

REDMOND APPEALS FOR RECRUITS ON THE PASSING OF HOME RULE

London, Sept. 16.—"The democracy of Great Britain have kept faith with Ireland, and it is now the duty and the honor of Ireland to keep faith with Great Britain," says John Redmond in a manifesto issued to-night, in which he calls on Irishmen to bear their share in the war in which the Empire is engaged.

"The Irish people," Mr. Redmond continues, "know and appreciate the fact fully that at last, after centuries of misunderstanding, the democracy of Great Britain has finally and irrevocably decided to trust them and give them back their national liberties."

A NEW ERA OPENED
"By overwhelming British majorities, a charter of liberty for Ireland has three times been passed by the House of Commons, and in a few hours will be the law of the land. A new era has opened in the history of the two nations."

"During the long discussion on the Irish problem in Parliament and on the platform we promised the British people that a concession of liberty would have the same effect in Ireland as in every other part of the Empire, notably in recent years in South Africa; that dissatisfaction would give way to friendship and good-will, and that Ireland would become a strength instead of a weakness to the Empire."

A JUST WAR
Mr. Redmond then goes on to speak of the war, saying: "It is a just war, provoked by the intolerable military despotism of Germany. It is a war for high ideals of human government and international relations, and Ireland would be false to her history, to every consideration of honor, good faith and self-interest did she not willingly bear her share in its burdens and its sacrifices."

MEINSELF VAS IT
The Kitchener editor prints the following clever satire on Emperor William: "Since writing war poetry has become fashionable, the World War adds its small quota, by applying to the poem by the late R. Gordon, entitled 'Hoch, Kaiser.' In the following poem it is noted that the Kaiser has entered partnership with 'Gott,' and now running things to suit himself. If the Kaiser is successful in the war he will doubtless hang us by the neck, but we are going to take it on our own terms."

AN APPEAL TO ULSTER VOLUNTEERS.
"I would appeal to our countrymen of a different creed and of opposite political opinions," Mr. Redmond says in conclusion, "to accept the friendship we have so consistently offered them, and to allow this great war, as to which their opinions and ours are the same, to swallow up all the smaller issues in the domestic government of Ireland, which now divide us; that as our soldiers are going to fight and shed their blood, and die at each other's side in the same army and against the same enemy for the same high purpose, their union in the field may lead to union in their home, and that their blood may be the seal that will bring all Ireland together in one nation and in liberties equal and common to all."

READING BUMPS ON KAISER'S HEAD

The following article on the German Emperor from a phrenological point of view is particularly striking in view of the fact that the description of the weaknesses and characteristics of the Kaiser, which Mr. Stackpool O'Dell, the well known London phrenologist gives, was written eighteen years ago, when he made his first study of the Emperor's head. Since then the conclusions at which Mr. O'Dell arrived have been amply borne out by the Kaiser's acts.

The head of the German Emperor is below the average in size. Consequently the strength of mind manifested does not originate in the size of His Majesty's head. The strength comes more from the activity of his brain, in conjunction with the motive temperament. The direction that the activity takes is in accordance with the predominating faculties. One of these to be observed is that of self-esteem.

I should infer that this faculty is not alone strong, but active; in fact in such a state of activity, as to prevent the other faculties from having their due share in the councils of the mind. When this faculty becomes unduly excited, even a small head and inferior abilities can make a good appearance—can even at times deceive the ordinary observer, and lead him to believe in the existence of much where there is but little.

From the formation of the Emperor's head, I should conclude that the possessor would honestly believe that he had special powers, that he was in a special manner an ambassador from Heaven, and if he should ever take it honestly into his head that his mission is to subdue the world to his rule, and authority, he will endeavor, regardless of consequences, to obtain the submission of even the strongest nations, feeling confidence in his Divine authority. To suggest such ideas and to help him in their furtherance, the whole line of Hohenzollerns will be constantly at his elbow.

HAD A BRAINSTORM
His excessive self-esteem, while it may be a danger to other nationalities, is also a safeguard, for it may lead him beyond his natural powers. The supernatural, like the witches in "Macbeth," may laugh at him when his calamity comes. The size of his head is also opposed to any deeds of greatness. Apart from his position as Emperor, he may be recognized by those who pay him sufficient homage as a kindly, sociable man.

