LINDSAY, FRIDAY, JAN. S1st, 'O.

VEN. ARCHDERCON GASE

WELCOMED BY PUPILS OF ST. JOSEPH'S CONVENT.

Presented With an Address and Boquet - A Delightful Musical Program Rendered - The Archdeacon's Reply

Among the many hearty greetings received by Venerable Archdeacon Casey since his advent into the Parish of Lindsay, none was more cordial than that extended to him on Wedresday evening by the pupils of St Joseph's Convent. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, all-even the little tots-braved the danger of being lost in the snow banks, and their bright, glad faces, and their sweet voices as they sang their welcome chorus, must have gladdened the heart of their new spiritual father.

The Address of Welcome. The following is the address, which was read by Miss Rose Zeufeldt, and which was accompanied by a beautiful boquet presented by Miss Clotilde McGinniss. To Venerable Archleacon Casey; Reverend and Dear Father,-We, the children of the Convent School, are to-day assembled to extend to you with words of love and greeting, -Welcome, a hearty welcome, to

Little more than two months ago our hearts, and those of our parents and friends, were well nigh crushal with grief over the great loss we had sustained. The inevitable four came quite unexpectedly for our beloved father, Right Reverend Monsignor Laurent, and he, whose priestly life had been devoted to the noble work of uplifting frail humanty, resignedly obeyed the summons. That most consoling dogma of our toly religion, the Communion of Saints, at such times brings to us consolation and peace, in the divine assurance that the good die not and that death is but the going on beore. We his Convent children, whom he so particularly favored, have his encouraging words, his teaching, his unselfish interest in our velfare, and above all, his example, is incentives to become better thildren of that church which testiies the highest ideal of the soul. Pardon us, dear Father, if, on an occasion like this, we make much reference to our dear departed Lovng remembrance of your predecesor must be a guarantee of our detotedness to you. Tidings preceded our coming of the universal regret xperienced in Peterboro by the everance of the sacred ties which or eight years united pastor to eople, father to children. In our own, as in the episcopal city, you vill find warm, true, loyal Catholics, those faith is dearer to them than Il things else, whose clergy are oved and revered because ambasndors of the God-man who descendd to earth to establish His church. ere also you will meet with affeconate children whose respect and steem your dignity as the Lord's prointed must ever command, and hose hearts you have already won nd love for the little ones, and the arnest and successful efforts you eve ever made for the promotion that cause so dear to the heart the Divine Master-the grand and oly cause of education. Again we say to you - "a most earty welcome" May your recent egrets ere long be merged in affecon for Lindsay. May you be sparfor many years to the sacred serice of the Most High. May you is evering open and ever keep a ing corner of your great and gen-

Father Casey was evidently much ffected by the kindly sentiments exressed in the address, and deferred s reply until after the following rogramme had been presented in a anner that reflected much credit those taking part, and on the igh standard of vocal and instruental training given in the Con-

Archicacon Casey's Reply. The Reverend Father, after congratulating the young ladies on their creditable performance, said that, as in leaving Peterboro one of his greatest regrets was the severance of ties with the children of the schools, so on coming to Lindsay one of the greatest pleasures he experlenced was the kindly welcome from the little ones. He congratulated the Sisters of St. Joseph's upon the excellent work which they had accomplished in Lindsay. Other schools of the kind taught nothing beyong Entrance work, but here the young ladies enjoyed the advantage of being able to obtain certificates and fit themselves for any position in life, the while they were surrounded by all the safeguards and helps of religion that would enable them to realize in their lives the Catholio ideal of woman. In conclusion he asked them to pray that he might be long spared to continue the good work of his predecessor in Lindsay.

Rev. Fr. O'Sullivan, being called upon, expressed his pleasure at being present to join with the children in welcoming Ven. Archdeacon Casey to his new field of labor, and voiced the hope that the manifestations of affection which marked the commencement of their new relationship would be but the forerunner of a long and lasting friendship. The singing of the National Anthem brought the pleasant evening

DEADLY CIGARETTE AGAIN.

What Medical Exam ners Di covered in the Chicago High Schools.

