

—OUR—Prescription Department

The manner in which its prescription department is conducted is a true index to the character of any drug store.

Here this department has the first consideration. It is equipped with everything that can in any way promote the scientific character of our work.

A prescription brought to us is put up just as it should be. The highest quality of drugs are used and the methods employed are those which will insure the proper combination and potency of the remedies employed. The prices are reasonable and alike to all.

YOUR EYESIGHT

Of all the "don'ts" you've heard or read of, none are more freighted with wisdom than this:

Let it be another—"Don't let anyone and everyone trifle with your eyes."

One's eyes should never be tested except by a skilled oculist or eye-sight specialist. We possess the art of correct testing of the eyes, and then fitting the eyes with correct glasses.

When it's a question of eyes, treat only with the man who knows how. We know how.

LINDSAY FRIDAY, SEPT. 25th

DR. WILSON NOMINATED

As will be seen by our report on another page, the Liberal convention on Saturday afternoon selected Dr. Wilson of Fenelon Falls as its candidate in the pending elections for the House of Commons, and the nomination is being received everywhere by the most unbounded enthusiasm.

Dr. Wilson is an ideal candidate. Bright, brainy and up-to-date, he has a large acquaintance throughout the riding—both north and south—and is everywhere held in the highest respect, and is a candidate to fight for and to cheer for. He is a man of large sympathies and much experience in public affairs and is in every way qualified for the onerous and responsible duties of a member of the House of Commons, which are now quite indifferently discharged. Dr. Wilson was born at Lifford in the Township of Manvers on the 25th of October, 1852, so that in electing him the people of the riding will be also celebrating his birthday. He graduated from Trinity University in 1878 having been a student of Trinity Medical School, Toronto, which was affiliated with both universities. He obtained his M.C.P.S.O., and settled in June of the same year at Fenelon Falls, where he has practised continually ever since. He is president of the board of trade of the cataract village, chairman of the school board and medical health officer for Fenelon Falls, associate coroner for Victoria county, local surgeon for the Grand Trunk Railway, from all of which it will be seen that he is a pretty busy man, and that a good deal of his time has been given up to the public interest. And in addition to these he holds several important positions in connection with the Methodist Church.

As an instance of Dr. Wilson's public-spiritedness and large-heartedness, it may be noted that last winter, when so much distress prevailed in Toronto's Shacktown, he took the lead in stirring up the Fenelon Falls people to their relief, and succeeded in obtaining a considerable sum of money, which was forwarded to the people in want, together with about a ton of clothing. On other occasions, too, he has been active in assisting the needy and relieving the distressed as well as being ever ready to do anything to advance the interests of the people generally.

It goes without saying that such a man as Dr. Wilson is much needed in the wider sphere of usefulness to which he has been nominated, and every citizen of Victoria and Haliburton may take the utmost pride in voting for him.

Laurier Invincible

Under the above heading the Globe reviews the campaign in this cheerful manner:

"No responsible Canadian will risk his reputation for intelligence by predicting seriously the defeat of the Laurier Government. No man who follows closely the current of events will predict any significant decrease in the majority the Government had in the last Parliament. The more reckless of the Conservative newspapers affect to believe the words they publish about the decline of the Prime Minister's power and the ascendancy of Mr. Borden and Mr. Geo. E. Foster, but the men who write the words smile cynically at their own bravado. Each new day of the campaign adds to the triumphs of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and he stands invincible against all the slander and calumny of his enemies.

"The fact is now being made plain even to the dullest wit in the Conservative party that when Mr. Borden gave rein to the Foster-Fowler-Bennett clique of obstructionists and scandal-mongers he lost prestige as a leader and blundered as a tactician. The Opposition shot its bolt, and now it comes back as a boomerang. The reaction against scandal talk has set in. Independent opinion, both within and without the ranks of Liberalism, that might have thought favorably of Mr. Borden and his party has been disgusted at the campaign, that is being conducted on his behalf, a campaign barren of constructive ideas, and rich only in insinuation and personal abuse. Men of the older generation do not forget the similar campaign of slander made against Alexander Mackenzie, whom now the same traducers of Wilfrid Laurier are ready to glorify. Had moderation and decency been maintained in Parliament last session and on the platform during the present campaign there might have been some falling away in the sweeping support given to the Government four years ago. But the Foster brigade overshoot the mark, and Mr. Borden, by allowing himself to be dragged into adopting their scandal-tactics, will have to take the consequences. The reaction has set in. Laurier is now invincible."

