Perfect Fitting

"Progress Brand"

A suit that does not fit, is like bread without salt. Fit depends more on what you don't see, than on what you do. It is the hand work—hand stitching and hand moulding—that shapes shoulders, collars and backs into grace and symmetry.

"Progress Brand" Clothes hold their faultless fit because the inside work—the careful, skilful handwork—is there.

New styles are uncommonly choice. See them.

HON. GEORGE W. ROSS

Services Appreciated and Substantially Endorsed.

GIFTS FROM HIS ADMIRERS

Cheque For Large Amount and an Illuminated Address - Presentation Made by Hon. George A. Cox—The Splendid Work of the Former Premier of the Province of Ontario Fittingly Recognized.

Toronto, Dec. 29.—Men who unselfishly devote themselves to the public welfare have often found themselves the recipients of appreciation by the public of the personal sacrifices which such devotion entails.

It not infrequently happens that the great mass of people whose lot in life is made easier and brighter by the efforts of public men awaken too late to a sense of the hard work, untiring effort, and loss of opportunities for personal advancement which those efforts demand. Then they voice their regret that they did not realize earlier the worth of those who strove for their good, and record their feeling in some fitting manner.

But there are exceptions to every rule; the people are not always slow to express appreciation of great public services nobly planned and ably carried out. This was abundantly manifested yesterday afternoon at the home of Hon. Geo. W. Ross, Elmstey place, when the former Premier of the Province was made the recipient of a cheque for $35,000, and an illuminated address, in which was expressed approval of all that he has done in his long public career on behalf of this Province and the Dominion.

The amount mentioned was made up by subscription from admirers of Hon. Mr. Ross all over the country, regardless of politics. The presentation was made by Senator Cox, Chairman of the committee having charge of the subscriptions, who also read the address. Those present included several who in later years have been closely connected with Hon. Mr. Ross in hard-fought political campaigns, and in the carrying through of the Legislature of measures of great importance. The former Premier's reply was comparatively brief and quite appropriate.

The illuminated address, the work of Miss Shaw, is excellent and does not bear as part of the border design "A little red schoolhouse," and excellent pictures in colors of the Parliament buildings at Ottawa and Toronto, all commemorative of Mr. Ross' long connection with educational and legislative affairs.

Faithful Service Appreciated.

"To the Hon. George William Ross, M. P. F., LL.D., etc.

"Sir.—A number of personal as well as political friends in Canada here address you, desiring to express their appreciation of your services as a public man to your country, and especially to the Province of Ontario, and to beg you to accept the accompanying cheque as showing a gratitude which cannot be expressed in verbal compliment alone. Sir, for years you have set aside your private interests and avocations and given with lavish hand of your talents and energies to the public service, and we beg you to accept a free and spontaneous gift which can be turned into a form to be chosen by yourself rather than by us.

"Your rise from public school master in Ontario to be a member of Parliament and then Premier of your own Province was due to your own ability and your own unaided effort and capacity for hard and honest work, and your career has been viewed with pride and affection by your political friends, and with respect by your opponents.

"We desire to express our acknowledgment of the manner in which you have been able to place fiscal and educational legislation upon the statute book to the great advantage of the people.

"We have also to thank you for the many occasions upon which you have publicly and with great eloquence expressed for the people of Canada their just aspirations as to national concerns, and their deep-grounded beliefs upon the essentials of democratic government.

"For yourself and your nearest and dearest, sir, we wish long and continued health, happiness and prosperity.

"Dated this 29th day of December, 1905.

"(Signed) G. A. Cox, Chairman of the committee; C. W. Wood, secretary of the committee."

Reply of Mr. Ross.

Hon. Mr. Ross said in reply: "It is no very easy task to find words in which suitably to express my appreciation of your kindness as manifested by the address and testimonial just presented. Notwithstanding the vanity incident to human nature, I can hardly bring myself to believe that I merit either the one or the other. It is true that for nearly my whole life I have given myself effectively to the public service. Such service demands in ease and comfort, as well as the loss of opportunities for the acquisition of wealth, and often of a simple competence for declining years. Through your kindness, this latter contingency has been to a large extent averted, and the comfort of my family, those dependent upon me.

"It is gratifying to be assured that my public career has met with the approval of my personal and political friends. To take an active part in the strife and conflict of party politics, keeping in mind at all times the public interests rather than mere transient success, is not an easy task, and when opinions differ as they necessarily do on the issues which divide parties, it is not unreasonable to expect that opinions will also differ as to the motives by which the actors in such conflicts are moved and the objects which they are endeavoring to attain. I am pleased to think, however, that during this long period, in which there was perhaps no more criticism than circumstances warranted, you are able to say that there is little to desire.

"But whether your estimate of my services is too high or not, I think I may say without affectation, that they were the very best, with such talents as I possessed, that I was capable of rendering.

His Ambition.

"As Minister of Education, my ambition was to place the school system in all its departments, in the very front of the school systems of the world, and as Premier later, I was anxious to give such an impetus to the development of the natural resources of the province as would increase the comfort and happiness of the whole people, and at the same time maintain for Ontario her position and rank among the other provinces of the Dominion.

