MR. McMAHON TO BUILD WALKS ACCORDING TO THE SPECIFICATIONS

A special meeting of the council was held on Saturday evening to consider what action would be taken regarding the work on the Albert-st. granolithic walk not being carried out according to specifications.

An interesting, and, at times, heated discussion took place and a resolution was finally passed instructing Mr. McMahon to carry out the work according to instructions.

Reeve Babcock said he was satisfied that the pavement would prove of a permanent character. He referred to the construction of the new asphalt block pavement on William street, where the cement had been exposed by Mr. Bangham for seven and nine days before the top dressing was spread, and it was demonstrated that it adhered. If the underdressing of a pavement was allowed to become dirty or dusty the cement would not adhere. Mr. Babcock referred to sidewalks built in this manner four years ago, which were in good condition today. He did not wish to change the specifications governing Mr. McMahon, but told him to have as little overtime as possible. Mr. Babcock was so positive that the top dressing would adhere to the underdressing that he would pay for a block if it was a failure. Mr. McMahon had repaired the walks in the town in this manner and they spoke for themselves. He did not wish the council to blame that gentleman, and insofar as the chairmanship of the Board of Works was concerned, it did not matter to him in the least if the council appointed someone else to act in that capacity. The stretches of work may not have been according to specifications, but the work will stand. He had ordered Mr. McMahon to finish up the work, because if it had been exposed 36 hours it would be in a worse condition than when he proceeded to add the top dressing. In answer to a query from Mr. Dobson, Mr. Babcock said the sidewalk in front of the Bank of Montreal had been repaired by Mr. McMahon a year ago and was an excellent piece of work. Besides he had built a crossing into Mr. Fred Thomas' garage on William-st. laying the top dressing on the concrete. Heavy loads had since passed over it and it had stood the test.

Mayor Wood—Do you not remember Mr. Babcock, that Mr. McMahon agreed to do the work according to specifications—that the walk would be dressed in its green state?

Mr. Babcock—Yes, I remember that. I want to free Mr. McMahon from blame. First because of the overtime he was asked to avoid, and secondly because of the danger to the walk from a long exposure without the top dressing.

Mr. McMahon said the day he left the concrete unfinished it looked like rain. He wanted to put on the extra stretch of surface, but it rained. He said he was not afraid of the work done, and that he had not learned the concrete work today. It had rained over a day and a night on the stretch in question. If he had put the surface on it, it would have been spoiled. Mr. McMahon admitted he had overrun the agreement. He was not craving for overtime on the work.

Mayor Wood—You agreed to have the work performed a certain way. Mr. McMahon—I don't remember that I was to have the surface finished. I saw the specifications when I took the contract. This will not occur again. I will be up every night with my work.

Mayor—I will guarantee it won't. Mr. McMahon—You remember, Mr. McMahon when I said to you, surely you won't leave the work in that form, that you replied, Do you want a man to work all night?

Mr. McMahon—What I wished to convey was that I would not work overtime. Mr. McMahon—I wanted the work finished, and finished right.

Mr. McWatters said the mistake was in not following specifications. With regard to the top dressing adhering to this kind of work, he believed it would, but he would not advise people to build that way. It was not safe. Mr. McMahon should finish the walks every night. There had been something said about an inch of cement not being on the top.

Mr. McMahon—There was a good inch, and even an inch and a half.

Mr. McWatters—Mr. McMahon has got a lesson that will serve a good purpose in the future. In answer to a query from Mr. Babcock regarding his inspection of the work, Mr. McMahon said the chairman visited the job twice a day.

Mayor Wood—It would have been better for you, Mr. McMahon, to have taken my instructions, without calling up the chairman of the Board of Works. I am the Chief Magistrate of this town and I take the privilege of criticizing the actions of the chairman of the different committees, as well as any work authorized by the town. It was out of place for you to call him up and it looked as if you were trying to put yourself under the protection of the chairman of the Board of Works. I do not wish to override any chairman, but if work is not done according to specifications I have a duty to discharge and I will discharge it fearlessly. It would have been much better for you to abide by my instructions.

