

Royal Household Flour

IMPROVED machinery will not, of itself, produce good flour. You may be an excellent cook, but you cannot produce light, wholesome baking unless the flour you use be the kind that permits such results

Ogilvie's Royal Household Flour is made from hard spring wheat—a wheat that is rich in nutriment, that grinds fine and white, and produces bread and pastry that are wholesome and nourishing as well as light and crisp—it's a flour that begins to be good in the wheat fields, not in the mills

Your grocer prefers to sell you Ogilvie's Royal Household Flour because he knows the value of a pleased customer.

Cambridge Street Methodist Church

Anniversary Services Held on Sunday Were of an Interesting Character

The anniversary services held Sunday at the Cambridge-st. Methodist church were very largely attended both by the old friends of Rev. T. M. Campbell and those who desired to hear so excellent a speaker.

The morning sermon was based on a text taken from Ephesians 3:19, "And to know the love of Christ." Love is the property of persons or beings of intelligence. Animals show a degree of love for one another, and the greater the intelligence the greater the love, as with man. There are several classes of love, among which are friendship love, filial, parental, conjugal and Christ love. Human love is natural, and such love of Christ in life is divine love.

Christ love is composed of two factors. 1st, the love of Christ as revealed in Christ's own life; and 2nd, the love of Christ as revealed in the lives of His disciples.

Christ showed His love for man by His sacrifice and His desire to heal all of sickness, mental and physical. Does not the story of Calvary, with its throes of agony and torture, show the sacrifice Christ made for love of us?

Sin is the transgression of law of any kind whatever. We may sin and be travelling the downward road rapidly, but if we listen to Christ bidding us "go in peace and sin no more," and heed Him, we will yet be saved. Is not great love shown when Christ promises to make us co-heirs with Him in Heaven, and to divide all His inheritance equally?

Our love of Christ is shown by some act of kindness or movement of benevolence on our part. This love is particularly in evidence at Christmas, when all unite in an effort to bring happiness to the less fortunate.

Movement today and behind all such great conquering organizations is the spiritual. "What we are doing can only be affected by the presence of the Holy Spirit in us," said Rev. Mr. Campbell in closing his sermon.

The musical part of the day's programme was very pleasing, and reflected a great deal of credit upon those who took part in it, as well as upon Mr. C. C. Forsythe, the organist and choir master of the church. The programme at both services was as follows:

Mission Opened at St. Mary's

Instructive Discourses Delivered by Fathers Johnson and Boardman

The two weeks' mission, which is to be conducted in St. Mary's church by the two Jesuit missionaries, Rev. Fathers Johnson and Boardman, opened at 10.30 o'clock mass Sunday, and indications point to the fact that the services will be productive of much good in the parish.

Rev. Father Johnson in opening the mission stated that it was an occasion of prayer. It was in the design of God that these services should be held in the parish. In His all wise providence he knew that circumstances made it necessary that a mission be held. It was a season of sanctifying grace and great blessings and the missionary urged the congregation to infuse apostolic zeal in their efforts to successfully make the mission. Besides, there were many who were in a better position than the missionaries or even their pastor, to know who among the people best needed the mission—those who had become lukewarm and indifferent in the practice of their religion or who had fallen away from their faith. It was their duty to take an interest in those people and blessings would result therefrom. He urged his hearers to pray for the success of the mission, and narrated two pathetic incidents in his career as a missionary by way of emphasizing the great necessity of one and all taking advantage of this mission and the blessings following therefrom to those who attend the services.

The programme of services was announced as follows:

The first week of the mission is for the ladies of the congregation. Masses will be celebrated at 5.30 and 9 o'clock every morning, and will be followed by a sermon. Every evening during the week services will be held at 7.30, consisting of the rosary, a sermon and benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

The men of the congregation are allowed to attend the masses during the week.

There will also be three days' instruction for the school children in the church at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. These instructions commenced Sunday afternoon.

A class of instruction will be held each evening in St. Mary's presbytery for those who have not been able in the past to receive instructions in regard to their religious duties as well as for all those who desire information regarding the teachings of the church.

The services during the week will be in charge of the missionaries, the pews are free and the public are invited.

Rev. Father Johnson, S. J., preached the opening sermon of the mission on Sunday morning, and his sermon was an eloquent and impressive one, and a fitting introduction to what promises to be a series of soul stirring and convincing discourses.

