise maxims, but they are not always distinctly religious. Religion is not one phase in life in contrast with another phase. It interests every phase, every act and every interest in life. We are led to conclude that the conditions which prevail today are very little different from those which prevailed in the days of the prophet writers. A soft answer turneth away wrath. We must be heroes in the strife. There are times when men speak when they ought to be quiet. There are times when men have to speak very plainly. Christian people must become specialists in character. A wholesome tongue is like the tree of life. No person can be a slanderer, without defiling himself. Nowadays, there is so much slandering and profane language especially in our sports. We should do our best to weed out this profanity. The tongue is a thing which needs to be watched very closely. The profanity is not natural, it is contrary to the law of God and we should do our best to put a stop to it.

CAMBRIDGE-ST. METHODIST.
Mr. E. Hunter occupied the pulpit in Cambridge street Methodist church Sunday and preached two very able sermons.

In the morning he took his text from Proverbs 23, 18, "Where there is no vision people perish." The superstitious meanings of visions compared with the good which can be derived from them such as bringing happiness and success to those who are visited by them and sometimes have success in life visions of some kind or other are altogether necessary. Even Columbus, it is said, believed the New World by a vision and through the soil and work he succeeded in accomplishing one great purpose at once the one he set out to accomplish. Visions are to be taken as ideals and not an imaginary anti-past. The vision of Jesus has changed the lives of thousands of people who were wayward and has set them on the right track again to eternal life and success. God's greatest work is the uplifting of the Christian character. An inexperienced preacher cannot feel as he speaks, but one who speaks from his own life thrills all his hearers. Christ is the ruler of all the earth, our home lands and the lands beyond the seas which were once heathen, but whose curtain hath been lifted and the light of Salvation poured in upon the dark countries. Where sin and vice and wickedness were and the falling fetters.

QUEEN-ST. METHODIST.
The services in Queen-st. church were well attended Sunday and proved most helpful and inspiring. The pastor preached at both services. In the morning Mr. Bell spoke from 2 Kings, 4th Chapter, verse 1. "Is it well with thee? Is it well with thy household? Is it well with thy child?" After referring to the history with which the text is connected the speaker indicated different characteristics such as physical strength, intellectual ability, and social qualifications which might be possessed by the young people in the home, and such as are considered by many parents of chief importance, but the possession of these qualifications would not in themselves justify any mother answering the question of the text in the affirmative. There must be spiritual life and power as well. An earnest appeal was made to every mother present to be sure that the first question of the text could be answered correctly in the evening the text was taken from St. Luke 14, 17 "The healing of the lepers." The sermon was listened to with the closest attention. A well rendered quartette by four ladies of the choir added much to the enjoyment of the service.

STURGEON POINT.
Mr. Hardy spoke on the old story of David and Goliath. We have our giants to meet and to conquer, as David did, and they are as formidable. The giants we meet are greed, graft, corruption, intemperance, etc., in our social life, and many things in our personal life. In the story of David and Goliath the first feature noted was the base of righteousness and that David felt at the insult to his God a great recognition of the fact that the struggle was between man plus God and unrighteousness. So have all our great moral reformers felt. The case of Hon. Mr. Trickett in his enforcement of prohibition in Kansas City, Kan., was cited. Two hundred and fifty-six saloons and two hundred saloons were closed in about three weeks in spite of fearful odds.

The second feature was David's previous training and his ability. These factors count mightily in the struggle. David was one upon whom the spirit of God rested, and this told heavily in the fight.

Sleeping Car Beds
So far as the sleeping arrangements are concerned, the new sleeping cars of the L. & S. W. railroad in England are a distinct departure from the ordinary type of sleepers. Brass beds take the place of the stuffy berths familiar to all who travel in this country, and heavy upholstery is eliminated. This renders the cars more hygienic, and the wood work can be kept clean. The car consists of seven single and two double sleeping compartments, extending across the car, each of which has its own lavatory.—Popular Mechanics.

GROWING OLD

A little more tired at close of day;
A little more anxious to have our way;
A little less ready to scold and blame,
A little more care for a brother's name;
And so we are nearing the journey's end,
Where time and eternity meet and blend.
A little less care for bonds and gold,
A little more zest in the days of old,
A broader view and a saner mind,
And a little more love for all mankind;
And so we are faring a-down the way
That leads to the gates of a better day.
A little more love for the friends of youth,
A little less zeal to establish truth,
A little more charity in our views,
A little less thirst for the daily news;
And so we are folding our tents away
And passing in silence at close of day,
A little more leisure to sit and dream,
A little more real the things unseen,
A little nearer to those ahead,
With visions of those long loved and dead;
And so we are going where all must go
To the place where the living way never know.
A little more laughter, a few more tears,
And we shall have told our increasing years;
The book is closed, and the prayers are said,
And we are a part of the countless dead.
Thrice happy, then, if some soul can say
"I live because he has passed my way."