"You are good enough to say that I have rendered some service in expressing the aspirations of the people of Canada and their confidence in the essentials of democratic government. Canadians have, in my opinion, been far too slow in claiming for themselves the standing as a people which they have rightly earned, both as to enterprise and statesmanship. What country, having regard to its population, has done more in developing its natural resources than we have done; what country has settled so many perplexing questions in politics and government, and at so little cost, as we have done, notwithstanding the restraints of our colonial relationship? And how much better opportunities for the highest order of statesmanship than Canada now offers? And if I have done anything to deepen the aspirations of my fellow-countrymen for a future in which the actors for the time being will not consider public service a personal sacrifice, nor the most generous toleration of differences of race or creed or political convictions a disqualification for the confidence of the people, then I shall consider I have not dissipated my energies in claiming for Canadians a place among the most enlightened and progressive exponents of the essentials of democratic government to which you have referred.

"Permit me in closing to thank you most sincerely for your good wishes for myself, for my family, who appreciate your kindness as freely as if it were expressed to each of them individually.

Among those present at the ceremony were: Messrs. F. R. Latchford, Ottawa; G. P. Graham, Brockville; Robert Jaffray, N. W. Rowell, K. C., P. C. Larkins, E. R. Wood, Hugh Keenan, G. G. S. Lindsay, H. M. Stewart, K. C., Miss Ross assisted her father in receiving the deputation.

GIRLS DRINK AMMONIA.

Were in Owen Sound Cells Awaiting Removal to the Mercer.

Owen Sound, Dec. 29.—While confined in the police cells here, previous to being taken to the jail, Annie Nellis and Ollie Bowie, two girls who had just received a sentence of a year each in the Mercer Reformatory, attempted suicide by drinking a quantity of liquid ammonia.

The pair had been confined in jail for some days, awaiting trial, and it is not known whether the small bottles of ammonia were concealed on them during that time, or whether it had been given to one of them on the quiet by some one in the crowd through which they passed in leaving the court room.

When the girls were heard of at first they were merely lamenting over the sentence, but on their continuing an officer investigated and found both of them in terrible agony. Doctors were summoned, and after some hours the pair became well enough to be conveyed to the jail.

Although the Bowie girl is now almost well, the Nellis girl will suffer for some time.

Woman Attempts Suicide.

Kingston, Dec. 29.—Mrs. Coleman of Gananoque, at present in British Columbia, attempted suicide by placing a cloth saturated with chloroform over her face and wrapping her head up closely. A neighbor going into the kitchen to get the tin found her in an unconscious condition. She has been in poor health.

HANDS CRACKED AND PEELED

Suffered for One Year - Water Caused Agony, Heat Intense Pain - Grew Worse Under Doctors - Could Not Do Any Household.

ANOTHER WONDERFUL CURE BY CUTICURA

"About a year ago my hands began to crack and peel. It tried many remedies, but grew worse all the time. At last it became so sore that it was impossible for me to do my household work. If I put my hands in water, I was in agony for hours; and if I tried to cook over the stove, the heat caused intense pain. I consulted a doctor, but his prescriptions were utterly useless, and I tried another, but without the least satisfaction. I got my first relief when I purchased Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment making a complete cure. Mrs. M. Drew, 18 Dana St., Roxbury, Mass."

ONE NIGHT TREATMENT

For Sore Hands and Feet with Cuticura.

Soak the hands or feet on retiring in a strong, hot, creamy lather of Cuticura Soap. Dry and anoint freely with Cuticura Ointment, the great skin cure. Wear on the hands during the night, old, loose gloves, or bandage the feet lightly in old, soft cotton or linen. For red, rough, and chapped hands, dry, fissured, itching, feverish palms, with brittle, shapeless nails and painful finger ends, and for itching, burning, and scaling eruptions, rashes, inflammations, and chafings, this treatment is simply wonderful.

LONG'S FALSE STATEMENT.

Judge Street Finds Directors Entitled to $34,500.

Toronto, Dec. 29.—The executors of the estate of the late John J. Long are to pay the Northern Navigation Co. in all its departments, in the very amount of $34,500. Such was the judgment given out yesterday by Justice Street. That amount is made up of $30,000 with interest since 1902. The question as to whether the defendants will appeal from this judgment was stated last night to be under consideration.

The present board of directors alleged that in consequence of the inaccurate financial statement, made by J. J. Long, when president, a half-yearly dividend of 5 per cent. had been declared, and subsequent dividends, which amounted to $38,519.92, for the damage sustained from the withdrawal of this capital the company claimed $150,000.

That so far from there being a profit of $38,519.92, as represented by Mr. Long, there was but $57,568.55, a disparity of about $31,000, as shown by an experimental examination after Long had left for Europe. To bring the company up to the profit that had been alleged by the late president, the judge directs the estate to pay out of the balance between the amounts, with interest at 5 per cent. from the end of 1902, up to the present time. That made up the amount of the judgment, $34,500. The judge believes that the directors would not have declared a dividend had not Long misstated the profits. The defendants have to disburse all the costs of the action.
