A Few Hints To Guide Our Correspondents

A few hints that we would like correspondents to paste up for future reference. Write every week if you can, if not, write as often as possible. Avoid all personalities. If John Brown spends Sunday with Mary Jane Smith he has a perfect right to do so so long as she does not object. He does not want everybody to know it, so leave out such items. If friends from a distance are visiting friends, or if there are accidents, runaways, in fact anything in the news line, send that in. Do not forget to sign your name, not for publication but as a matter of good faith. Many interesting letters find their way into the waste paper basket on this account.

We have, of course, a large number of excellent correspondents, whose handwriting is familiar to us, but the occasional contributor will certainly have to sign their names, to their correspondence, or it will not be published. We simply wish to know who the parties are who are contributing to these columns. If a fire, suicide, sudden death or serious accident occurs in your neighborhood, phone or wire us at our expense.

The farmers are very well supplied with help with a few exceptions and the don't seem to be any excitement with regard to harvesting in the north west. These is work for all to do. With sickles of steel must the work be done, and none may rest till the harvest home.

Ed. Dunn's new threshing engine is a Sawyer & Massey make. If any want to know.

HALIBURTON

(Special to The Post)

There is something good and sociable about these excursions, and if the railway company only knew the good they do we are sure they would put on two or three here every season. The Haliburton ozone has a charming effect on the complexion, as you would notice when your ladies arrived home. There is something in the very air that sends every one away looking happy and contented. A more orderly and more respectable lot of people have not been here for a long time, and we hope the same ones with many others will come here next year. To Scotchmen the Highlands of Haliburton, with their hills and valleys, all wooded and dotted with lochs, offered to their senses, particularly. The beauty of it all is like a panorama. "Will ye come again, laddies?"

The excursion from Lindsay last to our pretty little town was quite a success, about four hundred visitors from Lindsay and the villages between there and Haliburton enjoying a very pleasant day. There was also about the same number or more from the vicinity, who came over to enjoy the day and meet old friends. The leading event of the day's sport was a cricket match. The Lindsay boys went into the game with the real old time gentlemanly manner, as did also the Haliburtonians. We missed some of the old time Lindsay cricketers, but a good game was played, some very good bowling and batting being displayed and the fielding was good.

Among those who distinguished themselves were Mr. Johnston, Mr. O'Connor and some other Lindsay gentlemen whose names we have not been able to get; also Mr. Carruthers and Mr. Andrews of Haliburton, both showing that they were good old time cricketers, the former particularly distinguishing himself with his scientific batting, and considering his age he is a marvel.

Mr. Lucas and Mr. Johnston both showed up well in the bowling. We were glad to see our old and much thought of friends, the Perrins here on that day. Mr. Wm. and Mr. Chas. Perrin and their wives resided here for several years, and were among our most respected citizens.

We also met Geo. Ingle Esq., of Lindsay, who has done business with Haliburton merchants for years back and glad to hear that he is now in his old stand. A good big slice of the business in his line is sure to go again to him from here.

Mr. Baker, of the Minden Echo, was also as usual smiling and had a handshake for all his old friends.
