ANOTHER STABBING IN TORONTO ITALIAN HAD ABDOMEN OPENED

Toronto, Aug. 29.—With a dangerous gash in his abdomen, Giuseppe Rizzio, Italian laborer, living at 106 Claremont street, is at the point of death in Grace Hospital, and the police are scouring the city for Rocco di Sabato, 208 Claremont street, his assailant. The stabbing occurred at the home of the injured man at 5.30 last night in the presence of a dozen other Italians, who refuse to talk of the affair.

A dozen Italians had been drinking in the kitchen all yesterday. Three kegs of beer had been consumed. Rocco, who had just come in from the front of the house, became engaged in heated discussion with Rizzio. He reached into a coat pocket and produced a red razor case. There was a vicious upward movement of his hand and he and Rizzio fell to the floor. Rocco got up and went quietly out and was seen to walk slowly south on Claremont street. Rizzio did not rise and a stream of blood flowed from a long rent in his clothing. It was some time before medical aid was summoned, and then Dr. D. W. McPherson, 556 Bathurst street, was called. He found the man lying on the floor, a cut an inch long on the left side of his abdomen, and the intestines protruding. He had the man removed in Matthews' private ambulance to Grace Hospital, where surgeons worked over him for an hour and a half.

The police were notified by phone to the Esther street station at 6.20, and Sgt. Umbach hurried to the scene, picking up Detective Cronin on the way. Cronin picked up a razor case in the hallway, which bystanders said was that from which the razor had been taken, but the weapon could not be found. A search was also made at 208 Claremont street, where Rocco boarded, but there, too, the officers were met with the same shrugs and professed ignorance.

Rocco's trunk was searched, and a letter found addressed to him at 34 Carr street, but redressed to the Claremont street house. A picture postcard showing the man wanted was also found. The Carr street house was found to be vacant, and at an address in St. Claren's avenue, to which the former occupants had moved, they learned nothing of Rocco's whereabouts.

Rocco is said to be 22 years of age and single. He was short and thick set. He is said to have worked on cement pavements for the city, but to have quit his job on Saturday. Rizzio is 39 years old with a wife and children in Italy. He had been in this country two years.

Inspector Dickson and Detectives Tigg, Archibald and Jarvis kept up a search all through the night throughout the Italian settlements in the city. It was in this same locality that Pasquale Ventricini committed the murder for which he was hanged in June, and less than a year ago an Italian was arrested in this very house for a serious stabbing.

STAMP SELLING MACHINE NOW

Ottawa, Aug. 29.—The lowering of the charges to two cents a letter from all parts of Canada, the United States and the British Empire, and to one cent a letter where the letter is delivered in the same place in which it is posted have added tremendously to the amount of mail matter handled by the Canadian Postoffice Department. To such an extent is this the case that the Department is sometimes overtaxed as it requires, and it has had to look about for devices to assist it in its work. The selling of its postage stamps to meet the exacting demands of a public who are peremptory in regard to its postal service has for some time been a vexing problem. But it is believed the solution has been found.

For some years past, experiments have been made in stamp-vending machines, which would deliver stamps automatically when the proper amount was paid. Hon. Mr. Lemieux, Postmaster-General, has been following these experiments with interest, but until recently the results have not been such as would warrant the post-office in embarking on a scheme of this kind. Now, however, a machine has been perfected, which has been submitted to exhaustive tests, with results so good as to give the Postmaster-General reason to believe that what he has been looking for has been accomplished.

Shot His Wife Killed Himself

Drink Caused Murder and Suicide in Toronto Today.

(Special to The Post.) Toronto, Aug. 29.—Gustave Merke, today shot his wife and then killed himself. His daughter returned to the house at 10 Robert-st. at 11.30 a. m., and found her mother dead in the kitchen. Getting assistance from the neighbors she found the body of her father lying in the parlor. A revolver was at his side and the weapon was 38 calibre. Merke was a chef, he had been drinking heavily.

The Coming of September Month

Sense of Autumn is Beginning to Permeate Air

Already a sense of autumn is beginning to permeate the air, and the soul of nature seems to be gently touched with the heaviness which prompted Bryant to write those oft quoted lines: "The melancholy days have come, the saddest of the year, with falling winds and weeping groves and meadows brown and sear."

Here and there the fields are touched with russet. In a hollow the leaves that have served their purpose and have withered early are curling. They rustle as the breeze stirs them. On branch and vine the luscious fruit is ripening to richest hues. In the glade and along the old rail fence the golden rod nods in its self satisfied way. The tenants of the forest seem to have a premonition of the summer season's passing, for squirrel and rabbits are looking for nuts and grain wherewith to fill the winter's store, and the wild goose prepares for his long flight to the south.