The speaker based his remarks on the gospel of St. Matthew IX. 18-26, which he said offered a fitting theme for the opening of the mission. He eloquently referred to the apathy and indifference which characterized mankind in the present age regarding the teachings of our Saviour and in the observance of His commandments. In the mad rush for wealth, honors, and social distinction the value of our immortal soul and the necessity of saving it, were entirely lost sight of. The means of grace and salvation, such as a mission affords, did not seem to appeal to some, and the missionary in a fervent appeal to his auditors to take advantage of this mission by a faithful attendance at the services and a contrite and sincere intention to serve God faithfully, eloquently referred to the joy that would reign in heaven if even one sinner was reclaimed as a result of these services.

The services in the evening were largely attended. Rev. Father Boardman, S. J., preached a powerful sermon on sin.

Dr. R. Magill has resigned as principal of Halifax Presbyterian College.

Mr. Wm. Copp, foreman at Horn's Woollen Mills, returned on Monday morning after spending a few days in the woods of the north. While back in the shanty regions Mr. Copp secured a fine, big deer and a black bear. Mr. Copp had a little excitement landing Bruin, but succeeded in securing his prize, which is a beauty. Mr. Copp is very much pleased with the results of his trip.

Mr. J. Mills left for Toronto this morning.

Committed to the Grave

The funeral of the late John Campbell, the unfortunate young Scotchman, who met a sad death at Orillia on Friday morning, took place from the residence of Mr. Wm. Bakins, Albert-st., Sunday afternoon, and was largely attended.

The members of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, of which deceased was a member, turned out in a body to pay the last tribute of respect to one of their number.

The remains were interred in Riverside cemetery, the funeral services being conducted by Rev. Mr. Wallace, of St. Andrew's church. The pallbearers were members of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

Toronto's New Librarian

Prof. Geo. H. Locke, dean of the teaching faculty of Macdonald College and acting professor of education in McGill university, was yesterday appointed by the city library board of Toronto as chief librarian in succession to the late Dr. Bain. The new librarian is a brother-in-law of Mr. W. B. Sparling, of Lindsay.

Scalded By Boiling Fat

COULDN'T USE HAND FOR A MONTH

Zam-Buk Gave Instant Relief

An accident in a Toronto home might have had very serious consequences had it not been for Zam-Buk. Miss Martha Green, of 9 Claremont st., in taking a pan of boiling fat from the oven split it over her right hand. "The boiling fat ran into the palm of my hand," she says, "and over all my fingers. I was almost wild with the pain. The hand became swollen, and large blisters formed all over the palm and along the fingers. For over a month I was unable to use the hand at all. I tried several kinds of salves and liniments, but the wound seemed apparently no better. It was altogether too severe for these preparations to heal.

About this time I was advised to try Zam-Buk. I stopped using all Zoster preparations and applied it instead. The very first application soothed my hand and seemed to draw out the fire and inflammation, and as I kept on using Zam-Buk the blisters gradually dried up and disappeared. In a very short time the scald was healed completely."

This is but one instance of the uses to which Zam-Buk can be so advantageously applied. It is equally effective for burns, cuts, bruises, abrasions, sprains and stiffness. It also cures eczema, ulcers, sores, blood poisoning, ringworm, scalp sores, chronic wounds, blackheads, pimples, cold sores, chapped hands and all skin diseases and injuries. Rubbed well on to the chest in cases of cold, it relieves the aching and tightness, and applied as an embrocation it cures rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia, etc. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. a box or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for receipt of price. 3 boxes for $1.25.

Great Mission in St. Mary's Church

Two Jesuit Missionaries Will Conduct Services During the Coming Two Weeks

Our Catholic fellow citizens are congratulating themselves upon the presence in their midst of two learned and popular native born American Jesuit missionaries, Rev. David Johnson and Rev. Marshall Boardman, who have come from Chicago to conduct in St. Mary's church a mission, or series of protracted services. The prime object of their endeavors is to strengthen and promote that higher morality which is rooted in Christian faith, nourished by the love and fear of God, and manifested by the practice of religious and civil virtues. The attendance at the services has so overtaxed the seating capacity of the church that it has been deemed necessary to reserve the church this week for women and next week for men.