To this phrenological study of the German Emperor's head, made eighteen years ago, Mr. O'Dell has added the following remarks, apropos of the present war:
It is now recognized that great crimes are committed under the stress of what is known as brain storm. The brain of the German Emperor is exceedingly sensitive and emotional. This has been noticed in his various speeches, addresses, sermons, and other communications.

The quarter of a million brain cells of which he is in possession, I should suppose were in a constant state of friction, fear and ambition. Being opposed to each other, they would be likely to produce inflammation in the regions of self-esteem and cautiousness.

For years his mind has been in a constant state of fear from many causes, especially in the direction of Socialistic progress and Socialistic political power; also the denunciation of war and many demonstrations for International Peace.

The feeling of brotherhood is extending over the army of Germany, and he knows it. It is a source of fear, causing him to conclude that the soldiers are not to be trusted to fight as in olden times.
If we are correct in our estimate, this state of the psychological condition of the German people and soldier suggests the probability of a revolution, the fear of which may be one of the chief factors in bringing this war to an end.

Kidneys Wrong?
If they are you are in danger. When through weakness or disease the kidneys fail to filter the impurities from the blood, trouble comes at once. Backache, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Gravel, Diabetes, Gall Stones and the deadly Bright's Disease are some of the results of neglected kidneys. Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills contain a most effective diuretic which strengthens and stimulates the kidneys so that they do their work thoroughly and well. Try Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills

SUFFERED EVERYTHING

For Years, Restored To Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Canadian women are continually writing us such letters as the two following, which are heartfelt expressions of gratitude for restored health:

Glanford Station, Ont.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and never found any medicine to compare with it. I had ulcers and falling of womb and doctors did me no good. I suffered dreadfully for years until I began taking your medicine. I also recommend it for nervousness and indigestion."—Mrs. HENRY CLARK, Glanford Station, Ont.

Chesterville, Ont.—"I heard your medicines highly praised, and a year ago I began taking them for falling of womb and ovarian trouble. My left side pained me all the time and just before my periods which were irregular and painful it would be worse. To sit down caused me pain and suffering and I would be so nervous sometimes that I could not bear to see any one or hear any one speak. Little specks would float before my eyes and I was always constipated. I cannot say too much for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills, for there are no medicines like them. I have taken them and I recommend them to all women. You may publish this testimonial."—Mrs. STEPHEN J. MARTIN, Chesterville, Ontario, Canada.

MAY ADMIT WOMEN TO CHURCH COURTS

At Ottawa on Wednesday of next week will assemble the quadrennial conference of the Methodist Church, and it is expected that the sittings will last over a fortnight. The opening sermon will be preached by Rev. W. H. Smith, fraternal delegate from the Wesleyan Conference of Great Britain. On the evening of the first day addresses of welcome will be delivered on behalf of the city, the Parliament and the Governor-General, and addresses in reply will be made by Rev. Dr. A. Carman, D.D., and Mr. N. W. Rowell, K.C., M.P.

Among the outstanding questions which will be discussed will be changes in the course of study for young ministers, when an effort will be made to make the course more practical by taking up various phases of questions of the day. Church union, pastoral time limit, the presence of laymen on Stationing Committees, the admission of women to the courts of the church, and in connection with the latter it is just possible that this time women will be accepted; a proposed increase in the grant to supernumerary ministers will be among the other subjects debated.

SHAKE-UP OF ONTARIO CABINET

There is little doubt that before the Legislature meets again the Whitney Cabinet will see some important changes. The fact that Sir James Whitney himself is not at his office, the Attorney-General is incapacitated, and one Minister is without a seat in the Legislature, is engaging the attention of the Government. Hon. Dr. Reaume, it is stated, is not anxious to remain in public life, and his colleagues in the Cabinet are urging him to do so because they find it difficult to agree on a successor. The condition of Mr. Foy's health leads to the conclusion that he will seek complete rest in retirement altogether from public affairs. The Premier's health is improving, but whether he will be able to take on his shoulders again the responsibilities of active leadership, is a matter of grave doubt.