Mr. McMahon said he understood a committee of the council would be up to inspect the work on the day in question between 9 and 10 o'clock. No trowel had been put into the work until after the latter hour, he said. Mr. Babcock told him to go on and he would stand between him and the town. If he disobeyed, what was to be done?

Mr. McMahon—I am surprised at both Mr. McMahon and Mr. Babcock trying to justify their actions. Mr. McMahon was employed by the council; the chairman did not employ him. It was high handed work on the part of the chairman to override the Mayor.

Mr. McMahon—You are not finding fault with the finished work. Mr. McMahon—No; but serious harm may result if the work was done in this manner. The work was suspended by Mayor Wood and in contradiction to his instructions, Mr. Babcock ordered the work to proceed. I am surprised at him trying to prove that the work is all right. There was absolutely no proof that the work would bond perfectly. One hundred men can be secured who will say the opposite. The Scientific American stated recently that a fortune awaits a man who could make one coat of cement adhere to another. This job was taken on the understanding that the printed specifications would be followed. On the contrary they were disregarded and the work done any way that evidently suited Mr. McMahon and the chairman.

The Town Clerk in response to a query said the walk on Colborne-st. would cost approximately about 14c. or 15c. a foot.

Mr. Smale said this was comparatively a very high price. In answer to Mr. Smale, the Clerk said the walks last year cost 11 cents a foot.

Mr. Clory—Add the overseer's salary of $3.00 a day to that.

Mr. Dobson—As far as the cost goes, it is too soon to take it into consideration. The work is not finished. Mr. Brown said that anything he said at Friday's meeting concerning the walk he was prepared to back it up. He did not agree that the work would stand. He would not vote for a contract and then do something different afterwards. The council entered into a contract, and it was our duty to see that it was carried out.

Mr. Dobson—If His Worship or Messrs. Brown and Smale can show us any harm done or where the town is losing money, I would like to see it. I don't know if the walk will cement or not, and am free to admit I understood the work was to be finished each night. I think 175 feet was quite a little to have on hand at 6 o'clock. Of course, if it rained and could not be done that is different.

Mayor Wood—I spoke to men of long years' experience in laying cement, and was informed that walks built in such a way would not stand. These are the men we should listen to. Mr. McMahon should live up to his contract, and the chairman of the Board of Works should see that Mr. McMahon kept faith with the agreement he made with the council.

Mr. Babcock—Three men that I spoke to—men who were experienced, said that the walk would stand.

Mr. McClory—I am surprised that the council sat here and allowed Mr. McMahon to repair walks in this manner, and did not give the members the knowledge they claim to possess.

Mr. Babcock—Me, too. Mayor Wood—That is the duty of the chairman of the Board of Works. He is responsible.

Mr. McClory—Apparently only a few members of the council possess that information.

Mr. Smale—The amount of energy the chairman of the Board exercises in trying to prove that the work is right.

Mr. Babcock—Oh, leave the chairman alone, and act fair.

Mr. Smale—Order. I have the floor.

Mr. Babcock—You are always after the chairman of the Board of Works. I know your game.

Mr. Smale—I will not take second place to Mr. Babcock in the matter of courtesy or fair play.

Mayor Wood—No personalities, gentlemen. Mr. Smale then introduced a resolution that Mr. McMahon's resignation be asked for.

Mr. McWatters said Mr. McMahon had admitted the mistake, made. It would not be wise to be too hard. Give him another chance, and if he failed, he could not expect to get other work from the town.

Mr. McMahon said he would guarantee that he would stay no concrete ahead. He would stay at night and finish the work.

Mr. Babcock asked Mr. McMahon if that style of work was as good as when the surface was laid when the underdressing was in a green state.

Mr. McMahon said it would be just as good if it was not burned.

