

More than one best?

When you ask your grocer to send you the best flour, he sends you—his best. When you know the best flour and order by the name, the choice is not left to the grocer. Many grocers handle

Royal Household Flour as their leader. They have found it the safest flour to recommend because its results are sure and its purity is unquestioned. If your grocer's best is not Royal Household, insist on his getting it for you. The benefit will be mutual.

Obituary

MRS. JOHN GILLOGLY.

Seized with a sudden illness after finishing her evening prayers and dying in the arms of her daughter, was the closing scene in the life of the late Mrs. John Gillogly, a lady who has been a well known and highly respected resident of Lindsay and district for nearly a century.

The deceased lady was in excellent health Monday and had attended morning service in St. Mary's church, receiving holy communion. In the evening when preparing to retire she was seized with a slight attack of sickness which lasted about twenty minutes, and which resulted in her death at 10.15 o'clock.

The late Mrs. Gillogly, whose maiden name was Bridget Masterson, was born in County Cavan, Ireland, sixty-eight years ago. She came to Canada, when she was about four years of age. She resided in Ops township about forty-five years, her husband predeceasing her about thirty-five years ago. She leaves to mourn the loss of a generous-hearted mother four daughters and one son: Mrs. J. Green, Ottawa, Mich.; Sister Mary Ethelreda, of Loretta Academy, Hamilton; Mrs. Jos. Maher, Lindsay, with whom deceased resided, and Mr. Joseph Gillogly, Buffalo. A daughter, the late Mrs. Wm. Bibby, died a few years ago.

Mrs. Gillogly was a lady possessing many noble qualities. Of an intense religious character, her whole life was devoted to doing good, and of alleviating the sufferings and lightening the burdens of those with whom she came in contact.

Her funeral will take place Wednesday morning at 9.45 o'clock from the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Joseph Maher, corner of Russell and Huron-sts., and will proceed to St. Mary's church, thence to the Roman Catholic cemetery.

MRS. N. A. RINGLAND.

There passed peacefully away at Killarney on Monday, Oct. 26th, 1908, Nancy A. Brown, relict of the late Robert Ringland, at the advanced age of 71 years, 5 months and 6 days. The deceased was very highly esteemed and beloved by all who knew her, she being of a cheerful and christian character.

In early life she settled with her husband in Eldon township, where they resided many years, rearing a large family. Later they moved to Grey county, where her husband was called away. Shortly after she journeyed to the west with part of her family.

She leaves to mourn her loss eight sons and three daughters: Robert, John, James, Edward, Ernest of Killarney; William of Winnipeg; George of Vancouver; and Thomas, of Lindsay; also Mrs. W. Spicer, of MacLeod, Alberta; Mrs. J. McMillan, of Dundalk, Ont.; and Mrs. J. Copeland of Mariposa.

The funeral took place from the home of her son Edward to the Methodist church for divine service, which was very impressive in its character. The remains were then borne to their last resting place by her sons. The family have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in their sad bereavement.

MRS. FRED PARKIN

Death came with unexpected suddenness to the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Oliver, Cambridge-st., this morning and claimed their only daughter, Maria Delie, widow of the late Mr. Fred Parkin, in the thirty-third year of her age.

The deceased lady, who had only arrived in town a few days ago from Toronto to reside with her parents, who have moved to town from Uxbridge, was in excellent health, and on Sunday was in the best of spirits. This morning she was seized with a fit of vomiting and Dr. Wood and Vrooman were speedily summoned. Every effort was made to allay her suffering which finally culminated in the bursting of a blood vessel in the head about 6.30 this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver are grief-stricken over the loss of their daughter, who was their only child. Her husband predeceased her about sixteen months ago and her remains will be interred by his side in Riverside cemetery on Wednesday afternoon.

The late Mrs. Parkin was of a kind and lovable disposition, and her sudden demise has brought sadness to the hearts of her many friends.

Women's Missionary Meeting at Uxbridge

The general meeting of the Women's Home Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church of the Lindsay Presbytery was held yesterday in Uxbridge. The attendance was very large and an enthusiastic meeting was held.

A Presbyterian society was organized by Mrs. McDonald and Mrs. Couch of the Toronto board, Mrs. Goud of Uxbridge was elected President and it was agreed that the special work of the society would be to form an auxiliary in each of the churches in the Lindsay presbytery. A stirring address was delivered by Miss McLeod, of Wakaw hospital, Saskatchewan, touching on the great work which is being done there. Miss McLeod is a very modest, self-denying lady, and kept the closest attention of the assembly.

