CONSPIRACY CASE ADJOURNED EXCEPTION TAKEN TO INFORMATION

At the police court this morning the conspiracy charge preferred against Mr. A. B. McGill, manager of the Home Bank, late manager of the Farmer's Bank, Mr. J. Flurey, late of the Farmers' Bank, and Mr. J. Coulter, late of the Nesleton branch, came up for hearing. The accused were represented by Messrs. Stewart & O'Connor, while the interests of the Crown were looked after by County Crown Attorney A. P. Devlin. About 36 subpoenas had been issued by the Crown, and quite a number of interested spectators were present.

TOOK EXCEPTION

Mr. Stewart took exception to the information not being full enough, and read the charge, which he claimed was so general that the accused would have no definite idea of what was preferred against them. He then read the law regarding indictments, and said that the one submitted was of ancient form, and not in keeping with modern sentiment, nor fair to the accused. He thought it should give details, and that the defendant ought to be entitled to particulars of the offence charged.

Mr. Stewart referred to the interpretation clause, and submitted that if there is any doubt that His Worship should direct that particulars be given. Persons should not be brought in court by such a worded charge.

The manner of wording might permit it to be prolonged as lengthily as an inquest. The object might be to leave a wide field for fishing so that something might be caught. He had been refused particulars by those laying the charge.

NO TIME FOR DETAILS.

Attorney Devlin said that particulars could have been secured through the court. Anyway, this wasn't the time for asking for the details, because the court might be adjourned, and he would be given an opportunity to find them out.

Mr. Stewart—This is the court and I must be prepared beforehand, but no information can be drawn by the accused at all. All I want is particulars given with care and reasonable detail.

At Devlin thought he (Mr. S.) should not ask for them, since they were here for an adjournment, as he understood.

USELESS TO PROLONG IT.

Magistrate Jackson mentioned that it was useless to prolong it unnecessarily, and the sooner he was through with it the better pleased he would be. He would not try the case, but would take the preliminaries. In a case of this character, where the character of the charge is so widely known, general wording was sufficient. If particulars could be demanded, every common assault case might be adjourned for minor details. He unweaned nothing of the adjournment until telephoned in Toronto yesterday. Mr. Stewart said that the reason REASON FOR HIS REQUEST

Mr. Stewart said that the reason he had desired the particulars was to determine whether an adjournment was necessary or not. He suggested an adjournment, but Attorney Devlin demanded a cause. Finally Magistrate Jackson adjourned the case until next Thursday at 10 o'clock, Aug. 4.

The witnesses were warned to be on hand on that date or suffer. Bail was then furnished for the accused.

THE INFORMATION.

The information sworn out is as follows: "That A. B. McGill, J. J. Fleury, and J. L. Coulter, of the town of Lindsay, in the county of Victoria, and at other places in the province of Ontario, in the year of our Lord 1910, prior to the laying of this information, did unlawfully and wickedly conspire, confederate and agree with one another, and each with the other by deceit and falsehood, and other fraudulent means, to defraud the Farmers' Bank of Canada, and to injure the Farmers' Bank of Canada, and to injuriously affect the credit and standing of the Farmers' Bank of Canada, contrary to the form of the statute in such case made and provided, and against the peace of our Lord the King, His Crown and dignity.

New Secretary of Local Y.M.C.A.

Mr. Frank Young of West End Y.M.C.A. Secures Position

Secretary Bingleman, of the local Y.M.C.A., who tendered his resignation at a meeting of the Board of Directors some weeks ago, has been succeeded by Mr. Frank Young, who has been assistant secretary of the West End Y.M.C.A. of Toronto.

Mr. Young, who was in town today, has been a very successful Y.M.C.A. worker, and those who are conversant with the success of the West End "Y" of Toronto will congratulate the local Y.M.C.A. on securing Mr. Young, as he has been identified with the West End for twelve years, and assisted in a large measure in bringing the Association up to the high standing it enjoys.

The new secretary comes highly recommended, is an all round athlete and a splendid physical instructor. He is deeply interested in the boy work, and will enter the local work filled with enthusiasm, and possessing a determination to make the Association a still greater power for good in the community.

