The Weekly Post
WILSON & WILSON, Proprietors.

LINDSAY, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 23.

A LAST WORD

The Post has a last word to offer to the electors of Victoria and Haliburton, and it desires to say it with no uncertain sound: DR. WILSON CAN WIN.

But he can only win by the enthusiastic determination of the electors to rid this riding of Sam Hughes and elect a creditable representative to the House of Commons. That Hughes is not a credit to this riding is a fact admitted by many who will vote for him, as well as by thousands of others who will take advantage of the opportunity to enter their protest against such a man presuming to represent the intelligence and the industry of this riding. Many hitherto staunch supporters of Hughes and hundreds of men who would scorn to be called anything but a Conservative will either refrain from voting or will vote directly against him, and all of these will rejoice to see him defeated.

With such a strong and steadily growing feeling of antipathy to the Hughes domination of the Conservative party and of the constituency, the duty of the hour should be apparent to everyone in bringing about a change. Let everyone get busy. See that the organization for election day is complete. But few hours remain but wonders can be accomplished between now and Monday. Have every arrangement made for the polling of each and every anti-Hughes vote. If an elector cannot get there alone arrangements should be made to get him to the polls, and no stone should be left unturned legitimately and honestly to poll every vote.

The opportunity is here. Do not let it pass, but bend every energy to the accomplishment of that which will be heard of with relief by every self-respecting citizen in the riding, namely, the total eclipse of Sam Hughes.

VICTORY IN SIGHT

It is generally conceded that the Laurier Government will be sustained. Conservatives are now producing figures to show that the majority of Sir Wilfrid Laurier will be reduced, and they take some comfort in this, but the most enthusiastic supporter of the Conservative party no longer entertains the idea that Sir Wilfrid will be defeated.

To change the control of affairs at this time, and hand them over to Foster, Fowler, Leturgey, Pope or Bennett, and possibly Roblin and Bowser, does not appeal to the people. There is no doubt that the people of Ontario are opposed to any such change, and from the accounts received from all over the Dominion, this seems to be the view generally entertained.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has given to the people many reasons why he is entitled to further confidence, and Mr. Borden has failed to put before the people any sufficient reasons to induce them to act differently. Statesmanship upon one side and scandal mongering on the other does not make the choice a very difficult one. Canada will proceed on her prosperous way assisted by a progressive, up-to-date administration in the interests of all the people, and the verdict on October 26, will be very pronounced upon this point.

SAM'S LATEST

One of the latest of Sam's election roorbacks has been issued, though it is an old dodge and has been utilized so often that it might be thought that those who are in Sam's confidence would have advised him against it.

The roorback alluded to is a circular alleged to be issued by Dr. Wilson and the Liberals calling upon the Roman Catholics of the riding to vote against Sam Hughes on account of his so-called championship of Protestantism as against the church of Rome.

Of course none of these circulars are to be seen around Lindsay or Ops. They are being handled carefully and are shown confidentially among Protestants in the northern part of the riding as a reason why Protestants should continue in support of Sam Hughes.

It is hardly necessary to say to any intelligent person that no such circular has been issued by the Liberals of this or any other county. The whole thing is of a piece with Hughes' persistent misrepresentation and falsehood throughout the campaign, and will hardly deceive any elector of intelligence—and it is well known that electors nowadays are quite as intelligent and as capable of seeing a hole in a gate as any candidate who may try to deceive them.

In fact, it will occur to the ordinary individual that the issue of such a circular by the Liberals would be foolish. In the first place, it is not necessary to tell anyone by circular what a mountebank Sam Hughes is; and in the second place it would be impossible even were a circular issued by the Liberals to prevent it from falling into the hands of Hughes' supporters, and everybody with any sense would know the result.

Indeed, it would be quite as foolish, though not so dastardly, as it is for Sam's party to forge a document of this kind and surreptitiously circulate it among Orangemen as a genuine document.

SHABBILY TREATED

There has been a good deal of discussion around town over the shabby manner in which Mr. A. D. Mallon is being treated by the Hughes machine.

Mr. Mallon has unselfishly given of his time and talent to advocate the re-election of Sam Hughes in various parts of the county, and his oratorical ability has been utilized to advance the cause of Col. Hughes in numerous places.

