DON'T DABBLE IN CALGARY OIL

Calgary, Alta., Nov. 7.—"Fabulous Fortunes have been made in the Oil Fields of the World. Your Chance is Now. Don't Delay." This is a sample of the signs displayed in huge red letters in front of little offices in this city, and there are many of them. They look alluring to the man with money but little information, and, unfortunately, they are more than alluring—they too often catch him. They are delightfully suggestive and delightfully indefinite.

"Get In on the Ground Floor," advises another flaring sign. "Gigantic Fortunes Have Been Made in Oil. For a Few Days You can Buy a Single $10 Share; $2.50 per Share on Application; $2.50 on Account, and the Balance in Cash of $1 Each at One Month's Notice." This sign further "informs" the unwary that machinery is ordered, and operations will commence at once. If a person applies for a prospectus he is told that the prospectus is in the printer's hands, and will be ready shortly. In the meantime the agent will give all information, etc., and there you are.

One "oil" agent is so enterprising that he has in his window a miniature oil pump at work, pumping the oil from a model of a well. Another has a large white placard with two bank bills pasted on it, one a $10 of the State Bank of New Jersey, and the other a Confederate States bill for $500. "Ten Dollars Invested in Oil Stock Will Become $500 in a Year," is the legend attached. The significance of the $500 Confederate State bill not being worth a cent is not explained.

"Dingman Well" seems to be the popular thing among the oil "promoters." Many windows contain bottles of alleged oil from this much-touted well. These samples are of several varieties, but a little thing like this does not bother the oil agents.

These small offices with their enticing signs are doing a roaring business, and more are opening up every day. The attitude of some of these "oil companies" is that a man can not be blamed for taking another man's money when it is offered to him. Unfortunately much money is being offered and taken. There is no society for the protection of the public, and so the great procession of gullible people continues to pass into the offices with their money, and come out without it.

STEPHEN OLIVER MAKES STATEMENT

Mr. Stephen Oliver dropped into the Post sanctum this morning, and stated he wished to have the report corrected that the town had purchased for him a new buggy and set of harness to replace those destroyed by the fire team on the evening of Oct. 30th. Mr. Oliver purchased the new outfit himself at a cost of $150. At the regular meeting of the council, he states, a committee was appointed to deal with Mr. Oliver's request for a settlement, but nothing was done. The committee met Monday night, but took no action, and Mr. Oliver states he will advise his solicitor to take immediate proceedings. He further states that the value of his horse has decreased $50.00. It is now nervous as a result of the accident, and will not stand alone.

TRAGIC STORY OF TERRIBLE HARDSHIP

After wandering for twelve days without food or shelter in the bush, to have both feet frozen and found alive, only to die a few hours after warmth and nourishment had been given, was the hard lot of Michael Macdonald at White River, Macdonald was a bookkeeper for Chambers, McCraig and Company, who are engaged in double-tracking the Superior division of the C. P. R. On October 26 he went into the bush to shoot partridges. When he failed to return, nine Indians were employed to find him, but searched without success for ten days.

On Tuesday last an Indian named Louis Porter was running the third rapids in a canoe on the White River and thought he heard cries in the bush. He reported the matter to Provincial Constable Edwards, who immediately took a party up to the rapids in two canoes. They called out Macdonald's name, and heard a faint answer from the bank. Macdonald was found one hundred yards from the river in an emaciated condition, with hands and feet terribly frozen. He had buried himself in leaves and soil in an attempt to keep warm. He was carried two miles over portages to White River, but restoratives failed to keep him alive. He had dilled and eaten four partridges in his hunt. He was without any particle of food or water for eight days.

CAMP COOK MISSING
News of what may be another hunting tragedy in the north country was reported yesterday by Mr. M. J. O'Leary of the Sloane Hunt Club, a Toronto hunting party, who have a lodge north of Parry Sound.

The cook of the camp has been missing since last Friday. He wandered off in the morning in search of deer and has not been heard of since. Search parties have been scouring the woods for days, other camps in the neighborhood lending assistance. The Provincial Police have been notified and will continue the search. It is thought that the man shot a deer and followed it so far in the woods that he lost his way.

It is believed that the man had relatives in Toronto. He was formerly employed in a downtown hotel.

THE MARKETS

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 11.—The earlier American wheat cables yesterday and the lower tendency in Winnipeg were offset here by unfavorable crop advices from Argentina, and as a result shorts covered and opening values were unchanged to a higher. Bullish advices from India, firmer spot market and an improved demand for cargoes and generally favorable weather for the new crop mostly through Europe, helped the advance. Following the opening there was a decline of 1/4d in the distant months on a report of rain in Bahia Blanca, and expectations of a liberal increase in the visible here. Later, support developed and most of the decline was recovered on a dryness reported in many provinces of Argentina. Argentine estimates being reduced. At 1.30 p.m. the market was steady, unchanged to 1/4d higher.

Corn opened 1/4d lower and further declined to 1/2d with liquidation induced by the American Government and talk of larger arrivals. The pressure was in December. At 1.30 p.m. prices were 1/4d to 1/2d under yesterday.

RECORD SMASHING LIVE STOCK ENTRIES

Entries vastly exceeding in number any list heretofore compiled indicate growing interest in the International Live Stock Exposition, which occurs this year at Chicago, November 25th to December 6th. No such list of exhibits has ever before been prepared, nor for that matter have the live stock producers of the North American continent previously manifested such concern in the future of that industry. Every department of the exposition will be full; interest being manifested alike in horses, cattle, hogs and sheep.

Chief Chilton was notified of the accident and put four bullets into the animal in order to end its sufferings.

EVILS OF MILITARISM

Sir Ian Hamilton, in his recommendation regarding the Indian and other Dominion forces that these forces be trained according to the British system end that they may be available for immediate service with the army. He further recommends interchange of regiments between Indian and colonial forces. "The essence of a Canadian regiment is the idea of having their boys in the five nations themselves of the whole outside world."

But how do Canadian boys like the idea of having their boys to form part of a force under the hold Indians or Egyptians in the East? This is one of the evils of the vicious policy of imperialism which the Minister of War would like to introduce into Canada. This Dominion true to the Empire and her would fight to the last ditch defence. The foisting of an military scheme, which would an already heavily overburdened people will not be tolerated.
