Sudden Death of Miss Lottie Wood

Daughter of the Hon. S. C. Wood Succumbs After Operation

Toronto, December 11.—The death is announced of Miss Lottie Wood, youngest daughter of the late Hon. S. C. Wood.

Miss Wood had undergone an operation on Sunday last for appendicitis, and it was hoped that she would rally, but the shock to her system in a weakened condition was too great to be sustained, and she passed away yesterday at the Cottage hospital, where the operation took place.

National and Comprehensive in Scope

The 1908 Christmas number of "The Farmer's Advocate and Home Magazine," while maintaining a broad catholicity of outlook, strikes a dominant national note. Articles of general interest from the pens of leading Canadian authorities treat a pleasing variety of topics in a comprehensive manner. Dr. B. E. Fernow, of the University of Toronto, in a sweeping survey of the timber situation in Canada, impresses the farmers' interest in forestry. By way of index to this prominent feature, the front cover represents a beautiful woodland scene, executed in the tri-color process. Turning the pages, one's interest is arrested by Frank Yeigh's picturesque pen-portrait of Norwegian agriculture. "The Horse in History and Romance," is entertainingly discussed by the expert contributor, "Whip"; and the "Outlook for the Beef Industry in Canada" is considered in the light of wide personal knowledge by J. H. Grisdale, of Ottawa. The chords of sentiment are touched in "Christmas on the Farm," and "An Old Boy's Recollections," while the celebrated achievements of a noted Canadian plant-breeder in hybridizing the gladiolus are told in a most interesting, illustrated article. President G. C. Croelman, of the Ontario Agricultural College, records his personal observations of agriculture in France and Italy. "A Quarter of a Century in Poultrydom," "The Trend of Maritime Agriculture," "Quebec's Dairy Industry and a Description of the largest fruit farm in British Columbia, are among the many other noteworthy articles; while stockmen will be interested in a very readable account of the International Live-Stock Exposition in Chicago. Position of prominence in the Home Department is accorded to a suggestive article on the "Ethical Significance of Pictures," by Mrs. Alice Blythe Tucker Wilcox, B. A. Mrs. Dobie writes of Bermuda, while the comprehensive topic, "Girls," is dealt with by one who has had much experience with them. Readers of fiction should not miss the initial ter of a fascinating new serial, "The Golden Dog," by Walter Kirby, an historical tale of Old Quebec in the times of Louis XV. The pages are replete with particularly pleasing illustrations, a liberal proportion of which have been printed in double-tone ink, producing a rich, soft sepia effect. Subscribers to "The Farmer's Advocate" are presented with this number in lieu of a regular issue. To non-subscribers, the price is 50 cents per copy. New subscribers will receive it as a premium while the supply lasts. Address the WILLIAM WELD CO., Limited, London, Ont.

Mission Band Concert

There was a large attendance at the Goforth mission band concert which was held in St. Andrew's church Sunday school last Monday. An excellent programme had been arranged and when 8 o'clock came the schoolroom was comfortably filled.

CARE OF POULTRY IN DECEMBER

S. Short, Carleton Co., Ont.
December is the most important month in many respects to the poultry keeper. If eggs are to be expected in January and throughout the winter, regular and intelligent care must be given to the fowl from now on and, in fact, those who began a month ago to give their hens proper conditions for laying, are most likely to get the best egg harvest. Proper conditions include the whole situation, which may be divided into three parts, viz., the poultry house, the fowl, and feeding.

The house should be in thorough order in every respect. The windows should be sound and scrupulously clean. This is very necessary. The days are now very short. At the earliest, the fowl cannot see to eat before seven a.m. and after four p.m., at the latest. This means a period of fifteen hours between the first meal of the day and the first of the next, which shows the need of all the light that can possibly be given. In cities and towns this long gap between supper and breakfast is shortened by giving a fourth meal between 8 and 9 o'clock at night by electric light, and, in some cases, the result has been very encouraging and successful. This can be done by lamplight, but it takes from half to three quarters of an hour each night, which may not be considered worth while unless large flocks are kept.

