The annual Thankoffering meeting of the Willing Workers Mission Band was held recently at the residence of the president, Mrs. W. J. Garrow. The attendance was large and the offering an enjoyable one. The offering was nearly nine dollars.

Mr. W. A. Cameron, teacher, is home (crowded out last week).

OAKWOOD.

(From our own Correspondent.) Miss H. Gardner is spending her holidays at her home on Eldon-st. The cards given by the Presbyterian Sabbath School were voted by all to be the best entertainment ever given in Oakwood. It was a complete success, the hall being packed. Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Renne were delighted to welcome their three sons home for Christmas. Mr. Howard Stevens, of Lindsay, is spending a few days with his sister, Mrs. W. Chambers. Rev. Mr. Webster and Mr. P. Brown attended the induction of the new minister at Glenora.

GELEBT.

(From our own Correspondent.) It is some time since I have noticed any news in your paper from our hamlet. Everybody is well and happy, and exceedingly so just now, as this time of the year always seems to have a special effect on us. My sister, Bell and daughter, of Orillia, have been visiting friends here for the last two weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hoyle, of Beltsville, are visitors of Mrs. Hoyle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Hoyle.

Mr. Willie Sedgwick, assistant operator, Kinmount, visited his mother here Sunday.

We are very glad to hear of Miss Lizzie Keane being so far recovered as to be able to walk about the place without help.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Haight, of Michigan, were visitors at Mr. R. G. Haight's last week.

Mr. Walter Haight is visiting his father here.

Who are the young ladies who are so particular about their language? Are slang phrases a part of the new fashioned coats?

Our Christmas number is for every subscriber sending us money while the supply lasts. Do not miss it, as it is worth more than the effort required in sending your subscription now. Price to non-subscribers 25c; New subscribers free.

CANNINGTON.

(From our own Correspondent.) The Sunday School entertainment held under the auspices of the Church of the Holy Trinity in the town hall on Christmas night was a decided success. The program which was presented by the scholars was first-class in every particular, eliciting raptures of applause during the evening.

On New Year's night our town hall was packed to the doors, the occasion being a concert given in aid of the Presbyterian Sunday School. Miss Woodhouse and Miss Ellis of Toronto, Miss Browncombe, of Uxbridge, and the Lindsay Male Quartette were the entertainers, and they all took their parts well.

As at previous times a "society" was held by the ladies of the Holy Trinity church. The selections they rendered were well chosen and delightful, the large audience. The receipts were over $100.

The elections in this town passed off very quietly and resulted as follows: Reeve, Mr. F. Beck by a majority of 100. Councillors, Blackwell, Mr. Gillespie, W. Robinson and Enay.

Messrs. Edwards and Gibbs were elected to the County Council. Mr. Tom McEwen made an excellent run, and no doubt will be elected next time. The following were elected to the Brock Council: For Reeve, Mr. H. Parvis; Councillors, Messrs. Sproule, McCully, Pangman and St. John.

Among the visitors from a distance who visited at their homes here during the holiday season were: Jas. Halward and Alex. Taylor, Hanover, Miss Berny, of the Lindsay Collegiate Institute; Miss Violet Blackwell and the Misses Feeds, of Whitby Ladies' College; A. Swier, N. Piper, W. Mullen, P. Clark and J. W. Morry, of Toronto.

Miss Rousseau, niece of Mrs. (Rev.) Martin, who had been absent at the Belleville General Hospital for some time, is going to pursue her duties with the Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay.

Goldie Dickey was the guest of Mr. G. Patis, of Oakwood, for a week.

Mr. Wm. Gibbs, after an absence of several years in Seattle and Alaska, has returned home for the winter. He looks as if that country agreed with him.

Mr. Wm. May, merchant, of Creemore, visited his mother in town last week.

Miss Minnie McPhadden left Monday to spend the winter in Toronto.

Miss Kate McPhadden, who had been ill for the past week or two, is at her post in Mr. H. Wilson's again.

Bro. Thos. Taylor has sold his fine brick residence to Mr. Adam Dawson, farmer.

Messrs. H. Francis & Son have purchased Edwards' livery, and are moving into town this week. They will occupy the house next to Edwards' bank.

Greatest Shelf Emptying Sale

—now in progress at—

B. J. Gough's THE BIG CLOTHIER

THE New Year brings new plans, new prices, new determinations, to increase the service and the business of this busy store. Our special effort this month will be to put in a combination of events that will make January 1903 a memorable month for bargains.

NO DULL TIMES AT GOUGH'S.

We are always alive, looking carefully over the situation, the season and the stocks. And now we mean business with this "Great Shelf Emptying" sale of ours. Stocks are too large and down they must come.

DOWN WITH THE PRICES and OUT WITH THE GOODS.

That's the slogan cry of all the department staff. You may think we keep hammering too persistently at the prices question, but we've built up this business on the basis of low prices, and you've been educated to expect prices to be the lowest of the low at Gough's.

HOW MONEY DOUBLES AT GOUGH'S SALE.

SEE FOLLOWING LIST.

LITTLE PRICES that would tempt a miser. Prices cut in two and a half of it thrown away. No, that's not right—half of it given to you, which is anything but thrown away. Look if you like, but look here too.

B. J. GOUGH, THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MAN.

J. M. SQUIER AND SON, SQUIER & FLAVELLE, LINDSAY.

are now prepared to let out to growers the surrounding townships any quantity of Fancy or Other Varieties of Peas, and would be pleased if interested growers would call early and make the necessary arrangements for delivery. The prices of Fancy Peas are very much advanced over last season owing to wet weather spread shortage caused by wet weather and crop-ots are good if future business in succession, and sustained conditions in the market should patronize us in preference to outside. We will treat our customers as the fairest way.
