GAMES OF CHANCE OPERATORS FINED OPERATED AT PETERBORO FAIR

Peterboro Times: At a special po-Lice court held in Chief of Police Thompson's office at 4.30 p. m. Saturday before Magistrate Dumble, John Evans was charged with runming the swing ball game. He demomstrated to satisfaction of his worship that it was a game of skill, not chance. The prisoner was accordingly discharged.

'The next case was the "Dart" game. This as explained, by its opereator, L. Henderson, the accused, consisted in a number of cards, with numbers on the back of each. The customer buys a dart and throws i at the cards. If he transfixes a card he wins what the number bn th hack calls for. Detective Brodie cxplained that at Cornwall a similar game was operated with the numbers in sight. The big numbers, or main prize winners, were on the outtales thus reducing the chance of winning. His Lordship explained that as the numbers were concealed, . it was a game of chance. Gustace Lazion was charged with operating a similar game. Mrf Henderson offered to run his game, in the future, as the magistrate might suggest. His worship said he was there to enforce the laws, not to make them. His worship enforced a fine of $20 and costs, or $22.25 altogether. Mr Henderson said he did not have that much money with him, in fact still owed Mr. Turner for his concession at the grounds. Mr. Larion paid up from a healthy looking bank woll. The money paid to Mr. Brodie for the Provincial Government. Mr. Brodie suggested that the accused be

CORONER'S JURY WILL INVESTIGATE

(Special to The Post)

Owen Sound, Sept. 15-Yesterday afternoon the body of Max Clendenan, who was drowned in the capsizing of a sailboat seven weeks ago. opposite King's Royal Park, on the west shore, was found on the east shore of the bay. It had evidently lain there for several days. George Newsome, an uncle, identified the body by the watch and fob, as well as by the clothing and papers in the pockets. The place where it was found is nearly five miles from where the accident occurred.

The body will be sent to Lindsay, where the young man's parents reside. A coroner's jury will investiallowed to pay the fine to him next gate tomorrow.

Monday at the Parliament buildings, The accident in which Clendenan the costs to go to the city, otherwas drowned occurred seven weeks ago, and he was the only victim of nine who were in the sailboat. He had helped to hold his father up until the latter was rescued, but before he could be reached went down in over 60 feet of water.

BRIBING HARVESTERS IS THE LATEST

The subject of the hour in the West is undoubtedly the shortage of harvest hands. It may be, says the Calgary Herald, that in this country we lack enterprise and do not make the inducements to the eastern harvester sufficiently attractice.

In Hutchinson, Kansas, two weeks ago, continues the Herald, thirty desirable harvesters blew into that town, and were quickly hemmed in by a clamoring throng of farmers, who immediately began to outbid each other in their efforts to secure the aid of the harvesting thirty.

"I'll pay $6.00 a day and lunch in the field at noon, and quit work at 3 p, m. for more cold drinks and lunch." For a moment there was silence. and then another farmer offered five meals a day and free smoking and no milking. By this time the sporting instincts of the Pawnee county man were men to remain in Ontario and sugaroused and he determined to have gests to young women the great those thirty stalwart crop-savers at prospects ahead of them in the west.

"Listen, boys," he said. "The best looking girls in Kansas live up our way. They're the right sort of girls, too, and all they want is good husbands. I shouldn't be surprised such fine looking fellows as you are would make a hit with those girls. Come along, and take a chance, anyway. I've got two motor cars, and erett Gladman, of Fulton, N. Y.