Cigarette smoking is held responsible by the medical examiners of the Chicago Schools for a startling increase in heart disease and nervous ailments among pupils in the High schools. The condition was revealed by examinations recently held for admission to athletic sports. Boy's and girls were subjected to the same examination. Not one girl was found unable to pass, while a larga number of the boys, in almost every case smokers, were found to be in such a weak physical condition which made violent exercise of any kind extremely dan-

Twenty-one out of one hundred were found unfit and all but three suffered from some form of heart

Juvenile smoking seems rather approved of then otherwise in Australia. Incredible though it may appear, they have already discussed the advisability of attaching smoking rooms to the schools. The Belleville-Ontario contributes the following to eigarette literature; The annual tea meeting at Cannif. ton church was well attended. Those present took a great deal of interest in the meeting, especially in a word duel between two clergymen, which was not on the programme. Rev. C. H. Fusse used a cigarette to start the explosion. He was making an address on the evils of the tobacco habit and said that a cigaratte was a "little paper filled with tobacco, with a fire at one end and a fool at the other." Rev. Mr. Duprau was present and he immediately took exception to the remarks of the reverend gentleman from Melrose. He said he would smoke a cigar or cigarette if he wanted to and he did not think he would make a foot of himself in doing so. (A heated discussion followed between the two preachers, until Mr. N. Vermilyea, who was chairman, arose, to call them to order, and to pour oil on the troubled waters. "The politician will have to quiet the preachers," he remarked pleasantly. Rev. Mr. Fusee tendered an apology to Mr. Druprau, but the latter would not accept it. After the meeting was over the two preachers were busy discussing the tobacco question outside the church. "EVERYBODY KNOWS US."

A member of the staff of this journal in calling upon its readers fraquestly asks as to the results of adtising. Very often he is met with the reply that "Oh, we don't need to advertise, everybody knows us." A greater mistake was never made. Because a house is old established is a very poor reason for not advertising, and because a good connection was worked up with the help of advertising is the warrant for keeping it up, but certainly not for dropping it. We have conversed with intelligent business men well up in their particular line who, in discussing the matter of advertising, were ever ready to admit that the other fellow needs to advertise. "He came here a stranger a few years ago and he had to advertise, but I've lived here all my life, everybody knows me and everybody in the county knew! my father." It is just such reasoning that puts one out of patience. There he sits like a bump on a log taking whatever trade comes from the "old reliables" that used to deal with his father when he was the only merchant in those parts. As time moves on these "old reliables" gradually drop off, their places are taken by their sons and daughters, or by strangers. The latter are unacquainted with the merchant under discussion. They take the local paper, see the bright and breezy advertisements of the man that had his acquaintances to make and conclude that he is the man to buy from. This merchant while he is getting all the new residents of the locality also attracts many of the older ones by his progressive advertising and goods to back up what he says. In the meantime our "well-known" merchant is finding fault with the times, the location, the people and everything and everyone but himself because business is falling off. The man who is trading on a name made by pravious advertising is just as foolish. To make advertising pay the merchant must keep everlastingly at it.

Bright Papers, Interesting Addresses vention of 1902 as the Best Held for Many Years. C.E. Society and S.S. Association, which was held at the Methodist church, Fenelon Falls, on Thursday and Friday, January 23rd and 24th, was a gratifying success. With the exception of the address to have been given by Hon. John Dryden, M.P.P.,-regrets being expressed freely on all sides at his inability to attend,-every part of the program was carried out faultlessly. Every address delivered and every paper read shewed careful preparation. The preparation given to the addresses and papers did not exceed, however, the completeness of the arrangements made for the comfort of the delegates-the hospitality of the citizens of Fencion Falls is wholehearted, and Rev. Mr. Gorbutt and his staff of earnest workers are to be congratulated on the success which crowned their efforts.

The Opening Session

commenced at two o'clock Thursday afternoon with devotional exercises, conducted by Mr. W. Suggett, Valentia. The secretary, Miss E. A. Pogue, Reaboro, read the roll call, which was followed by the reports of officers. The secretary reported 29 societies in the County with a total membersh'p of over 1500. Three bright papers on Junior Endeavor were read: "Aims," by Miss Matthews, Lindsay; "Hindrances to Junior Work," prepared by Mrs. J. J. Morgan, Omemee, and read by Miss S. Porter, Lindsay; "How to Make Meetings Interesting," by Miss A.

