personal self sacrifice. She was an earnest professing Christian from her childhood days, having been a member of the Episcopal Church at Cobourg long before her marriage and she was a member of the First Presbyterian church of this city at the time of her death. She was one of the most active and faithful members of the church, giving much of her time and means to further its interests and work. For two successive years she was the devoted and efficient president of the Ladies' Aid Society.

POST MAN INSPECTS ROADWAYS IN CITIES OF DETROIT AND WINDSOR

A Post representative recently enjoyed a six days' visit at Windsor and Detroit, and while in the two cities availed himself of the opportunity of inspecting the different thoroughfares with a view to glean- ing all possible information concern- ing the material used in the con- struction of permanent roadways.

Windsor, as is well known is the home of the Asphalt Block Paving Co. plant, the material used in our William-st. pavement. The plant is situated on the Detroit river at Walkerville, and the day the Post representative visited it two boat loads of copper screenings from the copper mines of Lake Superior, and which is used in the construction of the asphalt blocks, were being unloaded at the docks. In the yards car loads of pitch from the lakes of Trinidad were standing on the siding to be unloaded for use in the man- ufacture of the blocks.

Windsor has been quite liberal in the use of asphalt blocks on its thoroughfares. Sandwich-st., the main thoroughfare is laid in asphalt block. Some of it was laid years ago on the macadam road without any concrete base as was laid on Wil- liam-st. The stretch laid in this manner gave excellent satisfaction. Of course the roadway was not as even as the William-st. thoroughfare, but the highway was a very good one. Workmen are at present en- gaged in tearing up the blocks owing to a double track being laid along the thoroughfare.

On Oulette street a splendid thor- oughfare running from the ferry and which should really be the main street of the city, a fine asphalt block roadway has been built. It is kept clean at different intervals, and although constructed some years ago is still in perfect condition.

On Wyandotte-st., one of the finest thoroughfares in the city, asphalt block has been used. This street runs through to Walkerville, and after it crosses Aymer-ave. the roadway is constructed of concrete.

Aylmer avenue, another very fine thoroughfare, has an asphalt block roadway that has been constructed for ten years at least and during that period it has not been necessary to do any repair work.

On the street intersections beauti- ful flower beds have been planted at the four corners of the boulevards. These are surrounded by wire netting, and the Horticultural Society gives a dollar a year to the citizens residing on the corner for attending to the plants, which are never dis- turbed.

Now, while Windsor has many streets of asphalt block, they have also experimented with concrete roadways, which is a cheap, and, it is claimed, satisfactory roadway. Of course it has its defects, due in a great measure to defective laying, but some of the city officials claim that it is the pavement of the future.

A Post representative inspected a stretch of concrete roadway running along Wyandotte-st. from Aylmer Avenue to Walkerville. It has been down three years. Some of it was in good shape, but stretches of it was in very bad condition. The crown was cracked, and the openings had ployees.

The city has at present about seven

WAKELY'S

Thirty-three miles were built up to the beginning of 1912 and by the end of the year they will have 75 miles. The cost of maintenance has only been $6.06 per mile. Is it any wonder then that the new commission in New York had decided to build concrete roads? They have asked for $50,000,000 more for this purpose.

In many cases the concrete road can be built for but little more than $1.00 per square yard or at a cost less than $10,000 per mile of 15 feet roadway. In many instances the first cost for a waterbound macadam will come very close to this figure. In Wayne county macadam first cost is about 10 cent less, but that is only a small part of the complete story. The total cost in Wayne county for repairs last year on concrete roads was $200, this being on 33 miles of roads. Almost all of this was spent on ditching and shoulders, a very small part indeed, being spent on the concrete itself. During the same year $12,500 was spent in the same county on roads other than the concrete roads.

side with a large bunch of green ap- ples standing up among the loops.

Another attractive shape was to be had in a black and white silk beaver turban shape. The hat is trimmed with four black ostrich tips standing up high at the right side of the front and falling gracefully to- ward front. It has a large cut steel buckle fastened at the end of the feathers with a loose coil of black satin ribbon around the crown.

In unison with the rough shaggy materials now fashionable, beaver, velvet, and scratch felts are selling and pressed hats of these materials will divide the season with the made hats, chiefly of velvets, moire and satins. There promises to be more prominence given to the smaller models, though there is no lack of pic- turesque large ones.

Notwithstanding all the talk about the dropping out of willow plumes, very handsome willowed novelties stand high on the list. Large branching ostrich mounts are showing. There are many erect effects showing and one of the best sellers is the Nell Gwynne. To form this mount the feathers are curled inwards and plucked back to back, with the tips full and bushy, having a pompon like top. Sometimes three or even four feathers are used in forming this mount.

and Reaboro, who refused the offer. Mr. Gillespie then renewed the offer, but it was again refused.

A buyer—if we had reciprocity we would get 15 cents for our cheese.

Another buyer—we expected to get 13½c, but if you make it 13½c we will sell.

The buyers assured the salesman that 13½c was their limit.

Finally after some hesitation, Mr. Gillespie secured Star, Dunsford and Mariposa at 13½c. N. Verulam, Maple Leaf and Red Rock went to Mr. Thompson and N. Ops, Reaboro and Bobcaygeon to Mr. Flavelle at the same bid.

Accident to Double Header

A double header from Midland met with a mishap on Saturday at mid- night while steaming into the G.T.R. station. A number of cars left the track and the services of the auxil- iary crew were required to get the cars on again and the track in shape for traffic.

FALL MILLINERY AT MISS MITCHELL'S

The early millinery openings of the fall season at Miss Mitchell's parlors over Campbell's grocery started last Thursday. The room was tastfully decorated with new autumn flowers and other decorations, the large display being exceptionally grand. The large show room was well attended with citizens, and the remarks passed between them promise a successful season.

Among the beautiful models that merited particular attention was a dark red velvet hat, the shape slight- ly drooped around the brim, and rolled high at the right side, and leaving a tan crown of the velvet. On the top of the brim the velvet is shirred in three headings about an inch apart, while underneath the brim has the red ribbon closely box plaited, giving it a very dainty effect. The hat is then trimmed with three high loops of the ribbon at the right

CANNED SALMON TO SOAR TO 30 CENTS

Canned salmon is soon to jump in price, and before long, it is prophesied, householders will be paying 30 cents for all brands of what is called Sockeye salmon. The better brands such as Horseshoe and Clover Leaf will retail at the above price, while the lower grade will sell at 25 cents, that price being now paid for the very best quality. It was not more than one year ago, when the most superior brand could be purchased anywhere for 15 cents, the price now having just doubled itself. In all lines of canned commodities there will be an increase this season if any- thing. The reason given by whole- salers is that the salmon waters on the Pacific Coast are being depleted by the state government of Wash- ington, U. S., through unfair treat- ment. The Washington state govern- ment allow fishing during the closed season, thus having an advantage or-
