Always Pass on the Left Side

There seems to be some misunderstanding among many as to which side a person driving a vehicle of any kind should take when overtaking another person in a vehicle of any description. A lack of knowledge of the law in this matter may end in disaster, especially in these days when autos are so common. To ensure safety a person driving should keep to the right side of the road, so that the person coming up behind is compelled to take the left. It frequently happens that when an auto comes up behind, the chauffeur will persist in tooting his horn as a request to the man ahead driving a team to move to the left, so that he may continue along the right side, especially if that side happens to be the best, or he has to go over gravel or broken stone to reach the left. But should the person driving a team move to the left in order to accommodate those in the auto, the latter may at the same moment take the left side, and a rear end collision is the result. But as the man with the team was on the wrong side, he can claim no damage from those causing the accident. The following is the clause dealing with the matter:

"Any person so overtaking another vehicle or horseman shall turn out to the left as far as may be necessary to avoid a collision with the vehicle or horseman so overtaken, and the person so overtaken shall not be required to leave more than half the road free."—53 V. c. 47, s. 1.

One too Many

Discretion is a good thing, and Reilly, the tailor, had a heap of it. One morning Mrs. Murphy, a customer, came into the shop and found him busy with pencil and paper. She asked him what he was doing.
"O'm makin' a list av the men in this block that Oi kin lick."
"Hev yez got Murphy's name down?" asked she.
"Murphy heads me list."
Home flew Mrs. Murphy and broke the news to her man. He was in Reilly's shop in a jiffy.
"Me woman tells me that ye're after makin' a memorial tablet uv the men that yez can lick, and that ye've got me at the head of it. Is that true?"
"Shure and it's true. What of it?" said Reilly.
"Ye good-for-nothin' little grasshopper I could commit suicide on yez with me little finger. I could wipe up the flure wid yez wid me hands tied behind me."
"Are ye shure of that?" asked Reilly.
"I'm sure and more about it."
"All right then," said Reilly. "If ye're sure of it I'll scratch ye off the list."
BURNT RIVER
(Special to The Post)
The hayraking is all done around here and we have heard the hum of the threshing machine all last week. The Cook Bros., of Cobocook, have been repairing the school, which was much needed.

Mrs. Tohn's Early Fall Shopping

"Why, good morning Mrs. Tohn, had no idea you had returned to town yet? I see it isn't necessary to inquire if you had an enjoyable season. You look better than I've seen you for some time. Children all well? Oh, yes, undoubtedly, in any way, than such an outing. "Loll Beach" is certainly a popular resort for both the small fry as well as their elders. "Some Fall Dress Goods? O indeed, it's not a particle too soon to be provided; supposing the cool weather does come a trifle later than we expect."
"Yes, isn't it a handsome and serviceable piece of Serge at 50c. Just the material for a schoolgirl's hack dress."
"And this Diagonal, also, nothing more suitable for an early Fall Suit; and quite reasonable at that, only 50c to $1.00 a yard."
"For dressy wear, I don't believe there are many things to surpass this San Toy. The very latest color too. They say Mastic will be one of the dominating shades."
"Neckwear, Belts, Handkerchiefs, Hosiery? Yes, we have a satisfying assortment in many novel and attractive varieties."
"These wide Patent Leather Belts for instance are having their flutter in New York and all the leading centres at present. And don't you consider them very natty? This lot we are selling at the agreeable price of 25c."
"Now here is something dressy and extremely convenient in hand gear. You may wash these chamoisette gloves as frequently and as easily as a handkerchief, etc. A great boon for an outlay of 25c."
"Just this way for the medium-weight hosiery and Fall under garments. Just the kind for the chilling temperature of winter's advent. Not too heavy or bulky, but exceedingly cheerful and comfortable. Nothing more this morning? Thank you, very much. Good morning Mrs. Tohn!"
"Brown, do up Mrs. Tohn's order, please. Here it is:

8 yards Serge at 50c	$4.00
9 yards Diagonal at $1.00	9.00
8 yards San Toy at 50c	4.00
3 Linen Collars at 25c	75
4 pairs Black Hose	1.00
2 pairs tan Hose at 25c	50
1 patent leather Belt	25
1 dozen Linen Handkerchiefs	1.00
3 Vests	1.50
1 lb. Sateer Underskirt	1.50
3 pairs Chamoisette Gloves at 25c	75
PD
N.B.—Mrs. Tohn is a clever woman.	$24.25

CASH AND ONE PRICE

The stork has visited this burg again and left a bouncing girl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Budd.
Mr. and Mrs. T. Suddaby are taking in the Toronto Exhibition.
Mr. and Mrs. Cowan who have been visiting at the home of Mr. Suddaby.
Mr. Wm. Adkins has returned from New York, where he has been visiting his sister, Mrs. Staunton.
Saturday night there was quite a time in town, Whiskey makes a big change, but some of the boys say the sidewalk is a hard place to sleep on.
Mr. Daulph and Fred Levely leave Wednesday for Deseronto to seek their fortune.
Mr. Chas. Reynolds has gone to go to Philip's camp to work.
A large number of the old hands have quit the quarry but fresh men have taken their places.
The Burnt River foot ball club have quit football and got a dandy base ball. They think they will soon be ready for Toronto.
Miss Carrie Shuttleworth and Miss Oia Townsend have gone to Lindsay to attend high school.
We join in wishing them a happy and prosperous future.
Lakeside cottage is vacated and the pleasant faces of the occupants will be greatly missed in the vicinity.
A little girl has come to brighten the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mintz.
We are pleased to report that Mr. Frank Raby is able to be around again after a long and tedious illness.
Mr. and Mrs. Sid Switzer, of White Lake, were guests at Lakeside cottage on Sunday.
Mrs. A. D. Graham and family left here on Monday for Salmon Arm, B. C., where she will spend the winter with her father. She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Hammond, as far as Winnipeg. Mrs. Graham will be greatly missed in her large circle of friends here among whom she was very popular.
The Methodist pulpit was occupied on Sunday last by Mr. H. A. Pearson secretary of the Y.M.C.A., St. Catharines. He delivered a very interesting and impressive to a well filled church. We hope that some time in the future we may have the pleasure of hearing him again.
Keep in mind the current picnic on Sept. 15th. The committees are working now, and a good time is expected.
L. B. Howland, former general manager of the I. B. & O. Railway, was in the village a few days last week in the interests of his mines.
We expect to hear something definite about our local mines in the near future.
The English church concert of last Friday evening was a decided success. The efforts put forth by those who worked to make it a success deserves the approval of all.

Week's Doings At Gooderham

(Special to The Post.)