The Post extends a cordial welcome to Mr. Young and also congratulates the Association on securing his services.

It is to be hoped the young men, as well as the citizens generally, will vie with the new secretary in a determination to boom the Association.

Mr. Young will attend the Y.M.C.A. camp at Lake Couchiching, and will enter on his new duties in about two weeks.

Mr. Bingleman, the retiring secretary, will leave in a short while for the Canadian Northwest, and his many friends, while regretting his departure from town, will wish him success in his new home.

Lost Control of Automobile

Friday afternoon a party of three in an automobile while touring along the road near Riverside cemetery had an exciting experience. The young lady who was acting as chauffeur, evidently lost control of the car, as it dashed into the lane way of the farm of Mr. P. Murphy and crashed into the stone foundation of the barn. Fortunately no serious damage resulted.

Financial History of the G. T. R.

One Element in the Strike That Should Not be Lost Sight Of

The following has been published by request:

Kingston Standard: One element in the G.T.R. strike must not be lost sight of, and that is the financial history of the road. The first of the railroads built in Canada, it was undertaken at a time now over fifty years ago, when the country through which it runs was largely forest with few settlers and no towns or cities of any importance to furnish freight or passengers. Railroads built under similar circumstances now are liberally bonused by the government. Not so the Grand Trunk, which was largely paid for by solid cash out of the pockets of the original shareholders.

The capital stock issued at various times is:

Ordinary	£22,475,985
Guaranteed	£9,840,011
1st preference	£3,420,000
2nd preference	£2,530,000
3rd preference	£7,168,055

Total £45,434,051

Upon the first of these, the ordinary stock, about $112,000,000, not one cent of dividend has ever been paid. This stock was subscribed nearly all of it, in England, so that those Englishmen who built the G.T.R. have lost the interest on their investment for over fifty years, and have lost the money invested, for the stock itself is, we believe, today worth little.

On the other classes of stock issued dividends have been paid intermittently, though the rate is only four per cent on the guaranteed and third preference stocks and five per cent on the others. For the past nine years the dividends have been as follows:

1901	£2,382,980
1902	2,647,365
1903	2,811,471
1904	2,553,216
1905	3,475,173
1906	3,552,596
1907	4,131,662
1908	2,096,812

This would average two and a quarter per cent on the amount of stocks that have paid dividends.

There is no doubt about the value of this road to the Canadian people during the years of struggle when Canada was a poor and sparsely settled country. It is only now that there is a chance of the stock holders of the Grand Trunk Railway reaping some return for the immense sums expended in building their road. It may be urged that the original investors took a chance of losing when they built the road just as any other investors do. True, but some consideration is due them or their assignees who now hold the stock for the tremendous losses they have suffered. Their loss has been Canada's gain, and the Canadian people should not be ungrateful for benefits received.

With Old Boys At Belleville

Mr. James Shannon has returned from the Old Boys Reunion at Belleville, where he met many of his old schoolmates and associates of boyhood days. The re-union was a splendid success, between ten and twelve thousand former Bellevilleites coming back to their home city from all parts of the continent.

The city was beautifully decorated, and Mr. Shannon states that the welcome accorded the old boys was a remarkable one.

Move to Appeal The Suspension

The Atherly Hotel Case to go to the Higher Court

Notice of appeal was served on the License Branch of the Provincial Secretary's Department yesterday by James Haverson, K. C., acting for Charles Healey, hotelkeeper of Atherley, Ontario, against the decision of Police Magistrate Murton of Oshawa, suspending the license of Healey's hotel for sixty days. According to the Magistrate's judgment, the suspension of the license does not go into effect until fourteen days after July 25, and in view of this the applicant probably hope to obtain a hearing and have the case disposed of before the fourteen days are up.

The sixty days' suspension was the penalty imposed upon Healey for keeping a disorderly inn. The trial followed an investigation into the death of a lumberman who was killed by a train near Atherley after a drunken orgy at Healey's hotel.