It seems, however, from the actions of the managers of the Hughes campaign that though he is considered good enough to be put up at meetings at Omeme, Oakwood and elsewhere, he is not good enough to speak at a Lindsay public meeting. It would seem to the man in the street that if he is good enough to speak at the points named, there is no good reason why he should be turned down so flatly in his home town, and considerable sympathy is felt for him among his numerous friends as well as dissatisfaction at the shabby treatment which is being meted out to him.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

It's Wilson—that's all.

See that your neighbor votes.

Now for a few days' hard work.

Just watch Haliburton's vote Monday.

Vote for Wilson and get rid of Hughes.

It all depends on whether the vote is got out.

Let every Liberal be on the fighting line now.

What a sad lack of enthusiasm that Lindsay meeting evinced.

Coboconk will extend the glad hand to Dr. Wilson on Monday.

Fenelon Falls will give a very large vote for Wilson on Monday.

Hughes' name will come first on the ballot, and thus the Scriptures will be fulfilled—"The last shall be first and the first shall be last."

Sam has a slander factory at work—just carry your salt with you.

It is better to see that the vote is polled than to be sorry afterwards.

The Foresters have no reason to wish to see Foster Finance Minister.

Don't forget the big meeting in Lindsay Friday evening. Ladies will be welcome.

Yes, Maude, Sam Hughes can be beaten if you and the other girls see that the votes are placed right.

Kinmount, Fenelon Falls, and many other places in the north will give a large vote for Wilson next Monday.

Tread softly lest ye disturb Sam's last political moments. List to the rattle in the throat of the ballot box.

A drunken man was ejected at Sam's meeting, but even the whiskey couldn't hide the wildness of Sam's statements from his mind.

Even Sam's own supporters on the platform could not stand for the wildness of his statements and contradicted him quite freely.

Our barber informs us that the price of Conservative shaves after the 26th will be raised to twenty cents. Conservative faces will be so long.

That alleged appeal to the Catholics to vote for Dr. Wilson, (issued by Sam Hughes), is being heartily laughed at in the north. They know Sam's little ways now.

When Sam Hughes says he is worth $300,000, two questions arise: 1st. Where did he get it? 2nd. What single thing has he done to benefit Lindsay with it?

Outside of Sam Fox and the chairman, there wasn't a man of any standing in the community on Sam's platform last evening. Never was man more deserted by the respectable element of the town.

A few scattered hand-claps from several boys scattered through the audience and decided contradictions from his own platform, greeted Sam Hughes' utterances last evening. It is evident that his sun has set.

Don't believe those stories telegraphed from St. John about ministers condemning the Liberals from pulpits on Sunday. Nor the yarn about the St. John Globe demanding Pugsley's resignation. They are Tory fakes.

W. D. Macpherson, the Toronto lawyer who spoke for Sam Hughes last evening, is the man who was accused by Mr. A. W. Wright, one of the leading Conservative stumpers, of having betrayed the interests of the Conservative party in the Gamey investigation. He is truly a fitting man to support Sam Hughes.

COMMUNICATIONS

We do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions of our correspondents.

PLACING THE RESPONSIBILITY.

(To the Editor of The Post)

Sir,—The law has made provision for investigating the circumstance where violent death has occurred, and of placing the responsibility of the cause of death, if due to carelessness or willful act.

The tragic death of Percy Stubbs was so lightly regarded that the coroner deemed an inquest unnecessary, and we were informed by The Post that it was after ugly rumors were afloat regarding the way Stubbs had been handled by the police that the mayor called the police commissioners, who took action and ordered the investigation.

