(Special to The Post)

Everyone seems to be wearing a smile this fine weather. Why wouldn't we? Old settlers say it is the loveliest fall they have ever experienced. The farmers have done a lot of ploughing during the last two weeks; ground was never in better condition all fall than at present.

A goodly number from this community attended anniversary services at Dunsford on Sunday, and were greatly pleased with the discourses given by Rev. Mr. Real, of Queen-st. church, Lindsay. The special selections rendered by the choir added much to the services.

Mr. Ben Palmer gathered a number of neighbors together last Wednesday to get Mr. R. Padget's winter wood cut. Mr. Jas. McGahey also had two ploughing bees for him a few days before, and got about 30 acres ploughed. Mr. Padget will always remember the kindness of his neighbors during his illness.

The Smith Bros. have received the wire supply for telephone line, and are hustling the tapes along in right style. Messrs. I. Vont and William Patrick have taken the contract for the east ward line. The company expect to run a line west as soon as possible. It will be then the easiest and probably the most profitable line built.

Our Sunday school have decided to have a Christmas tree and concert about the middle of this month. The exact date will be given in next week's issue. No doubt this will be one of the best concerts of the season, as we have first class talent.