AMES AND HIS MOVING PICTURES

The Ottawa Free Press remarks that Mr. H. B. Ames, M.P., and his lantern slides have returned to Montreal, and we are told by him that he has addressed 100,000 people from the Atlantic to the Pacific in his "exposure of the timber lands scandal." He may have done so; but the principal point of interest is as to the amount of acceptance which his statements received at the hands of his hearers, especially in the West.

And from all the evidence that comes to hand it must be admitted even by the friends of Mr. Ames himself, that the people of the West were not greatly impressed by his observations. Those who live on the spot cannot be deceived as can those who live thousands of miles away.

The people of the West know for themselves that the timber policy of the Laurier Government has been beneficial to them and to the country. They know that for the 6,500 square miles of timber lands leased—not sold—by the Government the public treasury received an average of $81 per square mile, as compared with an average of $81.16 received by the Government of the Province of Quebec.

And they know that even if the system of leasing timber limits in the past was open to amendment, it was the same system which was handed down to the Liberals by their predecessors, and that it remained for the present Government, under Hon. Frank Oliver, to remodel that system so as to secure surveys of limits before sale, to provide for sales by public auction, and for the compulsory establishment of saw mills.

They know that the timber limits were of no value until the West had been developed, that it was first necessary to provide the consumers before capitalists would put their money into the operation of timber limits, and that it was not until that point was reached that competition became effective. Just as soon as it did, the principle of competition was adopted, and has now been the rule for over a year.

Thus they are aware that the very reforms for which Mr. Ames is now clamoring so loudly were promulgated by the Government last December. And thus, it happens that the people of the West place little stock in Mr. Ames and his campaign.

DUNDAS & FLAVELLES LIMITED

since the accession of Sir Wilfrid Laurier to power aggregates over a thousand millions. The thousand million man for ours.

In eleven years the Liberals expended for the development of the country and keeping down of the public debt $127,000,000, and they had to borrow only $5,000,000. In the last 11 years of Tory rule they spent $80,000,000 on public works, and of that sum they borrowed $62,000,000, added it to the public debt and left it as a legacy to their successors on which to pay interest. But for the building of the N.T.R., which we shall own and draw a revenue from, not a dollar has been added to the debt by the Liberals, notwithstanding all the great works carried on for the country's development.

COMMUNICATIONS
We do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions of our correspondents.
IT WASN'T PACKED
(To the Editor of The Post.)
Dear Sir, — The Warrier says that the Liberal convention was a tame affair. We would remind the Warrier that this convention wasn't packed. Dr. Wilson didn't have to round up the whole north country and bring down a yelling, booting mob to cheer for him.

Dr. Wilson will represent this riding and not a railroad corporation.

The Doings of Walter Greer.
The Lashburn, Sask, Cornet sheds a light thus:
"On Tuesday the news was flashed around town that Walter Greer had taken his departure that morning for the east. Now Walter has often taken a trip like this before and under ordinary circumstances there would have been no suspicion aroused with regard to this latest one. But, this time, the matter had been kept such a profound secret, and so altogether shrouded in mystery that good grounds for regarding it as something more than just a simple, plain, ordinary business visit had been given. The knowing ones around here have since been busy in putting all the available scraps of existing evidence together, and very important clues have, in consequence, been uncovered, and this much has been established as reasonably certain: certain young lady (from Regina, Ont., will be met by our erstwhile townsman, in Winnipeg. This meeting will be followed by a visit to a city, with the result as described by the poet: "two hearts will beat one," and the consequence of it will be that when Walter returns to Lashburn he will be accompanied by Mrs. Greer. It is not known how the happy couple will arrive at town but everybody should at once lay in a sufficient quantity of food to hunt up every available old boot, be in readiness for the unexpected event. It is understood that Walter has already taken precautions to ward off a "charivari" by making the usual and customary arrangements."
