THE RELIGION OF DONT'S. (Toronto World)

"If only the few self-righteous Pharisees whose religion is a series of 'I don'ts' go to Heaven, it will be a lonesome place," said Byron H. Stauffer in his sermon on "Two Kinds of Prayers" at Bond st. church.

"Some folks' religion is a series of don'ts. They don't drink; they don't clay cards; they don't smoke; they don't ride in the cars on Sunday. That's about the whole gamut of their religion. The Pharisee would not eat an egg that was laid on the Saboath, and his 613 threads in his phylacteries had to be always intact, but, oh, how selfish he was! A code of don'ts always breed selfishness and the despising of others. And to the Pharisce, heaven is always a selfish little 4x9 place, with a big wall, barbed-wire topped, around it. Oh ro, heaven is big enough for every soul that ever breathed on any planet to have a big estate, mansion, c. chard, meadow and all. Think you heaven is cramped and smull, and then only sparsely settled? Think you the majority of folks will be lost? Then you are an infidel, and the very worst kind of a possimist, to think that my Saviour's salvation is a failure. Jesus came that we might have ife. Som may reject his call, but the great majority will, in some way, find the pearly gates and enter into the City of Light. Believe it! Believe it! Walk forth free from your Pharisaical despisings and rejoice that God's plan of salvation cannot by a Tailure."

JOY IS WORLD-WIDE, . "

The universal joy of Christmastis wonderful. We ring the bells when princes are born, or toll a mourne ful diege when great men gassaway. Nations have their red-letter days, carnivals and festivals, but once in the year, and only once, the whole work! stan 's still to celebrate the advent of a life. Only Jesus of Nazareth claims this world-wide, undiving rememorance. You cannot cut Cinistmas out of the calendar, nor out of the hearts of the world, as the Helorews or Atheists of New York or Toronto will discover after their o:tlerest boycotts.

AT ST. PAUL'S

Evening Post of Dec. 16 The sermon last night at St. Paul's. church was taken from the eighth verse of the 26th chapter of St. Matthew. The scene was laid at Bathany, and Mary has anointed Christ. The disciples have found great fault with her for her wastefulness, but it was her gratitude which prompted her-nothing was too good for him. So it is with God. His boundless love prompts all the seeming prodigality of nature. His love prompted Christ's sacrifice on the Cross, and by the same lavishness and prodigality of love Christ's redeeming blood is inexhaustible. Although there is room in Christ's heart for all, millions go down despite Calvary and all that God can do.

We need the loving arm and voice of Christ evinced by God's love, and God counts a soul redeemed worth the price of love paid. God himself is love and everything which seems such waste and prodigality of good is prompted by love. Some giving is disowned in heaven because the giver s thinking not of love but of self. God's way is love in this world and everything is for good.

AT ST. MARY'S.

Evening Post of Dec. 16 lligh mass at St. Mary's yesterday was celebrated by Ven. Archdeacon Casey, whose presence was a source of joy to the large congregation, indicating as it plainly | did their pastor's recovery from a recent pairfut indisposition. The sermon was delivered by Rev. Fr. Collins, the curate who, although young in the priesthood, is showing commanding abilities as a speaker. His subject was in keeping with the penitential spirit of the season of Advent, being based on the words spoken by the wayward son, "I shall arise and go k. Cathro sang, "Oh Promise Me," to my father." In simple yet line Miss Jean Anderson played the wedpressive words the familiar story was 'd " march. Extended Over Entire Body - Mouth Covered With Crusts as Thick as Finger Which Would Bleed and Suppurate - Disease Ate Large Holes in Cheeks-Hands Pinned Down to Stop Agonized Scratching-Three Doctors' Best Efforts Failed to Give Relief.

BUT CUTICURA WORKS A MIRACULOUS CURE

"When my little boy was six months old he had ezcema. The sores extended so quickly over the whole body that we at once called in the doctor. We then went to another doctor, but he could not help him, and in our despair we went to a third one. Matters became so bad that he had regular holes in his cheeks, large enough to put a finger into. The food had to be given with a spoon, for his mouth was covered with crusts as thick as a finger, and whenever he opened the mouth they began to bleed and suppurate, as did also his eyes. Hands, arms, chest, and back, in short the whole body was covered over and over. We had no rest by day or night. Whenever he was laid in his bed, we had to pin his hands down, otherwise he would scratch his face and make an open sore. I think his face must have itched most fearfully. "We finally thought nothing could help, and I had made up my mind to send my wife with the child to Europe, hoping that the sea air might cure him, otherwise he was to be put under good medical care there. But, Lord be blessed, matters came differently, and we soon saw a miracle. A friend of ours spoke about Cuticura. We made a trial with Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Resolvent, and within ten days or two weeks we noticed a decided improvement. Just as quickly as the sickness had appeared it also began to disappear, and within ten weeks the child was absolutely well, and his skin was smooth and white as never before. F. The Fine Display at China Hall But Beautiful Goods From the Orient, Germany, England and America.