Through the sultry months seashore and summer resort have attracted their yearly votaries. Bathing suit and sailing costume are now being packed away, and with each intravelling train comes the brawny, cleareyed resorter who is as eager to renew old acquaintances in the city, hear again the clatter of horses' hoofs, and see the street lamps glow at night as he was restless to be gone to the cool lake side in June.

There is something strangely charming about the shortening day and the mystic sounds of autumn evenings. It is human to feel sorrowful for the passing of the present, but there is always an allied pleasure in the anticipation of things to be. We do not live always in yesterdays, for the tomorrows are the days of hope, and, while, sometimes, even the future looks doubtful, we know it holds opportunity at least.

To those who dwell in centres of population there is a latent satisfaction in the return of the camper, and the holiday seeker. We remember that a new life or zest comes into business. The vacation period has enforced a partial lull in almost every department of human endeavor. The coming of September, with its golden harvest and healthy pulse, inspires the worn to renewed vigor and to the husbandman belongs the fatness.

BROTHER OF LINDSAY LADY KILLED IN WRECK SATURDAY

Belleville Ontario: A horrible and fatal accident happened this morning about 6 o'clock in the G.T.R. yards, at the switch just south of the southern end of the platform. It seems that engine No. 2048 light, under Peter Young, engineer, of this city, with Fred Garipey, of Kingston, fireman, was standing still on the main line, engaged in the construction work for the new round-house. An emigrant special No. 3, was due here at this time. The engine was No. 324 under Engineer Weir of Brockville. It is alleged that the semaphore was up against the Brockville train. Whether this is true or not cannot be verified. Fred Garipey says there was a GREAT VOLUME OF STEAM from the work engine under Young's command and that the crew of No. 2048 could not see the approaching train. Young's engine was facing the station and the incoming train, at a high rate of speed, struck his tender and raised it up against the engine. Young saw the danger and tried to jump, but was caught between his own engine and tender. Garipey stayed in the cab and was safe, except for a bad shaking up.

It also appears that Ed. Brewer, a car tapper being engaged about the yard, getting a passenger train ready had just stepped on the platform of the yard engine. When the collision came he was thrown to the rails and the ENGINE PASSED OVER HIM, killing him almost instantly.

As soon as the accident was noticed Brewer was taken from the rails. The tender of Young's engine had to be pulled back before Young could be extricated. His right leg had been caught.

The bodies were taken to the station, and Young passed away in about ten minutes.

Coroner Yeomans was summoned, and he ordered the remains to be transferred to Tickell's undertaking rooms, whither they were taken early this morning. It has not yet been decided whether or not an inquest is necessary. The tender of No. 2048 is badly smashed, but both engines are in good condition.

The victims of the accident are both Belleville men, and have always been found faithful in their railroad duties. Young resided on Brassay st., and was a married man. He leaves one child. Ed. Brewer also was married, and the father of a large family. He resided in Stoney Lonesome.

The crew of the Brockville special was called off to await further orders. The special went on its way westward a couple of hours afterward.

INQUEST TO BE HELD.

It has been deemed necessary by the coroner, Dr. Yeomans, that an inquest be held on the remains of the two men killed in the Grand Trunk yards this morning. The jury, which is being empanelled, will meet and view the bodies at 3.30 this afternoon at Tickell's undertaking rooms.

HERESY TRIBUNAL IS FAVORED AT GENERAL CONFERENCE SESSION

Victoria, B.C., Aug. 29.—The Methodist general conference Saturday night reached the clause in the educational committee report relating to theological teaching in colleges and how to deal with teaching not in harmony with the church standards.

A charge laid against any professor, lecturer or teacher must first be signed by five members or ministers of the Methodist Church, and laid before the officer in the college. He must call the board together within two months, and if they decide that the complaint is well made they forward it to the board of education; if they decide otherwise, the charge is dismissed. Here the complainants have right of appeal. The board of education, in turn, shall select five ministers of good repute and learning, who shall render decision on the case. This, the substance of the report, went through.

A number of memorials were lumped together and disposed of as follows: "In regard to the other memorials, we recommend that the control of theological teaching is sufficiently secured by the recommendations already passed, and that no further legislation is required."

A memorial from the Toronto Laymen's Association made the distinct request "to eliminate from our colleges such teaching concerning the Holy Scriptures, and the fallibility of Christ, as it is contained in Rev. Geo. Jackson's recent book, 'Studies in the Old Testament.'"

