Peter E. Summers relates his experience:

"I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I key it to indiscretion and excesses in youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me-my back ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite.

back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took ail kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, wore an electric belt for three months, but received little benefit. I was induced to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, though I had lost all faith in Kennedy, though I had lost all faith in The improvement was like magic—I could feel the vigor going through last odo so.

PURSE OF GOLD FOR CAPT. GRAY PRESENTATION MADE LAST EVENING

geon Point could hardly be improved gift. upon. The captain and crew were courteous and obliging on all occasions, and did everything in their power to add to the comfort and pleasure of those who travelled the trim little steamer. During the season just closed nothing but words of praise could be heard of the splendid service, and when the matter of a testimonial to the Captain was suggested, there was a spontaneous response from all sides. The contributions to the purse of gold were free will offerings, striking testimony in itself to the popularity of the captain.

The presentation of the purse of gold was made by Mr. F. C. Taylor, who also read the following address:

Sturgeon Point, 26th Aug., 1912. We, whose names appear on this list desire in a tangible way, to express our appreciation of the splendid service rendered by Capt. Gray and the crew of the sturdy little steamer, the Lintonia, during the season. Their courteous and obliging manners, the care and attention given to the cottagers' supplies, and the very low charges, are deserving of special thanks. We feel it is only simple act of justice to supplement the earnings of the boat by the sums set opposite our respective names, endorsed the remarks of the previous A boat route is very good, though spective offerings.

The contributions were in the nature of free will offerings, as everyone was anxious to bear testimony to the popularity of the captain and to recognize the excellent service given during the season. Mr. Flavelle said his family and connections were unanimous in declaring that the treatment meted out by the captain and crew could not be better. They were sober, courteous and obliging, and the patrons of the boat felt perfectly safe in trusting their families on board.