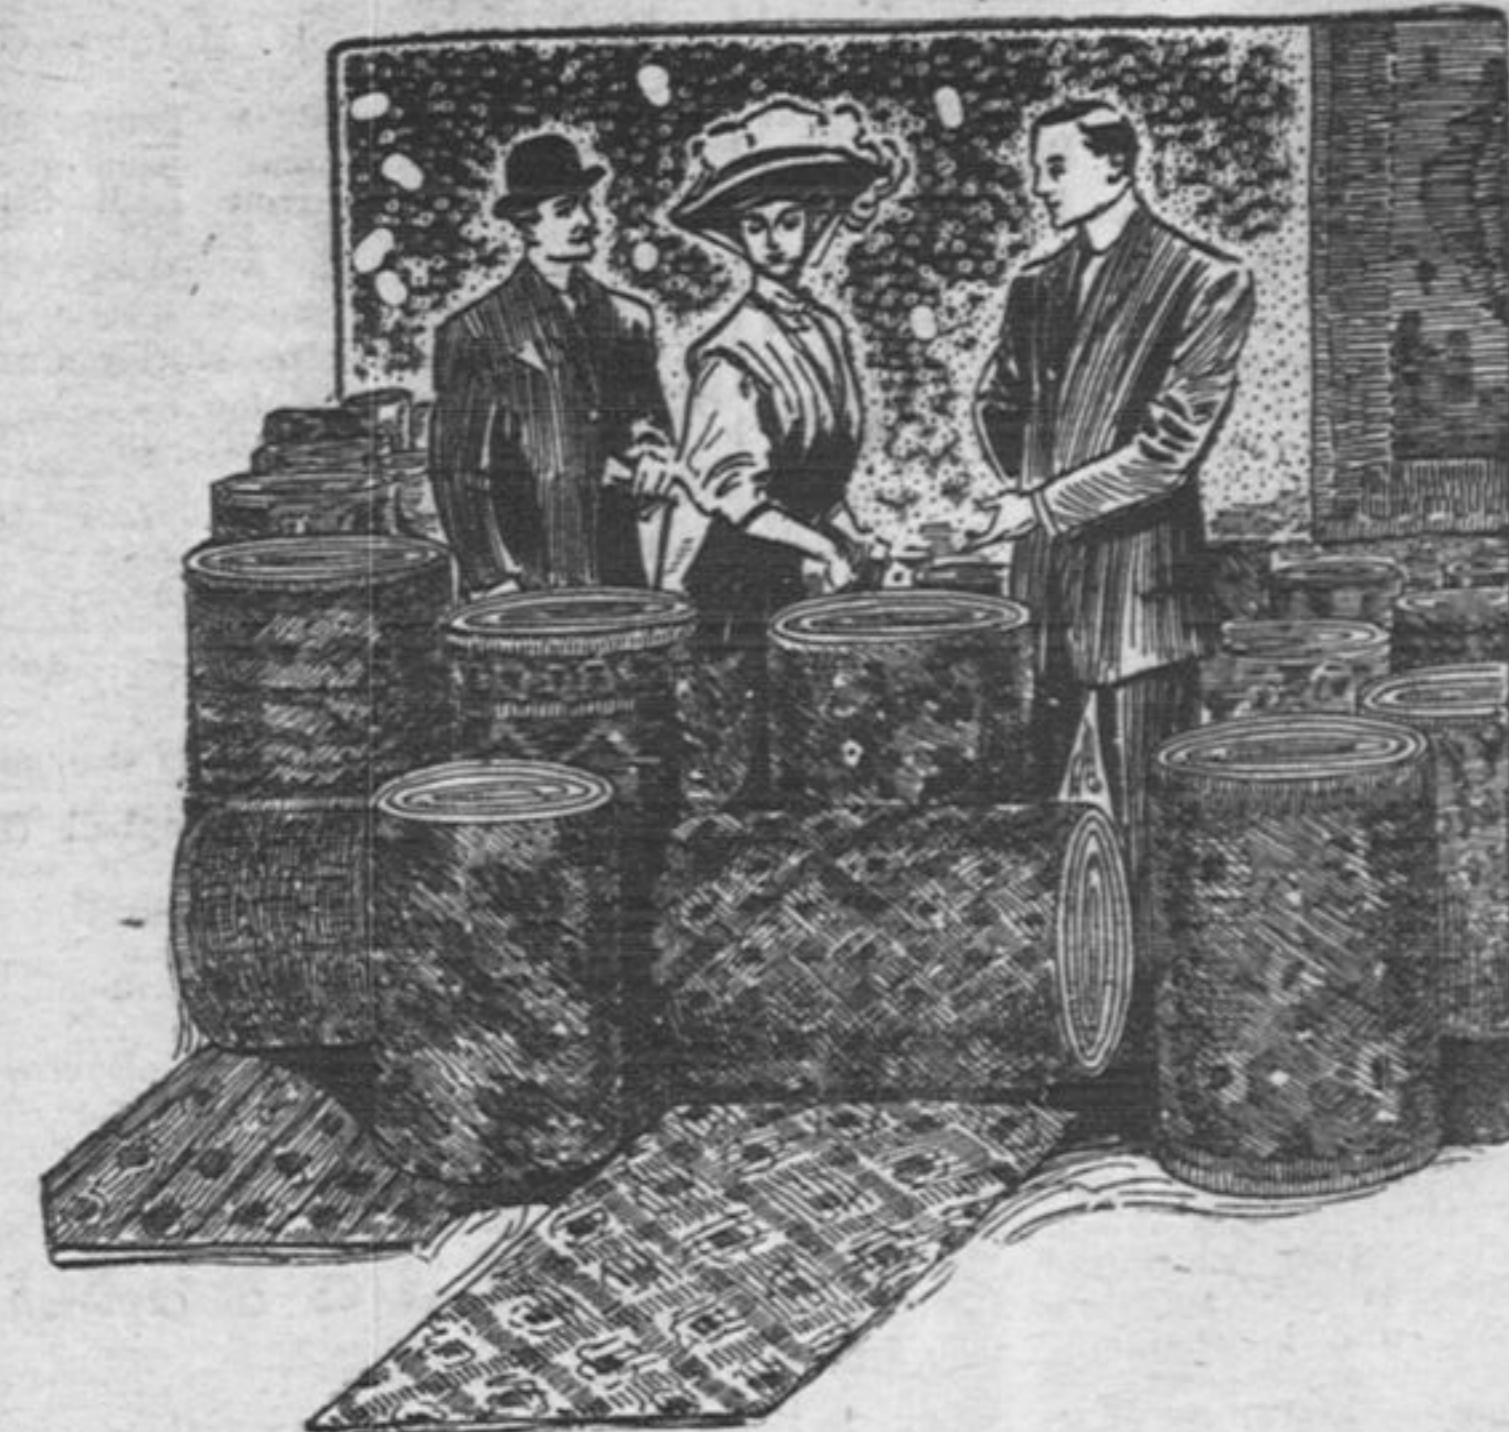

The coroner's jury listened to the evidence, which went to prove that the unfortunate man was helplessly under the influence of liquor—to use the expression of the officer who made the arrest, very drunk, and that a short time before, he was in the same condition. This seemed to satisfy the sixteen men of whom the jury was composed. No further enquiry was thought to be necessary, so long as the tragedy was directly due to liquor, the matter could rest, and so the sad occurrence has passed out of our minds as an incident of minor importance.

The evidence of the police was sufficient proof that liquor had been supplied the deceased in forbidden (or unlawful) quantities—and though this was the direct cause of the accident no attempt was made by either our police or the coroner's jury to discover the guilty party.

We as citizens stand in a peculiar attitude toward the liquor interest. We are opposed to it after a fashion, and so excuse ourselves from any responsibility connected with its effects. Business men speak cautiously and only half express their convictions for fear of the indirect influence it may have upon their business. The ratepayer gives his sanction to license the selling of liquor because it is easier to allow the license to be granted than to come out openly and oppose it. Thus we sanction the sale of liquor to our fathers, brothers and sons, and the stranger that is within our gates. We allow the drink curse to go on its way unchallenged, defying manhood, despoiling homes, debasing, murdering, reaping a rich harvest of human blood and tears, while we stand looking on, accepting the fruits as a matter of course, yet not realizing that we are in any way responsible.

If Percy Stubbs had attempted to take his own life he would have been apprehended by the authorities and have been placed in an institution with guards in attendance to prevent so rash an act. Had any one of a steam boiler in one of our manufacturing establishments, a fuller investigation would have been demanded, and if the jury had found the machinery not properly protected the proprietor would have been held responsible for his death.

Are we paralyzed by the effects of a traffic whose victims are legion? Does the revenue derived from the license we grant compensate us for the awful tragedies enacted, and is our conscience appeased by financial considerations for which we barter our freedom?

Familiarity breeds contempt, and our apathy to the misery caused by drink may be owing to the frequency with which we are accustomed. But that does not excuse our being indifferent to our responsibilities. The blood of another victim is laid at our door, of crime, with which we as Canadians. Our brother's blood crieth from the ground. Shall we utter no protest?