These facts, with the probable withdrawal of Hon. J. S. Hendrie from the Cabinet to grace new Government House, will make the opening for such reorganization as is necessary to take place. Rumor generally credits Mr. Lynch-Staunton of Hamilton as the coming Attorney-General, and while there are others who would be eager for the position, it is generally conceded that he will follow Mr. Foy. Hon. R. F. Preston is looked upon as the most likely successor to Dr. Reaume, and will leave all the gaps filled except the succession to the Premiership, and on that Hon. W. J. Hanna has not relinquished his claims.

GAS AND COAL NEAR PETERBORO

Peterboro, Sept. 17.—Coal and gas—the forerunners of a boom for any industrial centre—have been located within ten miles of this city. The exact spot is at the rear of Charles Ellis' blacksmith shop about thirty or forty feet east of St. Joseph's Church, Douro, which is nine and a half miles from this city.

For the past few days Mr. Ellis has been drilling a well, the operation being carried on by driller Edwards of Keene. On Tuesday when down a little over fifty feet the men noticed gas fumes and the deeper they went, the stronger the fumes became.

Yesterday when down about eighty feet a vein of coal presumably about a foot in thickness was bored through and immediately below it another pocket of gas was found. The fumes became so strong that the men capped the top of the hole and lighted it. The flame which resulted was some three or four feet in length and from six o'clock in the evening till eleven o'clock it burned steadily. It was then found necessary to extinguish it by smothering. The absence of water gives reason for the belief that coal and gas are to be had in abundance and today the drilling is being continued. It is Mr. Ellis' intention to drill away till water is found or the coal or gas amounts to something.

This is not the first time gas has been struck at Douro. A couple of years ago while drilling operations were being carried on at the residence of Rev. Father McGuire, heavy fumes rose from the hole, but as perfect water was found at a depth of sixty feet the operations were discontinued in case the water at a greater depth would be unfit for use. The fact that gas was there, drew several Pennsylvania and Ohio magnates to the spot but no steps were taken to have it developed.

LINDSAY MAN WRITES FROM WEST

In sending a two years' renewal of his subscription to The Post, Mr. P. G. Pilkie, a former prominent Lindsay man, but now of Vermillion, Alberta, very kindly enclosed a complimentary ticket and prize list of the Vermillion Fair. He says "Crops are pretty good in this district, plenty of wheat and oats to keep us going until Kitchener, Joffre French and a few others get the Kaiser sealed down and war made an impossibility for all time to come. Members of any government in existence who talk of having war after this should be shot on the spot; no preliminary hearing."
Mr. Pilkie's many Lindsay friends are glad to hear from him and that he is well and prosperous in the West.

PAIL OF WATER COST HIM $9.62

It cost a Cambray youth $9.62 for a pail of water at a session of the county police court this morning. The pail of water, it might be mentioned, was thrown on another Cambray young man as he was on his way to choir practice the other evening. The complainant was badly soaked, but the accused came to the conclusion this morning that he was also "soaked."

HAVELOCK BOY SHOOT HIMSELF

Havelock, Sept. 19.—The fifteen year old son of Mr. Jas. Johnston, who resides about one mile south of Havelock, while out hunting crows with a 22 calibre rifle, shot himself in the forehead, dying from the wound about two or three hours afterwards. It is not known how the accident occurred, as there was no one with him at the time.

CHICKEN THIEVES ON THE WARPATH

Chicken thieves are again on the warpath. Reports are coming in of their depredations in different parts of the district. A few nights ago a resident of West Ops suffered the loss of some fifty hens.

CONTINGENT EQUIPPED FOR TWO YEARS

Ottawa, Sept. 17.—The Canadian army division at Valcartier is being equipped for two years' of service, the view taken by the authorities here being that the campaign will be a lengthy one.
It is highly probable that the proposal to send a second army division to the front will be reconsidered.
There is in war sixty per cent wage through casualties, illness, etc., and so in order to maintain the force at its strength, many drafts of fresh men will be sent from time to time to fill up the first contingent.
