Newsy Notes

From Manilla

The regular monthly meeting of the Manila Women's Institute was held on Wednesday, Nov. 22, at the home of Miss Edyth Pearce.

The meeting opened in the usual form, singing and prayer after which a pleasant and profitable time was spent. An instrumental solo, rendered by Mrs. Wm. Edwards was very much enjoyed and following this, a paper, by Mrs. A. McDonald, which contained a concise report of the convention, which was held in Toronto on Nov. 15th and 16th won the appreciation of the entire meeting.

Miss Hattie Hunter and Mrs. Wm. Dixon next favored the audience with a duet, which was highly commended. Mrs. R. Hamilton then gave a paper on dress-making which contained many useful hints and if followed, would help wonderfully to lessen the perplexities of the home dress-maker. This paper called forth much discussion.

Following this most excellent paper came a duet by the Misses Steel and Dixon, which was rendered in their usual pleasing style. The programme then came to a close with a paper on helpful hints on plain sewing, by Miss R. Patterson. This paper did lasting credit to its author and instilled into the minds of the members, ideas that they carried away with them to be used at some future date. The meeting viewed socially and educationally was a rare success.

The next meeting will be held on Wednesday, December 13, at Miss Hattie Hunter's. A good programme has been arranged for. A paper by Miss Shannon on "How to develop in our Children Self-reliance," and one by Miss Belle Carmichael, on "Thoughts on the closing year," will be interesting.

OLIVER ROASTS MINISTER WHITE

Ottawa, Nov. 22.—The Minister of Finance has deemed that he is interested in the trusts, mergers, and combines. I am glad he can do so. At the same time he seeks to impose the voice of the province he represents, the province which declared in favor of the rule of the trusts, mergers and combines, on the whole of the rest of this great country of ours. He says he is not of the trusts and combines. If he is not of them they are behind him. The voice is the voice of Jacob, but the hand is the hand of Esau."

Amid a storm of Liberal cheering Hon. Frank Oliver last night dealt in clear-cut, far-flung western vigor with the maiden speech of Hon. W. I. White, the new Minister of Finance.

He was greeted with prolonged applause from the Government benches when he rose to speak. He began by a reference to the personal reflections cast on him by the members for South Wellington and Welland (Hugh Guthrie and W. M. German). The former had asserted that he was the representative of the trusts, mergers and corporations. The latter had said that he had been forced into office because he had to obey the command of the head of his trust company.

"Now, sir, I desire to express an unequivocal denial of these allegations," declared Mr. White. "No more unjust accusation has ever been hurled across the floor of this House. The hon. gentleman in charge of this government is not the man to submit to political duress, and I am not the man to accept a position under such circumstances."

With regard to mergers, Mr. White emphatically declared that he, for his part, had never had any interest in them.

"Some hon. gentlemen," he said, "are unwilling to admit that reciprocity is dead. They seem to think that it is in a state of suspended animation."

Mr. White then shortly reviewed the economic argument of the Conservatives in the campaign. Farmers and manufacturers and labor men alike realized that they would lose a fine home market for a pact that had no assurance of permanency. Every business man in Canada breathed freer at the result of the election.

"What about the improved business tone since Sept. 21?" he asked. (Applause.) "What about the judgment of the London market in regard to Canadian securities? The rejection of the reciprocity pact constituted the greatest advertisement Canada ever received in Great Britain."

The Opposition thought the Government should have brought down a naval policy. "The Government has had no time even to consider the bill of repairs of the Canadian navy, much less to mature and bring down a naval policy." (Laughter and loud applause.)

The naval policy of the Laurier Government was not only unsatisfactory to Quebec, but to Ontario and the other provinces as well. It would prove a source of great expense in peace and would be absolutely useless in time of war.

declaring that nothing but the greatest harmony had prevailed.

Hon. Frank Oliver complained that Mr. White mistook Ontario for the Dominion. He had not the proper view of the scope and responsibility of his position.

"With regard to trusts, mergers and combines, if he is not of them, they are behind him. The voice may not be the voice of Jacob, but the hand behind is the hand of Esau," he said.

Mr. Oliver declared that the demand for reduction of tariff taxation was never more alive than at this moment, and would win out eventually. Reciprocity, however, as a mutual agreement with the Republican party, was dead, as they would not extend the chance for another forty years. If reciprocity had been submitted to the people of the United States, the same tactics that defeated it in Canada would have secured its defeat there.

There was the most gigantic aggregation of capitalistic influence brought together that this world ever saw (cheers from both sides) to win the fight for the trusts, mergers and combines.

When Mr. Oliver suggested that the West had not gone against reciprocity because the means were not applied there, an Opposition member insinuatingly suggested "homestead inspectors." The ex-Minister quoted largely from The Toronto World as samples of economic arguments, which he brushed aside as childish.

The financial oligarchy of Toronto and Montreal hold this country in a slavery more merciless than that of the trusts, mergers and combines of the United States, he declared.

Must Study Greek.
Oxford, Eng., Nov. 22.—Advocates of the abolition of the study of Greek at Oxford University suffered another reverse yesterday. Their scheme for the general exemption of that course having failed last year, they tried to insert the edge of a wedge by the passing of a statute allowing students of mathematics and natural science to be exempt from studying Greek.