Lacey, Kirkfield. "Endenvorers and Prohibition," was the title of a vigorous address by Rev. G. Clare, Oakwood. The rev. gentleman is an enthusiastic temperance worker and made a strong appeal to the Endeavors to stand firm to the principles of temperance. "Fruits of Christian Endeavor" was taken up under three. heads, and excellent papers were read. "Interdenominational Fellowship," by Mrs. W. A. Leigh, Lindsay; "Tenth Legion." by Miss Ella Johnston, Fenelon Falls; "Quiet Hour," by Mr. R. H. Reld, Reaboro. Rev. W. Kannawin, Omemee, gave a spirited address on "Y.P.S.C.E. and Young Men." . The session brought to a close after two informing papers had been, read; "Need of a Definite Purpose," by Mr. A. Gilchrist, Woodville; and "Need of Euthusiasm," prepared by Miss Dunoon, Lindsay; and read by Mrs. (Rev.) Sinclair, Fenelon Falls.

Thursday Evening Session. This session opened with a short song service, followed by devotional exercises, conducted by Mr. (R. H. Reid, Reaboro. Rev. J. Garbutt, of Fencion Falls, in well selected words, gave the address of welcome, which was responded to by Mr. W. A. Leigh. Lindsay. Mr. E. Sackville, of Lindsay, favored the audience with a pleasing solo.

"Home," was the title of a most interesting address by Rev. G. Brown, of Omemee. The address abounded with good common sense, a vein of humor running through it. Miss Graham rendered a solo with much acceptance.

The address by Rev. J. A. R. Dickson, B.D., Ph. D., of Galt, a most enthusiastic Endeavorer, was one to be long remembered. The rev. gentleman shewed clearly the work being done by the C.E. and the necessity of greater effort and earnestness. The officers for the ensuing term were as follows: President, Mr. E. Peel, Lindsay; vice-pres., Mr. E. W. Sackville, Lindsay; secretary, Miss E. A. Pogue, Reaboro; asst.-sec., Miss M. King, Oakwood; treas., Mr. A. Gilchrist, Woodville; editor, Miss Matthews, Lindsay; junior supt., Miss A. Lacey, Kirkfield; directors, Mr. W. Suggett, Valentia; Miss M. Wilson, Fenelon Falls; Mr. W. A. Leigh, Lindsay; Miss E. Dunoon,

Miss J. Bullick, Lindsay.

Friday's Proceedings. Friday was Sunday School day and it was packed full of interest from the beginning to the end. At the morning session the Executive committee announced that it was their policy to organize Township Associations and then retain only a County Executive committee. The suggestion was received with much enthusiasm and steps were at once taken to organize groups as follows: (1) Mariposa and Ops west of the Scugog; (2) Emily, Ops, cast of the Seugog and Lindsay; (3) Eldon and Fenelon; (4) Verniam and Somerville; (5) Bexley, Laxton, Carden, Digby, Dalton and Longford. A roundtable conference, touching all questions concerning the young, conducted by Mr. T. Yellowlees and Rev. W. Kannawin, proved to be one of the most interesting and profitable sessions of the Convention. Discussion was general and earnest and must prove helpful to S.S. and C.E. work. The afternoon session was also interesting. Papers on live topics were presented by Mr. W. W. Jardine, B.A., Omemee, Rev. W. J. Creighton, of Bobcaygeon, Rev. J. E. Robeson, of Little Britain, and they were fully discussed. At 3 o'clock the children of the village turned out in force and listened with interest to an eloquent illustrated lecture on "Ship Signals" presented by Mr. Thos. Yellowlees, of Toronto. The signals "Yes," "No," "Answer, "The Captain is on Board," "I am Sinking," "I Want a Pilot," etc., formed themes for a score of practical and useful suggestions to the boys and girls. In Favor of Temperance.

Besides a warm resolution on hospitality, the joint convention, without a dissenting voice, passed the following temperance resolution: "Resolved, that we do hereby express our continued antipathy to the abhorrent traffic in intoxicating liquors, and that we do earnestly urge all our schools and societies to use all proper and effective means for its suppression."

Two addresses in the evening concluded the convention, one by Mr. T. Yellowlees, brimming full of enthusit. Made by the Davis & Lawrence lasm for Sunday School work, and one by Rev. L. S. Hughson, of Lind-

Lindsay is Interested.

At the inaugural meeting of Peterboro Council the other day Ald. Morrison stated that one matter which needed investigation was the constant presence of so many fakirs from outside points canvassing the town for business. During the week he had been solicited to buy pictures, picture frames, books, tea, etc., by men who paid not a cent of taxes, and who hurt the business of the local merchants. He would like to see a good stiff license imposed or; pedlers, with a rebate to local men. This matter should be taken up in Lindsay, and it is certain that a great deal of injustice is being perpetrated on our business men. It is a fact that representatives of Toronto and other wholesale firms work ing on commission canvass the town and sell tea, sugar, rice, coffee, etc., in small quantities, and other pedlars offer envelopes pens, paper, ink, herdware, underwear, and hundreds of other articles.