Mr. Howe said it would be better to give Mr. McMahon another chance. He would live up to the agreement. He moved that Mr. McMahon pro-with the construction of the walks according to the specifications. This was seconded and carried, Messrs. Smale, Brown and Gray voting nay.

Mayor Wood—If I find that the agreement is violated I will dismiss Mr. McMahon on the spot.

Mr. Dobson fathered a motion that Mayor Wood and Messrs. Smale and Babcock be a sub-committee to supervise the work. He said the council would then be sure to get the work done according to specifications.

Mr. McClory—Make them inspect it once a day.

The motion carried.

LIGHTHOUSES ON LAKE SIMCOE

Lake Simcoe, which, for many years has been neglected by the Government is now about to come into its own. A large force of men are busily engaged erecting two lighthouses at Big Bay Point, and one each at Strawberry Island, Roach's Point, and Thorah Island. The many shoals on the lake are also being properly buoyed. This work is being done by the Trent Canal for the Department of Marine and Fisheries.

There are also improvements being made to Beaverton Harbor and the contract for a new dock at Orillia to cost $7,000 was awarded on Thursday. New docks will also be built at Big Bay Point, Belle Ewart and Beaverton costing $5,000, $4,500 and $15,000 respectively.

Lake Simcoe has a shore line of over 100 miles. It is the main lake on the Trent Valley waterway which is expected to be completed from the Georgian Bay to Lake Ontario in three years.

BUTTER COLORING POISONED CHILD

Oshawa Reformer: A unique poisoning case is reported north of town. At the home of John Glover, who lives a short distance north of Oshawa, an incident occurred Wednesday morning that proved that all things that are supposed to be non-poisonous, are not such. Mr. Glover's little three year old baby got hold of a bottle of butter coloring that had been left somewhere within its reach and drank about a tablespoonful of the contents. A short time after it became very sick, and a doctor was called and found the child had been poisoned by the butter coloring. This is an interesting case, as butter coloring is supposed not to be poisonous. The contents of the bottle containing the butter coloring liquid is to be analyzed and some interesting information may be brought out regarding butter color.

In the meantime the child is very sick and may not recover.

Miss L. Hill, of Hillside, Muskoka, are visiting friends in town, the guests of Mrs. William Swain, Fair-ave.

BID FAREWELL TO EARTH'S VANITIES

Peterboro Review: The second retreat of the Sisters of the St. Joseph Community commenced last night at the Mount St. Joseph. Forty-seven Sisters, including the members of the community from Lindsay, seventeen Novices, who have made their required Novitiate, and eleven Novices are making the retreat, which is being preached by Rev. Father O'Gorman of the Jesuit Order in Montreal. It will close on August 17th on which date all the Novices will make their final vows and the Postulant will receive the Holy Veil.

The profession is a very impressive ceremony, as, by it the young ladies signify that they wish to withdraw entirely from the world, and give up all that women, in a sense, hold dear and dedicate themselves entirely to the cause of their religion.

Many visiting priests, as well as the relatives and friends of the young ladies, will be present at the ceremony.

PEAT BEDS OF VICTORIA COUNTY

There was a rumor on the street today that certain interests intended experimenting at an early date in the manufacture of peat for fuel in this county. The rumor could not be verified.

Victoria County has extensive peat beds within its borders, and if the material could be successfully made into fuel, it would be in the nature of a blessing.

UNFORTUNATE MAN IS IMPROVING

The unfortunate fellow who was locked up yesterday at noon while acting in a boisterous manner on William street was remanded in jail till Tuesday till an examination is made regarding his mental condition.

It is a most deplorable state of affairs that a man subject to a weakness which this man has, should be supplied with liquor. The Post called up the jailor this morning, and he stated that he was improving.

This fellow is not the one who took up his position in front of the post office some weeks ago and assaulted pedestrians but was arrested on another occasion one night at Mauder's hotel for causing a disturbance.