At a convocation yesterday the proposal was rejected by a vote of 365 to 360.

Dunsford Doings Of Interest

Dunsford, Nov. 26th.—A very interesting event took place on Wednesday evening, Nov. 22 at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Carnaby Thurston when their children assembled to celebrate their parents' fifty-second anniversary of wedded bliss.

A sumptuous supper of goose and plum pudding was served after which speeches and jokes were indulged in.

Mr. Carnaby Thurston is one of the old pioneers of this district and although nearly 80 years of age, is still hale and hearty. His memory is very clear on events that happened many years ago and his exploits during the early years of his wedded life were listened to with great interest by his children on Wednesday last. Although well past the allotted span of life, Mr. Thurston says he feels just as young as ever, especially on occasions such as this.

We trust Mr. and Mrs. Thurston will live to see many more anniversaries of this kind and wish them both congratulations and the best of health.

The following sons and daughters were present.—Mr. Thos. W. Thurston Mr. and Mrs. S.M. Thurston; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Thurston; Mrs. F. E. Gordon, of Dunford, and Mrs. Skitch, of Millbrook.

Mr. Jas. A. Kennedy and Mrs. Capt. Kennedy were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. Laplain on Sunday last.

Don't forget the Tea and entertainment at the Baptist Church, Scotch Line, on Dec. 4th. Several influential speakers will give addresses during the evening.

Mr. Alex. Kennedy, of Lindsay, is assisting Mr. Jas. A. Thurston and J. B. Kennedy to finish carpenter work.

Mr. Thos. Wm. Thurston attended, with the deputation to the government at Ottawa, in the interests of the Farmers' Bank on Thursday and Friday last.

The Sunday school officers of the Methodist Church, announce a Christmas Tree and concert on Dec. 21st. A good time is promised and friends are requested to keep this event in mind.

Mrs. Wm. Irwin is visiting her daughter, Mrs. M. Cain at Peterboro. Mrs. Cain is on the sick-list. We trust she will soon be around again.

Return tickets at single fare are announced for Toronto Fat Stock show Dec. 10 to 12th, to Guelph winter fair from Dec. 11th to 14th, inclusive. To the lovers of Fat and pure bred stock these two trips should be very interesting.

OBITUARY

McKenzie, to the Anglican cemetery. Rev. R. H. Shaw conducted the services and the pall bearers were: Messrs Harold and Fred McKenzie, A. Goodwin, L. Goodwin, M. Goodwin, and R. Dougall.

MRS. EDWARD ARTHURS

The death of Mrs. Edward Arthurs, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Converse, on Monday morning of this week, came as a terrible shock to her friends and relatives, both of this town and Espanola. The sorrow was deepened by the death of her infant daughter, which took place within an hour of her own. Mrs. Arthurs, or as she was better known here as Amanda Converse, moved with her parents to the Harbor from Fenelon Falls, when she was a child, and until her marriage about four years ago to Mr. Arthurs, resided here. After she was married she moved with her husband to Sprague, where they lived for some time, and from there they went to Espanola, where her husband is still located. About two weeks ago she came here to visit her parents, and was enjoying fairly good health, until a few hours before she passed away. Her many warm friends feel the deepest grief over the sad news, and the most heartfelt sympathy for the bereaved husband and family.—Midland Argus.

SCOTCH LINE

(Special to The Post.)
Scotch Line Baptist Church has been closed for a number of weeks, being renovated in the side and a new porch built, which will add much to the comfort of the church. The Ladies Aid wish to announce a re-opening on Sunday evening Dec. 3rd, with a grand tea to follow on Monday evening Dec. 4th, to be served in the Star Cheese factory, commencing at 5 o'clock.

There will be two special services on Sunday morning at 10.30 and in the evening at 7. A free will offering will be taken up at both services and I am sure the Ladies Aid will be very pleased to see a good turn-out, as they have undertaken this big undertaking of having the Church done over and we hope those two days may be of great blessing. All are cordially invited to come and enjoy the big treat of the season. A good program is being prepared for Monday night. Admission 25c.

WANT GOOD RELATIONS.

English Have No Quarrel With Germany, Says Morley.

London, Nov. 22.—The House of Lords last night discussed Anglo-German affairs, without arriving at any fresh revelations. Lord Courtney, Liberal, attacked the Government and Lord Morley of Blackburn, and Lord Lansdowne defended it.

Lord Courtney desired to know why Great Britain could not come to an arrangement with Germany as she did with France, Russia and the United States. He declared that Chancellor Lloyd-George had made an outburst of which no Englishman could be proud, that it naturally promoted ill-feeling in Germany and brought the country into real peril of war.

Viscount Morley said that the entente of 1904 was an agreement that Great Britain should have a free hand in Egypt, and France a free hand in Morocco. Great Britain had had her share of the profits, and it would be intolerable if they refused France hers.

"The whole nation," continued Lord Morley, immensely desire friendship with Germany. There is no reason why the German naval program should diminish the desire, but we must consider all the circumstances."

He declared that Sir Edward Grey had said everything possible to encourage better feeling. No Cabinet ever met with more intent of not drifting into a single unnecessary antagonism.

The Marquis of Lansdowne, leader of the Opposition, said that the entente would remain a dominant factor in Great Britain's foreign policy.