The fowls should be healthy, in good condition, and the pullets mature. There is a wide difference of opinion about the number of layers that should be kept in each flock or pen. Personally, I think twenty-five or thirty is plenty for each pen. One expert says: "When you think you have room for twenty layers, only keep ten." This is good advice. If you have to lessen the number of fowl kept, begin by removing all the spare males, young and old, keeping only those needed for breeding next spring. Next remove all hens over two years of age, except if the breed kept is Leghorn or any of the Mediterranean class, when they may be kept until three years of age. After the old hens, remove the very young pullets. That should leave only serviceable birds that, with proper food, should return eggs in profitable quantities.

The layers should be fed three times a day, once with grain and once with soft food. Give the soft food whenever most convenient. Many breeders give it the first meal of the day, others at noon and others again at night. There are arguments in favor of each method, so that, as far as now known, it is best to let convenience decide the point. Wheat and oats make a good grain ration—half of each. To this may be added a small quantity of whole corn, say one part to ten of wheat and oats. If white birds are kept and are used for exhibition do not add corn—it makes the plumage creamy. The soft feed may be made up of five parts bran, four parts whole grain provender and one part corn-meal, but omit the corn meal if white birds are kept. This covers the main feeding. In addition, there should be in each pen, hoppers or boxes containing grit and oyster shell. Cabbages, mangels, beets, or other green food should be fed in reasonable quantities.

For stimulating the egg supply, green bone may be given three times a week. Feed this very lightly. If it is not convenient to feed green bone, use beef scraps or meat-meal. This may be mixed in the soft food. It is far better to feed too little, say about a tablespoon to each fifteen fowl. It is far better to feed too little of either green bone or meat-meal than too much.

"Suicide in a moment of mental aberration" is the verdict of the coroner's jury in connection with the death of Judge Blanchet of Montreal.

Dumped in the Snow

A slight accident happened on the C. P. R. crossing last Sunday which might have resulted in serious consequences.

Miss Mary Morrissey, (a popular young lady of Peterboro, now visiting numerous Lindsay friends, took two young lady friends to the country. The horse, which was borrowed from Gunigle's livery shed at a passing bird and dumped the ladies in the snow. Miss Morrissey bravely hung on to the lines and was dragged several feet. Fortunately she escaped with a few bruises, and being a first-class teamster, got the horse and cutter on their feet once more. However, the young ladies will remember their mishap, as their nerves were badly upset.

The Christmas Fair

Among the donations given the committee of management of the Lindsay Christmas fair are the following:

John Maunder donates $5 for first and second prizes for best lady driver
A. J. Ashmore donates $5 for first prize for gentleman's single turn out.

E. O. McCrohan donates the $5 first prize for single driver, open to all.

Queen-st Epworth League

On Tuesday the regular Epworth league meeting was opened and conducted by the president, Mr. Stanley Marshall read the lesson from James 3rd chapter, the topic being "The Unruly Member."

Mr. Wm. McWatters, who had charge of the topic, chose another subject and gave an excellent inspiring address which was thoroughly appreciated by all present. Rev. Mr. Real then gave a talk on the subject which doubtless proved beneficial to the leaguers.

The choir also rendered a beautiful selection.

Died of Appendicitis

Mr. David Crowley, of Ennismore, a young man well known to Lindsay, and Downeyville residents, died Wednesday evening from an attack of appendicitis at St. Joseph's hospital, Peterboro. His funeral took place today in Peterboro.

They are Imposters

For the past few days two men have been selling religious articles in Lindsay, and it is said that in their solicitations they state they have received the endorsement of the clergy of St. Mary's church, and also that they represent a certain institution. The local clergy know nothing about the two individuals. The authorities have been notified, and if such claims are being made the individuals will have an opportunity to explain their actions.