The more elaborate sermons and lectures are given in the evenings. Some of the subjects for discussion are:

- "The Aim of Life," or "Whither are we drifting?"
- "The Hidden Shoals."
- "Confession, the Plank of Salvation."
- "The Burning Pool."
- "Which is the true Church of Christ?"
- "The real presence of Christ in the Holy Eucharist."

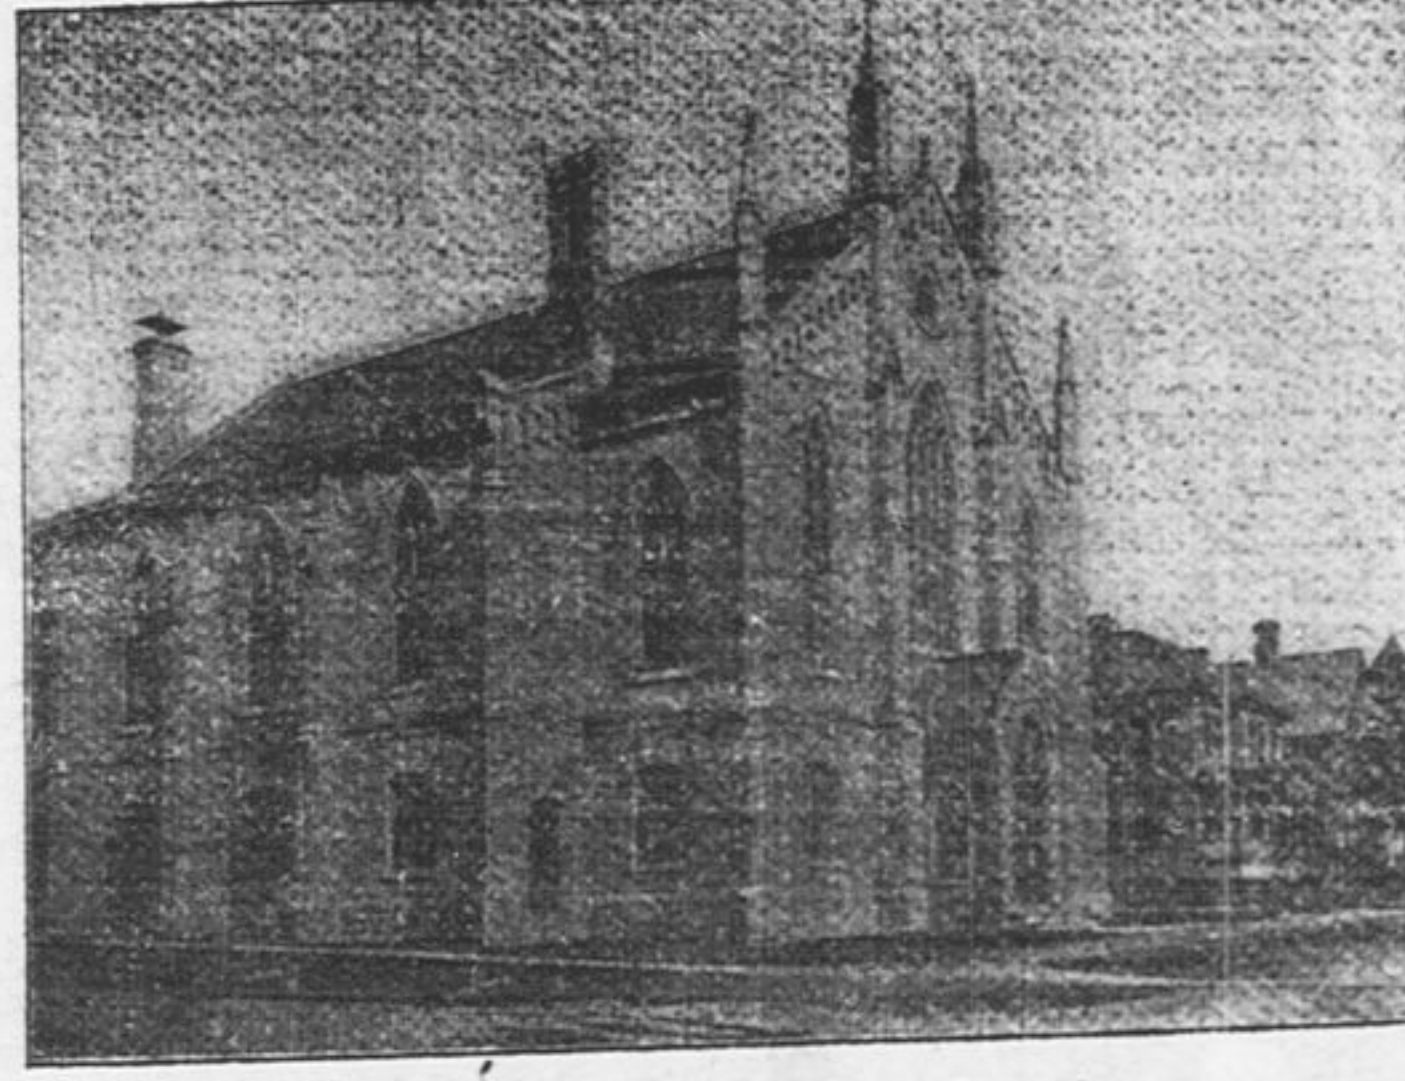

- The order of exercises is as follows: 5.30 a.m., mass and instruction.
- 9.30 a.m., mass and practical sermon.
- 3.00 p.m., children's mission.
- 7.30 p.m., Lecture and benediction.
- The public, irrespective of creed, is cordially invited to attend all of the services.

Entertainment at Collegiate Lit

Friday Afternoon's Programme was a Good One and was Well Received

The Collegiate Literary Society gave a highly successful entertainment last Friday afternoon in the assembly hall. The programme was excellent throughout and worthy of considerable comment.

Miss Jean MacDougal gave an instrumental piano selection, after which Miss French read a selection with considerable proficiency. A comic recitation by Miss Thompkins pleased everybody so much that an encore was insisted upon. Messrs. Hardy, Kingsley and O'Neill each spoke on subjects relative to the literary society and were well received. Miss Robertson, with piano accompaniment by Miss Mercer, sang "She Was a Grand Old Lady," with such merit that her audience were completely captivated, and applauded vigorously for some minutes. A well selected reading by Miss Pratt was much appreciated, as was also a pretty instrumental by Miss Frances Tilley. After the singing of the national anthem the students wended their way homeward.

An Old Lindsay Paper

Mr. David Campbell has shown The Post an ancient copy of a paper called the Lindsay Advocate, which was published by Mr. E. D. Hand on February 25, 1865, and which was one of the earlier contemporaries of The Post. Very few of the names in the advertisements are to be found among those of our business men. We find that of Mr. J. B. Knowlson, insurance agent, as well as that of Mr. J. P. Cummings, then clerk of Mariposa.

