WARM TRIBUTES TO WARDEN STEELE AND EFFICIENT CLERK AND TREASURER men's Institute, which was held last Friday at the home of Mrs. R. P.

At the closing session of the coun- come captain of this ship as long cil Saturday morning, on motion of Messrs. Varcoe and Lewis, the Warden vacated the chair, and Reeve Michael was selected to occupy it.

A Sims-Morrison motion tendered the earnest and courteous thanks of the council to Warden Steele and expressed the appreciation of the valuable attention given in the interests of the county. It was entnusiastically carried.

Mr. Michael expressed his pleasure at tendering the motion to Warden Steele, who had filled his position most acceptably.

Dep.-Reeve Dobson said the remarks of the Warden were straight to the point, and he made clear what he wished done. He did everything with an excellent firmness and I have found him kind and obliging and ever ready to help the interests of the Mr. Varcoe couldn't miss the opportunity of expressing his thoughts towards Warden Steele. The council will feel quite a loss when they lose Warden Steele. Reeve Bottum-If it hadn't been for spoke for brightness and sharpness, and these were the qualities of the Warden. The Reeve had enjoyed the term under him.

Reeve Tolmie had put in a fine time under the Warden, and he was a man from head to foot. He was honest and of the highest order of honor and character. A councillor of the proceedings.

Reeve Devitt had enjoyed his council work, and had found Warden Steele to be a man and we can all say he has done his duty for the county. If it is not his wish to return, it is a loss to the county.

Reeve Richman had pleasure to be with Warden for the year, the last of his own to be in the county as he was moving away.

Dep.-Reeve Babcock assured the council that his contact with the Warden was of great benefit. Reeve Morrison spoke of his appre ciation of being a member of the council under such a courteous man as Warden Steele. It was sure to be one of the brightest years in his-

Reeve Lewis had formed a first opinion that the Warden was clear cut and his later association had borne it out.

A word to Mr. McNeillie. Mostly all our education is received from Mr. McNeillie, and in him is embodied the fiaest qualities obtainable anywhere.

Mr. Southern added his tribute to Warden Steele and Mr. McNeillie. Reeve Robertson-Warden Steele is one of the best Wardens the county has ever had. Mr. McNeillie was a man of highest motives and effi-

Reeve McKee had had business with the Warden at one time, and could testify to his great business ability. His word has been as good as his bond, and it is no light matter to represent a municipality so excellent-

Reeve Fee concurred in all that had been said and was very much indebted to the Clerk besides for his wonderful assistance in county mat-

Mr. McNeillie said it was a great satisfaction to know that his actions in doing his duty had not been misinterpreted. I have felt that at times I should speak out and inform the council when I can enlighten them on any subject. I appreciate all your kindnesses with the deepest feeling. It has been a pleasure to be associated with so fine a man as Warden which was unanimously carried.

A motion of thanks was tendered to the reporters and page by Messrs. Southern and Robertson.

The session then closed.

REEVE RICHMAN MAKES STATEMENT

This morning Reeve Richman, who has not been at the council sittings as yet owing to having moved to Reeve Wulligan-The name of Steele Milton, arrived, and will remain till the end of the session.

Since Mr. Richman was on the committee in charge of the construction of the Coboconk bridge in 1911 and was foreman in 1912 for a while during the completion of the structure, he was asked if he could place any light on the conditions described by Engineer Smith in last night's Post. The Reeve said he nad nothing to do with the cement which was ordered in 1911, but he had ordered part of the stone, always under Eng. Smith's instructions, in 1912. As he was taking the foreman's place he was getting his salary, $4 50 a day. That Coboconk had secured his cement to pave their sidewalk, he did not believe. The whole matter will likely come up this afternoon.

GOOD WORK WITH

At Friday evening's Roads and Bridges Committee Dep.-Reeve Hugill Dobson, who has charge of the county stone crusher for the past season, was tendered a hearty vote of thanks and approval for the excellent method of operating the machine, and given $25 in addition. He had found it in bad shape, but had left it in perfect condition. In the past four years deficits have been reported and the crusher has been run at a loss, so the greater credit is due the Deputy-Reeve for making about $50 since it was put in proper running condition. The repairs cost over $200.