Rev. Dr. Cleaver, Toronto, also put forward an amendment expressing by preamble regret that orally and by publication unsettling and injurious doctrines had been propagated through our colleges, and asking that this conference condemn such teaching, which be further specified by quoting from Jackson's book.

Rules of order followed confusedly for some time. Finally Dr. Cleaver's amendment was ruled out of order, as not being properly an amendment to the report, which was a piece of legislation. The report of the committee was adopted as a whole by almost unanimous vote.

In order that every opportunity be given for investigation, conference moved that Dr. Cleaver be heard Monday morning.

Serious Blaze At Peterboro

Peterboro, Ont., Aug. 28.—Electric wires under the first floor of Cressman's dry goods store are supposed to have started a fire at ten o'clock this morning, which caused $500 damage to the premises. The damage to the stock by smoke will be heavy.

BASE BALL

While baseball fans are debating on the probable winners of the Eastern League, they don't want to lose sight of the fact that the Lindsay Pirates will bump up against the unbeatable Manvers team on Saturday, Sept. 10th. The Manverses possess a pretty classy ball team, and the locals will have a pretty stiff proposition on their hands trying to score a victory. The game will take place in Janetville, and promises to attract a big crowd from the countryside.

ENQUIRY OF COMMISSION INTO TECHNICAL EDUCATION COMPLETED

Toronto, Aug. 29.—That the Royal Commission on Technical Education is having no holiday excursion is the testimony of Thomas Bengough, the secretary and official reporter of the commission, who has returned to the city from the Maritime Provinces with several members of the commission, prior to an Ontario tour.

"In thirty-three days we visited thirty-three different cities and towns, notwithstanding the fact that we gave three days each to Halifax and St. John, and two days each to Truro and Moncton," he said yesterday. "How did we do it? By dividing the commission into two sections, by holding evening sessions until nearly midnight, then traveling during the night to the next point. The industries were inspected, in some cases more thoroughly than by the official factory inspectors; the agricultural possibilities were seen by long tours into the country districts; conditions—educational, industrial and socially—were discovered by examination of nearly 400 witnesses on oath, and by the procuring of printed and other documents, photographs, specimens, etc."

The commission will be the guests of the Industrial Exhibition Association during their stay in Toronto, and on Thursday, Sept. 1 (Manufacturers' Day), will be entertained at the directors luncheon, when several of the commissioners will speak on the work accomplished and proposed.

Today the Ontario tour will begin, the commissions being divided into two sections, in order to cover the ground within the time limit set by the Minister of Labor, under whose auspices the work of the commission is being done.

The following places will be visited by the sections:— Western section—Rev. Dr. Bryce, chairman; St. Catharines, Aug. 30; Paris, Aug. 31; Collingwood, Sept. 6; Woodstock, Sept. 12; Goderich, Sept. 13; Listowel, Sept. 14; Owen Sound, Sept. 15.

Eastern section—Hon. J. N. Armstrong, chairman; Barrie, Sept. 9;

Orlinda, Sept. 10; Lindsay, Sept. 12; Oshawa, Sept. 13; Cobourg, Sept. 14; Cornwall, Sept. 15; Smith's Falls, Sept. 16.

The commission will then unite and visit Montreal, Sept. 19 and 21; Macdonald College, St. Anne de Bellevue, Sept. 20; Quebec City, Sept. 22-23.

The Ontario tour will then be resumed, the entire commission visiting Ottawa, Sept. 26 and 27; Brockville, Sept. 28; Kingston, Sept. 29-30; Belleville, Oct. 1; Peterboro, Oct. 3; Niagara Falls, Oct. 4; Hamilton, Oct. 6-7; Galt, Oct. 8; Brantford, Oct. 10-11; Berlin, Oct. 11; Guelph, Oct. 12-13; London, Oct. 14; Stratford, Oct. 15; Windsor, Oct. 17-18; St. Thomas, Oct. 19; Chatham, Oct. 20; Windsor and Walkerville, Oct. 21-22.

MANSE GROVE—ELDON.

(Special to The Post.)

Miss Maclean, of Oklahoma, and Miss Macdougall, of Ottawa, are visiting at Maple Avenue Place, the home of their cousin, D. N. Smith.

The evangelistic services which were conducted so ably by the Knox College gospel team during the past week were very interesting, and profitable, and were attended largely.

The anniversary services in St. Andrew's church on Sabbath next, Sept. 4, will be in the form of a harvest home service. Services will be conducted at 11 a. m., and 7.30 p. m. On Monday, Sept. 6, tea will be served in the grove, after which there will be a baseball tournament. In the evening a concert will be held in the church, for which an excellent programme is being prepared.