It is not a little interesting to read that Hon. Mr. Hathaway had resigned his seat in the New Brunswick legislature to stump the province against the confederation of the Canada. He asserted that, "like other measures, it was only carried by a majority, and that, on one vital point, it was decided by a single casting vote. The ruling price of wheat at that date was 78 cents."

Got a Bear

Mr. Wm. Copp, foreman at Horn's Woollen Mills, returned on Monday morning after spending a few days in the woods of the north. While back in the shanty regions Mr. Copp secured a fine, big deer and a black bear. Mr. Copp had a little excitement landing Bruin, but succeeded in securing his prize, which is a beauty. Mr. Copp is very much pleased with the results of his trip.

Natural Gas at Peterboro

Natural gas, it is said, has been struck at Peterboro, An American expert, Mr. Chas. E. Dittman, of Warrensburg, Pa., is anxious to investigate and the city council has passed a by-law confirming an agreement with that gentleman to use the streets and public lanes for the purpose of laying pipes and supplying gas — if it is found.

Leases have been secured on all the land possible, and an endeavor will be made to secure 12,000 acres, and those behind the proposition are prepared to spend from $10,000 to $20,000 in their efforts to find gas.

Two Years Less One Day

Mrs. Taylor, who was remanded a week ago on the charge of house-breaking and theft on condition that she would make restitution for the goods stolen, came up for sentence on Friday before His Honor Judge Harding. The accused failed to make good for the property purloined and she was again remanded until Wednesday, and if restitution is not then made imprisonment for two years less two days will likely be meted out to her.

Catholic Literary Society

The Catholic Literary Society will hold its second fortnightly meeting on Monday evening next, when essays will be read on aerial navigation. A short musical programme will also be presented.

The membership contest between sides selected by the president and vice-president is creating considerable interest, and both sides are confident of victory on December 1st.

At Hamilton Home for the Friendless 55 girls, 50 boys and 41 women were cared for during the year.