Rural Mail Boxas

Postmasters are frequently concerning the annual cost of a rural mail box, therefore it might be well to understand that there is no annual fee to pay for a rural mail box. The first cost is three dollars. That is the only charge, and boxes are served free of cost for all time, or at least as long as the present regulations are in force. The courier is paid by the government, one dollar a year for each box he serves, in addition to the amount of his mail contract. The November meeting of the Wo Friday at the home of Mrs. R. Spratt, William-st., was largely at eended, and altogether one of the most successful and interesting the record of the society.

The meeting opened in the usual way-a few moments of silent prayer and the singing of the Maple Leaf. Reading of minutes of October meet-

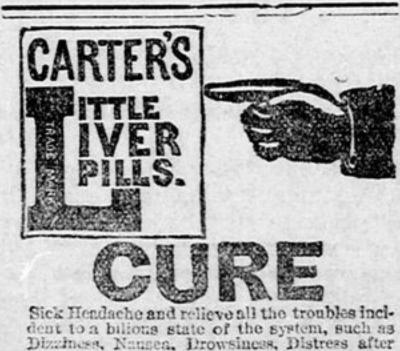

The answers to the roll call were a special feature of the meeting, many clever and amusing suggestions and quotations being given, as well some useful recipes. Where all were so good, it is perhaps hardly fair to by Mrs. J. A. Williamson, and on by Mrs. Paton on scolding, were much appreciated by those present. The rest room caused some lively discussion for and against the points made by the speakers, giving evidence of the deep interest taken by the members in the affairs of the Insti-

After business was disposed of a programme of readings and music of marked excellence was given. The topic for the month was "Games and Home 'Amusement's for the Young," and a very interesting paper (which is given below) was prepared and read by Mes. Geo. Rea. Mrs. J. A. White also read several short sketchss on the same subject, "Games by way of Amusement," "Happiness for the Children," "For Children of Larger Growth," and "Food for Mind and Body," all descriptive of simple games and ways by which the home may be made the most attractive place for children to spend their evenings in. It is safe to say that if parents gave more attention to this particular part of child training, we would hear less of the necessity for curfew bells and chil dren's courts than we do at present. A selection for piano and violin, given by Mrs. P. Kennedy and Miss Cairns, and a song "Afterwards," by Miss Spratt, with piano accompaniment by Mr. Jos. Spratt, were ceived with much appreciation, and many pleased comments were heard as to the excellence of both numbers. God Save the King, played by Mrs. O'Loughlin, brought the meeting to a close. Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Spratt, and her assistants, Mrs. W. Cairns, Mrs. Geo. Rea, Mrs. L. Mc Gregor, Mrs. A. Paton, Mrs. J. Mc-

GAMES AND AMUSEMENTS

Our subject for today is games and amusements. Where will they be held? On the street, in the bar room, in the billiard room, or in the home? ing for good or otherwise. It is mainly in the home that the heart is opened, the habits formed, the intellect awakened, and the character moulded for good or for evil.

Let the mother govern her family with judicious care, not rigidly nor sourly, but with such a sweetness and compliance with the recreations and pleasures of youth that they may like their home, and the man who loves his home will not the less fondly love and serve his country.

