The gutter carries all drip or juice to the dish. It is also hinged in centre and is easily cleaned. It does not mash or tear, it cuts and cuts fast. 3 pounds to the minute.

Mortgage Burned at Queen st.

An event which was a very joyous one for the Queen-st. Methodist church, was the celebration of the burning of the mortgage on the parsonage. Last evening the congregation and a number of interested persons from other churches went to the Queen-st. church. An excellent programme had been arranged for the evening, an important feature of which was an address on "A Love Story," by Rev. Mr. Dewey, who was the first pastor of the Queen-st. church, about 20 years ago.

Mr. J. D. Flavelle acted in the capacity of Chairman, and after a few opening remarks the following programme was proceeded with: Hymn by the choir. Solo—Mr. Dewey. Duet—Mr. and Mrs. Ford Moynes. Solo—Mr. Dewey. Solo—Mrs. Dr. Nesbitt.

Mr. Dewey then delivered an excellent address on "A Love Story," and referred it to every day life. In his lecture he went on to say that he thought Love was the greatest factor in the life of man, and gave a number of illustrations to show this. He also went on to say that Love's a sacred thing and should be considered as such. He should never turn sour or bitter towards those he should love, but should always through life be true to love.

The great event of the evening was that of the burning of the mortgage, and took place next. Rev. Mr. Dewey setting fire to it. On motion of Rev. Mr. Balfour, seconded by Mr. Geo. Adams, a vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Dewey and all those who took part in the evening's programme. The gathering was not as well attended as it should have been.

HOW TO KEEP CUT FLOWERS Choose flowers that are not quite fully out and cut them early in the morning, with four inch stems. Arrange them not too close together in a vase deep enough to immerse two thirds of the stems. By previously putting some pieces of charcoal in the vase the water can be changed every five or six days. Keep the vase always full of water. Keep the flowers in a cool but not draughty place. Certain flowers do much better if a long portion of the stem is cut off, especially if they have been carried a long way, and a certain number are better if they are cut with a sharp knife. This is especially so with flowers that are apt to go off quickly.—Gardening Illustrated.

Nothing can be too high, or too great, or too good, for a man to do than to spend his life in the services of the class from which he sprang.—Mr. Herbert Burrows.

Nothing BETTER Fres C. Taylor said: I am employed by Flavelle's Limited in the poultry department. When birds are brought in that die in the feeding pens, they are thrown out. Birds also that die in transit are thrown out. They are usually put in a barrel in front of the poultry department. This barrel is on the company's grounds, but outside the building. I have seen the birds produced before. I saw them at my father's. They were birds that had smothered or died, for they hadn't been bled. The company does not sell birds that have not been bled. They are thrown away as we do not consider them fit to eat. Some of them died from crop or gapes and some from bad colds. They are left there to be taken away by the scavengers or any person that might want them.

To Mr. West: When I first saw the birds I could not say whether they had died from any disease or not, but I know they had not been bled. I have had fifteen or sixteen years' experience in killing poultry. Dr. McAlpine said: "I saw the Medical Health officer of the town. I have examined the birds produced and in my judgment they are unfit for human food because they have not been bled. It would not be possible with the heads gone or without a microscopic examination of them to tell they had died of disease. The heads would show this. To Mr. West: "There is no participation going on, as they are from the case was adjourned until Friday.

For over twenty years the West Sun, Toronto, has occupied an enviable position, diligently serving the Ontario farmers. It is edited by a man of particular benefit, and a special effort will be made during the coming year to make it even of more practical value than ever before. All interested in farming should read the Sun.