S:ciety Mothers and the Dance Evangelist McHardy, now in Galt, has a poor opinion of dancing and dancers, and is saying some very pertinent things about both. He advises mothers as follows: Some mothers with daughters on their hands said they would not get them into the best society unless they were good dancers, because the best soclety dances. "If those mothers know what they were about," said the speaker, "they would a thousand times rather see the girls old maids. yea, double-barreled ones at that, than acquaint them with a social custom which has been the ruination of many a girl. As Pointed out by the Organizer of the Wiarton Co.

We take the following from last week's issue of the Monetary Times. in the hope that it will interest our readers:

Sir,-My attention has been directed to an editoriai in your estcemed paper of issue of January 3rd last, under the caption; "Beet Sugar Making." While there is no di rect statement in that article which could be deemed injurious to the company 1 represent, viz., the Wiarton Beet Sugar Mfg Co., Limited, yet an inference may be drawn from it which is unfair to us, at least. The Berlin proposition is not the only one containing the elements of success; in fact, I am convinced that when the facts are known, Berlin does not monopolize all the conditions which tend toward success in beet sugar making.

Your article is quite correct when it says that those who are projecting beet sugar enterprises in the province should be careful to inform themselves as to whether they have the nucleus of success in their propositions. This is just what has been done at Wiarton.

Putting it broadly, the following conditions are absolutely essential to success in the beet sugar business: First, an ample supply of beets as-Paterbore Radial Rallway Company, sured; second, a high percentage of sugar content, and high purity of and operate the same by electricity, | the beets; third, good transportation facilities by railway and water; power in the town of Peterboro and fourth, good water supply, easy of access; fifth, a good factory site; sixth a good supply of suitable lime-

Of the first, Berlin no doubt is assured, and so is Wiarton. Wiarton now has enough beets assured to make a successful campaign for next 1899 Professor Shuttleworth analyzed the Wiarton beets and his report showed Wiarton beets to have province for that season, with a very very high purity. The reason for Wiarton's exceptionally good showing is explained by the presence of Lake Huron and Georgian Bay, these immense bodies of water equalizing the temperature and prolonging our season of sunshine and high temperature into late fall, thus extending our ripening season weeks longer than in the midland counties. Today Toronto Bay is frozen solid, has been for weeks; Colpoy's bay has not been frozen over this winter. At Guelph and Palmerston there is a foot of snow. At Wiarton there is barely enough for sleighing as yet The temperature of Wiarton is almost as high as Hamilton. The pres- at Hotel Remember for only 1 day. ence of immense limestone deposits in this region gives a soil which produces beets of singular purity. When it is remembered that an increase of one per cent. in impur-

While we have a late, warm, sunshine fall, we have also a late, cold spring, which is, in the sugar business, a large advantage, as the cold weather prevents deterioration of the beets. Thus the working season of our factory can be prolonged for two weeks to a month longer than at points where spring opens up early. For this reason, a factory of 850 tons' capacity can handle approximately as many beets as a 500ton factory, in a shorter run with correspondingly less expense, because the skilled labor is paid by the year, whether they work or not. as we are, all our coal and coke and two-thirde of our beets can be brought in by water. It is estimated that steam coal can be laid down in Wiarton at a saving of a dollar a ton, and coke of $1.50 per ton, over the cost of at most inland

Our limestone can be put into the factory by cable carrier for the cost of quarring, about 25 cents a ton: while for most of the factories projected in Ontario the cost will be enhanced to $1.50 per ton by freight charges. The case with which water can be placed in the factory in great quantity is a valuable economic feature at Wiarton, It has been estimated that Wiarton's savings in cost of coal, coke and limestone will amount to about $100 a day during operations. Add to that the high percentage of saccharine matter in our beets. and consider the fact that a difference of one per cent. in sugar content means, at 15 per cent. of saccharine, 105 tons more sugar from 70,000 tons of beets, and that 700 tons of sugar costs approximately nothing but the handling-the cost of working 14 per cent. beets being just as high as 15 per cent. beetsand it will be seen that the projectors of the Wiarton enterprise have well and duly wieghed their situation and found it not wanting.