Mrs. Thomas Stewart and Mrs. J. McLennan represented St. Andrew's church at the meeting of the society.

MINISTERIAL COMMENDATION

Discussing the series of Bible questions which are now appearing in the columns of The Post, Rev. G. R. Welch of the Lindsay Baptist church, has written the Rev. T. L. Linscott, of Brantford, as follows:

Dear Sir, — Your communication re Bible study questions is to hand. I think the News-paper Bible Study Club is an excellent idea. It appeals to me as an excellent newspaper Proposition. I am glad to see that many newspapers are awaking to the fact that there is a large constituency of the more intelligent and more moral people to serve, and that the "yellow journal" type of people with its morbid appetite for the exceptional and the "outré" is not the only kind that it will pay our newspapers to cater to. Besides, the papers have a moral and religious mission as well as the pulpits, and I am glad to find many are recognizing it.

I think the questions are excellent for the purpose. They are popular in style but not frivolous; they arrest the attention, stimulate thought, and have a practical bearing on every day life.

Wishing you all success,
Sincerely yours,
G. R. WELCH.

Experimenting at Filtration Plant

Ozonization was Found to be as Perfect as Possible

Yesterday afternoon at four o'clock the ozone filtration plant was started in operation for experimental purposes in order to ascertain if all the minor details in connection with its installation had been attended to.

Mr. Daniel Dunnigan, an old and faithful employee of the waterworks, and who assisted in the installation of the old plant some 16 years ago, was given the honor of turning on the ozone filtration yesterday. The plant ran all night.

Mr. N. D. Valpey, of Lynn, Mass., who was present on the occasion, secured samples of the water in different forms, and he informed the Post last evening that the ozonized sample secured was as nearly perfect as possible.

Owing to the shallowness of the water in the river at present the water passing through the mains is mixed, filtered and ozonized.

It must not be understood that the ozone filtration is in permanent running order. Experiments are only being made at present with the object in view of remedying whatever slight defect might be noticeable in its operations. It will only be a matter of a few days before the plant will be furnishing the citizens with ozonized water in sufficient quantities without the slightest danger of lessening the pressure in the mains for fire protection purposes.

The fame of the ozone filtration plant is certainly spreading. This week the town was visited by two prominent newspaper men, anxious to secure information concerning the plant for publication in their journals, and tomorrow two officials from Lynn, Mass., Massachusetts, will visit the plant and will make a thorough inspection. These gentlemen are Mr. A. G. Woodleigh, city solicitor, and Mr. G. I. Leland, city engineer. The city of Lynn is just at present grappling with the water filtration problem and these officials intend preparing an exhaustive report of their inspection to the city council on their return to Lynn.

More Appreciation of Sunday Lesson

Mr. Justice MacLaren of the Court of Appeal Approves of Their Publication

The following letter warmly endorsing the publication of the Sunday lessons which appear weekly in The Post, will be of interest to our readers:—

The Court of Appeal, Osgoode Hall, Toronto, Ont.

My Dear Dr. Linscott: I have been very much interested in your Newspaper Bible Study Club, and your Socratic method of bringing out salient points in the International Sunday School Lessons.

The plan is a unique one, and I am very much pleased to learn that it is extending so rapidly. The questions are so suggestive that they cannot but prove very helpful, and they appear to be admirably calculated to set people thinking, and thus enable them to help themselves, which is one of the most profitable methods of instruction.

I notice that "The News" of this city is among those who publish your questions, and a large number of teachers here will be reached through it.

Yours sincerely,
JOHN J. MACLAREN.

Residence Burned in the East Ward

William Ranson's Residence Destroyed by Fire Today

Monday a disastrous fire took place at the residence of Mr. Wm. Ranson, corner of Russel and Logie-sts., east ward, and before it was checked had completely destroyed the outbuildings and kitchen, besides practically gutting the residence.

The fire is supposed to have originated through sparks flying from a small fire which had been burning during hog-killing operations. The firemen were quickly on the scene, and were obliged to lay about 1500 feet of hose from the hydrant in front of J. R. O'Neill's grocery in order to effectively play on the fire.