We all love games, but I hear some one say, oh, I never play that game. Why? Oh, because there is so much harm done with them. You can make every game harmful by putting harm or sin in it. Life is too short for us to go through the world with long drawn visage, furrowed brows, careworn expression. These come soon enough without cultivating them. When we engage in these games for pastime, enter into them heartily. zealously, play to win. And if we lose, be a good agreeable loser. Above all things avoid wrangling and controversy. Parents should encourage their children to engage in all kinds of outdoor sports which are so conducive to good health, rugby, football, bareball, etc. These develop every member of the body, strengthening the limbs, expanding the chest, developing the brain, and infusing new red blood through the entire body. You know microbes don't live very long in pure air. They thrive in ill ventilated rooms, vitiated air. See silect any as being particularly so, to it that your children indulge in this kind of sports, for it is the children we have to deal with. The grown ups are masters of their own

ABOLITION OF THE BAR

Montreal Witness: That temperance sentiment in Ontario is making rapid and solid gains is shown by both the actions and words of public men. Up. on the one hand we have the antireating propositions of the Government, and Sir James Whitney's statement to the recent temperance convention: "I will be glad on any other occasion to help along even a 'ttle the cause you have at heart. The I-ublic man who is unwilling to do al in his power to suppress the evils of honor. the liquor traffic is unworthy of any British community.' Upon the other we have Mr. Rowell, his 'Banish the Bar' policy and his declaration war: "The rising tide of public sentiment has reached the conclusion that the open bar in this province is a public nuisance, a social menace, prejudical alike to the home, to the church and to the state, and that this being so, the time has come when the bar should be abolished."

Perhaps nothing testified more conclusively to the benefits secured by local prohibition than its permanence in those places in which it has been adopted. Indeed, after the experiences have had, the friends of the traffic now seem to 'throw up the sponge' once a municipality has gone into the 'dry' column. Thus in 1909 there were ninety-seven municipalities in Ontario where repeal contests were possible. Bar room advocates only brought on twenty-nine contests, and were defeated in twenty-seven of them. In 1910 there were one hundred and eleven possible repeal contests. The challenge was only taken up in twelve instances, and repeal was only gained in two. In 1911 there were one hundred and thirty-four possible repeal contests. in only three did Bacchus seek to recover his lost ground, and in each case he was defeated. In 1912 there were one hundred and seventy-eight opportunities for repeal. The liquor men only ventured on fifteen contests, and were defeated in every one. But instead of being a matter for surprise, this should be considered the most natural thing in the world. Local option when carried, has abundantly proved its value. Not only have public and private morals improved under it, but business has usually increased and prosperity been enhanced. When people do not spend their money on liquor they spend it on food, clothing, furniture, house property and other things, and are, moreover, likely to have a great deal more to spend. The present prosperity of Ontario is to no small degree due to the fact that already no licenses are granted in four hundred and sixtythree out of her eight hundred and twenty-eight municipalities. When she drives the bar outside her borders her prosperity cannot fail to increase by an expanding growth.

How Much of Your Road Money is Spent in Filling Ruts?

IF the millions of dollars that have been spent repairing wornout, washed-out streets and roads had been used to build more miles of good highways, fewer farmers would now be wasting valuable time and money taking "round-about" routes to town.

FIRST cost of an ordinary dirt or macadam road is usually only a "starter." The cost of upkeep soon equals that first cost and there is always an ever-increasing annual expense for repairs. The worst feature of it is that such a road is never a really first-class highway.

N estimating the cost of a road you should include the expense of keeping it in good condition for at least twenty years. If you don't, you're figuring on the first payment for that road, only. And the remaining payments are as certain as taxes. The upkeep cost of concrete roads is practically Concrete roads are the best roads from the first and the best and cheapest roads at the end of ten, fifteen and twenty years.

CONCRETE is the ideal paving material for streets in small towns as well as for main highways in the country. Edward N. Hines, Wayne County, Michigan, Road Commissioner, and one of America's foremost authorities on good roads, says:

Any community that wants a good road, a road that is cheaper for even a short time under fairly heavy traffic than any other good road, a road that is inexpensively maintained, a road that is sanitary and dustless, a road that is not slippery, a road that affords good traction for any type of vehicle 365 days in the year, a road that in the long run, say 10, 15, 20 years and longer, is the cheapest of all good roads, should investigate the merits of concrete.

WRITE for the facts about Concrete highways. When convinced, use your influence to have the roads for which you pay built to last. We have highway experts who will visit any community intending to build more roads and explain just why and how concrete roads are best