Evening Post of Dec. 12 Campbell's China Hall may properly be included in the town's list of view piaces, because few ladies fail to pay the store a visit when down town. This is particularly true just now, when the selection of Christmas gifts in engaging the attention of A representative of The Post found time to call last evening just before 6 o'clock, when the throng of callers had dwindled to a few who seemed reluctant to depart. Mr. A. L. Campbell, the proprietor, was found devoting his usual supper hour to gave a few minutes to the scrioconsignment of goods, but cheerfully devoted a few minutes to 'the scribe, who was shown about the premises about the large and varied stock-Quaint cups and saucers, etc., hand decorated, came from Japan; lovely designs in vases, salad dishes, cups and saucers, etc., from Germany, showing the exquisite transfer work in which the designers of that land excel; tea and dinner setts from the famous English potteries, than waich no finer goods are produced the world over; fragile but intensely beautiful Limoges China from France; colored glassware from Bohemia, cut glass, from Engiand and the States; toilet ware, lamps, and general staple lines in great variety. Taken as a whole, the exhibit is most comprehensive one, and it is little wonder the ladies love to visit and contemplate it, and make seuctions therefrom. Mr. Campbell says his sales so far have far exceeded last year's record, but that is not to be wondered at when one notes the completeness of the stock carried. Whether the gift be a pretty of its kind possible at the price: trade in his grocery and other departments, Mr. Campbell said that every member of his staff was "on

The Famous "Fairview" Herd Shropshires Again at Top.

The "Fairview" Shropshires were exhibited as usual at the 'International and Ontario Winter Fair, winping out handsomely. At Chicago, sheep were shown in breeding and fat wether sections. The total winnings iamong them we're four championships) amounted to more than the totass of any three of the competing flecks. In several instances "Fairview" ored sheep and lambs won over English and Scotch bred Shropshires, which were, at the fall State fairs, winners of first prizes and championships. The sheep from "Fairview" were openly and generally credited by the expert American sheep preeders, with being the best fitted sheep on exhibition. At Guelph last week the flock met with unequalled success. Entries were made in all sections of ther Shropshire and Short Woolled grade classes. In every section but one, the first prizes, and most of the seconds, with all the first flock premiums; were awarded to our county's sheep, The last contest in sheep department was the awarding of a $250 silver cup (to be won three times) for the post pen of five lambs, ored by exhibitor, all breeds competing. Seven flocks entered the ring. The "Fairview' flock won, a decision loudly approved of from the ringside At an oyster supper, given by the Campbells to the sheep breeders and many friends, their winnings in generai, and that of the silver cup in particular, were endorsed in words full of cordial good will, and in a manner sure to encourage Ontar & sleep breeders to do better and still

Great Profit in Sheep Raising

Farmers Are Afraid to Raise Them Owing to Dogs.

At the recent meeting of the Farmais' Institutes throughout this section it was established that on the whole very few farmers were engagin raising sheep. The cause was found to be in most cases that of dogs worrying the animais, a nuisance that had become so sad that many were driven out of this branch of stock raising.

The guilt was largely laid at the door of the hounds that are kept in the towns for hunting purposes, and which were said to come out at night in droves, causing immense loss and damage. One man said he thought the hounds were fed nothing from the close of the hunting season to the beginning of the next, and they were obliged to hunt for a living. The generafly expressed idea was along the fine of the uselessness of dogs to the genuine sport of deer stalking, and and told many interesting things the determination to make short work of all dozs caught red-handed wcirying sheep. A resolution to the Government looking for some protection for sheep Structure Just Completed .- Lindsey raisers, that would make it possible to s'gain engage in sheep raising in this country, was talked of, but no definite action was taken.

Many of the farmers in Lindsay vicivity have suffered from the visits of prowling dogs, and finally were compelled to go out of the sheep industry. Mr .James Corley was put to great trouble in order to protect his flock during last season, and was colliged to drive them into a wire protested enclosure every night.