Disgraceful Row at Base Ball Game

Rooters Were Too Demonstrative and Players Resented the Liberties Taken

The game of baseball Thursday ended in a free for all fight, and consequently the game was called off. The Wideawakes and Orientals were playing, but it was not between these two teams that the fight occurred. The Orientals had nothing to do with it. The game was a tight one, and the score at the end of the fourth was a tie. Excitement ran high for a while, and the Oriental rooters, of whom there were many, had great hopes of winning. At a point in the Oriental's play that the Bankers would have the championship practically in their own hands, and therefore the Orientals, and they certainly did cheer. In fact they went a little too far to suit some of the Wideawakes team. All of a sudden the catcher on the Wideawakes dropped his glove and came over to remonstrate with the rooters on their manner of so doing. Failing to get them to change their ways he repeated his remonstrances, and in the twinkling of an eye half a hundred young men were trying to close the other eye—that is, the other fellow's. The affair was a most regrettable one, and it is to be hoped it will be a long while before anything of the kind is repeated.

Fenelon Falls Had a Civic Holiday

Splendid Programme of Sports Helped Make an Enjoyable Day

The civic holiday celebration in aid of the public library, which was held on Wednesday last, Aug. 19th, was a great success. A large number from outside points visited town, the steamer Kathleen bringing a crowd from Lindsay, accompanied by the Sylvester band which discoursed sweet music during the day. Others came from the north by train and boat, while many drove in from the surrounding country. The crowd, while large, was not quite so noticeably so as on former occasions, owing no doubt to the threatening appearance of the weather in the morning. Colborne-st. was gaily decorated with flags and banners which imparted an air of festivity to our bright little town. A grand programme of sports was carried out successfully.

In the morning the sports on the water attracted a large number to the banks of the canal, and river, where the aquatic sports took place. These were of a highly entertaining nature, and afforded much amusement to the large throng of spectators. To these perhaps the most exciting event was the tilting contest, though each event was followed with much interest, and hearty applause greeted the efforts of the contestants. There was a good attendance at the park in the afternoon, where a baseball match was played between Bobayzeon and Glenarr, which was keenly contested, and resulted in a victory for 'Cayzeon' by a score of 13 to 8. Mr. Thos. Sadler, of Lindsay, acted as referee. A programme of athletic sports followed. The prizewinners in the aquatic and athletic events were as follows: Men's single canoe race—1st, E. Nevison; 2nd, O. Nevison. Boys' single canoe race—1st, Ted Calder; 2nd, J. J. Spratt. Boys' double canoe race—1st, T. Calder and W. Shane; 2nd, Spratt Bros. Upset race—E. Nevison, F. Austin. ### Queen Street Epworth League

An Enjoyable Time Spent by Members and Adherents

Last Monday the members and adherents of the Queen-st. Epworth league assembled at eight o'clock to hold their regular meeting. Every one present seemed at home and joined heartily in singing praises and in the reading of the sacred word. Miss B. Marshall, who had charge of the topic then ably and beautifully expressed the views on "Entire Consecration." The subject she had chosen, and all joined in a hearty discussion of the main subdivisions of the subject, making the meeting interesting and beneficial to all. Mr. Bickford then showed his vocal talent by a solo. Mr. McWatters gave a short talk on the subject and was followed by Mr. Real, who moved that the secretary of the league be appointed newspaper reporter for the meetings. The motion was seconded by Miss E. Goad and later all raised their hands in favor of the motion. The meeting was closed with prayer. There were 43 present and the collection amounted to 70c. The society extends a cordial invitation to all to come and join in the meetings of christian endeavor. Come and make our number eighty-six.

HOTELMEN JAILED

Three Owen Sound Bonifaces Get Four-Month Sentences.

OTHERS ARE HEAVILY FINED

Andrew Fogarty, Joshua Warrilow and William Leach Are Sent Down by Magistrate Creason For Selling Liquor—Four Detectives Have Been at Work Securing Evidence—Caused Excitement.

Owen Sound, Aug. 24.—As the result of a round-up by four detectives of the License Department three of the hotelkeepers of this place have been sentenced to four months' imprisonment each, while a number of others have been heavily fined.

In all there were seventeen charges, the alleged offences having taken place in nine hotels. For three days Magistrate Creason has been hearing evidence in connection with these cases, and his task is not yet done, as four trials have still to take place. The men sentenced to prison were Andrew Fogarty, Albion Hotel; Joshua Warrilow, Royal Hotel, and William Leach, City Hotel. They had each been previously convicted and the magistrate was powerless to do anything but sentence them to imprisonment without the option of a fine.

Considerable excitement amongst the liquor element in the town has been created by the round-up. The other guilty parties had to pay fines ranging from $50 to $100. The police are searching for one man who is suspected to pay his fine before leaving town.

Messrs. Fogarty, Leach and Warrilow are three of the best known hotelmen in this section of the province. The hotelkeepers have succeeded in avoiding conviction time and again, but the amendment to the act passed some months ago made this more difficult. The coup has been successful this time, though it is understood the usual appeals will be taken.