In the meantime a heroic effort was made to save the household effects, and several firemen rescued different articles of jewelry belonging to Mr. Ranson. Nearly all the effects were saved, with the exception of the contents of one room. There was a high wind blowing at the time, and the fire soon found its way to the main part of the residence, which is pretty badly burned, the flames eating their way to the roof. The firemen, however, fought valiantly and prevented its total destruction. The house, which is a white brick one, was formerly owned by the late Mr. James Logie, and was purchased by Mr. Ranson, who formerly resided in Minden. There was an insurance of $750 on the building.

Bull Attacked Him Hat Saved His Life

James Warde has a Thrilling Experience with a Maddened Animal

Mr. James Warde, of South Ops, near the swing bridge, has a hat which was the direct means of saving his life, and which should be valued highly by him.

A few days ago a bull belonging to him strayed into Mr. Thomas Hutton's field adjoining the property of Mr. Warde. The latter proceeded to drive the animal back, which seemed inclined to go without any trouble. In the twinkling of an eye, however, and when Mr. Warde least expected a demonstration on the bull's part, the animal suddenly became maddened, and attacked its owner. Mr. Warde was knocked down, and in falling he turned his face to the ground in an endeavor to save himself from the animal's onslaughts, in the meantime throwing up his hand for the purpose of trying to catch the ring in the bull's nose. The animal, however, caught Mr. Warde on its horns and hurled him in the air a considerable space. When he alighted he attempted to make his escape, and in running he fortunately dropped his hat. The frenzied beast, attracted by the headgear, stopped and surveyed it an instant before charging on it. This gave Mr. Warde an opportunity to take safety, which he was not long in taking advantage of. He was severely bruised in his encounter with the animal, and has no hesitation in saying that it was his hat that saved his life.

Funeral of the Late Miss Whalen

The funeral of the late Ellen M. Whalen took place this morning from the family residence, Ops township, and was largely attended.

The cortege proceeded to St. Mary's church, where mass de requiem was chanted by Ven. Archdeacon Casey. There was a large congregation present, which included the friends of the deceased young lady, who had learned to love and respect her for her many amiable qualities of heart and hand.

After the services the funeral proceeded to the Roman Catholic cemetery. The pall-bearers were: Messrs. P. Greenan, P. O. Murphy, W. Fox, J. Curtin, A. Cunningham and Leo Cunningham.

Catholic Literary Society

The opening meeting of the Catholic Literary Society was held in the parish hall last evening and the attendance was most encouraging.

In the absence of the president, Mr. P. Kennedy, Mr. T. Burke, vice-president, occupied the chair.

An excellent paper was read during the evening by one of the members on "The horrors of war," and Mr. Jas. Gillogly, jr., also rendered a vocal solo in good voice.

The management committee presented a report regarding a system of heating the rooms of the society and also on the proposed improvements to the gymnasium.

A discussion followed as to the best means of increasing the membership of the society and it was decided to inaugurate a contest with that end in view two sides have been selected to be captained by the president and vice-president respectively. The membership contest will close on Dec. 1st when it is expected a banquet will follow.

The society has a bright future ahead of it, and it behooves the young men of the parish to become identified with it and share in its benefits and advantages.

Horticultural and Vegetable Growers Associations

The annual convention of the Ontario horticultural association, which is the central organization of the horticultural societies in the province of Ontario, will be held at the city hall, Toronto, on Tuesday and Wednesday, November 10th and 11th, commencing at 2 p.m. A very interesting programme has been arranged, bearing on all phases of horticultural work, and a large attendance is expected.

On Thursday, Nov. 12th, the Ontario vegetable growers' association will hold its annual convention in the city hall, the first session starting at 9 p.m.

Both these conventions are being held during the week of the Ontario horticultural exhibition, when single rates are in force on all the railways in Ontario, thus enabling delegates and all others interested in horticultural and vegetable growing to be present at a minimum expense.

Reached its Destination

The soow load of brick from Fox's brick yard, which had such a hard time navigating the Seugog on account of low water, last week reached Bobcaygeon wharf on Tuesday last. The brick is to be used by the contractors in the erection of the Hill Croft school.

Accident at Midland

Mr. W. Bowie, sr., and another laborer met with a serious accident at the new residence being erected for Mr. Manly Chew on Friday last. It appears they were working upon the roof and while thus engaged a laborer with a load of sand backed a wagon into one of the uprights supporting the scaffold, pushing it out of position. When the men came down off the roof unaware of what had happened the scaffold gave way and fell to the ground, a distance of 45 or 29 feet. Mr. Bowie had some bones in his wrist broken and was otherwise badly shaken up. The other laborer was very badly injured internally, and to tend the sick.
